DIGEST OF DECISIONS RELATING TO NATIONAL BANKS.

[The following Federal cases were reported in vols. 216 to 224, Fed. Rep. Two State cases, one reported in 151 N. Y. Supp., and one reported in 178 S. W. Rep. are also given.]

COLLATERAL SECURITIES.

Pledges—Release of securities—Tender.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) Where a creditor holds securities as collateral for several items of indebtedness, a tender by the debtor which does not include all such items does not operate to release the securities. (Fourth National Bank of Nashville v. Stahlman et ux.; Fourth National Bank of Nashville v. Nashville Banner Pub. Co. et al. 178 S. W. Rep. 942).

Pledges—Security for loans—Debts secured—“Obligation.”

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) Collateral deposited with a bank to secure a promissory note, written on the blank form furnished by the bank and reciting that such collateral “shall be applicable in like manner to secure the payment of any other obligations of the undersigned, whether past or future, held by the holder of this obligation. All such securities in their hands shall stand as one general continuing security for the whole of such obligations, so that the deficiency on any one shall be made good from the collateral upon the rest”—may be held by the bank to secure the performance of a contract previously executed, whereby the pledgor agreed to purchase certain corporate stock from the bank, such contract constituting an “obligation” within the recitals of the note. (Ib.)

Pledges—Security for loans—Application of collateral.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) Where the language of a note made to a bank by its customer under which collateral is deposited as security, is unambiguous, and plainly shows that the parties contemplated that such collateral might be held as security for all other legal obligations or liabilities, the contract will be so construed, it being only where the language is ambiguous and the meaning doubtful that its provisions will be limited to a restricted class of obligations presumed to have been in the contemplation of the parties when the contract was made. (Ib.)

Pledges—Security for loans—Application of collateral.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) Where collateral has been deposited with a bank to secure a promissory note, reciting that the collateral shall be applicable in like manner to secure the payment of any other obligations of the undersigned, whether past or future, held by the holder of such obligation, such language will not be construed to mean that another bank, to which the holder might transfer the note with its collaterals can hold them as security for other debts which the maker might have created with such other bank, since such other debts would not have been in the contemplation of the parties when the loan was made. (Ib.)

Pledges—Application of collateral to other debts—Surety’s right of subrogation.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) Where collateral has been deposited with a bank to secure a promissory note, reciting that such collateral may be applied to all other obligations of the maker to the bank, a surety or indorser who pays such note will be subrogated to the place of the bank as to such collaterals, which right may not be defeated by the application of the collaterals to any other debts owing by the maker to the bank. (Ib.)

FORGED OR ALTERED PAPER.

Bills and notes—Construction—Payable to bearer—United States depositories—Forged checks.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Notwithstanding Rem. & Bal. Code Wash. § 3400, subd. 3, providing that a bill of exchange is payable to bearer, when it is payable to the order of a fictitious person and such fact is known to the person making it so payable, checks drawn by a Government disbursing officer, payable to fictitious payees, on a national bank constituting a depository, under regulations of the Treasury Department declaring that any check drawn by a disbursing officer on moneys deposited must be in favor of the party by name to whom the payment is to be made and payable to order, are not payable to bearer, and the bank paying the checks on forged indorsements of the officer who misappropriated the money procured thereon can not escape liability to the Government for the loss on that theory. (National Bank of Commerce of Seattle v. United States, 224 Fed. Rep., 679.)

United States depositories—Forged checks—Accounting.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) In an action by the United States against a national bank constituting a depository, for payments made by it on checks drawn by a disbursing officer in favor of fictitious payees and containing forged indorsements made by the officer, the bank is not entitled to credit for money paid out by the disbursing officer upon legitimate claims incurred through his agency, in the absence of an accounting between the disbursing officer and the Government. (Ib.)

United States depositories—Payment of forged checks—Recovery of money—Estoppel.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) The act of the Government in prosecuting for embezzlement a disbursing officer drawing checks on a Government depository, forging indorsements thereon, and applying to his own use the proceeds on the depository paying the checks did not estop the Government from proceeding against the bank to recover the payments made on the theory that the money was the property of the bank, whether the bank was a debtor to the Government to the amount of the deposits or it held the same in specie subject to Government's checks or demands, since the funds were the funds of the Government. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Drafts—Name of drawer—Forgery—Payment—Right to recover.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) The Secretary of the Treasury is bound to know the signatures of those officers of the United States who are authorized to draw on him; and hence, having paid a draft purporting to have been drawn by the American consul in Argentine, but in fact bearing the consul's forged signature, the United States could not recover the money so paid, whether the draft was negotiable or not. (United States v. Bank of New York National Banking Association, 219 Fed. Rep., 648.)

INSOLVENCY AND RECEIVERS.

POWERS OF RECEIVER TO DISPOSE OF ASSETS AND COMPOUND CLAIMS.

Effect of acts ultra vires.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) That a purchase of real estate by a national bank was in violation of the national banking law and ultra vires does not render the transaction void but voidable only, and its validity can not be questioned by private parties but only by the United States. (Baker et al. v. Schofield, 221 Fed. Rep., 322.)

Receivers on insolvency—Sale of assets—Construction of order.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) An order of court authorizing the receiver of a national bank to sell at private sale all assets of the insolvent bank which were, in his judgment, bad and doubtful, "consisting of bills receivable, judgments, overdrafts, * * * and other personal and chattel property and evidences of indebtedness," did not confer on the receiver power to sell and assign a contract with the State for the purchase of tide lands, which as owner of the adjacent upland the bank had the preference right to purchase, and which contract conveyed to it an interest which under the State law was real estate. (Ib.)

Receivers—Fraudulent sale of property.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Evidence held to entitle the receiver of a national bank to recover tide lands, the contract for the purchase of which from the State had been sold and assigned by a former receiver, on the ground that such sale was fraudulent as being subject to a secret trust in favor of the receiver; it appearing that the sum received was much less than the value of the property, that the nominal purchaser resold it two years later to the receiver for the same price, with interest, and that the receiver's ownership had been concealed, even up to the time of suit. (Ib.)

Receivers—Suit to recover assets.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) A suit by the receiver of a national bank to recover real estate fraudulently transferred by a former receiver on a secret trust for himself held not barred by laches because of lapse of time where the former receiver was still the owner of the property and had been for 14 years, but it had never been in his name, and his connection with it had been carefully concealed. (Ib.)

PROOF AND PAYMENT OF CLAIMS—CLAIMS PROVABLE.

Receivers—Actions on claims—Evidence.

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) In a suit by a depositor to charge the receiver of a national bank with the proceeds of certain notes and drafts delivered to it by complainant, evidence held to show that the instruments were given for the accommodation of the president of the bank, so that the amounts were not proper charges against the bank, but against the president individually. (Stallo v. Wagner, 220 Fed. Rep., 360.)

Receivers—Actions on claims—Evidence.

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) In a suit by a depositor in an insolvent national bank to charge the receiver with amounts transferred by the president of the bank from complainant's account to other accounts, evidence held to show that the transfers so made were authorized by the depositor, notwithstanding his denial. (Ib.)

Receivers—Actions on claims—Evidence.

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) Evidence held insufficient to charge the receiver of an insolvent national bank with the proceeds of the sale of certain bonds, which complainant delivered to the president of the bank, taking his individual receipt therefor. (Ib.)

Acts of president—Agency.

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) Where a national bank depositor gave the president of the bank bonds to be sold and the proceeds deposited, and also checks for the amount to be realized from the sale, which were to be applied by the president to certain payments, the president was the agent of the depositor, and not of the bank, in making the application of the proceeds, and the bank is not liable for a misapplication thereof. (Ib.)

Liability to depositor—Laches of depositor.

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) Where a depositor in a national bank received and receipted for a statement from the bank, with accompanying vouchers which showed that the bank, with whose president the depositor was closely associated in many business transactions, had without authority diverted funds from his account to another account under circumstances which practically amounted to theft by the president, but the depositor made no complaint to anyone except to the president and the cashier, who was under the president's control, and to them he merely stated that he desired to have his affairs with the bank, including that item, straightened out, the depositor can not, after the bank has become insolvent through the acts of its president, enforce a claim for that amount against the receiver. (Ib.)

Liability to depositors—Misapplication of check.

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) Where a depositor had a bank discount his note with the understanding that he would pay the money out of the proceeds of some stock in a few days, but on the same day learned that the stock would not be available and gave to the president of the bank a check for the amount of the note, which the president diverted to his own use, and the amount of the check was debited against the depositor's account, but he was not credited with the amount of the note, a statement of the account from the bank would not necessarily put him on notice that the money had been diverted, and he could therefore either recover from the receiver of the bank the possession of the note or be decreed a creditor for the amount of the check. (Ib.)

DEPOSIT OF CITY FUNDS.

Insolvency—Application of payment.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Where, at the time an insolvent national bank closed, a city, which had designated such bank as the authorized city depository, had therein a special deposit, and the bank had also collected for the city a draft in excess of the amount of the bond required from the bank as such depository, the proceeds of which draft it was sought to recover as a trust fund, the city had a right to apply the amount received on the bond on the special deposit, and to apply the balance on the other account. (City of Centralia v. United States Natl. Bank of Centralia et al., 221 Fed. Rep., 755.)

Collections—Relation between bank and customer.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Under Pierce's Code Wash., 1912, section 77—681, relative to the designation of city depositories, and section 77—683, providing that, before any such designation shall entitle the treasurer to make deposits in the designated bank, such bank shall file a surety bond in the maximum amount of deposits designated by the treasurer to be carried in the bank, or in lieu thereof deposit bonds or warrants, where a bank designated as a city depository collected a draft for the city in an amount exceeding the amount of its bond as depository, neither the acquiescence of the city treasurer in the bank's retention of the amount collected as a deposit, nor the payment of interest thereon by the bank, gave the bank title to the money in excess of the amount of the bond, or changed the trust fund into a mere debt, as under the statute title could not pass to the bank without an additional bond. (Ib.)

Collections—Relation between bank and customer—Presumptions.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) A city delivered a draft for collection to the bank designated as the city depository under Pierce's Code Wash., 1912, sections 77—681, 77—683, the amount of the draft being in excess of the amount of the bond given by the bank as depository. The bank sent the draft to its correspondent, an authorized reserve bank, which collected it, gave the depository bank credit therefor, and advised it of that fact. The depository bank charged the amount against its correspondent bank and credited it to the city, and subsequently became insolvent, having in the meantime overdrawn its account with the correspondent bank. Held, that it would be presumed that the depository bank diverted from its funds on hand, and held as a trust fund, the amount collected in excess of the bond, and that its expenditures thereafter were from its own money, and that the trust fund remained untouched, the fact that the correspondent bank merely gave the depository bank credit, without remitting coin or currency, not affecting this result. (Ib.)

Insolvency—Marshaling of securities.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Where a city treasurer acquiesced in the retention by a national bank designated as the city's depository under Pierce's Code Wash., 1912, sections 77—681, 77—683, of an amount collected by it for the city in excess of the amount of its bond as depository, a temporary injunction restraining the receiver of such bank from paying a dividend to creditors, which would leave an insufficient amount to meet the city's claim, would not be denied, on the ground that under the rule for the marshaling of securities the city should first be required to seek to recover the amount from the city treasurer and his bondsmen and the city commissioner of finance, there being no assurance that sufficient would thereby be realized to make the city whole, and it being clear that before this could be ascertained the receivership would be closed up and a final disposition made of all the bank's assets. (Ib.)

LIBEL AND SLANDER.

Libel and slander—What constitutes.

(N. Y. Supp., 1915.) False articles in a newspaper, charging that a bank, as mortgagee of a hotel, was instrumental in causing the sale of intoxicants to be carried on therein, in violation of law, and that the bank, which had not credited defendant with a deposit, after notifying him that his account had been overdrawn, admitted the mistake and gave credit for the deposit, are libelous, tending necessarily to injure the credit and business of the bank. (First National Bank of Waverly v. Winters, 151 N. Y. Supp., 332.)

Libel and slander—Defenses.

(N. Y. Supp., 1915.) Where defendant published false statements tending to injure its credit, plaintiff bank could recover damages, unless defendant's reputation was such that his utterances would have no influence. (Ib.)

Libel and slander—Actions—Evidence.

(N. Y. Supp., 1915.) In an action for libel, evidence held to show that defendant maliciously published defamatory articles concerning plaintiff. (Ib.)

Libel and slander—Damages.

(N. Y. Supp., 1915.) Libelous articles, reflecting on the honesty of a bank, entitle the bank to substantial damages. (Ib.)

OFFICERS.

REPRESENTATION OF BANK BY OFFICERS.

Corporations—Officers—Unauthorized contracts—Ratification.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where a fraternal insurance corporation was governed by nine directors and three trustees, an instrument authorising B. to sell any of its securities, signed by the trustees before their term of office had commenced, and a bill of sale to B., executed by two of the trustees after their term commenced, were wholly ineffectual, and incapable of ratification by the board of directors. (Ballard v. Audubon National Bank, 222 Fed. Rep., 57.)

Knowledge of officers—Imputing to bank.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where the president of a bank accepted, as collateral security for a loan to B. personally, securities which he knew belonged to a fraternal insurance corporation, and which he knew B. had no authority to use for his own personal purposes, his knowledge was imputable to the bank, though he had a standing arrangement with the brokers, through whom the securities were subsequently sold by the bank, for a division of commissions on all business brought them by him; this being a collateral and incidental contract, not bringing the case within the rule that an agent's knowledge will not be imputed to his principal, when the transaction is such as to compel the agent's concealment. (Ib.)

Receivers—Right to sue—Conversion—Title and right to possession.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) An instrument, executed by the trustees of a fraternal insurance corporation, authorizing B. to sell any of the securities of the corporation and account therefor to the trustees, and a bill of sale subsequently executed by the trustees to B., even though valid, conferred on B. authority to act only as agent of the corporation, and his title and possession being the title and possession of the corporation, its receiver could maintain an action of trover for the conversion of securities by a bank to whom B. pledged them. (Ib.)

OFFICERS, CIVIL LIABILITY OF.

Actions against directors—Sufficiency of evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) In an action against a director in a national bank for damages sustained by a person induced to buy stock in such bank in reliance on published reports of its condition which include as assets a large amount of worthless loans, evidence held insufficient to make a question for the jury as to defendant's knowledge at the time the reports were made and published of the worthlessness of any part of the loans in excess of the amount written off as worthless, a little more than a year thereafter. (Chesbrough v. Woodworth, 221 Fed. Rep., 912.)

Actions against directors—Admissibility of evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) In such action, evidence that other directors of the bank personally believed the loans to be well enough secured so that they were mostly good, was properly excluded, as it was defendant's belief, and not what the other directors believed, that was in issue, and his conclusions would be based on the extent to which his personal confidence in the borrower was impaired; the extent of his knowledge of the borrower's assets from other sources than the borrower, his expert knowledge of the business of the borrower, and his resulting skill in valuing the assets of such a business, and his individual tendency to look on the bright or dark side of the matter, and with respect to most of these elements it could not be assumed that he was in the same situation as the other directors. (Ib.)

Actions against officers—Form of remedy.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Under Act June 22, 1906, c. 3516, 34 Stat. 451 (Comp. St. 1913, paragraph 9761), providing that the total liabilities to any national banking association of any party for money borrowed shall at no time exceed one-tenth of the capital stock and surplus, and Revised Statutes, section 5239 (Comp. St. 1913, sec. 9831), providing that, if the directors of any national banking association shall knowingly violate or permit the violation of any of the provisions of that title, every director who participated in or assented to the violation shall be liable for all damages which the association, its shareholders, or any other person shall sustain, an action by a national bank against an officer for a loss sustained on a loan in excess of the statutory limit in which he participated was one at law, not cognizable by equity, in the absence of a showing of the inadequacy of the legal remedy, and the fact that the bank had received from the bankrupt estate of one of the borrowers certain corporate stock did not give jurisdiction to equity, as the abatement in damages on account of this stock could be made at law as well as in equity. (Corsicana National Bank v. Johnson, 218 Fed. Rep., 822.)

Action—Nature and form—Change of character or form.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Under the express provisions of equity rule 22 (198 Fed. xxiv, 115 C. C. A. xxiv), where a suit commenced in equity should have been brought at law, it should have been transferred to the law side of the court, instead of dismissing the bill. (Ib.)

Liability of directors for negligence.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Directors of national banks must exercise ordinary care and prudence in the administration of the affairs of their institutions, and exercise reasonable supervision, and are not shielded from liability by their want of knowledge or wrongdoing, if their ignorance is the result of gross inattention. (Williams v. Brady et al., 221 Fed. Rep., 118.)

Actions against directors—Sufficiency of complaint.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) In an action against directors of a national bank, a complaint alleging that at different times loans were made in excess of one-tenth part of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank, that the directors and officers conspired to violate the law by taking accommodation paper executed by persons financially irresponsible, the proceeds of the loans being put to the credit of the real borrower and exceeding one-tenth part of the unimpaired capital and surplus, that the directors approved large loans to persons of financial irresponsibility, that they negligently permitted overdrafts by persons financially irresponsible, that they negligently permitted checks to be improperly and illegally certified when the drawers had no funds on deposit, and that dividends were declared when there were no profits or surplus, and that the directors illegally appropriated such dividends, and further alleging the details of the wrongful acts stated, was sufficient as against the directors who attended at the meetings at which the acts in question were done. (Ib.)

Actions against directors—Sufficiency of complaint.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) In an action against the directors of a national bank for damages resulting from their wrongful and illegal acts, an allegation that certain directors were negligent, because of their unreasonable neglect and failure to attend meetings at which the alleged improper, unlawful, and negligent acts were done, was insufficient, where no facts were set forth showing that there was unreasonable neglect and failure, or that they purposely or negligently refrained from attending meetings, as, there being no legal presumption of negligence, one who undertakes to hold the directors responsible should state facts sufficient to put them upon their defense. (Ib.)

Actions against directors—Sufficiency of complaint.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) In an action against the directors of a national bank, an allegation that they were guilty of negligence, carelessness, and violation of statutes in retaining in office unfit persons as president and vice president, should have been more specific, where it did not appear whether the unfitness and incompetence was based upon the doing of the wrongful acts in which it was alleged in other parts of the complaint the officers participated, or whether the unfitness consisted of dishonesty. (Ib.)

Actions against directors—Premature filing.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Where a national bank was insolvent and in the hands of a receiver, and had sustained large losses through wrongful, improper, and illegal acts on the part of its directors, a suit against the directors while the affairs of the bank were in liquidation was not prematurely filed. (Ib.)

Equity—Bill—Multifariousness.

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) Where, though the alleged wrongful transactions on the part of the directors of an insolvent national bank were many and extended over several years, there were only a few characters of transactions, and the same legal questions would arise as to each group of general transactions, a bill was not multifarious, though all of such transactions were set forth therein. (Ib.)

OFFSETS.

OFFSETS BETWEEN INSOLVENT BANKS AND THEIR CREDITORS.

Set-off of deposit against debt to bank.

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) Where a depositor in an insolvent national bank had indorsed a note, on which he was in fact primarily liable, and procured the bank to discount it for his benefit, he was entitled, in a suit by the bank's receiver to recover the amount of the note, to set off his deposit in the bank against his liability on the note. (Williams v. Rose, 218 Fed. Rep., 898.)

POWERS.

Purchase of stock in building corporation by national bank.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) A contract between a national bank and the promoter of a building corporation, whereby the promoter was to purchase from the bank stock subscribed for by it, was not ultra vires of the bank, the stock having been taken by the bank as part of a transaction for the renting of banking quarters. (Fourth National Bank of Nashville v. Stahlman et ux.; Fourth National Bank of Nashville v. Nashville Banner Pub. Co. et al., 178 S. W. Rep., 942).

Power of national bank to purchase stock.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) Under Revised Statutes, section 5137, providing that a national bank may purchase and hold real estate necessary for its immediate accommodation in the transaction of its business, and section 5136, providing that such bank may exercise all incidental powers necessary to carry on the business, a national bank may acquire and hold stock in a building corporation as part of a transaction for renting desirable banking quarters; good faith being the test whether such investment is legitimate. (Ib.)

Power of national bank to purchase stock.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) While it is unlawful for a national bank to deal in stocks, it may loan money on shares of other corporations, and in order to collect the debt may purchase the stock, or may acquire it to protect itself against loss in compromising a doubtful liability. (Ib.)

Purchase of stock—Consideration—Mutual promises.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) A contract between a national bank and the promoter of a building corporation, whereby the promoter agreed to purchase from the bank building corporation stock held by it, in consideration that the bank would pay its subscription for the stock, was not void as being unilateral; the obligation to sell and buy being mutual. (Ib.)

Contracts for purchase of stock.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) An agreement between a bank and the promoter of a building corporation, whereby the latter agreed to purchase certain shares of stock owned by the bank, the bank reserving an option to sell the stock at any time to other persons, but providing that the promoter was to have the option to buy such stock at par and accumulated dividends at any time before the bank sold it to others, and providing for 30 days' notice to the promoter before selling, is an absolute and unconditional agreement to sell, and not a mere option. (Ib.)

Transfer of stock—Unpaid dividends.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) A contract between a bank and the promoter of a building corporation, whereby the promoter agreed to buy certain guaranteed 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock in the building corporation from the bank, and that if any dividends upon such stock remained unpaid at the time of purchase the promoter was to pay the accumulated dividends at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, bears interest as upon a loan, and the promoter is liable for guaranteed dividends unpaid by the corporation, although not earned nor declared by it. (Ib.)

Account stated—Omission of item.

(Tenn. Sup. 1915.) Where a bank rendered a statement containing separate items of indebtedness in response to a debtor's request, and the latter thereupon made a tender of the amount stated, that the bank had erroneously omitted a particular item from the statement did not estop it from suing thereon, no one having been prejudiced by the making of such statement. (Ib.)

SHAREHOLDERS.

TRANSFER OF STOCK.

Liability of shareholders—Rescission of purchase of stock¹—Injunction—Bill—Sufficiency—Premature dismissal.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) In a suit to restrain an action on a note given for the purchase price of stock in a national bank, a bill alleging that the bank, by its president, offered to sell plaintiff the stock, making false and fraudulent representations as to the solvency of the business, its assets, surplus, etc., that plaintiff relied upon such representations and was thereby induced to purchase the stock and give his note therefor, upon which he afterwards made several payments, that when the purchase was made the bank was hopelessly insolvent, without surplus, and with liabilities much greater than its assets, that plaintiff could not have discovered the fraud until the bank closed its doors, and that thereupon he repudiated and rescinded the purchase and offered to return the stock, was prematurely dismissed without requiring an answer, as the question as to plaintiff's right to rescind after the bank failed should be reserved until the facts were definitely ascertained, including the facts as to whether the bank was the real owner of the stock, how it came to become the owner of its original capital stock, if it was not, who the real owner was, and why it held the apparent title, and whether the note was discounted for plaintiff, or merely delivered to the bank, nothing being done with it, except to renew it and make payments on account. (Salter v. Williams et al., 221 Fed. Rep., 928.)

Liability of shareholders—Rescission of purchase of stock.¹

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) Under Revised Statutes, section 5151, providing that shareholders of every national banking association shall be individually responsible for all contracts of the association to the extent of their stock, in addition to the amount invested therein, upon the failure of a national bank, the rights of creditors attach, and a purchaser of stock who has held it for several months, and made no complaint until after the appointment of a receiver, can not thereafter, as against creditors, have the purchase rescinded because of false representations by the bank's president as to the solvency of the bank. (Salter v. Williams et al., 219 Fed. Rep., 1017.)

Stockholder's liability—Fraud in sale of stock.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) One who bought stock in a national bank from an officer thereof can not, after the failure of the bank, avoid his liability for the assessment on such stock for the benefit of the bank's creditors because the bank officer fraudulently misrepresented the financial condition of the bank at the time the stock was bought. (Ryan v. Mount Vernon National Bank et al., 224 Fed. Rep., 429.)

¹ NOTE.—The case Salter v. Williams, reported in 221 Federal Reporter, 928, was to restrain a suit at law; the case Salter v. Williams, reported in 219 Federal Reporter, 1017, was a suit in equity and was not reviewed by the court in the case reported in 221 Federal Reporter.

ASSESSMENTS—CONCLUSIVENESS OF COMPTROLLER'S ACTION.

Revocation of assessment.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) The Comptroller of the Currency having found a national bank insolvent and made an assessment of 100 per cent on its stock, such assessment was not vacated or annulled by a letter written by the Comptroller to the directors, approving a contemplated sale of bonds held by the bank, and stating that, if such sale was made, he did not hesitate to say that there would be no necessity for an assessment on stockholders, unless an unlooked-for shrinkage in the value of the assets should occur, which was highly improbable. (Pepper v. Springfield Institution for Savings et al.; Springfield Institution for Savings et al. v. Pepper, 218 Fed. Rep., 814.)

Right of comptroller to make successive assessments.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Where an assessment of 100 per cent had been levied on the stockholders of a national bank, a subsequent assessment of 49 per cent could not be sustained while the original assessment continued in force. (Pepper v. Springfield Institution for Savings et al.; Springfield Institution for Savings et al. v. Pepper, 218 Fed. Rep., 814.)

Liability of stockholders where trust funds were invested in stock of national banks without authority.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) Though, under the rules and practice of the courts of Wisconsin and Laws of Wisconsin, 1903, chapter 317, authorizing the investment of trust funds in certain securities, executors had no authority to invest a trust fund in shares of stock in a national bank, where they did transfer stock owned by the estate to themselves as trustees, caused the stock to be transferred on the books of the bank, and filed their final account showing such transfer more than a year before the bank failed, the transfer was voidable only and not void, and, so long as it was permitted to stand, neither the estate nor a legatee, made liable by statute for contingent claims becoming absolute after the distribution of the estate, were liable for an assessment against the stock by the Comptroller of the Currency. (Williams v. Cobb, 219 Fed. Rep., 663.)

Shares of stock in national banks not interest-bearing securities.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) A will directing executors to invest a trust fund in "interest-bearing securities" did not authorize the investment thereof in the stock of a national bank, since, while shares of stock may be securities, they are not interest bearing. (Ib.)

Executors and administrators—Distribution of estate—Executor as legatee.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) When an executor is also a legatee or distributee, no formal act is necessary to vest title to the legacy or distributive share in him as an individual, and any act on his part, showing an intention to retain assets in payment, is sufficient. (Ib.)

Executors and administrators—Sale of personal property—Authority to sell.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) In the absence of statute providing otherwise, an executor or administrator has the absolute power to sell or dispose of the personal assets of the estate as he sees fit, and can pass a good title to the property without any order of court. (Ib.)

Executors and administrators—Sale of personal property—Purchase by executor.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) When an executor sells stock owned by the estate to himself individually he does that which he has no right to do, but which he has a capacity to do, and the transaction is not void, but voidable only at the option of those interested. (Ib.)

A beneficiary accepting trust funds improperly invested liable as a stockholder.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) Under Revised Statutes, section 5152 (Comp. St. 1913, par. 9690), providing that persons holding stock as executors, administrators, guardians, or trustees shall not be personally liable as stockholders in national banks, but that the estate and funds in their hands shall be liable, where a trustee improperly invested the trust fund in the stock of a national bank, the beneficiary had the right, when the nature of the investment was brought to her attention, to accept or reject it, and if she accepted it or lost her right to reject it by laches or acquiescence, she would be liable as a stockholder. (Ib.)

Equity—Amendment of pleading—Discretion of court.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) In an action against an executor for the amount of an assessment against the stock of an insolvent national bank improperly brought against him individually on the theory that a transfer of stock owned by the estate to the executors as trustees was void, leaving title thereto in the estate, and that the executor was liable as legatee under a statute making legatees liable for contingent claims becoming absolute after the distribution of the estate, the court did not abuse its discretion in refusing to allow the bill to be amended to cure the defects. (Ib.)

SET-OFF AGAINST ASSESSMENT.

Stockholder's liability—Set-off.

(U. S. D. C., 1914.) A stockholder of a national bank was not entitled to set off against his double stock liability the amount of his unpaid deposit account in the bank at the time of its failure; such stock liability, imposed by Revised Statutes, sections 5226, 5227 (Comp. St. 1913, paragraphs 9813, 9814), being for the express purpose of making good the contracts, debts, and engagements of the bank and being a trust fund in which all creditors were entitled to share pro rata. (Williams v. Rose, 218 Fed. Rep., 898.)

TAXATION.

Taxation—Shares of stock in national banks.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) A national banking corporation and its property are separate and distinct from its shares of stock, and while a tax levied upon the bank itself by a State would be invalid a tax levied by a State on its shares of stock is valid, and the State may lawfully require the tax to be paid in the first instance by the corporation, with the right to reimbursement from the stockholders. (National Bank of Commerce in St. Louis v. Allen, internal-revenue collector, 223 Fed. Rep., 472.)

Internal revenue—Excise tax on corporations—Net income—"Taxes imposed by authority of the State."

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) A tax levied by a State on the shares of a national bank, and paid by the bank as required by the State statute, but which under the statute it has the right to recover back from the stockholder, is not a "tax imposed under the authority of the State" on the corporation or its property, within the meaning of corporation tax law August 5, 1909, chapter 6, section 38 (2), 36 Statutes, 112 (Comp. St. 1913, paragraph 6301), such as the bank is thereby authorized to deduct from its gross income to ascertain its taxable net income; nor can it be deducted as an expense of the business. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Excise tax on corporations—Construction of statute—"Excise tax."

U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) The tax imposed by corporation tax law, section 38 (Comp. St. 1913, paragraph 6301), is not a tax upon income, but an "excise tax" upon the right to do business as a corporation, the amount of which is measured by income. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Excise tax on corporations—"False" return—Power of commissioner to amend.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1915.) Corporation tax law, section 38, by subdivision 3 (Comp. St. 1913, paragraph 6302) requires corporations to make "true and accurate" returns. Subdivision 4 (paragraph 6303) authorizes the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to amend any return believed to be inaccurate without any limit as to time, and subdivision 5 (paragraph 6304) provides that in case of "false or fraudulent" returns he shall, on discovery of the fact within three years, make a return and assessment thereon. Held, that, construing such provisions together, the word "false," as used in subdivision 5, is not to be construed as meaning intentionally or fraudulently false, but the same as "not true," or the equivalent of "incorrect," and that the commissioner has power in such case to amend a return at any time within three years. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Excise tax on corporations—“Net income.”

(U. S. D. C., 1915.) A net increase in the book value of securities held by a banking and trust company as an investment for surplus funds, as shown by an adjustment of such values entered on its books, such increase in some instances extending over a number of years, does not constitute “net income” received by the corporation during the year in which the adjustment was made, within the meaning of corporation tax act August 5, 1909, chapter 6, sections 38, 36 Statutes, 112 (Comp. St. 1913, paragraphs 6300–6307), and is not subject to the excise tax thereby imposed. (Industrial Trust Co. v. Walsh, internal-revenue collector, 222 Fed. Rep., 437.)

Internal revenue—Corporation taxes—Deduction—“Taxes imposed.”

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) Corporation tax law, August 5, 1909, chapter 6, section 38, paragraph 2, 36 Statutes, 112 (Comp. St. 1913, paragraph 6301), imposes a tax on the net income of corporations, but authorizes deductions from the gross amount of income of all sums paid by the corporation within the year for taxes imposed under the authority of the United States or of any State. Held, that the term “taxes imposed” must be construed to mean taxes imposed on a corporation which it was compelled to pay out of its own assets, and did not include taxes imposed on the corporation’s capital stock against the stockholders, though the corporation is required to pay the taxes in the first instance, being authorized to charge the amount so paid against the stock. (Eliot Nat. Bank v. Gill, 218 Fed. Rep., 600.)

Internal revenue—Corporations—Excise tax—Return—“False”—Commissioners’ power to amend.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1914.) Corporation tax law, August 5, 1909, chapter 6, section 38, paragraph 5, 36 Statutes, 112 (Comp. St. 1913, paragraph 6304), providing for the collection of a corporation excise tax, authorizes the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in case a return is false or fraudulent, to amend the same at any time within three years and assess and collect the correct amount of the tax. Held, that the word “false,” as so used, did not include only returns fraudulently made, or with intent to defraud, but should be construed as including all erroneous or incorrect returns, and to authorize the correction of an incorrect return within the three-year period, though made under a mistake of law, and though the tax under the return had been paid. (Ib.)

NOTE 1.—Specie payments were suspended from Jan. 1, 1862, to Jan. 1, 1879. During the greater part of that period gold and silver coins were not in circulation except on the Pacific coast, where it is estimated the specie circulation was generally about $25,000,000. This estimated amount is the only coin included in the above statement from 1812 to 1875, inclusive.

NOTE 2.—The Director of the Mint recently made a revised estimate of the stock of gold coin, and as a consequence of such revision the estimated stock of gold in the United States and of gold coin in circulation has been reduced $135,000,000 in the figures for 1907.

NOTE 3.—There was a reduction as of June 30, 1910, of $9,700,000 of subsidiary silver coin as a result of the revision of stock by the Mint Bureau.

NOTE 4.—Federal reserve notes to the amount of $84,260,500 are included in column headed "United States notes and bank notes," and $74,811,364 in gold and gold certificates, held by Federal reserve banks and Federal reserve agents against Federal reserve notes, are included in column headed "Coin, bullion, and paper money in Treasury as assets," for year ending June 30, 1915.

TABLE NO. 94.—Resources and liabilities of the second Bank of the United States.

[Chartered by Congress in 1816, for 20 years; renewal of charter denied; in consequence, reorganization was effected by means of authority of the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania. The bank assigned in 1841, the affairs being finally liquidated in 1856, and resulted in the payment in full, interest and principal, of liabilities to depositors and noteholders; the shareholders, however, received nothing on their investment in stock of the bank.]
