REPORT

OF THE

COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,
Washington, December 12, 1927.

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following annual report, in accordance with the provisions of section 333, of the United States Revised Statutes, covering activities of the Currency Bureau, in the year ended October 31, 1927. This is the sixty-fifth report made to the Congress since the organization of the bureau.

LEGISLATION

I make no recommendation to the Congress for the enactment of new legislation. But nine months have elapsed since the passage of the act of February 25, 1927, which amended the national banking laws. Too short a time has elapsed to allow banking to fully adjust itself. I feel, therefore, that no further banking legislation is necessary at this time.

NINE MONTHS' OPERATION OF THE ACT OF FEBRUARY 25, 1927, COMMONLY KNOWN AS THE M'FADDEN NATIONAL BANK ACT, AMENDING THE BANKING LAWS

This legislation had its origin in the specific recommendations made to Congress by my predecessor, Mr. Henry M. Dawes, who assumed office in the spring of 1923 and one of the first things to engage his attention was the competitive status of the national banks with commercial banks operating under State charters. In the late summer of 1923, the comptroller initiated a nation-wide investigation through the chief national bank examiners in each Federal reserve district, the aim of which was to gather and collate expert and technical recommendations for changes in the national banking laws. Each chief national bank examiner was instructed to confer with the leading bankers in his district and to make recommendations to the comptroller for new legislation based upon the practical needs of the national banks in the respective Federal reserve districts.

By the end of September, 1923, there was before the comptroller a considerable number of recommendations from the field. In the meantime he had called upon experts in the bureau at Washington to make recommendations relative to the need for specific legislation growing out of the administrative experience of the office for a decade or more past.

While these technical investigations and researches were in progress the comptroller conferred with a large number of bankers, both State and National, and with Federal reserve officials, with a view of developing a policy upon the basis of which he might make recommendations to Congress for new legislation.

With this mass of material before him, the comptroller induced several bankers of wide banking experience to sit with him and his counsel as a voluntary committee for the purpose of selecting from the numerous recommendations for new legislation the particular features which should form the basis of his recommendations to Congress. In the course of a month this committee had agreed upon what was thought to be the essential needs of the national banks for changes in their charter powers. The data thus selected was then cast into the form of a draft of a bill.

This draft was next referred to each of the chief national bank examiners in the 12 Federal reserve districts with instructions to consult again with leading bankers and to make recommendations for any changes. Members of the Banking and Currency Committees were kept in touch with these proceedings. After numerous conferences on the draft during which every phase of the commercial, industrial, and agricultural life of the country was taken under consideration in their relationship to the national banking system, the comptroller was able to lay before Congress his final recommendations. The bill was introduced by Chairman McFadden on February 11, 1924 (H. R. 6855, 68th Cong., 1st sess.).

In the comptroller's report for 1924 there was laid before Congress convincing evidence of the urgent need for the broadening of the charter powers of the national banks, as provided by the bill, in order to save the national banking system from ultimate extinction. That report showed that the national banks were gradually declining in relative strength, having during the preceding six years lost more than $2,230,000,000 to the State systems.

Subsequent developments during the three years the bill was before Congress served only to emphasize the trend toward disintegration in the national banking system. In my report to Congress for the year 1926 I pointed out that during the three-year period ending with September, 1926, 253 national banks entered the State systems, taking with them aggregate resources of more than $1,000,000,000. The aggregate resources of the national banks had dropped from 75 per cent of the total of commercial banking resources in the United States in 1884 to about 46 per cent in 1926.

In this connection it was freely predicted by the supporters of the so-called McFadden bank bill that its enactment by Congress would bring new life to the system of national banks because under the proposed act national banks would be able to perform every phase of banking carried on by State banks and trust companies. The McFadden Bank Act was approved by the President on February 25, 1927, and although it is too early to judge its full effect—the act having been in operation for less than nine months—it has fully justified itself, as the additions to the resources of the national banking system have more than offset the losses during the three-year period prior to the enactment of the act.

BRANCH BANKING

The establishment of new state-wide branches within the Federal reserve system was brought to an end by the act. Four of the leading State branch banking institutions have become national banks and are now operating under the restrictions upon branch banking which the act provides. There was no rush to acquire city branches following the authorization for their establishment by national banks, as only 127 new branches have been established with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency under the act since February 25, 1927. Prior to the passage of the act there were in the system 165 branches due to conversions and consolidations of State banks into national banks; 202 additional offices which had previously been approved by the Comptroller of the Currency under the authority of the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States were converted into branches under the terms of the act; and 5 branches granted in the District of Columbia under the authority of the Millspaugh Act. Since February 25, 1927, 400 new branches were added to the system through consolidations and conversions of State banks. Since the State banks had these 400 branches before their conversions or consolidations, their addition to the national system did not add to the total of branch banks in the United States. The act, therefore, may be said to have added to the number of branch banks in the United States the number of new city branches established and approved by the Comptroller of the Currency under the provisions of the act, namely, 127, one of which was subsequently abandoned.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES

The act imposed upon the Comptroller of the Currency the duty of making regulations for the purpose of controlling the business of buying and selling investment securities by national banks. The act itself affirms the basic authority for national banks to enter this field, but limited the operations to the purchase and sale, without recourse, of marketable obligations in the form of bonds, notes, or debentures, commonly known as investment securities under such further definition of the term as may by regulation be made by the Comptroller of the Currency.

The regulations were issued on June 30, 1927, in the following language:

SERIES I

REGULATIONS FURTHER DEFINING THE TERM "INVESTMENT SECURITIES" AS USED IN THE ACT APPROVED FEBRUARY 25, 1927

By virtue of the authority vested in the Comptroller of the Currency by the terms of section 2 (b) of the act approved February 25, 1927, the following regulations further defining the term "investment securities" are prescribed:

1. The business of buying and selling investment securities by national banks is governed by section 5136 of the Revised Statutes of the United States as amended by an act to further amend the national banking laws and the Federal reserve act, and for other purposes, as approved February 25, 1927, as follows:

"(b) That section 5136 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, subsection 'seventh' thereof, be further amended by adding at the end of the first paragraph thereof the following:

"Provided, That the business of buying and selling investment securities shall hereafter be limited to buying and selling without recourse marketable obligations evidencing indebtedness of any person, copartnership, association, or corporation, in the form of bonds, notes and/or debentures, commonly known as investment securities, under such further definition of the term 'investment securities' as may by regulation be prescribed by the Comptroller of the Currency, and the total amount of such investment securities of any one obligor or maker held by such association shall at no time exceed 25 per centum of the amount of the capital stock of such association actually paid in and unimpaired and 25 per centum of its unimpaired surplus fund, but this limitation as to total amount shall not apply to obligations of the United States, or general obligations of any State or of any political subdivision thereof, or obligations issued under authority of the Federal farm loan act."

2. An obligation of indebtedness which may be bought and sold by national banks, in order to come within the classification of "investment securities" within the meaning of the proviso of section 5136 above quoted, must be a marketable security as designated by the express language of said proviso. Under ordinary circumstances, the term "marketable" means that the security in question has such a market as to render sales at intrinsic values readily possible.

3. In classifying a given security as marketable the Comptroller of the Currency may in specific cases give consideration to various facts and circumstances, but he will require in all cases the following:

(a) That the issue be of a sufficiently large total to make marketability possible.

(b) Such a public distribution of the securities must have been provided for or made in a manner to protect or insure the marketability of the issue.

(c) That the trust agreement under which the security is issued provides for a trustee independent of the obligor and, in the case of securities issued under a trust agreement executed and delivered after 60 days from the date of the promulgation of these regulations, such a trustee must be a bank or trust company.

4. This series of regulations may be modified, amended, or withdrawn at any time by the Comptroller of the Currency.

Signed and promulgated this 30th day of June, 1927.

J. W. McINTOSH,
Comptroller of the Currency.

The effect of these regulations has been to exclude from the investment securities business of national banks all securities which do not conform to the standard set up in the regulations. It is the design of these regulations to carry out the intention of the act to limit the investment securities business of national banks to liquid and readily marketable obligations having a wider distribution than a purely local or restricted market.

NATIONAL BANKS IN THE TRUST FIELD

The passage of the Federal reserve act empowered national banks to broaden their financial service by acting in a fiduciary capacity. The amendment to the act of 1918 extended the number of fiduciary capacities in which they could act, and from that time on national banks have entered the trust field in increasing numbers, approximately 30 per cent of their number now holding permits from the Federal Reserve Board to do a trust business.

The Federal reserve act was made to rest chiefly upon national banks and with a twofold purpose its authors determined to admit this class of banks to the field of the fiduciary. They recognized the justice of permitting national banks to engage in a work performed by other corporations which have entered every branch of the banking field. They saw, too, the advantages to the public of making available as trustees, executors, administrators, guardians of estates, and in other fiduciary capacities the one unified banking system in the United States highly standardized in its practice and regularly supervised by the Federal Government. They recognized in national banks an agency through which trust facilities could be offered in practically every community in the Nation.

How far the national banks have penetrated the trust field is indicated by the fact that the assets of the individual trusts being administered by these banks now amount to more than a billion dollars, while corporate trusts amounting to more than two and a half billion dollars are being handled. More than 26,000 individual trusts were being administered by national banks during the past year. The most impressive part of their progress is that the growth has been recorded largely during the past few years. The number of national banks obtaining the right to exercise trust powers is increasing at the rate of more than 200 banks a year.

The McFadden Act which became a law on February 25, 1927, gave national banks, among other things, indeterminate charters and assured the institutions that their charters would not expire before the trust functions undertaken were fulfilled. National banks now feel safe in assuming the duties of trustees as well as accepting other fiduciary obligations, no matter how long the period of service promises to be. This was a much needed change in the law and cleared the way for full trust service by thousands of national banks.

Two hundred and four national banks were granted authority to exercise trust powers between November 1, 1926, and October 31, 1927, 148 of these permits having been granted since the passage of the McFadden Act, while 235 national banks holding fiduciary permits started to administer trusts during the present year.

While nearly a third of all the national banks in the 48 States, Alaska and Hawaii now hold permits to exercise fiduciary powers, several hundred have not yet become active in the work. On October 31, 1927, there were 865 national banks which had obtained permits to act in a fiduciary capacity, but had not actually started to exercise trust powers. However, during the year there were 643 national banks which adopted resolutions providing for the organization and operation of trust departments.

As the activities of trust departments have grown, so have the earnings that the national banks have reported from this source. Not only has the establishment of trust departments by national banks furnished a service to their communities which was greatly needed, but many banks have found that the trust departments have been the means of bringing new business to other departments of the bank, and enabled the bank to retain balances upon the death of their customers which would otherwise be diverted to a competing institution. For the year 1927 the earnings of trust departments aggregated $10,811,000. This represented an increase of $2,556,000 over the preceding year and a gain of $4,860,000 over 1925.

While progress is being made in spreading intelligence as to what trust departments can do, the declaration that a national bank, and particularly one in the name of which the word "Trust" is not found, is authorized or in a position to administer an estate or other form of trust would be a revelation to perhaps a greater number of potential clients of trust departments than are now served by national banks. However, the number of national banks having authority to exercise fiduciary powers availing themselves of the privilege to include the words "trust company" in their titles is constantly increasing, more than 100 national banks having already obtained permission from this bureau to amend their titles in this respect, and the movement in this direction is universal.

ORGANIZATION AND LIQUIDATION OF NATIONAL BANKS

There were 7,832 national banking associations in existence at the close of the current year, October 31, 1927. This number was less by 176, or 2.2 per cent, than the number in existence at the close of the preceding year on October 31, 1926. In this connection it is of importance to note that while the number of associations has decreased, their capital and aggregate resources have increased as of the date of the last call, October 10, 1927, compared with aggregate resources on December 31, 1926, the nearest call to the date of my last report, $1,529,975,000, or about 6 per cent, indicating a much healthier and stronger condition in the system as a whole.

This bureau is subject at all times to the demand for charters for new national banking associations. One of its most difficult problems is to avoid a conflict between the interests of the applicants and the needs of the community for additional banking facilities. There is a strong tendency on the part of many of those interested in securing charters for new banks to believe and to urge that because they or their associates are willing to risk their personal funds in capitalizing an institution a charter should be granted. The chances of success based on local banking and business conditions and the responsibility of investing the money of potential depositors which would be attracted to them is given but scant consideration. An analysis of the applications which this office has received for the establishment of new banks shows that there is too often a desire to organize banks in localities where the communities are amply served and which would not support new institutions with a likelihood of any fair measure of success.

Extreme care should be exercised in granting charters, both for National and State banks. This has been my policy with respect to national bank charters. During the current year only 44 per cent of the number of applications received for the establishment of new national banks was approved, as compared with 52 per cent the previous like period and an average of 72.8 per cent over the eight prior years, with a high of 82.7 per cent just subsequent to the World War. In other words, despite the fact that the number of applications received remains about the same, the number approved by this office is constantly becoming fewer and in the current year a less number of applications was approved than has been approved any year during the past 10-year period.

Up to and including October 31, 1927, there have been authorized to begin business 13,136 national banking associations, of which 4,199 were voluntarily closed to discontinue business or amalgamate with other banks, State or National, including those consolidated with other national banking associations under authority of the act of November 7, 1918. Exclusive of banks which failed but were subsequently restored to solvency, the loss to the system by banks liquidated through receiverships was 1,105, the number of these receiverships being a fraction less than 8.8 per cent of the total number of banks organized.

In November, 1914, there were in existence 7,578 national banks with capital of $1,072,492,175. Since that date the net increase in the number of banks was 254 and an increase in capital of $430,205,440. The capital of the banks in existence on October 31, 1927, was $1,502,697,615. In this 13-year period 2,484 banks were chartered with capital of $290,275,300. During this period, however, 2,100 associations were closed voluntarily or otherwise.

Applications to organize national banks and to convert State banks into national banking associations were received in the current year to the number of 290, with proposed capital stock of $66,420,000. Of the applications pending 129 were approved with proposed capital stock of $35,325,000, 138 rejected with proposed capital stock of $25,225,000, and 59 abandoned with proposed capital stock of $5,485,000. National banking associations to the number of 135, with capital of $43,570,000, were authorized to begin business, of which 3 were located in the New England States, 56 in the Eastern, 22 in the Southern, 23 in the Middle Western, 13 in the Western, and 18 in the Pacific States. The greatest activity as indicated by the number of banks organized was in the following States: New York, 25 banks; New Jersey, 13; Pennsylvania, 18; Texas 11; Minnesota 12; Iowa, 6; and California 14. In other States the number ranged from 1 to 3 banks. It further appears that of the total number of charters issued, 30, with authorized capital of $28,310,000 and resources aggregating approximately $849,381,890, were the result of conversions of State banks—8, with capital of $735,000, reorganizations of State or national banks, and 97, with capital of $14,525,000, primary organizations. The conversions of State banks into national associations brought into the system 298 branches.

In the year in question 50 national banking associations were consolidated into 25 under authority of the act of November 7, 1918, the capital of the consolidated banks being $33,759,000. In some instances there were reductions in capital and in others increases, but the net result by reason of consolidations was a reduction in capital stock of $407,000.

There have been 16 consolidations under the act of February 25, 1927, authorizing the consolidation of State banks with national banks—the aggregate capital of the consolidating State banks being $14,560,000. These banks also brought 105 branches into the national system, and assets aggregating approximately $271,849,456.

The voluntary liquidation of 165 associations represented a capital of $37,495,000, while the capital of the 135 insolvent banks was $8,257,000. The net result of the changes hereinbefore mentioned was a decrease for the year in the number of active banks by 176 and an increase in authorized capital stock of $80,565,210. It appears that during the year 238 banks increased their capital in the aggregate sum of $86,184,210. Of this number 73 banks effected the increase by stock dividends, the amount of the increase in this manner being $6,776,350.

Of the 165 banks reported in voluntary liquidation 66 with capital of $9,325,000 were acquired by other national banks and 99 with capital of $28,170,000 either entered the State banking system or quit business.

NATIONAL BANK FAILURES

One hundred and thirty-five national banks, with an aggregate capital of $8,257,000, were placed in charge of receivers during the year ending October 31, 1927. While the number of failures was larger by 44 than the number during the corresponding period covered by my previous report, 111 failed between November 1, 1926, and June 30, 1927, and but 24 failed from July 1, 1927, to November 1, 1927. The low number of failures in this last period of four months together with reports of condition made to this office indicate that the drift is toward a more normal condition in the number of failures. The date that each bank was authorized to begin business, the date of the appointment of its receiver, its capital stock, and its circulation outstanding at date of failure are shown in the appendix of this report.

I believe that failures of many banks could have and can be averted if the directors would give closer attention to the affairs of the bank. I am constantly urging that directors exercise the duty placed on them by law and which has been stated in many decisions of the courts; a portion of one decision which I quote:

I will say to you, as a matter of law, that a board of directors when they have selected officials, can not leave everything to them. They must do more than select officials. Otherwise they would simply be a nominating committee. They are required to select honest officials, and they are required further to use the same degree of care and prudence that men prompted by self-interest generally exercise in their own affairs. They are required to give direction to the general affairs of the bank and its business policy and have a general knowledge of the manner in which the business is conducted, the character of the investments, and the employment of the resources.

A large number of failures occurring in the years 1924 to date have been in some measure due to the too liberal policy of granting charters, especially during the inflation period immediately following the war. As I have stated elsewhere in this report, an analysis of the applications which this office has received for the establishment of new banks shows that there is too often a desire to organize banks in localities where the community is amply served by present banking facilities and which would not support new institutions with a likelihood of any fair measure of success.

From the date of the first failure of a national bank in the year 1865 to October 31, 1927, 1,173 national banks were placed in charge of receivers. Of this number 68 were restored to solvency and permitted to resume business, leaving 1,105 to be administered by receivers. Of these so administered, 467 are now in process of liquidation, being open receiverships administered by receivers under the supervision of the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and 638 have been entirely liquidated by receivers and the trusts closed.

The capital stock of the 1,173 insolvent national banks at the date of failure was $132,960,420. The capital stock of the 68 national banks that were restored to solvency was $12,020,000. The capital stock of the 1,105 banks that continued in receiverships was $120,940,420.

The book or nominal value of the assets of the 1,105 administered receiverships, including assets acquired after suspension, aggregated $732,786,866. Total collections by receivers to September 30, 1927, from these assets, including offsets, amounted to $407,981,092. There was levied against shareholders of these banks stock assessments aggregating $81,764,440, and in addition to the amount collected from assets, there was collected from these stock assessments the sum of $38,193,221, giving a total collection of $446,174,313 collected from all sources, or 54.8 per cent of total assets and stock assessments. This sum was disbursed as follows:

Dividends paid to creditors on claims proved, aggregating $403,005,681	$228, 800, 568
Payments to secured and preferred creditors, including offsets allowed and payments for the protection of assets	172, 026, 619
Payment of receivers' salaries, legal and other expenses	27, 795, 067
Cash returned to shareholders	4, 160, 105
Cash balances with the comptroller and receivers	13, 391, 954

In addition to this record of distribution there was returned to shareholders through their duly elected agents, assets of a nominal value of $16,124,930.

The 467 national banks that were as of October 31, 1927, still in charge of receivers and in process of liquidation, had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $293,655,868. Receivers had collected from these assets, as shown by their last quarterly reports under date of September 30, 1927, including offsets, the sum of $142,618,070. The capital stock of these banks was $30,824,500, and there had been levied by the Comptroller of the Currency to October 31, 1927, stock assessments against the shareholders in the amount of $26,799,200. From such assessments there had been collected up to and including September 30, 1927, $11,543,-865, making collections from all sources in the liquidation of these active receiverships a total of $154,161,935, or 48.9 per cent of such assets and stock assessments, which amount has been distributed as follows:

Dividends paid to creditors on claims proved, aggregating $171,755,837-----	$55,967,305
Payments to secured and preferred creditors, including offsets allowed and payments for the protection of assets-----	75,459,894
Payment of receivers' salaries, legal and other expenses-----	8,992,782
Cash returned to shareholders-----	350,000
Cash balance with the comptroller and receivers-----	13,391,954

During the year ending October 31, 1927, the liquidation of 46 receiverships was completed and the receiverships closed. These added to the 660 receiverships previously liquidated give a total of closed trusts of 706, in which is included the 68 banks that were restored to solvency, leaving 638 that were liquidated by receivers. The total assets of these 638 receiverships including assets acquired subsequent to suspension, aggregated $439,130,998. The total assessment against shareholders levied by the comptroller aggregated $54,961,240. From the assets the receivers collected, including offsets, $265,363,022, and from stock assessments the receivers collected $26,649,356, making of all collections a total of $292,012,378, or 59.9 per cent of such assets and stock assessments, which sum was distributed as follows:

Dividends paid to creditors on claims proved, aggregating $231,249,844-----	$172,833,263
Payments to secured and preferred creditors, including offsets allowed, and payments for the protection of assets-----	96,566,725
Payment of receivers' salaries, legal, and other expenses-----	18,802,285
Cash returned to shareholders-----	3,810,105

The average percentage of dividends paid on claims proved against the 706 receiverships that have been finally closed was 74.74 per cent. Had offsets, loans paid, and other disbursements been included in this calculation the disbursements to creditors would show an average of 80.95 per cent.

Expenses incident to the administration of these closed trusts such as receivers' salaries, legal, and other expenses, amounted to $18,802,285 or 4.28 per cent of the nominal value of the assets administered, or 6.43 per cent of collections from assets and stock assessments. The assessments against shareholders average 53.81 per cent of their holdings and the total collections from such assessments as were levied were 48.49 per cent of the amount assessed. The outstanding circulation of these closed receiverships was $33,670,103 secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasury of the United States of the par value of $36,168,350.

BANK FAILURES OTHER THAN NATIONAL

Information received from the banking departments of the several States shows that during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1927, there were 689 failures of State and private banks, with total liabilities of $206,655,000, as compared with 496 failures of this class of banks the year previous, with liabilities aggregating $147,823,000.

Tables showing the number of failures and liabilities of banks other than national and national banks in each State, for the six-month periods ended December 31, 1926, and June 30, 1927, together with similar figures for the year ended June 30, 1927, are published in the appendix of this report. The appendix also includes a table showing the number and liabilities of State and national bank failures as of June 30, each year, 1914 to 1927, inclusive.

NATIONAL BANK CIRCULATION

Notwithstanding a reduction in excess of $1,000,000,000 was effected during the year in the interest-bearing debt of the United States, the amount of bonds eligible as security for national bank circulation on June 30, 1927, was the same as at the close of the prior fiscal year, namely, $674,625,630, and is the limit of the volume of national bank circulation issuable. The eligible bonds consist of $599,724,050 consols of 1930; $48,954,180 Panama Canal 2's of 1916-1938, and $25,947,400 Panama 2's of 1918-1938. Of these bonds the Treasurer, on June 30 last, held as security for national bank circulation $666,991,130; as security for public deposits, $390,500, and for postal savings $186,200. This leaves only $7,057,800 bonds of these classes held otherwise than by the Treasurer as security for circulation and deposits.

The national bank circulation outstanding at the close of the fiscal year aggregated $704,146,267, of which $661,288,545 was secured by bonds, and the remainder, $42,857,722, was secured by lawful money held by the Treasurer of the United States to provide for the redemption of the notes of banks retiring their circulation and on account of associations in liquidation.

The stock of money in the country on July 1, 1927, aggregated $8,531,991,679, and showed an increase of $158,331,450 over the revised figures furnished as of July 1 the year previous. Of the current stock gold coin and bullion amounted to $4,565,070,147, or 53 per cent; silver dollars and subsidiary silver $833,766,816, or 10 per cent, and United States notes, Federal reserve issues and national bank circulation, $3,133,154,716, or nearly 37 per cent. Of the latter amount $2,077,473,195 represented Federal reserve notes and comprise more than 24 per cent of the total circulating medium, while 4 per cent were United States notes and 8 per cent national bank circulation.

The paid-in capital of the national banks in existence was $1,480,202,199, and as the amount of bonds eligible as security for national bank circulation is $674,625,630 it will be observed that the circulation issuable by national banks is but 45½ per cent of the maximum amount authorized by law, namely, the paid-in capital stock.

In the table following, disclosing the total of Government securities held by the Treasurer of the United States on June 30, 1927, is shown separately the amount of bonds held eligible for national bank circulation:

United States Government securities held in trust by Treasurer of the United States, June 30, 1927

In the year ended October 31, 1927, the withdrawal of bonds held by the Treasurer of the United States in trust as security for national-bank circulation amounted to $40,571,100. The withdrawals by reason of liquidation of banks amounted to $28,140,550, and on account of banks placed in charge of receivers $3,032,550. Bonds held by the Treasurer in trust as security for circulation were augmented to the extent of $41,951,510 on account of deposits made by newly organized banks and by those increasing their circulation. The transactions of the year by months in each account named are shown in the following statement:

The total individual deposits in all reporting banks in the continental United States, Alaska, and insular possessions on June 30, 1927, were $51,132,554,000, of which amount $26,032,001,000 were savings deposits.

The per capita individual deposits based on an approximate population of 129,804,000 were $393.92, and the per capita savings deposits were $200.55. The increase in the per capita savings deposits is due in part to the inclusion of time certificates of deposits with other savings, which have not heretofore been so included.

Statement showing the population, amount of individual deposits, per capita individual deposits, amount of savings deposits, and per capita savings deposits reported by all banks in each State, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and the insular possessions follows:

³ Does not include gold bullion or foreign coin outside of vaults of the Treasury, Federal reserve banks, and Federal reserve agents.

NOTE.—Gold certificates are secured dollar for dollar by gold held in the Treasury for their redemption; silver certificates are secured dollar for dollar by standard silver dollars held in the Treasury for their redemption; United States notes are secured by a gold reserve of $155,420,721 held in the Treasury. This reserve fund may also be used for the redemption of Treasury notes of 1890, which are also secured dollar for dollar by standard silver dollars held in the Treasury. Federal reserve notes are obligations of the United States and a first lien on all the assets of the issuing Federal reserve bank. Federal reserve notes are secured by the deposit with Federal reserve agents of a like amount of gold or of gold and such discounted or purchased paper as is eligible under the terms of the Federal reserve act. Federal reserve banks must maintain a gold reserve of at least 40 per cent, including the gold redemption fund which must be deposited with the United States Treasurer, against Federal reserve notes in actual circulation. Lawful money has been deposited with the Treasurer of the United States for retirement of all outstanding Federal reserve bank notes. National-bank notes are secured by United States bonds except where lawful money has been deposited with the Treasurer of the United States for their retirement. A 5 per cent fund is also maintained in lawful money with the Treasurer of the United States for the redemption of national-bank notes secured by Government bonds.

Statistics obtained from Mr. H. F. Cellarius, secretary, United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations, with headquarters at Cincinnati, Ohio, disclose that for the fiscal year ended 1926, the latest date for which complete information is available, there were 12,626 building and loan associations in the United States, having a membership of 10,665,705 and assets totaling $6,334,103,807. Pennsylvania again made the largest increase last year in aggregate assets, gaining $140,000,000, with New Jersey second, $114,528,201. Other States with increases over $10,000,000 were: Ohio, $80,811,032; Massachusetts, $56,238,224; California, $49,449,097; New York, $39,617,343; Illinois, $38,105,554; Wisconsin, $32,734,104; Indiana, $29,424,113; Maryland, $28,000,000; Louisiana, $24,262,576; Missouri, $22,454,167; Texas, $18,832,713; Michigan, $16,585,652; Kansas, $14,047,462; Washington, $12,855,563; Nebraska, $11,692,571; Kentucky, $10,511,475; and Oklahoma, $10,281,418.

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL CREDIT CORPORATIONS

The National Agricultural Credit Corporations of Fort Dodge, Iowa, and of Des Moines, Iowa, were voted into voluntary liquidation on October 25, 1926. As none has been organized since then, only one, the Pacific National Agricultural Credit Corporation of Fresno, Calif., remains in operation.

The two Iowa corporations were organized to answer the temporary needs of the sections in which they were located and they were discontinued when in the judgment of their shareholders the purpose for which they had been organized had been fulfilled.

The growth of the Pacific National Agricultural Credit Corporation, which is authorized to do business in the Pacific Coast States and a few contiguous ones, indicates the need for it as permanent rather than temporary. A comparison of the statement of this corporation for October 10, 1927, with the statement of the same corporation for June 30, 1926, as it appeared in the report of the Comptroller of the Currency for the year 1926, will show that its resources have more than doubled during an interval of about 16 months. Further comparison will also show that on October 10, 1927, the resources of the one remaining corporation were over 50 per cent more than the combined resources of all corporations in operation on June 30, 1926.

In the statement following is shown a summary of the resources and liabilities of the Pacific National Agricultural Credit Corporation of Fresno, Calif., at the close of business October 10, 1927:

In addition to the Federal cases one case each has been taken from the New York Supplement, the Northwestern Reporter, the Pacific Reporter, and the Washington, D. C., Reporter.

In addition to the cases above referred to there have been added references to a number of decisions of State courts, of particular interest to banks, for the year ended November 15, 1927, which were furnished this office by Mr. Thomas B. Paton, the general counsel for the American Bankers Association. These decisions are given in Paton's Digest, reference to which is made in each case.

Payment—Creditor's acceptance of check, which was not paid, held not to extinguish debt.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Debt held not extinguished by creditor's acceptance of check, which was not paid. (Cleve. et al. v. Craven Chemical Co. et al., Craven Chemical Co. v. Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond et al., 18 Fed. Rep. 2d series, 711.)

Payment—Absent special agreement, acceptance of check is not "payment," unless check is paid.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) In the absence of special agreement to that effect, acceptance of a check does not operate as "payment" of a debt, unless the check itself is paid. (Ib.)

Payment—Agreement to accept check as absolute payment is not implied from surrender of evidences of debt or giving of receipt.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) An agreement that a check is to be received in absolute payment is not to be implied from the fact that on its receipt evidences of debt are marked "paid," and surrendered, or a receipt given. (Ib.)

Payment—Check given in payment for debt, in exchange for which drawee bank gave exchange draft, which was not paid, held not "paid," so as to extinguish debt (Pub. Laws N. C. 1921, c. 20, § 2).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where check given in payment for debt was forwarded by Federal reserve bank into whose hands it came to drawee bank, which remitted by exchange draft on reserve funds of drawee in another bank, which exchange draft was not paid before closing of drawer bank, held, original check given in payment for debt was not "paid," so as to extinguish debt, in view of Public Laws North Carolina, 1921, chapter 20, section 2, authorizing a drawee bank to pay checks by exchange drafts, unless cash payment is specified by drawer. (Ib.)

ACCEPTANCE OF CHECK BY CREDITOR, WHICH WAS NOT PAID, HELD NOT TO EXTINGUISH DEBT

Bills and notes—Generally acceptance of draft representing proceeds of check operates as payment thereof, discharging drawer.

Bills and notes—Absent statute, check is payable in cash, and acceptance of something else estops payee to deny payment.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) In absence of statute, check is payable only in cash, and if holder accepts something other than cash he assumes the risk incident thereto, and is estopped to deny payment as against drawer. (Ib.)

Payment—Creditor's acceptance from debtor of third person's check is conditional payment only, in absence of special agreement.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) In the absence of any special agreement, the mere acceptance by a creditor from his debtor of the check of a third person payable to the creditor's order for a pre-existing debt is not absolute, but merely conditional, payment, defeasible on dishonor or nonpayment of the check. (Ib.)

Payment—Creditor, accepting check not paid, held not precluded from proceeding against debtor, or required to look to bank receiving check for payment.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Creditor's acceptance of check, which was not paid, held not to preclude it from proceeding against debtor, or require it to look to bank with which it deposited check for collection. (Ib.)

Federal reserve bank held not negligent in collection of check, in accepting exchange draft, or failing to require check bearing "I. C." (immediate credit) Symbol (Pub. Laws N. C. 1921, c. 20, § 2).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Federal reserve bank, receiving for collection check drawn on North Carolina bank, held not negligent in accepting exchange draft in payment, as it was required to do by Public Laws North Carolina 1921, chapter 20, section 2, nor in failing to require payment by check bearing the "I. C." (immediate credit) symbol. (Ib.)

Payee held not entitled to recover for alleged negligence of bank in collecting check, where no damage was shown.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Payee of check held not entitled to recover for alleged negligence of collecting bank, where full recovery was had against debtor and no damage shown. (Ib.)

PAYMENT OF CHECKS ON TRUST FUNDS

Trusts—One mingling own and trust's funds in personal bank deposit is presumed to have first drawn out own funds on check for personal debt.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Agent or trustee, depositing trust funds to his own personal credit and mingling them with his personal funds, and thereafter drawing checks on the deposit in payment of his personal debts, will be presumed to have first drawn out his own money, leaving that belonging to the trust fund. (Commercial National Bank of Independence, Kans., v. Stockyards Loan Co.; Stockyards Loan Co. v. Commercial National Bank of Independence, Kans., 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 911.)

Trusts—Mortgagor, in selling mortgaged cattle and depositing proceeds in his personal account, occupied fiduciary relation to mortgagee.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In selling mortgaged cattle and depositing the proceeds in his individual account, mortgagor must be held to have acted as agent or trustee for mortgagee, thus occupying a fiduciary relation to it as respects the money. (Ib.)

In view of mutual indulgence of balances, bank without notice of beneficial ownership held not liable to one whose funds agent deposited in own name and used to pay agent's preexisting debt to bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) There being a mutual indulgence of balances between bank and depositor, in which his deposits in his own name of proceeds of cattle which he had mortgaged played no inconsiderable part—that is, it having extended credit to him by reason of said deposits along with others, and changed its position by reason thereof—it, having had no notice of the beneficial ownership thereof, is not liable to the mortgagee for such funds used by the depositor to pay his preexisting debt to it. (Ib.)

Equity—Ultimate facts, which must be drawn from primary facts found by master, will be treated as found.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Though master specifically found only primary facts, ultimate facts, which can and must be drawn therefrom, will be treated as found. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Master's findings, approved by trial court, are not disturbed when not clearly against weight of evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Findings of master, approved and confirmed by trial court, are presumptively correct, and will not be disturbed, unless clearly against the weight of the evidence. (Ib.)

COLLECTIONS

TITLE TO CLAIMS DEPOSITED WITH BANK FOR COLLECTION

Forwarding bank can recover against correspondent bank, accepting draft without recourse, for checks forwarded for collection.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Where correspondent bank in collecting checks forwarded to it, accepted draft without recourse, and surrendered checks to drawee bank, forwarding bank was entitled to recover therefor, on failure to drawee bank before presentation of draft. (First National Bank of Rigby, Idaho, v. First Utah National Bank of Ogden, 15 Fed. Rep. 2d series, 913.)

Bank becomes owner of paper unrestrictedly indorsed for deposit, notwithstanding custom or agreement to charge paper back to depositor in event of dishonor.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) On deposit of paper unrestrictedly indorsed and credit of amount, bank becomes owner of paper, notwithstanding custom or agreement to charge such paper back to depositor in event of dishonor. (Ib.)

Bank, receiving checks for collection, is liable for failure to collect because of negligence of any bank to which it transmits checks.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Bank, in receiving checks for collection, must not only use due care, but is also liable for failure to collect, resulting from negligence of any bank to which it transmits checks for collection. (Ib.)

Bank, as collecting agent, has no authority to accept anything for debt of principal, except legal tender.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) A bank is collecting agent, without authority to accept anything for debt of principal, except that which the law declares to be legal tender, and is responsible for any resulting loss on surrender of paper on payment of anything except cash. (Ib.)

Trial—Request for directed verdict by both parties submits determination of disputed facts to court.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Request for directed verdict by both parties submitted to court ascertainment and final determination of disputed facts. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—On appeal from directed verdict, after request therefor by both parties, appellate court is limited to determination of whether law was correctly applied.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) On appeal from directed verdict, after request therefor by both parties, appellate court may review controverted facts, but may determine whether there was error in application of the law. (Ib.)

Collecting bank, if solvent, may mingle proceeds of draft with general assets.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where draft is sent by one bank to another for collection, collecting bank, in absence of express agreement, has implied authority to mingle proceeds with its general assets, thereby creating relation of debtor and creditor, unless it is insolvent. (First National Bank of Ventura v. Williams, 15 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 585.)

When proceeds of draft can be recovered.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) One who has forwarded draft to bank for collection may recover proceeds, if they can be traced or identified, where collecting bank was insolvent to knowledge of officers at time of collection. (Ib.)

Money of insolvent bank, including proceeds of draft sent to it for collection, may be held in trust pending equitable separation for defrauded party, if bank's funds were increased by such proceeds.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where bank, with knowledge of insolvency, mingles proceeds of draft sent to it for collection with its money, whole may be held in trust till equitable separation is made for defrauded party, provided bank's funds were increased by such proceeds. (Ib.)

Bank's use in clearance of check received in collection of draft held not to place cash in bank, so as to create trust fund for amount of draft.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Bank's collection of draft, which brought check, which was used in clearance to pay checks drawn on it, held not to place any cash in bank, so as to create trust fund for amount of draft; such check being used to reduce liabilities, not to increase assets. (Ib.)

Trial.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Courts must decide cases, not on suppositions, but on facts as proven or admitted. (Ib.)

COMPTROLLER OF CURRENCY

In case of injury threatened by the illegal action of a Government official he can not claim immunity from injunction process on the ground that the suit is one against the United States.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) The exemption of the United States from suit does not protect its officers from personal liability to persons whose rights or property they have wrongfully invaded; and in case of an injury threatened by the illegal action of a Government official he can not claim immunity from injunction process on the ground that the suit is one against the United States. (Riggs National Bank of Washington, D. C. v. John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency; William Gibbs McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury; and John Burke, Treasurer of the United States; Washington Law Reporter, vol. 44, p. 434.)

Validity of action of the Comptroller of the Currency in imposing penalties upon a bank for alleged failure to file certain reports called for by him may be inquired into by the court.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) The validity of the action of the Comptroller of the Currency in imposing penalties upon a bank for alleged failure to file certain reports called for by him may be inquired into by the court and if found unwarranted by law the payment of interest on bonds of the bank withheld for the purpose of meeting the penalties assessed may be compelled. (Ib.)

The Comptroller of the Currency acts within his powers where he determines that penalties shall not be assessed against a bank in a particular case.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) The Comptroller of the Currency acts within the powers conferred upon him by law where upon a review of the entire situation he determines that penalties should not be assessed against a bank in a particular case. (Ib.)

The fact that the comptroller waived the right to assess a penalty will not preclude the court from passing upon the right of the comptroller to assess such penalties.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) Where, however, at the time a suit for an injunction was filed it appeared that the comptroller had not only assessed penalties of $5,000 against the plaintiff bank and directed the withholding of interest on bonds with which to meet such penalties, but was also claiming that certain reports made by the bank were unsatisfactory and that penalties of $100 a day were being incurred by the bank, the fact that in response to the bill the comptroller made affidavit that reports having been made to all the calls, although not within the time prescribed by law, he did not intend to assess any penalties other than the $5,000, and waived the right to assess any other penalty on such calls, will not preclude the court from passing upon the right of the comptroller to assess such penalties. (Ib.)

Equity jurisdiction.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) In such a case, equity has jurisdiction because of its being alleged that property rights are being threatened by acts of a Federal officer claimed to be unlawful which if not restrained will lead to a multiplicity of suits. (Ib.)

Secretary of the Treasury can not be restrained from withdrawing Government deposits from a national bank.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) The matter of the deposit in bank of public funds is one within the uncontrollable judgment of the Secretary of the Treasury, and his action in that regard could not be restrained even though he should threaten the withdrawal of deposits with the hope that by so doing he would injure a particular bank. (Ib.)

A bill in equity against the Comptroller of the Currency, Secretary of the Treasury, and Treasurer of the United States to have declared illegal the action of the comptroller in assessing certain penalties against the plaintiff bank, to enjoin the threatened assessment of further penalties, and charging a conspiracy on the part of the defendants to injure the bank does not state a cause of action against the Secretary of the Treasury.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) A bill in equity against the Comptroller of the Currency, Secretary of the Treasury, and Treasurer of the United States to have declared illegal the action of the comptroller in assessing certain penalties against the plaintiff bank, to enjoin the threatened assessment of further penalties, and charging a conspiracy on the part of defendants to injure the bank, held not to state a cause of action against the Secretary of the Treasury, and the bill dismissed as to him unless he should be a necessary party in order to give relief by way of directing the payment of interest on bonds of the bank withheld because of the penalty assessed by the comptroller. (Ib.)

Special reports required by the Comptroller of the Currency from national banks under section 5211 are required to show what the comptroller may in his judgment deem necessary to a full and complete knowledge of the bank's condition.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) Section 5211, Revised Statutes, United States, authorizes the Comptroller of the Currency to require from banks, in addition to the five reports as to resources and liabilities therein provided for, special reports from a particular bank, and such special reports are required to show what the comptroller may in his judgment deem necessary to a full and complete knowledge of the bank's condition, and are not to be confined to a mere statement of resources and liabilities as are the five general reports provided for. (Ib.)

Any inquiry made by the Comptroller of the Currency for the purpose of informing himself as to the management of a national bank lawful under section 5211.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) Section 5211, Revised Statutes, United States, construed to make lawful any inquiry by the comptroller for the purpose of obtaining information, not only as to current items on the books of the bank, but also for the purpose of informing himself generally as to the management of the bank. (Ib.)

When acts not held arbitrary.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) Whether official action is so arbitrary as to amount to a total lack of authority is a mixed question of law and fact. An act can not be held arbitrary if it is reasonably related to a particular lawful purpose or unless the court can say the means have no reasonable relation to the end. (Ib.)

Comptroller not authorized to demand reports of condition be verified by persons designated by him to swear to them.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) The calls for reports made by the comptroller in the present case held lawful, but that officer held not authorized to demand that such reports be verified by the persons designated by him to swear to them. (Ib.)

Where comptroller has called for a report not verified and attested as required by law he can not lawfully assess a penalty.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) Held, therefore, that the comptroller having called for a report not verified and attested as provided in the statute could not lawfully assess a penalty for a failure to comply with the demand made by him. (Ib.)

Except for the purpose of compelling payment of the interest due the plaintiff bank and retained to meet the penalties unlawfully assessed by the comptroller, and of enjoining the assessment of other penalties for failure to comply with the demands for reports, the bill dismissed as to all of the defendants.

(D. C. Sup. 1916.) Except for the purpose of compelling payment of the interest due the plaintiff bank and retained to meet the penalties unlawfully assessed by the comptroller, and of enjoining the assessment of other penalties for failure to comply with the demands for reports, the bill dismissed as to all the defendants. (Ib.)

CONSOLIDATION

Merger contract between National and State bank held not ultra vires.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Contract of merger between National and State bank held not ultra vires, though national bank assumed liabilities of State bank, which also carried on insurance business. (Bishop v. United States (2 cases); Gates v. United States, 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 410.)

ATTACHMENT OF DEPOSIT BY CREDITOR

Bankrupt's deposit, attached subsequent to issuance and before presentation of check, passed to trustee, on adjudication within four months.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Bankrupt's deposit, attached by creditor within four months preceding adjudication, the attachment remaining in effect at adjudication, passed to the trustee, notwithstanding the bankrupt's check, issued before the attachment, had been presented and was treated by the bank as valid, subject only to the attachment. (In re Erie Exposition Ass'n, 19 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 524.)

Issuing check and crediting it as payment is not "assignment" of deposit, which is attached after issuance and before presentation of check.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Giving of check, credited on books of the drawer as payment, does not operate as "assignment" of funds on deposit at time check is issued, but which are attached by third person before the bank has notice of the check or demand is made for payment. (Ib.)

Drawee bank's return of check unpaid because of attachment of deposit is "refusal of payment."

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) The return of check by drawee bank, because of an attachment of the deposit subsequent to the issuance of the check and prior to its presentation to the bank, is a distinct "refusal of payment." (Ib.)

APPLICATION OF DEPOSIT ON NOTE

Bank applying deposits of partnership, which used same account with corporation, to corporation's note, held not liable to surety for partnership for misapplication of funds.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where same bank account was used by partnership and by members of partnership constituting corporation, bank which without knowledge of agreement between partners and surety that proceeds of checks were to go to furnishers of material for carrying out partnership's building contract, applied checks payable to partnership to note of corporation, was not liable to surety of partnership on building contract, on theory that it had taken funds of partnership and applied them to corporation's debt. (Fidelity & Deposit Co. of Maryland v. Union State Bank of Minneapolis et al., 21 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 102.)

Subrogation—Bank, applying money deposited by contractor on note without knowledge of agreement that it was to pay materialmen, held not liable to contractor's surety.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where surety on public contractor's bond received checks of employer for final amount due contractor, and later surrendered them to contractor, to be deposited in bank on condition that contractor's checks to materialmen should be paid from proceeds thereof, it waived its right of subrogation, and bank, without knowledge of such arrangement, applying proceeds to note of contractor due it, was not liable to surety. (Ib.)

Generally bank may set off deposit against loan to depositor at maturity or in case of insolvency or in event of bankruptcy.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Generally, a bank has right to set off deposit made in usual course of business against loans to depositor at maturity or in case of his insolvency, and may do so even in event of bankruptcy. (American Bank & Trust Co. v. Morris, 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 845.)

Stipulations in notes held to constitute agreement authorizing bank to appropriate deposits on maturity or insolvency.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Stipulations in notes held to constitute an agreement authorizing bank to appropriate deposits to payment of loans at maturity or in case of insolvency. (Ib.)

Deposit applied on notes at maturity may be credited to either of notes secured by same collateral, and balance may be proved in bankruptcy. (Civ. Code La., art. 2166.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where, under terms of notes, collateral attached to one was applicable to all notes held by bank, deposit appropriated by bank and applied on notes could have been credited on either, and the other proved as a debt in bankruptcy proceedings, since Civil Code of Louisiana, article 2166, requiring imputation of deposit as payment to secured debt, has no application. (Ib.)

STATE GUARANTY LAWS

State bank, operating as "going concern" by guaranty fund commission, held not immune from suit on certificate of deposit. (Laws Nebr. 1925, c. 30, secs. 1, 4; Comp. St. Nebr. 1922, secs. 7982, 8024, 8027; sec. 8028, as amended by Laws 1923, c. 191, sec. 26.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) State bank, organized under Nebraska laws, operated as a "going concern" by the guaranty fund commission under Laws Nebraska, 1925, chapter 30, sections 1, 4, receiving and paying deposits, making loans, and doing all other acts pertaining to the business of a going bank, and charter of which was never forfeited, held not immune from being sued on certificate of deposit issued by it, because operated by agency of State, in view of Compiled Statutes, Nebraska, 1922, sections 7982, 8024-8027, and section 8028, as amended by laws of 1923, chapter 191, section 26; presumption being that term "going concern" was used in its ordinary acceptance, which is repugnant to idea that corporation ceased to exist. (Metropolitan Savings Bank and Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., v. Farmers' State Bank of Rosalie, Nebr., et al., 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 775.)

State statutes held not to prohibit suit against bank operated as "going concern" by guaranty fund commission. (Laws Nebr. 1925, c. 30, secs. 1, 4, 5.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Laws Nebraska 1925, chapter 30, section 4, providing for operation of bank by guaranty fund commission as a "going concern," without any provision changing or taking away any liabilities or powers previously possessed by bank, held not to prohibit actions against the bank on its dishonored obligations while it is so operated; section 1, providing that commission shall conduct affairs of bank and retain possession of its assets for sufficient time to make examination of its affairs and dispose thereof as provided by law, requiring commission within reasonable time to determine whether to operate bank as "going concern" under section 4 or to liquidate it through receivership under section 5, and, only during such preliminary period are bank's assets immune from execution or attachment, even if statute be construed as prohibiting enforcement of judgment by execution of attachment during entire period of operation of bank as a "going concern." (Ib.)

Corporations—Appointment of receiver does not prevent actions against corporation, except as such actions are enjoined, or as they affect receiver's possession.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Corporate existence of corporation is not affected by the appointment of a receiver of its property, and corporation remains subject to actions at law to the same extent as if no receiver had been appointed, except as such actions may be restrained or enjoined in receivership proceedings, and no action can be maintained in any way affecting or embarrassing receiver in possession of the property of the corporation to which his receivership entitles him. (Ib.)

An obligation in terms of currency of a country takes the risk of currency fluctuations.

(U. S. Sup. 1926.) An obligation in terms of the currency of a country takes the risk of currency fluctuations and whether creditor or debtor profits by the change the law takes no account of it. In an action brought here on a debt arising from a deposit made in Germany and payable there on demand, in marks, it is erroneous to translate the amount due into dollars at the rate of exchange existing when demand was made, the mark having depreciated thereafter. (7 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 330, reversed.) (Deutsche Bank Filiale Nurnberg v. Humphrey, 272 U. S. R. 517.)

Because of absence of privity, buyer from one who had had letter of credit issued for payment of same article could not maintain action for money received against the bank, paying contrary to instructions.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Plaintiff, buyer of coal from B, who had contract for purchase thereof and through a Swedish bank had had letter of credit issued by defendant bank on account of B for payment thereof, could not maintain action for money had and received, though, unknown to defendant, plaintiff advanced the money to the Swedish bank for payment on B's purchase of the coal, even if payment by defendant to the one from whom B bought, and to whom the letter of credit was issued, was not in accordance with instructions; the letter of credit being a distinct contract from the underlying contracts of sale, and there being no privity between plaintiff and defendant. (Kunglig Jarnvagsstyrelsen v. National City Bank of New York et al., 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 307.)

Buyer under c. i. f. contract, having accepted documents furnished by seller, on which he was paid by bank, and given notice of affirmance, can not thereafter claim it did not receive proper documents, and on that theory recover of seller as for money had and received.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where buyer under c. i. f. contract accepted unconditionally the documents furnished by seller, on which he was paid by bank, and gave notice of affirmance of the transaction to the bank, buyer can not thereafter claim that it did not receive the proper documents on which seller was to be paid, because among the papers was a brokers' certificate of insurance, instead of an insurance policy, and on that ground recover of the seller as for money had and received. (Ib.)

Principal and agent. For affirmative of agent's contract, with consequent liability, it is enough that principal intentionally does acts constituting affirmance.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Principal, intentionally doing acts which constitute affirmance of agent's contract, assumes liability, even if not intending to do so; actual willingness to assume consequences of the affirmance being unnecessary. (Ib.)

Sales. Under contract of sale of coal, seller held entitled to deliver the limited amount per month for the part of six months after the raising of government embargo remaining after withdrawal of railroad service order against shipment.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Under contract for sale of 150,000 tons of coal for shipment to foreign country, providing that shipments on this contract are to begin within 30 days after raising of Government embargo, and to be completed within six months thereafter, they to be subject to strikes and government restrictions, and to be approximately 30,000 tons per month; embargo being lifted May 1, but a railroad service order forbidding shipments on account of strike being thereafter issued, and not withdrawn, September 17, seller was entitled thereafter to deliver 30,000 tons in September and that amount in October, but no more then or later. (Ib.)

Sales. Contract for sale of coal of specific kind held not changed as to subsequent shipments by shipment, in emergency and on permission, of other kind.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Contract for sale and shipment of coal of a certain specified kind is not changed as to subsequent shipments by a shipment on one occasion, in an emergency and on permission obtained by cable, of a different kind. (Ib.)

Letter of credit covering shipment by steamer "sailing during first half of November" held to require that steamer break ground during that period.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Letter of credit, covering sugar to be shipped "by steamer * * * sailing during the first half of November," held to require the ship to actually break ground during that period, as against claim that it was sufficient if it was expected or scheduled to leave within such time. (Commercial Union of America (Inc.) v. Anglo-South American Bank (Ltd.), 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 979.)

Letter of credit, construed as requiring shipment on steamer scheduled to sail before certain time, held not complied with.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Letter of credit, covering sugar to be shipped "by steamer * * * sailing during the first half of November," if construed only to require that steamer be expected or scheduled to sail within such period, held not complied with by letter showing only that on November 4th the steamer was expected to sail on the 13th. Plaintiff, depositing money with national bank to open account in Russian branch, contracted only with national bank, to be carried out in part by agency of branch.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where plaintiff deposited with New York national bank money for purpose of opening an account in Russian branch, and received therefor receipt that money paid represented cost of certain number of rubles to be transferred to Russian branch to open plaintiff's account, there was only one contract made with bank in New York, to be carried out in part by agency of Russian branch, and not separate contract with Russian branch. (Sokoloff v. National City Bank of New York, 224 N. Y. Supp. 102.)

Deposit of dollars with defendant bank to open account in Russian branch created debtor-creditor relationship, with Russian legal currency payable on demand at branch.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where plaintiff deposited American dollars with defendant bank, for purpose of opening an account in Russian branch for equivalent amount in Russian rubles, usual relation of debtor and creditor arose, with exception that money was payable in legal currency of Russia at branch. (Ib.)

Plaintiff, depositing money in defendant bank to open account in Russian branch, could only demand payment in Russia where bank was impliedly obligated to maintain branch.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where plaintiff deposited money with defendant bank to open account in Russian branch, where money was to be paid on demand in Russian legal currency, plaintiff could not demand payment elsewhere, and obligation on bank to maintain branch in Russia was necessarily implied. (Ib.)

Branches of parent bank, though separate entities, are subject to supervision of parent bank which owns their property, and is liable for their debts. (Federal reserve act, sec. 25 (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 601-605).)¹

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where bank maintain branches, each branch becomes separate business entity, with separate books of account, and depositor in one branch can not issue checks or drafts on other branch, or demand payment from such other branch, in view of Federal reserve act, section 25 (act Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, 38 Stat. 273 (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 601-605)), but, when considered with relation to parent bank, branches are not independent agencies, but subject to supervision of parent bank which owns their property and assets, and is ultimately liable for debts of branch. (Ib.)

Relations between parent and branch bank was not altered by regulations in Russia for privilege of conducting Russian branch.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Relation of parent bank in New York to branch bank in Russia is not altered by fact that, for privilege of doing business in Russia, parent bank was required to take out charter for Russian branch and submit to certain regulations in Russia as to method of conducting business. (Ib.)

New York bank, opening account in Russian branch for depositor, became liable to depositor under New York contract on closing Russian branch.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where New York national bank contracted with depositor to open account in branch bank in Russia for amount paid in New York, New York bank was subject to Russian regulations so long as it conducted its business in Russia, but became liable to depositor under contract made in New York when it closed its Russian branch. (Ib.)

Transfer of depositor's account by defendant bank's Russian branch, remained executory until money was available at place where transferred, and could be revoked prior thereto.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where depositor, having an account in Russian branch of New York national bank, directed branch bank to transfer balance to credit of himself and credit society, credit on books of branch bank to account of its agent for purpose of effecting transfer was not a transfer of money to agent which could be applied to account of defendant, but transaction remained merely executory until money actually became available to depositor in credit society, and depositor could revoke order for transfer prior to actual transfer of money. (Ib.)

Depositor, telegraphing bank to hold funds immediately on discovering transfer had not been made, held to have promptly rescinded order for transfer.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where depositor directed bank to transfer account, and transfer was to have been made by telegraph, depositor, on learning that transfer had not been made, promptly rescinded order by telegraphing bank to hold funds at disposal of another. (Ib.)

Depositor directing general depository to transfer credit through another bank, sustained relation of principal and agent to depository.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where depositor directed his general depository to transfer credit through another bank to credit society, general depository was agent of depositor to effect transfer, and relation between depositor and depository was that of principal and agent, and not debtor and creditor. (Ib.)

Bank through whom depositor instructed depository to transfer credit held agent of depositor's bank for transmission of credit.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where depositor directed bank holding his account to transfer account through another bank, such other bank was merely an agent of depositor's bank for transmission of credit, and had no right to appropriate credit to anything but specific purpose intended. (Ib.)

Evidence did not show that bank designated by depositor through which credit should be transferred was depositor's agent.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) In action by depositor against bank on contract to purchase Russian rubles, proof that depositor directed branch bank in Russia to transfer account to another through a certain bank, and that defendant had balance in another bank through which it could have transferred credit, did not prove that but for depositor's instruction branch bank would have transmitted credit through another bank, so as to make bank specified by depositor his agent. (Ib.)

Direction by branch bank to another bank to transfer account, never executed and canceled prior to actual transfer of credit, held not payment of debt to depositor.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where depositor established account in defendant's branch bank in Russia, and instructed branch bank to transfer account through another bank to credit society, direction by branch bank to agent bank to transfer credit, which was never executed, and which depositor canceled prior to time when depositor was actually given credit in society, did not constitute payment of debt by branch bank. (Ib.)

"Payment" of debt payable in money requires delivery by debtor to creditor of money or other valuable thing to extinguish debt.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) To constitute "payment" of debt payable in money, there must be delivery by debtor, or representative to creditor or his representative of money or other valuable thing for purpose of extinguishing debt, which is received by creditor for same purpose. (Ib.)

Agent bank, appointed by Russian branch of defendant bank for transmission of credit, was not entitled to credit on books of transmitting bank until credit was actually established.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where Russian branch of defendant bank directed another bank as agent to transmit credit for one of its depositors, agent bank was not entitled to credit on books of transmitting bank until it had established credit to depositor's account, and, when depositor revoked order for transfer, agent bank was entitled to cancel credit established on books of transmitting bank. (Ib.)

Purchase from bank of check or draft on another bank is executed transaction.

Order for transfer of credit under Giro system in Russia is executory until credit is actually established.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Order for transfer of credit under Giro system prevailing in Russia is executory, and not executed, and transfers nothing to person seeking transfer of credit until credit is actually established. (Ib.)

Defendant bank's Russian branch, on being informed that transfer of depositor's account had not been consummated, should have recredited depositor's account.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where Russian branch of defendant bank was instructed by depositor having account in branch bank to transfer account to another, branch bank, on being informed that transaction had not been consummated, should have recredited depositor's account. (Ib.)

Check or draft credited to depositor's account, not in fact paid, can be charged back to depositor's account.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where check has been credited to depositor's account so that he could draw against it, or where draft is forwarded for collection and credited as paid, bank may charge check or draft back to depositor's account if check or draft is not in fact paid. (Ib.)

Until order for transfer of credit is finally consummated, entry prior to execution of transaction which fails should be corrected.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where depositor orders transfer of credit from one bank to another, until transaction is finally consummated and cash or equivalent made available, any entry in advance, made on supposition that transaction will be fully executed, is erroneous, and should be corrected, if it later transpires that thing on expectation of which entry was based had not happened. (Ib.)

Defendant bank's Russian branch directing another bank to transfer credit of depositor held not prejudiced, where transaction remained unexecuted.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where defendant's branch bank in Russia was instructed by depositor to transfer his account through another bank, and directed other bank to make transfer, branch bank was not deprived of anything of value by reason of transaction, where transfer was never consummated, and no settlement was made between branch bank and bank appointed as agent for transmission. (Ib.)

Bank's relation to depositor is that of debtor and creditor.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Relation between bank and depositor is that of debtor and creditor. (Ib.)

Demand by depositor for payment need not be made where bank disclaims liability or demand would be futile.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Rule that no cause of action could accrue by depositor against bank without previous demand made at banking office and during banking hours does not extend to cases where bank has disclaimed liability, or where for any other reason demand would manifestly be futile. (Ib.)

Presentation of check to bank for payment was not condition for depositor's action against bank, refusing payment to depositor's sister as directed.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where depositor, immediately on discovering that transfer of credit had not been made by bank as directed, wrote and telegraphed bank that transfer had not been made, requesting bank to hold funds at disposal of his sister, and bank wrote plaintiff that it had acted on first instruction, and could not hold funds as directed, and further refused payment to depositor's sister on her demand for funds, it was not necessary for the depositor's sister to draw check signed by depositor and present it for payment in order for depositor to recover against bank. (Ib.)

Demand by depositor during time when Russian branch of defendant bank was taken by soviet authorities was not necessary as condition for action to recover deposit, since futile.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where depositor, immediately on discovering that transfer of credit had not been made by Russian branch of defendant bank as directed, wrote and telegraphed bank that transfer had not been made, requesting bank to hold funds at disposal of his sister, and bank was thereafter taken over by soviet authorities, demand for payment during such time would have been futile, and demand in addition to letter presented to bank requesting payment of deposit to depositor's sister was unnecessary as condition of depositor's action to recover money deposited. (Ib.)

Action to recover deposit did not require further demand than letter requesting bank to pay depositor's sister, though bank wrote depositors to withdraw deposits.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where bank refused to pay deposit to depositor's sister as directed by depositor after his revocation of order to transfer credit, letters written by bank to depositors, urging them to withdraw deposits, did not affect depositor's claim, and demand for payment in addition to letter presented by bank requesting deposit to be paid to depositor's sister was unnecessary for action to recover deposit. (Ib.)

Recovery of deposit in Russian branch of defendant bank, confiscated by Russian authorities, could not be defeated under Russian law, where damages were not claimed.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) In action to recover deposit in Russian branch of defendant bank, law of Russia that recovery can not be had for breach of contract where performance is prevented by superior force was not defense to action where no damages were claimed and interest was waived. (Ib.)

Inability of depositor in Russian branch of defendant bank to recover debt in Russia is not defense but element of Supreme Court's jurisdiction.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) In action to recover deposit in Russian branch of defendant bank, fact that depositor can not recover his debt in Russia is not defense to action, but rather an element of jurisdiction of Supreme Court. (Ib.)

Depositor's statement electing to recover rubles transferred to Russian branch of national bank was election to sue on breach of contract rather than rescission.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where complaint by depositor against national bank was equivocal, in that it could not be ascertained whether depositor was proceeding on theory of rescission of contract, whereby deposit was transferred to Russian branch, or on theory of breach of contract, statement by plaintiff that he elects to rest upon claim to recover amount of Russian rubles sued for at valuation of rate of exchange prevailing on day of breach of contract was in effect an election to recover on theory of breach of contract. (Ib.)

Whether depositor in Russian branch of defendant bank, was entitled to recover proportionate part of dollars, or value of rubles on deposit, held question of law for referee.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) In action by depositor to recover deposit transferred to Russian branch of defendant bank, question whether depositor is entitled to recover proportionate part of dollars for which he has not been repaid in rubles, or whether he is entitled to recover only value of rubles in his deposit, is one of law for referee. (Ib.)

Bank sued to recover deposit could require depositor to elect between inconsistent remedies of recovery, based on rescission of contract or damages for breach.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) In action by depositor against national bank to recover deposit transferred to Russian branch, bank had right to demand that depositor elect between inconsistent rights of action for recovery based on rescission of contract for failure of consideration, or for damages for breach of contract. (Ib.)

Creditor on foreign cause of action is entitled to relief obtainable in foreign courts, but may obtain relief under local laws where rights arose under such laws.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) Where cause of action arises exclusively in foreign country, and jurisdiction of local courts is secured merely because debtor has been served, or his property attached in state of forum, local courts will only grant that relief that creditor could have secured in courts of foreign country, but, where jurisdiction of local courts is sought to enforce rights arising under local laws, relief will be granted as of time when liability accrues under local laws. (Ib.)

National bank held liable for value in dollars of rules on deposit in Russian branch at date of removing branch after refusing payment.

(N. Y. Sup. 1927.) In action by depositor against national bank to recover deposit transferred to Russian branch, depositor held entitled to recover equivalent of value of rubles in dollars at time they should have been paid, when national bank removed branch from Russia after refusing to pay depositor amount of rubles on deposit after demand. (Ib.)

Evidence—Evidence of agreement for application of proceeds on guaranteed account held not to vary guaranty.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Evidence that, at time of execution of written guaranty of liabilities of logging company, guarantor was given bill of sale of certain property belonging to company, with understanding that, on sale thereof, proceeds would be applied to reduce guaranty, held not parol testimony altering terms of written contract of guaranty, since only effect of parol evidence was to show that, before executing guaranty, guarantor had received security to protect himself against loss. (Canadian Bank of Commerce v. Berg, 17 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 867.)

Bank held liable to guarantor for misapplication by officer interested in logging company of proceeds of company property sold under directions of guarantor holding property as security.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where bank officer, who was also interested in logging company, sold certain trucks of logging company under instructions of person holding bill of sale as security for guaranteeing company's liabilities, lower court's holding that bank officer, in selling trucks under directions that proceeds were to be applied on the guaranty, was acting in behalf of bank, and not for logging company, as bearing on bank's liability to guarantor for misapplication of proceeds to general indebtedness of company, held not erroneous. (Ib.)

Evidence held to show that national bank guaranteed payment of paper of customer of which its vice president was official.

(Sup. Col. 1927.) Evidence held to show that plaintiff national bank guaranteed payment of customer's notes, on which defendant bank loaned money at plaintiff's request, notwithstanding vice president of plaintiff bank was also official of borrower. (Stockyards Nat. Bank of Denver v. Brown, 255 Pac. Rep. 624.)

National bank's guaranty of payment of certain paper, though ultra vires, rendered it liable to extent of benefit derived from loans. (National banking act (U. S. Comp St. sec. 9657 et seq.).)

(Sup. Col. 1927.) National bank's guaranty of payment to another bank of money loaned by latter on paper coming through former, though ultra vires under national banking act (U. S. Comp. St. 9657 et seq.), rendered such bank liable to extent of benefit derived, where overdraft was wiped out by loan. (Ib.)

COMPTROLLER HAS EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OVER RECEIVERS

United States—United States officials, in administering duties, are accountable to court only for fraud or errors of law in executing official acts.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Officials of the United States, when engaged in administering the duties of the office to which they are assigned, are accountable to court only in event of fraud or errors of law in matter of execution of their official acts, and otherwise will not be disturbed by the courts. (Altman v. McClintock et al., 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 226.)

Receiver of national bank is not amenable to accounting, unless exceptional situation justifies such relief. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 198.)¹

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Receiver of national bank held an officer of the United States, acting under express direction of the Comptroller of Currency, pursuant to 12 U. S. C. A., section 198, and, although he may be in a sense a trustee for creditors of defunct bank, he is not amenable to accounting to his cestui que trust, except if situation should arise wherein court would feel justified in granting such relief. (Ib.)

Comptroller of Currency has exclusive authority in matter of necessary expense in administration of receivership for national bank. (National banking act (12 U. S. C. A.))²

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Administration of receivership of a national bank is committed to the Comptroller of Currency by the national banking act (12 U. S. C. A.), and he has as much authority in the matter of incurring and authorizing necessary expense as would account in administering a receivership before it. (Ib.)

Depositors held not entitled to discovery to determine right of action against officers under petition for accounting as to expenses of receiver of national bank.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where depositors sued to secure accounting from receiver of national bank, and discovery sought, in nature of examination of books, was for purpose of determining right of action against officers and directors of bank, while accounting sought related to matter of expenses of receivership, a situation is not presented entitling plaintiff to accounting prayed for, since discovery would have little to do with accounting of receiver of own official acts, and in order to warrant relief discovery must be in aid of general relief sought. (Ib.)

Discovery must be in aid of general relief.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) A discovery must be in aid of general relief sought. (Ib.)

Receiver of national bank is officer under comptroller, and assets are not in custodia legis (Comp. St. § 9821).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Receiver of a national bank, appointed by the comptroller under Revised Statutes, section 5234 (Comp. St. § 9821), is his officer, and not an officer of the court, nor are its assets, while in his hands, in custodia legis. (Hulse v. Argetsinger et al., 18 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 944.)

No appeal lies in proceeding by receiver of national bank to compound liability of directors (Comp. St. § 9821).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Since proceeding under Revised Statutes, section 5234 (Comp. St. § 9821), by receiver of national bank, to compound liability of directors, is not judicial but administrative in character, no appeal lies therefrom. (Ib.)

Receiver of national bank, in proceeding to compound liability of directors, is not subject to court's supervision (Comp. St. § 9821).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Receiver of national bank, in proceeding under Revised Statutes, section 5234 (Comp. St. § 9821), for compounding liability of directors, is not subject to court's supervision, except as prescribed by statute, and although he must have court's consent to compound debts or to sell assets, that is merely condition on powers which are otherwise like those of the bank itself, and, after getting leave to compound, he may do as he wills. (Ib.)

ACTIONS BY RECEIVERS

RECEIVERS SUIT TO RECOVER ASSETS

Trusts—Action may be brought in equity in behalf of insolvent bank to impress funds withdrawn by depositor with trust.

(U. S. D. C. Iowa.) Action in behalf of insolvent bank to impress a trust on certain funds withdrawn by depositor may be brought in equity, with authority in court, in case proof showed money should be impressed with such trust, to make order requiring it to be turned over in same manner as if other specific assets of bank were involved. (Sioux Falls Trust & Savings Bank et al. v. Homer W. Johnson Co. et al., 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 693.)

Trusts—Sum withdrawn by depositor shortly before bank closed as legitimate banking transaction can not be imposed with trust in favor of bank.

(U. S. D. C. Iowa.) Where depositor, during time immediately preceding bank's liquidation, continued regular business therewith and made deposits of approximately $13,000 while bank was open and presumably doing a legitimate business, with no knowledge that bank was not entirely solvent, $7,000 withdrawn by depositor shortly before bank closed as a legitimate banking transaction in an ordinary way can not be impressed with a trust in action in behalf of such insolvent bank. (Ib.)

Trusts—Proceeding to impress trust on funds withdrawn by depositor before bank's insolvency must fail when funds were used in improvement of property subsequently transferred to bank.

(U. S. D. C. Iowa.) Where money withdrawn by depositor shortly before closing of insolvent bank was used in payment of improvement of property subsequently transferred to bank during liquidation, proceeding in equity to impress a trust on such fund must fail, in that it would be necessary to follow such funds, which at time of action constituted property already in bank's possession. (Ib.)

SUIT BY CREDITOR OF NATIONAL BANK, AFTER INSOLVENCY AND BEFORE APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVER

Creditor of national bank, suing after insolvency and before appointment of receiver, held not entitled to lien under State law creating lien on lands of judgment debtor.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Under Revised Statutes, United States, sections 5236, 5242 (U. S. Comp. St. secs. 9823, 9834), forbidding establishment of lien against a national bank, creditor bringing suit after bank went into control of examiner, but before appointment of receiver, held not entitled to lien, under Compiled Statutes, Nebraska, 1922, section 8986, creating a lien on lands of judgment debtor from date of judgment, since it is not the appointment of a receiver which fixes right of creditors, but the date of insolvency. (Steele, County Treasurer, v. Randall et al., 19 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 40.)

Insolvency is unaffected by intention of hopes of persons affected.

National banks are "Federal instrumentalities."

Receiver of national bank is an "agent and officer of United States."

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Receiver, appointed for national bank under Revised Statutes, sections 5234-5236 (Comp. St. secs. 9821-9823), is not in any sense such an official as receiver appointed by court of equity, but is an administrative officer selected by comptroller, and is an "agent or officer of the United States." (Ib.)

PROOF AND PAYMENT OF CLAIMS

CREDITOR OF INSOLVENT BANK HOLDING COLLATERAL SECURITY IS ENTITLED TO PROVE CLAIM FOR TOTAL DEBT AGAINST INSOLVENT DEBTOR AND TO DIVIDENDS THEREON UNTIL DEBT IS PAID

Creditor of insolvent bank, holding collateral security, is entitled to claim for total debt against insolvent debtor and to dividends thereon until debt is paid.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where creditor of insolvent bank holds collateral security for payment of its debt, it is entitled to allowance of claim for full amount of debt and to payment of dividends on entire debt, pro rata with general creditors, until dividends, together with amount realized from security, equal full amount of debt. (United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Centropolis Bank of Kansas City, Mo., et al., 17 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 913.)

County held entitled to total claim against insolvent depository, and to dividends thereon until such dividends, with amount paid by surety, equated deposit.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where county had deposit in insolvent bank partially secured by sureties, it is entitled to allowance of claim for full amount of deposit, and to receive dividends thereon until dividends, together with amount paid by sureties, equal full amount of deposit. (Ib.)

Principal and surety—Bank's contract to indemnify surety guaranteeing county deposits held legal and enforceable contract.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Contract of indemnity, entered into by bank with surety company executing surety bond guaranteeing county deposits, not being in contravention of any provision of law or public policy of State, held a legal and enforceable contract. (Ib.)

Principal and surety—Implied contract that principal will indemnify surety for payment made to creditor arises when suretyship is made.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) When a contract of suretyship is made, there arises, in absence of express agreement, an implied contract that principal will indemnify surety for any payment latter may make to creditor in compliance with contract of suretyship, and such implied contract, arises when suretyship is made, and not when payment is made by surety thereunder. (Ib.)

Surety guarantying county deposits in insolvent bank held to have "claim" for payment thereunder by virtue of contract of indemnity. (Rev. St. Mo. 1919, §§ 11700, 11702, 11713, 11715-11724, Laws, Mo. 1921, p. 394.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Surety guarantying county deposits in insolvent bank, after paying its obligation under bond, held to have a "claim" against bank, within meaning of Revised Statutes, Missouri, 1919, sections 11702, 11713, 11715-11722, by virtue of its contract of indemnity, and mere fact that claim accrued under bond after bank was closed and placed in process of liquidation, pursuant to Laws, Missouri, 1921, page 394, and Revised Statutes, 1919, sections 11700-11724, did not prevent allowance of claim. (Ib.)

Subrogation—Surety liable for portion of debt held not entitled to subrogation, unless he pays whole debt, or it is otherwise satisfied.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Surety, who is liable only for part of debt, does not become subrogated to collateral, or to remedies available to creditor, unless he pays whole debt, or it is otherwise satisfied. (Ib.)

Principal and surety—Suretyship contracts should be interpreted according to terms, given effect in their plain, ordinary, and popular sense.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Contracts of suretyship should be interpreted like other classes of contracts, according to sense and meaning of terms which parties have used, and those terms should be taken, understood, and given effect in their plain, ordinary, and popular sense. (Ib.)

County's claim against insolvent bank for deposits held not entitled to priority over claim of surety under indemnity contract.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where surety has discharged its liability under bond partially guarantying county deposits in insolvent bank, claim of county against bank on its contract of deposit is not entitled to priority over claim of surety by virtue of contract of indemnity. (Ib.)

Depositor of bonds converted and pledged by bank held entitled to recover of receiver on trust fund theory only balance of proceeds above pledgee's claim.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Plaintiff, who left bonds at a national bank for safe-keeping, can not recover the value thereof of its receiver on the theory of a trust fund, because the bank delivered them with others to the State treasurer, to secure deposits made by him, and he, on receiver being appointed, sold all the bonds and from the proceeds satisfied his claim, there being no augmentation thereby of the funds of the bank; but plaintiff can, on the trust fund theory, recover at most only the balance of the proceeds of the pledged bonds in excess of the treasurer's claim, which was by him paid and delivered to the receiver, and if some of the other pledged bonds belonged to other individuals, and were also converted by the bank, then plaintiff can recover only her pro rata of the balance. (Dudley et al. v. Richards, 18 Fed. Rep. 2d series, 876.)

Bank, converting and pledging bonds of depositor, can not be assumed to have owned all others pledged.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) National bank having converted bonds deposited with it for safe-keeping and pledged them with others, it can not be assumed that all the other bonds belonged to the bank, relative to the right of the special depositor to recover of the bank's receiver, as a trust fund. all the balance of the proceeds of the pledged bonds over and above the pledgee's claim. (Ib.)

PREFERENCES IN INSOLVENCY

Trusts—To maintain claim for preferential payment over general creditors of insolvent, cestui que trust must clearly prove that his property or its proceeds went into specific fund or property in hands of receiver.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) It is indispensable to the maintenance by a cestui que trust of a claim for preferential payment over general creditors out of the proceeds of the estate of an insolvent that clear proof be made that the cestui que trust's property, or its proceeds, went into a specific fund, or into a specific identified piece of property, which came to the hands of the receiver or holder of the insolvent's property. (Farmers National Bank of Burlington, Kans., et al. v. Pribble, 15 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 175.)

Proof that property of cestui que trust or its proceeds was used by insolvent bank or its receiver to pay indebtedness of insolvent does not warrant preferential payment to cestui over general creditors.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Proof that such property or its proceeds was used by the insolvent or its receiver or holder to pay the indebtedness of the insolvent, or to diminish its liabilities warrants no such preferential payment. (Ib.)

Where check given to pay draft left with bank for collection was used with other checks and cash to clear with other bank, owner of draft was not entitled to preference against bank's receiver.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where draft left by plaintiff with bank for collection was paid by check on another bank, which check, with others and cash, was used in clearing with other bank, held that, since check did not bring cash into bank, plaintiff was not entitled to have trust declared against bank's receiver therefor, but was entitled to rights of general creditor only. (Smith Reduction Co. v. Williams, 15 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 874.)

Owner of draft left for collection held entitled to recover proceeds, without interest, without waiting settlement of estate, where bank's receiver admitted that proceeds as trust funds came into his possession.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where bank's receiver admitted that proceeds of collection of draft were in bank's vaults as trust funds when it failed, and were part of assets in his hands, owner of draft was entitled to recover proceeds, without interest, and without being required to wait until estate was settled. (Ib.)

When payments will be presumed not to be from trust fund.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) As respects priority, where bank holds funds in vaults under express trust, payments by it will be presumed to have been from other funds. (Marshburn v. Williams, 15 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 589.)

Proceeds of bonds converted by bank, by placing them to its credit in another bank mingling them with other deposits therein, held inextricably intermingled with other assets of converting bank, so that status of owner of bonds was that of general creditor.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Proceeds of bonds converted by bank, by placing them to its credit in another bank, mingling them with other deposits therein, and checking against them in favor of other banks, held inextricably intermingled with other assets of converting bank, so that status of owner of bonds was that of general creditor; there being no presumption that check to another bank embraced part of fund, merely because drawing bank, at time of failure, had balance in such other bank. (Ib.)

RIGHTS OF PERSONS MAKING DEPOSITS AFTER INSOLVENCY

Transaction held not to make bank trustee of fund arising from sale of bonds of depositor, and by her direction credited to account of correspondent bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Defendant owned Government bonds, which were about to mature, and were on special deposit with a Cincinnati bank. She arranged with a local bank in which she was depositor, for reinvestment, and sent an order to the Cincinnati bank to sell the bonds and put the amount to the credit of the local bank, of which it was correspondent. It did so, notifying defendant and the local bank of the amount credited to its account "for use of" defendant. Held, that the qualifying words meant no more than that the amount was for credit by the local bank to defendant, and did not make the Cincinnati bank trustee of the fund, and required to hold it for defendant on failure of the local bank. (Marvin, Banking Commissioner of Kentucky, v. Martin, 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 746.)

Amount remaining to credit of insolvent bank with its correspondent bank held trust fund for depositor, whose deposit was received after insolvency.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) The local bank being insolvent and knowing the fact, when the money was deposited in its account, its receipt was fraudulent, and the bank held the deposit as trustee for defendant, and as between them the amount which had remained continuously to its credit with the Cincinnati bank, until it failed, not exceeding such deposit, belonged to defendant. (Ib.)

Damages—Banking commissioner held liable for interest on trust fund withheld from owner by litigation.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Banking commissioner, as administrator of insolvent bank, held liable for interest, as damages, on trust fund withheld from owner by litigation. (Ib.)

DEPOSITOR, WHO CHECKED OUT PROCEEDS OF NOTES DISCOUNTED AT BANK BEFORE IT FAILED, HELD NOT ENTITLED TO POSSESSION OF DISHONORED NOTES, BECAUSE OF BANK'S INSOLVENCY WHEN NOTES WERE DISCOUNTED

Depositor, who checked out proceeds of notes discounted at bank before it failed, held not entitled to possession of dishonored notes, because of bank's insolvency when notes were discounted.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where depositor indorsed and discounted notes to bank, and his account was credited with proceeds, which he checked out before bank failed, held, he was not entitled to recover possession of notes, which were not paid at maturity because they were obtained when bank was insolvent, to knowledge of its officers. (Bryant v. Williams, 16 Fed. Rep. 2d series, 159.)

Notes indorsed to bank without qualification, proceeds being checked out by depositor before bank failed, held property of bank, notwithstanding right to charge back.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where depositor indorsed notes without qualification, and discounted them at bank, and checked out proceeds credited to his account, bank became owner of notes, and not mere agent for collection, notwithstanding it reserved right to charge back notes to depositor's account, if not paid at maturity. (Ib.)

Rules of Federal and not of State courts apply.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) In determining whether paper discounted at national bank becomes property of bank, Federal courts apply rules of Federal and not of State courts. (Ib.)

Custom of banks to charge back dishonored paper does not entitle depositor, who receives full value, to demand surrender by bank of dishonored paper.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Custom of banks to charge back to depositor's account dishonored paper, or implied agreement arising therefrom that it may be so charged back, is merely a summary method of collection, and imposes no duty on bank, nor gives depositor, who indorses it to bank and receives full value, right to demand that bank surrender it, if not paid at maturity. (Ib.)

Bank's right to charge dishonored paper to depositor.

When it is bank's duty to charge dishonored paper against depositor's account.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) It is bank's duty to charge back dishonored paper against depositor's account only where depositor is primarily liable, and then only for protection of those secondarily liable. (Ib.)

Indorser has no right to set off deposit balance against receiver if principal debtor is solvent.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where receiver of insolvent bank seeks to enforce liability of indorser on notes discounted at bank, indorser has no right to set off deposit balance, if principal debtor is solvent. (Ib.)

Burden is on depositor to show that he has no recourse against maker.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Burden is on depositor, suing bank's receiver, to have deposit balance set off against depositor's liability as indorser on notes, to show that he has no recourse against maker. (Ib.)

DEPOSIT OF SCHOOL FUNDS

Insolvent bank's indebtedness to school district is reduced by surety's payment under liability bond, and payment by receiver of dividends on full amount held erroneous.

(U. S. D. C.)¹ Failure of receiver of insolvent bank to cancel amount of indebtedness to school district to extent that it was reduced by surety company in satisfaction of its liability on indemnity bond, and payment of pro rata dividend on full amount to board of education held erroneous. (American Surety Co. of New York v. National Bank of Barnesville, Ohio, 17 Fed. Rep. 2d series, 942.)

¹The Federal Reporter does not give the month or year in which the case of The American Surety Co. of New York v. National Bank of Barnesville, Ohio, was decided. The preceding case in the Reporter is given as decided Mar. 4, 1927, and the following case as decided on Dec. 9, 1925. The next case is given as decided Mar. 16, 1927.

Subrogation—Surety, paying full bond liability in partial extinguishment of debt, held not subrogated to rights of creditor in amount paid.

(U. S. D. C.) Surety company, by paying full liability under bond partially extinguishing debt of board of education against depository, held not subrogated to rights of board of education to extent of amount paid against bank, because total debt to board of education was not paid. (Ib.)

Subrogation—“Subrogation” is substitution of one person for another with reference to lawful claim or right.

(U. S. D. C.) “Subrogation,” in its broadest sense, is substitution of one person in place of another with reference to lawful claim or right, and is frequently referred to as the doctrine of substitution. (Ib.)

Principal and surety—Surety has right of action against principal on indemnity contract on paying liability under bond.

INSOLVENT STATE BANKS

ALABAMA

Contract by officer to make good losses from continued operation, if bank were allowed by State superintendent to remain open, held not invalid.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) A contract by which an officer and director of a State bank, in consideration of the bank being permitted to continue in business for a stated time, obligated himself to the State superintendent of banks to make good any loss to depositors or creditors by reason of such continuance, which contract, as construed by the parties, did not free the bank from supervision by the banking department, held not invalid as requiring a suspension by the superintendent of his official duties. (Jackson, Supt. of Banks of Alabama, v. Keyser, In re Wilson, 18 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 252.)

Officer of insolvent bank held liable on contract to make good any loss to depositors or creditors by reason of the bank being permitted to continue in operation for a stated time.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where an insolvent bank, about to be closed by the superintendent of banks, was permitted to continue in operation for a time on an agreement by an officer and director to make good any loss to depositors or creditors by reason of such continuance, at the end of which time it remained insolvent and was taken over for liquidation, and during the period some who were depositors or creditors at its beginning were paid in full, while the indebtedness to others remained the same, the latter clearly suffered loss through the continued operation, for which the surety was liable on his contract. (Ib.)

IDAHO

Motion to strike answer to suit by United States to recover deposits will be denied when specifically denying that moneys were Government funds.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where answer in suit by the United States to recover postal and forestry funds deposited in State bank specifically denied that funds belonged to United States, within meaning of Revised Statutes, section 3466 (Comp. St., sec. 6372), providing for payment of debts in full in case of insolvency, general motions to strike answers will be denied, for the purpose of taking testimony to determine character of such funds. (United States ex rel. Ray, U. S. Atty., v. Porter, Commissioner of Finance of Idaho, 19 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 541.)

That postal and forestry moneys were deposited in names of officials would not make indebtedness any less indebtedness to United States.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Fact that postal and forestry funds were deposited in names of postmasters, or drafts of bank were purchased therewith, and not paid, would not make indebtedness of banks any less an indebtedness to United States, within Revised Statutes, section 3466 (Comp. St., sec. 6372), since postmasters and forestry officials were authorized to receive and deposit any public funds in banks and legal effect was that they were deposited as public moneys. (Ib.)

United States in proceeding to recover public funds from insolvent State bank need not pursue steps required by State law.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) The United States, in proceeding under Revised Statutes, section 3466 (Comp. St., sec. 6372) to recover public funds in insolvent State bank, is under no obligation to pursue steps provided for in State law, since priority given by United States can not be impaired or superseded thereby. (Ib.)

United States is entitled to priority after suspension of payment and finding of insolvency of State banks having funds on deposit.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where State banks, having on deposit United States funds, suspended payment and were found to be insolvent by State commissioner of finance, United States was then, under Revised Statutes, section 3466 (Comp. St., sec. 6372), entitled to have property dealt with as a trust fund, and its rights or priorities recognized under the statute. (Ib.)

NEW HAMPSHIRE

Under state statute, assets of savings department of trust company are impressed with trust, and can not be used to satisfy debts of mercantile department. (Pub. Laws N. H. 1926, c. 268, § 29.)

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Under Public Laws New Hampshire, 1926, chapter 268, section 29, relating to the distribution of proceeds of property of an insolvent banking institution, assets of savings department of trust company are impressed with a trust for the benefit of depositors in that department, and can not be used to satisfy debts of the mercantile department. (United States v. Peoples Trust Co. et al., 17 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 437.)

United States—Statute declaring preference for claims of United States against insolvent estates should be liberally construed. (Rev. St. § 3466 [Comp. St. § 6372].)

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Revised Statutes, section 3466 (Comp. St. section 6372), declaring a preference in favor of claims of the United States against insolvent estates, being intended to secure adequate public revenue, should be liberally construed. (Ib.)

United States—Claimants of exemption from statute preferring claims of United States against insolvent estates have burden of proof. (Rev. St. § 3466 [Comp. St. § 6372].)

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Persons claiming exemption from the operation of Revised Statutes, section 3466 (Comp. St. section 6372), declaring a preference in favor of claims of the United States against insolvent estates, have burden of showing that they are not within its provisions. (Ib.)

Claim of United States for postal funds deposited with trust company in course of liquidation held entitled to preference (Rev. St. U. S. §§ 3466, 3467 [Comp. St. §§ 6372, 6373]; Pub. Laws N. H. 1926, c. 268; Bankruptcy Act, § 3a, subd. 4 [Comp. St. § 9587].)

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Under Revised Statutes United States sections 3466, 3467 (Comp. St. sections 6372, 6373), claim of the United States for postal funds deposited in trust company in hands of bank commissioner for liquidation under Public Laws New Hampshire, 1926, chapter 268, was entitled to preference, notwithstanding bank was closed, for express reason that public good required it rather than on ground of insolvency; it being in fact insolvent and assumption of control by commissioner equivalent to placing of receiver or trustee in charge, under bankruptcy act, section 3a, subdivision 4 (Comp. St. section 9587), as it existed prior to amendment of May 27, 1926 (44 Stat. 662). (Ib.)

SOUTH DAKOTA

Contracts—Contract against public policy of State will not be enforced, though valid at place made.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Contract against settled policy of State will not be enforced, although it may be valid at place where contract was made. (Mechanics & Metals Nat. Bank v. Smith, as State Superintendent of Banks of South Dakota, et al., 21 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 128.)

Contracts—Only evidence of State's public policy are its constitution, laws, and judicial decisions.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Only authentic admissible evidence of public policy of State on any given subject are its constitution, laws, and judicial decisions. (Ib.)

Giving lien on collateral to cover previous notes rediscounted to lender constituted unlawful "preference," and was void.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where, prior to bank's borrowing money and furnishing collateral as security, lender had rediscounted certain notes of borrowing bank, thereby creating relation of debtor and creditor, the subsequent giving of lien on collateral furnished for loan, so as to cover previous rediscount notes, constituted unlawful "preference," and was void. (Ib.)

Holder of rediscount notes from insolvent bank has separate and distinct claims on each unpaid rediscount.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Holder of rediscount notes secured from insolvent bank before its liquidation has as many distinct and separate claims as there are unpaid rediscounts, neither of which were dependent on, connected with, or affected by others, so as to facilitate the payment of dividends thereon. (Ib.)

Credit belonging to bank with correspondent bank, from whom it had borrowed money and rediscounted notes, will be applied to primary obligation. (Rev. Code S. Dak. 1919, sec. 757.)

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where, at time of bank's insolvency, it had credit with correspondent bank, to whom it had rediscounted notes and also borrowed money on collateral security, credit of such insolvent bank will, under Revised Code South Dakota, 1919, section 757, be applied to payment of bank's primary obligation, rather than on contingent liability on rediscount. (Ib.)

South Dakota bank can not secure rediscounts to another bank, even as part agreement for secured loan from the other bank. (Rev. Code S. Dak. 1919, sec. 898½, as amended by Laws S. Dak. 1919, c. 12½.)

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Under Revised Code, South Dakota, 1919, section 8984, as amended by Laws, South Dakota, 1919, chapter 124, prohibiting a bank of that State from giving security, except for money borrowed, security given by it to another bank, to secure both a loan then obtained from the other bank and its obligation on account of notes which it had rediscounted to the other, is an invalid preference as regards the notes, though the loan was made conditional on security being given, not only for it, but for such notes. (Smith, State Superintendent of Banks, v. First Nat. Bank of Sioux City, Iowa, 21 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 135.)

Indorsement by defendant bank on notes of insolvent bank of open-account balance held conclusive application, in absence of showing of mistake or lack of authority.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where, at the time a bank failed, it had a balance in its open account with defendant bank, to which it was indebted on secured notes and an unsecured claim, and defendant then, as it had a right to do, indorsed the amount thereof on such notes, such indorsement, in the absence of a showing that it was made without authority, or by mistake or error, was a conclusive application of the balance. (Ib.)

NEGOTIABLE PAPER

Bills and notes.

(U. S. C. A. D. C. 1926.) Note delivered to bank as renewal for residue of former note given for corporate stock in Delaware in violation of law held inforceable in hands of holder in due course. (Theunissen v. Continental Trust Co., 15 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 894.)

Corporations.

(U. S. C. A. D. C. 1926.) Promissory note given for corporate stock in violation of law is not void as against corporation. (Ib.)

OFFICERS

REPRESENTATION OF BANK BY OFFICERS

Vice president, wrongfully using note of depositor, held to have been acting for the bank and not as agent of depositor.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Defendant, a depositor in a bank of which he was also a director, being about to leave on a journey, signed a blank form of note to the bank and delivered it to the active vice president, with instructions that, if he should overdraw his account while absent, the note should be filled out for such amount as he would direct and the proceeds placed to his account. He did not overdraw his account; but the vice president, without authority, filled out the note and deposited the proceeds in his own account. Held, that the transaction was between defendant and the bank of which the vice president was an executive officer, and that direction of a verdict for the bank in an action on the note, on the ground that the vice president was agent for defendant, was error. (Senter v. Bromfield, 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 576.)

Representations made by bank president to proposed surety as to borrower's assets, in connection with proposed loan by bank, held binding on bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) False representations by the president of a bank, made in connection with a proposed loan by the bank to one solicited to, and who did, indorse the borrower's note, respecting the financial condition of the maker, were within the scope of his authority and binding on the bank. (Young et al. v. Goetting et al., 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 248.)

That maker promised to pay indorser did not preclude latter from denying liability for fraud of payee.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) That the maker of a note promised to pay an indorser for his indorsement did not preclude the latter from denying liability on the ground that he was induced to make the indorsement by false representations of the payee. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Exception to charge must call attention to particular part objected to.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Objection to charge, which does not correctly refer to or describe part of charge attacked, is insufficient. (Ib.)

Notes executed by bank officers to correspondent bank held to constitute "bank transaction," authorizing correspondent bank to charge account of other bank on maturity.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Notes executed by bank president, in sole management and control and active charge of its affairs, and by other bank officers to correspondent bank for purpose of securing funds for bank held, in view of custom and reconcilements showing that both parties intended notes for use of bank, to constitute a "bank transaction," and not a personal loan, so that correspondent bank was justified in charging the amount of such notes on maturity to account carried with it by bank for whose use notes were executed. (Keyes v. First Nat. Bank of Aberdeen, S. Dak., 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series 678.)

Reconcilement with correspondent bank, signed by officers who were also nominal makers of note included in such reconcilement, held binding on bank for which money was borrowed on note.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Reconcilement by cashier and vice president, covering transaction whereby correspondent bank charged notes executed by bank president and vice president, signing reconcilement to bank's account, constituted an act of the bank binding on board of directors, who were in duty bound to examine accounts, since reconcilements were made in ordinary course of business by such vice president, who, although signing notes, was only a nominal maker for use of bank. (Ib.)

Bank receiver held estopped to assert claim against correspondent bank charging notes executed for use of bank by its officers to bank's account.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where notes executed by bank officers to correspondent bank were treated by all parties thereto as constituting a bank transaction, and not personal obligation of makers, receiver is estopped to assert claim against correspondent bank because of its action in charging such notes to bank's account, in that receiver stands in no better position than bank, it bringing action itself. (Ib.)

Account stated—Cash letters and reconcilement statements covering notes executed by bank officers to correspondent bank and charged to bank's account constituted "account stated."

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Transaction between bank and correspondent bank, consisting of forwarding of cash letters and exchanging reconcilements covering notes executed by bank officers and charged by correspondent bank to bank's account on maturity, held to constitute an "account stated," in that such letters and reconcilement sheets and statements contained all items included within transactions of all character between banks. (Ib.)

Receiver can not recover against correspondent bank on notes executed by bank officers and charged to bank on maturity, on theory of conspiracy to conceal liabilities.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Receiver for closed bank held not entitled to recover on notes executed by bank officers to correspondent bank and charged to bank's account on maturity, on theory of conspiracy between bank and correspondent to conceal liability of borrowing bank, in that bank while a going concern could not have maintained action therefor, and receiver stands in no better position. (Ib.)

Receiver for insolvent bank can not recover against correspondent bank payments on personal loan to president of insolvent bank after acceptance and reconcilement.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where president of bank paid interest on personal loan from correspondent bank by check or draft in certain instance, and in other instances correspondent bank charged account to bank of which borrower was president, and all items were remitted by correspondent bank and accepted and reconciled by proper officer of bank other than president, receiver after bank's insolvency held not entitled to recover such payment against correspondent bank, particularly since payments were charged to account of borrower, and in each case he had credit to cover charge. (Ib.)

Directors' acquiescence in bank president's use of bank funds in paying personal obligation conferred authority on him to do so.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Directors' continued acquiescence in bank president's using bank funds in payment of personal obligation with knowledge which they could and would have had, had they performed their duties, held to have conclusively conferred authority on president to use bank funds.. (Ib.)

Knowledge of bank cashier, paid co-conspirator of bankrupt, of financial difficulties and probability that preference would result, held not imputed to bank. (Bankruptcy act, section 60b (Comp. St. section 9644).)

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where assistant cashier of bank, for a monetary consideration, conspired to facilitate unlawful operations of bankrupt, and after allowing substantial overdrafts on two dummy accounts of bankrupt, and being threatened with personal liability therefor by officers of bank, obtained cash payment from bankrupt with knowledge of his financial difficulties, and probability that preference would result, held, his knowledge could not be imputed to the bank, so as to charge it with knowledge necessary to make the payment to it an unlawful preference, under bankruptcy act, section 60b (Comp. St. section 9644). (Walser v. International Union Bank; In re Cohn, 18 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 957.)

JURISDICTION OF FEDERAL COURTS IN CRIMINAL CASES

Criminal law—Indictment held to allege national bank president received money and misappropriated it, contrary to Federal statute; indictment charging national bank president with receiving and misappropriating money held to charge offense within exclusive jurisdiction of Federal courts. (U. S. Comp. St. sec. 9772.)

(Sup. Minn. 1927.) An indictment examined and held to allege that defendant, as president of a national bank, received money of another, and, while so in possession thereof as such officer of the bank, misappropriated or misapplied the same, in violation of a Federal statute. The offense thus charged is within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Federal courts. (State v. Thornton, 214 N. W. Rep. 279.)

ABSTRACTION OF FUNDS

One participating in deposit and payment or collection of certificate of deposit held guilty of abstracting funds of bank with intent to injure bank and deceive examiner; "abstract."

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) One who participated in deposit and payment or collection of certificate of deposit of Federal reserve member bank to deceive examiner by covering accumulated unpaid drafts, notes, and checks held guilty of abstracting moneys and funds of such bank with intent to injure and defraud it, and to deceive examiner, within Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, chapter 177, section 7 (Comp. St. sec. 9772 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592))¹; "abstract" meaning to take or withdraw from. (Westfall v. United States, 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 604.)

Indictment and information—Indictment charging defendant aided and abetted in abstracting moneys from Federal reserve member bank held not to negative participation as principal, nor duplicitous. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)¹

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) That indictment averred that defendant aided and abetted violation of Revised Statutes section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, chapter 177, section 7 (Comp. St. sec. 9772 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592)), prohibiting abstracting of moneys and funds of Federal reserve bank or any member banks, with intent to injure bank and deceive examiner, held not to negative his participation as principal, nor open way to attack indictment for duplicity. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Where witness was patient at insane hospital between time of crime and trial, rejection of adjudication of insanity held not substantial error, in view of other evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where Government witness had been admitted as insane patient at State hospital between time of crime and trial, but had been paroled when called to testify, rejection of formal adjudication of insanity held not substantial error, in view of other evidence concerning his insanity. (Ib.)

Conspiracy is not necessary incident to offense of unlawfully abstracting moneys from Federal reserve member bank. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)¹

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Conspiracy is not necessary incident to and element of offense of abstracting moneys of Federal reserve bank or member bank, with intent to injure bank or deceive officer or examiner, defined by Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, chapter 177, section 7.) (Comp. St. sec. 9772 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592).) (Ib.)

Criminal law—One may be prosecuted as principal and as conspirator to commit offense. (Comp. St. sec. 10201.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) One may be prosecuted both as principal in and as conspirator to commit offense, in view of Penal Code, section 37 (Comp. St. sec. 10201), since, where separate offenses arise from same transaction, protection against double jeopardy does not apply. (Ib.)

WILLFUL MISAPPLICATION OF FUNDS

Indictment against officers of national bank for criminal misapplication of its funds held good against demurrer.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) An indictment charging officers of a national bank with knowingly, willfully, unlawfully, feloniously, and fraudulently misapplying funds of the bank, being the proceeds of notes deposited with the bank for collection, held to sufficiently negative consent of the owners of the notes to the alleged misapplication. (Bishop v. United States (2 cases), 16 Fed. Rept., 2d series, 406.)

Proceeds of collections are "funds" of the bank as respects misapplication (Comp. St. sec. 9772).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Money received by a national bank in payment of notes it holds for collection, while remaining in its hands, constitutes "funds" of the bank, within Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St. § 9772), making it an offense for an officer or employee to embezzle or misapply such funds. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Variance is not fatal, unless prejudicial.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) A variance between allegations in an indictment and the proof is not fatal, unless material and prejudicial. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Instruction as to facts warranting conviction must be limited to facts alleged.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Instruction as to what evidence would warrant conviction must be limited to facts alleged in the indictment. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Appellate court can not reform misleading instruction.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) An appellate court can not reform a statement in an instruction, made in a manner plainly tending to mislead or confuse the jury, though not so intended. (Ib.)

Misapplication of funds and intent to injure bank must combine to constitute misapplication of funds of national banks. (Comp. St. § 9772.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Two elements must combine to constitute the offense of "misapplication of funds" of a national bank, under Revised Statute, section 5209 (Comp. St. § 9772): (1) Misapplication of funds of the bank; and (2) a willful and felonious intent to injure or defraud the bank. (Bishop v. United States (2 cases); Gates v. United States, 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 410.)

National bank held liable for obligations of subsidiary corporation, which it controlled through stock ownership.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Where a former department of a bank was separately incorporated, its stock being issued to the bank, which fully controlled its affairs, and its account was still carried on the books of the bank as the insurance department, the bank held liable for its obligations. (Ib.)

Corporations—Where there is practical identity between corporation and another, which it owns and controls, courts will ignore separate legal entities.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Where one corporation is subsidiary to and owned and controlled by another, courts will look through mere names to learn the real relationship between the corporations, and if there is practical identity will disregard the formal separation into legal entities. (Ib.)

Evidence held not to sustain conviction of officers of national bank for criminal misapplication of funds.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Evidence held insufficient to sustain conviction of officers of a national bank for willful misapplication of its funds, where they were applied under advice of counsel in payment of claims for which there was at least a strong probability that the bank would have been held legally liable. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Unless substantial evidence excludes every other hypothesis but guilt, court should instruct verdict for accused; evidence as consistent with innocence as guilt will not sustain conviction.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Unless there is substantial evidence of facts which includes every other hypothesis but that of guilt, it is the duty of the trial court to instruct a verdict for accused; and where all the substantial evidence is as consistent with innocence as with guilt, it is the duty of the appellate court to reverse a judgment of conviction. (Ib.)

Evidence held to sustain conviction of employee for misapplication of funds of national bank. (Comp. St. § 9772.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Conviction of an employee of a national bank under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (Comp. St. § 9772), for misapplication of funds of the bank, held sustained by evidence that defendant collected a sum due the bank and intentionally failed to give credit for the same on the books, or to deposit it in the bank; that the bank lost the amount being inferable from such facts. (Thurston v. United States, 17 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 770.)

Employee who converted proceeds of checks sent bank for collection held chargeable with misapplication of "funds of the bank." (Rev. St. § 5209, as amended by act Sept. 26, 1918 (Comp. St. § 9772).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Collection teller of a member bank of the Federal reserve system, who, as such, received checks and drafts sent to the bank for collection and credit or remittance, and who, after collection, failed to credit or remit the proceeds, but converted the same to his own use held chargeable with misapplication of funds under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918 (Comp. St. § 9772); such proceeds, when collected, being "funds of the bank." (Wherrell v. United States, 18 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 532.)

FALSE ENTRIES

Customer's paper not considered in determining borrower's limit.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Notes taken by borrower secured by chattel mortgage on the thing sold and discounted to bank, commonly called customers' paper, will not be considered in determining whether loans to borrower exceeded 10 per cent of its capital, which national bank is authorized to loan to one business. (Hyde v. United States, 15 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 816.)

Criminal law.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Instruction in prosecution under Compiled Statutes, section 9772, for alleged false entry by national-bank official, excluding consideration of testimony as to defendant's asking advice as to particular transaction from reputable bankers, held erroneous as excluding showing of good faith. (Ib.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Where in prosecution of bank officer under Compiled Statutes, section 9772, for alleged false entries, different inferences might be drawn from given transaction, accused is entitled to most favorable inference. (Ib.)

What not intent to deceive.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Arrangement with customer to retire excessive loan by national bank with approval of national-bank examiner, held not to involve concealment or intent to deceive as would support conviction of bank officer under Compiled Statutes, section 9772. (Ib.)

Evidence of intent to deceive.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Evidence held insufficient to convict officer of national bank of intent to deceive under Compiled Statutes, section 9772. (Ib.)

Notes taken from borrower to strengthen customer's paper not required to be included in report to comptroller.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) National-bank officer held not required in report to comptroller to include notes taken from borrower to strengthen customer's paper discounted by borrower. (Ib.)

AIDERS AND ABETTORS

Criminal law—In prosecution for aiding and abetting cashier in misapplying funds of national bank, admission in evidence of letters constituting no part of transaction held error, but not ground for reversal. (Rev. Stat., sec. 5209, as amended by act Sept. 26, 1918, sec. 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, section 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772), for aiding and abetting cashier of national bank in misapplication of bank's funds by discounting note, repudiated by alleged accommodation makers, admission in evidence of letters from defendant relating to contemplated transactions between defendant and such makers, and constituting no part of any transaction between defendant and cashier or defendant and bank held error, but not ground for reversal. (Havener v. United States, 15 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 503.)

In prosecution for aiding and abetting misapplication of national-bank funds, correspondence relating to extraneous matters held inadmissible. (Rev. Stat., sec. 5209, as amended by act Sept. 26, 1918, sec. 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, section 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772), for aiding and abetting cashier of national bank in misapplication of bank's funds by discounting worthless note, correspondence between defendant and alleged accommodation maker of note relating to extraneous matters held inadmissible. (Ib.)

When correspondence admissible.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, section 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772), for aiding and abetting in misapplication of national bank's funds by discounting worthless note, correspondence showing method of handling notes by bank held admissible. (Ib.)

When correspondence inadmissible.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, section 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772), for aiding and abetting cashier of national bank in misapplication of bank's funds by discounting worthless note, correspondence between maker and his attorney held inadmissible. (Ib.)

Criminal law.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In absence of objection to admission of evidence, assignment of error based thereon will not be considered. (Ib.)

Proof of cashier's misapplication of national bank's funds was necessary to conviction for aiding and abetting him and cashier's conviction was prima facie evidence of his guilt. (Rev. Stat., sec. 5209, as amended by act Sept. 26, 1918, sec. 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, section 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772), for aiding and abetting cashier of national bank in misapplication of bank's funds, proof of commission of primary offense by cashier was necessary to defendant's conviction, and evidence of cashier's conviction was prima facie evidence of his guilt, and therefore admissible. (Ib.)

Criminal law—In prosecution for aiding and abetting cashier's misapplication of bank's funds, proof of conviction of cashier should be made by record, and admission of parol proof thereof was error. (Rev. Stat., sec. 5209, as amended by act Sept. 26, 1918, sec. 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, section 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772), for aiding and abetting cashier of national bank in misapplication of bank's funds, proof of cashier's conviction of primary offense should have been made by record of conviction, and proof thereof by cashier's parol testimony was error. (Ib.)

Criminal law—In prosecution for aiding and abetting cashier's misapplication of funds, error in admitting parol testimony of cashier's conviction was rendered harmless by admission of defendant's counsel. (Rev. Stat., sec. 5209, as amended by act Sept. 26, 1918, sec. 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, section 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772), for aiding and abetting cashier of national bank in misapplication of bank's funds, admission by defendant's counsel that record showed cashier's conviction, made in objecting to competency, materiality, and relevancy of record, waived production of record of conviction, and made error in admitting parol testimony as to such conviction harmless. (Ib.)

Witnesses—In prosecution for aiding and abetting misapplication of bank's funds, cross-examination of witness as to prosecution of defendant for violation of State blue sky law held reversible error. (Rev. Stat. Kans. 17-1201 to 17-1222; Rev. Stat. U. S., sec. 5209, as amended by act Cong. Sept. 26, 1918, sec. 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Where witness, in prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209, as amended by act September 26, 1918, section 7 (Comp. Stat., sec. 9772), for aiding and abetting misapplication of national bank's funds by discounting of worthless note, testified on direct examination that he never denied liability to bank on his indorsement of note, cross-examination as to prosecution of defendant for violation of State blue sky law (Rev. Stat. Kans. 17-1201 to 17-1222), having no relation to direct examination, held reversible error, as not proper cross-examination, or as showing defendant's character which was not in issue. (Ib.)

Criminal law.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Any error in denying motion for directed verdict for defendant at close of Government's case was waived by defendant's subsequent introduction of further evidence. (Ib.)

Criminal law.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) In absence of motion for directed verdict at close of evidence, assignment of error that trial court erred in not directing verdict for defendant at that time was without foundation. (Ib.)

LIABILITY OF OFFICERS OF STATE BANKS MEMBERS OF FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

State banks which have joined the Federal reserve system, their officers, etc., are subject to the penalties of Revised Statutes, section 5209. The acts thus made criminal are punishable under the laws of the State.

(U. S. Supt. 1927.) Section 9 of the Federal reserve act, as amended June 21, 1917, is constitutional in so far as it provides that State banks which have joined the Federal reserve system, their officers, etc., shall be subject to the penalties of Revised Statutes, section 5209, which punishes misapplication, etc., of a bank's funds.

The acts thus made criminal may be punishable also under the laws of the State. It is not a condition to the power of Congress to punish such acts that they result in any loss to the Federal reserve banks. When necessary in order to prevent an evil, the law may embrace more than the precise thing to be prevented. Congress may employ State corporations, with their consent, as Federal instrumentalities and make frauds that impair their efficiency crimes. (Westfall v. United States, 274 U. S. R. 256.)

TRIAL AND ITS INCIDENTS

Judges—Affidavit of prejudice of judge held filed too late. (Judicial Code, § 21 (Comp. St. § 988).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) It is the intent of Judicial Code, section 21 (Comp. St. § 988), providing for the filing of an affidavit of prejudice against the trial judge that it shall be filed in time to save useless costs, and a motion and affidavit filed by a defendant on the day the case was reached for trial, setting up facts known to his counsel at least four days previously, held properly denied. (Bishop v. United States (2 cases); Gates v. United States, 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 410.)

Evidence of officer's guilt of paying his taxes from national bank's fund held insufficient for jury.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Evidence held insufficient to take to jury question as to national bank officer's guilt of paying his taxes out of bank's funds. (Bishop v. United States (two cases); Gates v. United States, 19 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 224.)

Criminal law—Sufficiency of evidence to take guilt must be determined from record at close of evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Whether evidence was sufficient to take to jury question of defendant's guilt must be determined on state of record at close of evidence. Former opinion, 16 Federal Reporter, 2d series, 410, modified, and trial court directed to proceed accordingly. (Ib.)

Trial court held without power to impose fine on counts for violating national banking act. (Comp. St. sec. 9657 et seq.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Trial court held not to have had power to impose $50 fine on each count of indictment for violation of the national banking act. (Comp. St. sec. 9657 et seq.) (Wenstrand v. United States, 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 325.)

Criminal law—Concurrent sentence on several counts, within power of court to impose on any one, will not be set aside if any count charges sufficient facts.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where sentence imposed on each of counts, to run concurrently, was within power of court to impose for any single violation of law charged, judgment may not be set aside if any one count is sufficient to make out an offense, although all other counts may be found fatally defective. (Ib.)

Count for violation of national banking act, alleging defendants converted moneys of bank held sufficient. (Comp. St. sec. 9657 et seq.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Count of indictment for violation of national banking act (Comp. St. sec. 9657 et seq.), alleging officers abstracted certain money and converted it to their own use, benefit, and advantage, as well as to use of other persons, held sufficient to uphold judgment of conviction. (Ib.)

OFFSETS

Insolvent bank can not set off general indebtedness of railroad against bank's liability for trust fund for benefit of railroad bondholders.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Insolvent bank held not entitled to set off general indebtedness of railroad against bank's liability for trust fund held for benefit of railroad bondholders. (Poisson et al. v. Williams, Receiver Commercial National Bank, 15 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 582.)

Bank which sold property held in trust to secure bond issue, holds proceeds as trustee for bondholders.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Bank, which sold property conveyed to it by deed of trust to secure bond issue, held to receive and hold proceeds as trustee of express trust for benefit of bondholders, as respects priority. (Ib.)

When State bank becomes a national bank character of trust funds does not change.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Character of trust funds held by State bank did not change when it became national bank, where change did not destroy its identity or corporate existence. (Ib.)

As respects priority cash coming into hands of insolvent bank's receiver held to include trust fund held by bank for benefit of railroad bondholders.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Cash coming into hands of insolvent bank's receiver held to include trust fund which had been held by bank for benefit of railroad bondholders, where amount of cash in vaults had never fallen below total amount of trust funds held by bank since such fund was deposited. (Ib.)

Trusts.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Trustee is presumed to make disbursements from his own money, rather than trust funds; rule that moneys are disbursed in order of receipt being inapplicable. (Ib.)

Substituted trustees entitled to trust funds.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Substituted trustee of fund held by insolvent bank held entitled to such fund in hands of bank's receiver, but not to interest. (Ib.)

Final decree should be entered for substituted trustee against receiver of insolvent bank in suit to separate trust fund from other money held by receiver.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Final rather than interlocutory decree should be entered for substituted trustee against receiver of insolvent bank in suit to separate trust fund from other money held by receiver, in view of equity rule 37, where plaintiff was clearly entitled to relief requested. (Ib.)

Removal of causes.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Allegation relative to cause of action, which was stated in bill of complaint in State court, but not urged after removal, should be stricken. (Ib.)

ORGANIZATION

NAME OF NATIONAL BANK

Approval of name by comptroller required—Court can not review comptroller's action.

(Sup. Dist. Col. 1927.) Section 5133 of the Revised Statutes gives the Comptroller of the Currency the uncontrollable right to select the name for a national bank. This right is a part of the banking law and goes through and comes down to the act of May 1, 1886, in which a change of name is authorized with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency.

A bank having obtained its charter under this act, under which the comptroller is now about to act in authorizing the use of this particular name which is complained of, I do not see how the conclusion can be escaped that having taken a charter with knowledge that the comptroller might some day have a matter presented to him which would raise the very sort of question which is now raised in this case, Congress authorizes him to act in the matter and to determine what you might call the equities of the situation as far as administrative action was concerned. If the court now undertook to act in a matter of this kind, it would be practically going into the Treasury Department and undertaking to run the comptroller's office. I can not see anything else. (First National Bank of Pasadena v. Joseph W. McIntosh, Comptroller of the Currency. Case not reported.)

POWERS

National bank held to have taken stock only in trust to sell, if possible, and not to have agreed to look to it only for payment of note.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Where national bank's receipt for its own stock, delivered to it at time of making loan, recited that it held such stock "in trust for (borrower's) account being authorized to sell any part of it, * * * provided we can realize for you $106 per share or better, * * * and it is agreed that the stock will be sold by us, and your note liquidated from the proceeds of such sales," held, bank took stock only in trust, to sell, if possible, for accommodation of borrower, and had not agreed to look to it only for payment of note. (Jackman v. Continental National Bank et al., 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 728.)

Statute held to preclude holding that national bank had agreed to look only to proceeds of certain of its own stock delivered to it for payment of note. (Comp. St. § 9762.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Where bank's receipt for its own stock, delivered to it on making of loan, recited that it held the stock "in trust," and was "authorized" to sell it at a certain price, and further, "it is agreed that the stock will be sold by us and your note liquidated from the proceeds of such sales," held Compiled Statutes, section 9762, prohibiting any national banking association from purchasing any of its own capital stock, precluded holding that bank had agreed to look to proceeds of note alone for payment. (Ib.)

Contracts—Lawful constructions of contract will be adopted, if reasonable and permissible.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) When a contract is open to two constructions, the one lawful and the other unlawful, the former must be adopted, if reasonable and permissible. (Ib.)

Contract whereby national bank agreed to look only to proceeds of its own stock for payment of note held void even as between parties. (Comp. St. § 9762.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Alleged contract by which national bank agreed to look only to proceeds of certain of its own stock, deposited with it for payment of note, if established, held void under Compiled Statutes, section 9762, even as between the parties, notwithstanding rule precluding debtors, borrowers, and private parties generally from complaining of unwarranted exercise of powers by national banks. (Ib.)

National bank contracting beyond its power is not liable for anything beyond what it has received.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) Undertaking by national bank beyond its power to contract will not support action against it to recover anything beyond value of what it has actually received and enjoyed. (Ib.)

National bank, making unauthorized loan, and borrower held not in pari delicto as affecting bank's right to set up its want of power. (Comp. St. § 9762.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1926.) National bank, making loan on security of its own stock, or agreeing to look only to certain pledged stock for payment of note, in violation of Compiled Statutes, section 9762, and borrower, held not in pari delicto as affecting right of bank to set up its want of power to make the agreement alleged. STATE BANKS—DETERMINATION OF SHAREHOLDERS' LIABILITY-----	185

CONCLUSIVENESS OF COMPTROLLER'S ACTION

Comptroller of Currency properly appointed receiver and assessed stockholders on assuming jurisdiction of national bank after another bank repudiated contract for liquidation. (National bank act, June 30, 1876, secs. 1, 2, 3 (Comp. St., secs. 9807, 9826, 9827).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Under national bank act, June 30, 1876, sections 1, 2, 3 (Comp. St., secs. 9807, 9826, 9827), Comptroller of Currency properly appointed receiver, and assessed shareholders of national bank on assuming jurisdiction of the affairs thereof, after another bank had repudiated contract entered into for liquidation of its affairs. (Liberty National Bank of South Carolina at Columbia v. McIntosh, Comptroller of the Currency, et al.; McIntosh, Comptroller of Currency, et al. v. Liberty National Bank of South Carolina at Columbia, 16 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 906.)

Comptroller of Currency's jurisdiction in respect to liquidation of national banks is exclusive.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Jurisdiction of Comptroller of Currency in respect to all matters properly within his discretion relative to liquidation of national banks is exclusive, and his action therein is not subject to review. (Ib.)

Decisions of Comptroller of Currency are not subject to collateral attack, nor is his assessment against shareholders reviewable, in absence of fraud.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Decisions of Comptroller of Currency relative to liquidation of national banks are not subject to collateral attack, nor is his assessment against shareholders, and amount thereof open to review, in absence of fraud. (Ib.)

Receiver, taking possession of assets of national bank on appointment by Comptroller of Currency, assumes control thereof as officer of United States.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where Comptroller of Currency appoints a receiver of a national bank, receiver takes possession of assets of bank and assumes control of its operation, not as agent of bank, but as officer of the United States. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Trial court held to have improperly granted injunction pending appeal from decree denying injunction, in absence of peculiar circumstances warranting it. (Judicial Code, sec. 129 (Comp. St., sec. 1121).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Trial court held to have improperly granted injunction pending appeal from decree refusing to enjoin Comptroller of Currency from collecting assessment against shareholders of national bank, since, although such appeal is authorized under Judicial Code, section 129 (Comp. St., sec. 1121), effect of granting injunction operates as securing relief denied on original application, which is abuse of discretion, in absence of peculiar circumstances warranting it. (Ib.)

WHO DEEMED TO BE SHAREHOLDERS FOR ASSESSMENT

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) (U. S. D. C. 1927.) Person receiving shares of stock of national banking association as collateral security for a debt due from owner in good faith and for purpose only of securing payment of that debt without incurring responsibility of shareholder, will not be treated as "shareholder," within meaning of Revised Statutes, section 5151, as amended by act December 23, 1913, section 23 (Comp. St. sec. 9689), authorizing assessments. (Ib.)

Directors taking into bank cashier's stock in exchange for notes, on his removal and advancing money to bank with stock as security, held not liable for assessments. (Rev. St., sec. 5151, as amended by act Dec. 23, 1913, sec. 23 (Comp. St., sec. 9689).)

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Bank directors taking into bank stock of cashier in exchange for certain notes after demand of bank examiner that cashier be removed, and on failure to dispose of stock as planned to new cashier, advancing money with agreement that stock should be held as security for sum advanced, held not liable as shareholders for assessment under Revised Statutes, section 5151, as amended by act December 23, 1913, section 23. (Comp. St., sec. 9689.) (Ib.)

St. sec. 9689), authorizing assessment against shareholders. (Ib.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Under the provisions of Federal reserve act, section 23 (Comp. St. sec. 9689), that stockholders who shall have transferred their shares or registered the transfer within 60 days next before the date of failure of a national bank shall be liable to the same extent as if they had made no such transfer, the double liability of a stockholder continues for 60 days after transfer of his stock, though the bank was solvent when the transfer was made, and may be enforced if failure occurs within the 60 days. (Fletcher et al. v. Porter, 20 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 23.)

STATE BANKS—DETERMINATION OF SHAREHOLDERS' LIABILITY

Superintendent of banks can not delegate determination of stockholder's liability to depositors, or assessment and collection thereof. (Banking act Ga. 1919, art. 2, sec. 10; art. 7, secs. 9, 10, 23, and sec. 20, as amended by acts 1925, p. 130.)

(Ib.)

TAXATION

ASSESSMENT OF SHARES

Evidence given in State court may be reviewed—finding of State court not conclusive.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) Upon review of a judgment of a State court sustaining a discriminatory State tax on national-bank shares upon the ground that the other moneyed capital, favored by the discrimination, was not employed in competition with the business of the national bank, this court may review the evidence regarding such competition and is not concluded by the finding of the State court. (First National Bank of Hartford, Wis. v. City of Hartford et al., 273 U. S. R. 548.)

Validity of State tax on national-bank shares at greater rate than assessed on other moneyed capital.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The validity, under Revised Statutes, section 5219, of a State tax on national-bank shares at a greater rate than that assessed on other moneyed capital depends upon whether or not the moneyed capital thus favored is employed in such a manner as to bring it into substantial competition with the business of national banks. (Ib.)

Equality of taxation on shares of stock in national banks and other capital employed in same sort of business required.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The requirement of approximate equality in taxation (R. S. sec. 5219) is not limited to moneyed capital invested in State banks or to competing capital employed in private banking; it applies wherever capital, substantial in amount compared with the capitalization of national banks, is employed in a business, or by private investors, in the same sort of transactions as those in which national banks engage and in the same locality in which they do business. (Ib.)

Only those personal investments that are not in competition with national banks excluded from term moneyed capital.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The amendment of section 5219 by act of March 4, 1923, merely expressed what was previously implied, and by its terms excludes from "moneyed capital" only those personal investments which are not in competition with the business of national banks. (Ib.)

What proof of competition required.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) Proof of competition by untaxed capital involves showing that it is employed in such investments as are open to national banks. (Ib.)

Evidence of competition.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) In this case the evidence shows substantial competition with national banks by untaxed capital in the business of making loans and selling credits and also by capital of private individuals who, as investors of surplus funds, were engaged in lending money at interest on real-estate mortgages and other evidences of indebtedness, normal to banking. (Ib.)

Evidence of competition.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) To establish the fact of competition, it is not necessary to show that national banks and the other investors solicit the same customers for the same loans or investments. It is enough if both engage in seeking and securing in the same locality investments of the class described which are substantial in amount. (Ib.)

Real estate mortgages, sale of, by national banks.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The sale of real-estate mortgages and other evidences of debt acquired by way of loan or discount with a view to reinvestment is within the incidental powers of national banks. (Ib.)

Discrimination against national-bank shares forbidden, whether legislation be friendly or unfriendly.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The fact that discrimination against national-bank shares is not unfriendly or hostile, but is induced by the State policy of substituting income taxes for personal property taxes, does not render Revised Statutes, section 5219, inapplicable. (187 Wis. 290. reversed.) (Ib.)

United States Supreme Court will accept negative finding of the State court, where the evidence is in some particulars conflicting and the finding is supported by evidence and not certainly against weight of evidence.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) Upon the question of fact whether capital invested by individuals in bonds and other securities, was so invested as to come in competition with national banks (Rev. Stats., sec. 5219), this court will accept the negative finding of the State court, where the evidence is in some particulars conflicting and the finding is supported by evidence and not certainly against the weight of evidence. So held where the evidence fell short of establishing that the capital was employed substantially as in the loan and investment features of banking in making investments by way of loan or discount or in notes, bonds, and other securities, with a view to sale or repayment or reinvestment. (208 Ky. 7, affirmed.) (Georgetown National Bank v. McFarland et al., 273 U. S. R. 568.)

Taxation of shares measured by value of shares.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The taxation of national-bank shares, authorized by Revised Statutes, section 5219, is against the holders of the shares and is to be measured by the value of the shares, and not by the assets of the bank without deducting its liabilities. (Minnesota v. First National Bank of St. Paul, 273 U. S. R. 561.)

Tax on national-bank shares at greater rate than that imposed on competing credits can not be sustained.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) A tax on national-bank shares at a greater rate than that imposed on competing credits in the hands of individuals can not be sustained upon the ground that the discrimination is removed in practice by deducting liabilities of the bank from its assets in valuing its shares, while allowing no deduction of their liabilities to individuals in valuing their credits. (Ib.)

Shares in capital of corporations in note-brokerage business or buying or selling securities are "moneyed capital."

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The shares of corporations employing capital in the note-brokerage business or in buying and selling securities are "moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens" (R. S., sec. 5219), i. e., the individuals holding the shares. (Ib.)

Classes of business competition of which is guarded against by section 5219.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The competition guarded against by section 5219 may arise from the employment of capital invested in a business, even though the competition be with some but not all phases of the business of national banks, or it may arise from the employment of capital invested by institutions or individuals in particular operations or investments like those of national banks. (Ib.)

Evidence.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) The evidence sustains a finding by the State court that moneyed capital in the hands of individuals was in competition with the business of national banks, including the plaintiff. (Ib.)

Surplus capital of individuals investing in bonds, mortgages, etc., in competition with national banks is moneyed capital coming into competition with business of national bank.

(U. S. Sup. 1927.) Surplus capital of individuals seeking investment and reinvestment in bonds, mortgages, and other evidences of indebtedness, in competition with the capital of national banks, is moneyed capital coming into competition with the business of national banks, within the meaning of Revised Statutes, section 5219, 164 Minnesota 235, affirmed. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Findings of special master, approved by chancellor, may be set aside for obvious error in law, or in considering evidence, or if against clear weight of evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Though findings of a special master approved by the chancellor will ordinarily not be set aside by appellate court, if master's findings were caused by an obvious error in applying the law, or serious mistake in considering evidence or are clearly against the weight of evidence, appellate court may set them aside. (Leathe v. Title Guaranty Trust Co., 18 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 41.)

Trusts—Agreement under which plaintiff conveyed realty to trust company guaranteeing title held to authorize trust company to sell property.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Agreement under which plaintiff conveyed realty to trust company in consideration of its guaranteeing title of realty acquired by plaintiff under her deceased husband's will to indemnify it against loss, and authorizing it to sell sufficient realty to satisfy large judgment against husband's estate and other charges, held to authorize trust company to sell realty to pay such judgment, as against contention that it was volunteer or meddler in doing so, and fact that judgment was assigned to one of trust company's officers was immaterial. (Ib.)

Trusts—Trust company to which plaintiff conveyed realty in consideration for its guaranteeing title held not required to pay judgment against plaintiff without request.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where plaintiff conveyed realty to trust company in consideration of its agreement to guarantee title of realty sold by plaintiff acquired by her under her deceased husband's will, a large judgment having been rendered against husband's estate, any property remaining unsold to be reconveyed to plaintiff, held, that it was not trust company's duty as trustee to pay off another judgment against plaintiff to prevent judgment sale of plaintiff's realty without request from plaintiff to do so and offer to secure trust company for the advancement. (Ib.)

Trusts—Trustee may purchase beneficiary's property to protect interests of trust.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Rule that court of equity will not permit trustee to purchase property of beneficiary under a paramount title does not apply where purchase is made by trustee to protect interest of trust, including its own interests, and is not for personal gain of trustee nor adverse to beneficiary. (Ib.)

Trusts—Facts held to show trust company purchased beneficiary's realty about to be sold under foreclosure in trust for beneficiary.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) That trust company, which purchased property about to be sold under mortgage foreclosure and belonging to beneficiary of trust of which it was trustee, charged purchase price and other expenditures in connection with purchase to beneficiary's account on dates of payments and rendered complete statements of account to beneficiary's attorneys, held to show that it acquired title in trust for beneficiary and not for its own use, and that title was taken in name of its employee for convenience only. (Ib.)

Trusts—That trust company guaranteed plaintiff's title in amount greater than cash received after selling stock taken in part payment held not improper.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) That trust company under its agreement to guarantee title to plaintiff's realty, against which large judgment had been rendered, guaranteed title in sum of $415,000 on realty sold for $500,000, and charged therefor and paid realtors' commissions on sale accordingly instead of on basis of what plaintiff actually received after stock taken in part payment was sold, held not prejudicial to plaintiff, since purchaser had right to demand guaranty on entire purchase price. (Ib.)

Trusts—That realtors who sold plaintiff's property held in trust divided commissions with realtor, who was officer of trustee, held not improper.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) That realtors who sold plaintiff's property held in trust by trust company divided commissions received with another realtor, who was also a director of trust company, held not improper and did not prejudice plaintiff. (Ib.)

Account stated—Failure to object to statement showing price received, charges for guaranteeing title, and realtors' commissions, held to make account stated.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Failure to object to statement of trust company showing price received on sale of realty held in trust and charges for guaranteeing title and realtors' commissions, within reasonable time after receipt thereof, made it an account stated, and estopped recipient from denying liability for charges contained therein, whether he was actually liable for them or not. (Ib.)

Trusts—That trust company to which plaintiff conveyed realty to indemnify it against loss under its guaranty of title violated duties as trustee held not proved.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) In suit for accounting against trust company as trustee of realty conveyed to it by plaintiff in consideration of its agreement to guarantee title of plaintiff's realty, acquired under will of her deceased husband and against which a large judgment had been rendered, evidence held not to show that trust company failed to discharge its duties as trustee. (Ib.)

Election of remedies—Substituted trustee's filing of claim against receiver of former trustee for payments on trust deed did not preclude action against bank appropriating money.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Where money paid on trust deed was appropriated by bank in payment of debt of insolvent trustee, substituted trustee's action in filing claim against receiver for insolvent trustee was not such election of remedies as would preclude right to sue bank for amount claimed. (First National Bank of Chicago v. Newhouse, 17 Fed. Rep., 2d series, 228.)

Evidence held to show that bank's application of payments on trust deed to trustee's debt was with knowledge of trust character of payment.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1927.) Evidence held to show that appropriation by bank of payments on trust deed for payment of indebtedness of insolvent trustee in accordance with contract was not made until after full knowledge of trust character of funds. (Ib.)
