TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,
Washington, December 2, 1929.

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following annual report in accordance with the provisions of section 333 of the United States Revised Statutes, covering activities of the Currency Bureau, in the year ended October 31, 1929. This is the sixty-seventh report made to the Congress since the organization of the bureau.

LEGISLATION RECOMMENDED

Amendments to the national bank act

The experience of the postwar period has been of sufficient duration to permit a comprehensive appraisal of the effect of the new economic and social conditions upon our system of banking. Briefly stated, it may be said that banking is following in the wake of the trend of business in general toward larger operating units with stronger capital funds and more experienced and highly trained management. The natural result has been that the larger cities are being favored with banking organizations of great financial stability with the capacity to render a better and more diversified type of service.

In the principal cities, therefore, in various parts of the country, there have grown up through mergers and through increases in the variety and volume of business banking institutions which for strength of capital and management technique were unknown in the pre-war period. There have been no failures of any of these types of metropolitan banks. They are giving the general public a safer and higher type of banking service than has hitherto been known. Their stability rests upon the great diversity of banking business to which they have access and to the further fact that they are able to secure the most highly trained and experienced talent. These banks comprise both unit and branch banking institutions.

The aggregate of all the banking resources in the United States is about $72,000,000, held by a little more than 25,000 banks (as of June 29, 1929), but 250 banks hold resources to the aggregate amount of approximately $33,400,000,000.

While the largest and strongest banks with the bulk of the banking resources are in the large cities, about three-fourths of all the banks in number are in the smaller towns and cities and may be classed as country banks. It is these banks which serve directly the agricultural communities. They operate with small capital funds and are very much limited in their ability to employ a trained management. The economic developments of the postwar period have had the effect of decreasing the opportunities of these banks to operate with profit and it is this situation to which I should like to direct your most serious consideration.

We are faced with the fact that during the 9-year period from July 1, 1920, to June 30, 1929, inclusive, about 5,000 banks, nearly all in the agricultural communities, closed their doors and tied up deposits of approximately $1,500,000,000.<sup>1</sup> These failures have not been limited to any one section of the country, although they have been most prevalent in the agricultural districts. Up to November 1, 521 banks with deposits of about $200,000,000 had suspended during the year 1929. The number of failures by States during the fiscal years ending June 30, 1921 to 1929, inclusive, is as follows:

As will be observed from the foregoing table the failures of State chartered banks greatly outnumber those of the national banks, but small national banks have not been immune to the conditions which are causing the failures of small country banks generally. As an illustration of the wide scope of this economic condition, it may be said that in seven States over 40 per cent of all the banks in existence in 1920 have failed and in six States between 25 and 40 per cent. In 26 States, or more than one-half the total, over 10 per cent of the banks that were in operation in 1920 have since failed. When it is considered that no important failures have occurred among banks in the larger cities, the ratio of failures in the country districts is even higher.

We have here, therefore, a strong contrast between city and country bank operations. Whereas the depositor in a large city bank, whether a wage earner or a business man, has had full protection, the depositor in the small country bank has suffered severely from the inability of so many of these banks to meet their deposit liabilities. The farming communities have not been afforded the protection for their savings which has been available to depositors in the large cities.

It is cause for immediate concern that the operating conditions faced by the country banks show no prospect of improvement under the present system. There are many country banks now operated at a loss and many others operating upon earnings insufficient to justify their capital investment. There is not available to me the earning statements of State banks, but taking the national banks as an illustration and the year 1927 as a typical year (later earning figures not being compiled) 966 national banks operated at a loss and an additional 2,000 earned less than 5 per cent. These constituted about 38 per cent of all national banks in the United States.

Comprehensive study of the banking situation for the past nine years clearly indicates that the system of banking in the rural communities has broken down through causes beyond the control of the individual banker or the local community. These causes are of a basic nature and have many ramifications throughout the great economic and social changes which have occurred in the United States since 1914. I shall not attempt in this report a detailed analysis of this situation except to say that the economic movement away from a large number of independent local utility and industrial operating units toward a stronger and more centralized form of operation in the large cities has curtailed the opportunities of the country bank for diversity and extension of business while broadening these opportunities for the large city bank.

Any attempt to maintain the present country bank system by force of legislation in the nature of guaranty of deposits or the like, would be economically unsound and would not accomplish the purpose intended. If in the free course of business the country bank can not successfully operate as an independent banking corporation, affording ample protection to its depositors and its stockholders, the obligation and responsibility is upon the Government of the United States, at least so far as the national banks are concerned, to set up a system of national banking which will insure the rural communities against the continuing disastrous effects of local bank failures.

There have been no general financial panics in this country since the war—thanks to the Federal reserve system. Any bank can have access, directly or indirectly, to the benefits of the Federal reserve system to the extent of its sound commercial and business loans and the decline of the country banks has taken place notwithstanding the valuable assistance rendered by the Federal reserve system. A Federal reserve bank is not charged with the responsibility of preventing bank failures. It is beyond the power of the Federal reserve system, as it is beyond the power of any governmental agency, to stand between these banks and insolvency.

In the absence of legislation to remedy the conditions above described, private enterprise has within recent months undertaken to meet the economic situation presented by the growing isolation of the country banks. Local holding companies have been formed in many sections of the country for the purpose of bringing together a number of banks into a single operating group. The usual procedure is for the holding company, a State corporation, to purchase a majority of the stock of several banks, one of which would be a large city bank which in effect becomes the parent bank of the group. The management personnel of the central bank becomes in practice the responsible management for the entire group. Through such a group system it appears to be possible to make a close approach to a form of branch banking whereby each operating unit leans for support upon the central bank, or upon the holding company, and receives the benefits of its moral and financial support; its prestige and good will; its extension of the wider type of banking service; and the benefits of its highly trained management.

This holding-company movement is of such recent development that complete statistics are not yet available as to the number of companies in operation or the number of banks taken over. It appears that in many cases some of the most responsible bankers and business men of the community have been instrumental in the organization of these holding companies and this it would seem is a sufficient indication of the seriousness of the purpose behind the movement. However, these holding companies are attempting to do under the sanction of existing laws, which are crudely adapted to the purpose, what should be made possible in a simpler manner by new legislation. If branch banking were permitted to be extended from the adequately capitalized large city banks to the outlying communities within the economic zone of operations of such banks, there would be no logical reason for the existence of the local holding company and it would give way to a system of branches operated directly by the central bank of the group.

These conditions would seem to warrant a further amendment of section 5155 of the Revised Statutes of the United States as amended by the act of February 25, 1927 (U. S. Code, title 12, sec. 36), known as the McFadden Act, to permit national banks, with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, to establish branches within the trade areas of the cities in which such banks may be situated. These trade areas may in some cases be coextensive with Federal reserve district lines; in other cases they may be of a more limited extent, but in my judgment they should not extend beyond Federal reserve district boundaries, except to take care of a few exceptional cases where a trade area may extend from one Federal reserve district into another, nor should a bank be permitted to establish a branch in another city in which there is a Federal reserve bank or a branch thereof.

Under such a system of branches there would gradually be extended to the agricultural communities from the large city banks a safe and sound system of banking which would render remote the possibility of bank failures. There would, however, be no compulsion upon unit banks to enter a branch organization. The two systems of banking—unit banking and branch banking—would no doubt operate side by side for an indefinite length of time; that is to say, there would be in every rural section some unit banks well organized, competently managed and held in high esteem by the community, which would continue to operate advantageously.

These suggestions for branch banking are made not with the intention primarily to deal with the question of the decline in the number of national banks through defection from the national to the State systems, but rather as a remedy for what appears to be a serious and fundamental weakness in our systems of banking both national and State. Such a grant of power to the national banks would, however, give them such an outstanding operating advantage that it would seem reasonable to expect that the exodus of banks from the national system would practically cease and that many now under State supervision would return to the national charter which they have forsaken.

Any such legislation, based not upon the theory of equalizing the national with the State bank charter powers but giving a real advantage to the national charter, would be fully justified under existing conditions which seriously jeopardize the maintenance of the national banking system. The State legislatures have for years given to the State banks operating advantages which the national banks did not possess and it is in this situation that we find the motive for the abandonment of national charters. There is appended hereto a list of 127 large national banks which have within the past 10 years given up their national charters for the purpose of operating under State charters.

Many smaller national banks during this period also relinquished their charters to go into the State system, but the foregoing list includes only banks of the metropolitan class.

Following the approval of the McFadden Act (act of February 25, 1927) several large State banks were converted into national banks, but this gain has been far more than offset by the recent great loss of national charters. Boards of directors of banks and their stockholders, in giving consideration to the question of whether the corporation should operate under the national or the State charter, are not moved by questions of sentiment or patriotism. The fact that a national bank is an instrumentality of the Federal Government designed to fulfill certain public purposes does not seem to be considered an operating advantage to the bank. The corporation must in the nature of the case be moved almost solely by consideration of the most profitable use of the capital invested in the enterprise. In other words, the question of the choice of charter presents to the corporation a business proposition. In the history of banking in the United States since 1863 banking corporations have switched from State to national and from national to State charters as the business advantages lay with the one or the other. From the standpoint therefore of the operating banker the grant of the wider branch banking powers to national banks would be considered by him as an invitation to enlarge the sphere of his business operations to the greater advantage of his stockholders.

The Government of the United States, as distinguished from the national banking corporation, would be concerned primarily with the question of strengthening the national banks as Federal instrumentalities and with the establishment of a sound system of banking throughout the United States. Under the existing trend with the operating advantage in favor of the State banks the development is in the direction of 48 separate and distinct systems of commercial banking each under the supervision, control, and direction of a separate State government with a corresponding disappearance of the national banks from the field.

It has been said that this situation does not present any cause for concern for the reason that the Federal reserve system which embraces State banks in its membership has made the national banking system unnecessary. The Federal reserve act, however, did not set up a system of banks in the United States. It did set up a system of co-ordination of bank reserves and a flexible currency, which operate advantageously for all banks. The approach to equalization between the State and national banks afforded by the Federal reserve system does not involve a rearrangement of charter powers but an extension of the privileges and the benefits of the Federal system to State chartered banks. If therefore, in addition to these privileges which they derive from the Federal Government, they secure from their respective legislatures charter powers giving them certain operating advantages over national banks, the Federal reserve system thus becomes indirectly the means of forcing national banks to take out State charters.

The announced legislative policy of the so-called McFadden Bank Act of February 25, 1927, was parity between the national and State systems. The purpose of the bill was to make the charter powers of national banks approximately equal in operating advantage to those of the State banks. Nearly three years of operation under that act has demonstrated that it has failed of its purpose in this respect.

The theory of parity between the two systems of banks is, in my opinion, economically unsound. Commerce is interstate and is recognized by the Constitution of the United States as being fundamentally a national question. One of the primary purposes of the national bank act of 1863 was to establish a sound and uniform system of commercial banking throughout the country in order that commercial transactions growing out of the production, the manufacture, and the transportation of goods and commodities from one section of the country to the other might not be hampered by local banking legislation but should have access to a system of banks operating under Federal authority and supervision under a single set of rules and regulations and statutory enactments in order that the free flow of commerce should not be embarrassed by a multiplicity of restrictions having their origin in local political conditions.

The proposal for the extension of branch banking which is here made would have the direct effect of establishing a strong system of banks in the rural districts and indirectly it would lead to the gradual restoration of the national banks as the primary system of commercial banking in the country.

While it would seem to be to the interest of the local bank holding companies to convert their groups of banks into branches after the enactment of legislation as above outlined, there might possibly still remain in operation some of these local companies and some of a wider regional operation. In view of the fact that such companies are outside of all jurisdiction of the Federal Government and that they would be in a position to dictate the policies and operations of such national banks as they controlled through stock ownership, I further recommend to the Congress an amendment to the national banking laws which will bring the operations of such bank holding companies under some degree of Federal supervision where they own the majority of the stock of more than one national bank and a further amendment to safeguard the additional shareholders' liability which each such bank holding company incurs through the ownership of the shares of national-bank stock.

Under the present law it is necessary for a national bank, in order to exercise fiduciary powers, to obtain a permit from the Federal Reserve Board. The trust department of a national bank is developing into one of the most important branches of its business. Trust companies exercise their fiduciary powers by direct grant of charter power from State legislatures; national banks should have a similar grant from Congress.

I, therefore, recommend that the law be so amended as to provide that the exercise of fiduciary powers shall be one of the corporate powers of a national banking association subject to the existing limitations in regard to State law, etc., now contained in paragraph (k) of section 11 of the Federal reserve act.

I renew the recommendation made in my annual report to the Seventieth Congress that the law be amended to give the comptroller supervision over the national banking associations going into voluntary liquidation. Under the present law, the comptroller's authority is limited to the appointment of a receiver, provided a bank in liquidation should prove to be insolvent. The reports of the liquidating agent are not required under the law, although they are frequently furnished voluntarily. At present the liquidation of a national bank may be carried on for a period of time and later prove to be insolvent, necessitating the appointment of a receiver. Creditors who have been settled with prior to such appointment may thus obtain preference over other creditors. It is believed that it would be a step forward if the liquidating agent of a national bank were made subject to the comptroller; be required to give bond and to render reports in the same manner as is required of a receiver until the affairs of a liquidating bank are finally closed.

It is again recommended that a law be enacted making it a criminal offense to maliciously or with intent to deceive, make, publish, or circulate any false report concerning any national bank or any other member of the Federal reserve system which imputes insolvency or unsound financial condition, or which may tend to cause a general withdrawal of deposits from such bank or may otherwise injure the business or good will of such bank.

Amendments to the laws of the District of Columbia

I renew the recommendations made to the Seventieth Congress that the following laws be enacted:

1. Giving the comptroller the right and power to make regulations governing savings banks or trust companies doing a banking business in the District of Columbia with a penal provision for the enforcement of such regulation; the regulations to be limited so that they shall not in any case place restrictions upon such banks which are not placed upon national banks.

2. Prohibiting the use of the word "bank" or the words "trust company" by any firm, copartnership, company, or corporation doing business in the District of Columbia and not doing a banking or fiduciary business under the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency and providing in the event such title shall be used by a firm, copartnership, company, or corporation doing a banking or fiduciary business, it shall be subject to the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency.

3. The corporations with their principal place of business outside of the District of Columbia may not establish offices in the District of Columbia and do a fiduciary business without the permission of the Comptroller of the Currency and without complying with the general conditions of the corporation laws of the District which have been enacted for the protection of those who do business with corporations with their principal place of business in the District.

While the building and loan associations in the District of Columbia are examined and supervised by the Comptroller of the Currency, there is no provision of law which prohibits any building and loan association from organizing and doing business in the District of Columbia regardless of its merits. I recommend that a law be passed which would prohibit any building and loan association from doing business in the District of Columbia or maintaining an office in the District of Columbia without first securing the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency and that any violation shall constitute a penal offense and be punishable in the same manner as now provided by the act of April 26, 1922, entitled "An act regulating corporations doing a banking business in the District of Columbia."

BRANCHES

In the comptroller's report for the year ended October 31, 1927, the statement was made that under the provisions of the act of February 25, 1927, the Comptroller of the Currency had approved the establishment of new city branches to the number of 127. In the year following 103 new city branches were authorized and during the year ended October 31, 1929, the number authorized was 89. Of the 319 local branches authorized by the comptroller 75 have been discontinued leaving the total of city branches now in operation authorized by the comptroller under the provisions of the McFadden Act as 244.

During the past year 2 branches were added to the system through the conversion of a State bank and 82 branches were added through the consolidation of State banks with national banks. These additions, together with those branches in the system under date of October 31, 1927, less 104 branches dropped through action of directors and shareholders or liquidation of national banks makes a total of 1,061 branches in existence in the national banking system as of October 31, 1929, summarized as follows:

ORGANIZATION AND LIQUIDATION OF NATIONAL BANKS

There were 7,506 national banking associations in existence at the close of the current year, October 31, 1929. This number was less by 201, or 2.67 per cent, than the number in existence at the close of the preceding year on October 31, 1928. The decrease in aggregate resources as evidenced by the last call, October 4, 1929, compared with aggregate resources on October 3, 1928, was $1,001,170,000, or about 3.58 per cent.

This office has during the past year continued to exercise its policy of extreme care in granting charters for national banks, based primarily on the needs of the community for additional banking facilities.

During the current year 42.43 per cent of the number of applications received for the establishment of new national banks were approved, as compared with 39.6 per cent the previous like period, 44 per cent the year prior thereto, and 52 per cent the year 1926.

In other words, despite the fact that the number of applications received remains about the same, the number approved by this office is constantly becoming smaller and in the current year a less number of applications was approved than has been approved any year during the past 12-year period, except last year when the number approved was 103 against 129 for the current year.

Up to and including October 31, 1929, there have been authorized to begin business 13,390 national banking associations, of which 4,643 were voluntarily closed to discontinue business or amalgamate with other banks, State or National, including those consolidated with other national banking associations under authority of the act of November 7, 1918. Exclusive of banks which failed but were subsequently restored to solvency, the loss to the system by banks liquidated through receiverships was 1,241, the number of these receiverships being a fraction less than 9.26 per cent of the total number of banks organized.

In November, 1914, there were in existence 7,578 national banks with capital of $1,072,492,175. Since that date the net decrease in the number of banks was 72, but there was an increase in capital of $613,759,490. The capital of the banks in existence on October 31, 1929, was $1,686,251,665. In this 15-year period 2,738 banks were chartered with capital of $354,630,300. During this period, however, 2,810 associations were closed voluntarily or otherwise.

Applications to organize national banks and to convert State banks into national banking associations were received in the current year to the number of 304, with proposed capital stock of $68,880,000. Of the applications pending 129 were approved with proposed capital stock of $26,690,000, 120 rejected with proposed capital stock of $34,955,000, and 50 abandoned with proposed capital stock of $6,630,000. National banking associations to the number of 141, with capital of $38,195,000, were authorized to begin business, of which 5 were located in the New England States, 32 in the Eastern, 31 in the Southern, 31 in the Middle Western, 22 in the Western, and 20 in the Pacific States. The greatest activity as indicated by the number of banks organized was in the following States: New York, 21 banks; Texas, 11; California, 10; Florida, 9; Minnesota, 7; Illinois, 6; Nebraska, 6; Missouri, 6; North Dakota, 6; New Jersey, 5; Pennsylvania, 5; Massachusetts, 4; Washington, 4; and South Dakota, 4. In other States the number ranged from 1 to 3 banks. It further appears that of the total number of charters issued, 23, with authorized capital of $7,620,000 and resources aggregating approximately $98,216,821, were the result of conversions of State banks—4, with capital of $375,000, reorganizations of State banks, and 114, with capital of $30,200,000, primary organizations. The business of 16 State banks with capital of $1,002,500 and assets aggregating approximately $14,001,432 was purchased by national banks. Conversion of 1 State bank into a national association brought into the system 2 branches.

In the year in question 96 national banking associations were consolidated into 46 under authority of the act of November 7, 1918, the capital of the consolidated banks being $291,864,075. In some instances there were reductions in capital and in others increases, but the net result by reason of consolidations was an increase in capital stock of $66,856,883.

During the current year there were 34 consolidations under the act of February 25, 1927, authorizing the consolidation of 35 State banks with national banks—the aggregate capital of the consolidating State banks being $43,055,000. These banks also brought 82 branches into the national system and assets aggregating approximately $841,146,433.

The voluntary liquidation of 221 associations represented a capital of $98,267,500, while the capital of the 79 insolvent banks was $6,575,000. The net result of the changes hereinbefore mentioned was a decrease for the year in the number of existing banks by 201, but there was an increase in authorized capital stock of $66,662,550. It appears that during the year 335 banks increased their capital in the aggregate sum of $181,730,125. Of this number 80 banks effected the increase by stock dividends, the amount of the increase in this manner being $20,793,750.

Of the 221 banks reported in voluntary liquidation, 75, with capital of $6,415,000, were acquired by other national banks, 139, with capital of $91,672,500 and resources of $2,022,391,164, entered the State banking system, and 7, with capital of $180,000 and resources of $1,010,031, quit business.

NATIONAL BANKS IN THE TRUST FIELD

The development of trust operations by national banks was evidenced by continued and substantial progress throughout the Nation during the past year. The statistics for this function compiled as of June 29, 1929, revealed that 2,442 national banks had received authority to exercise trust powers, with a combined capital of $1,218,049,515, representing 32.4 per cent of the number and 74.8 per cent of the capital of all banks in the national banking system.

Trust departments had been established by 1,734 of these banks and 75,988 trusts were being administered with individual trust assets aggregating $4,237,648,663. Seven hundred and thirty-six of these banks were also acting as trustees for bond and note issues aggregating $7,370,154,456.

Compared with October 3, 1928, these figures represent a net increase in the number of national banks authorized to administer trusts under section 11 (k) of the Federal reserve act of 69, or 2.91 per cent; an increase in the number operating trust departments of 149, or 9.40 per cent; an increase in the number of trusts being administered of 12,212, or 19.15 per cent, and an increase in individual trust assets of $940,338,544, or 28.52 per cent.

The growth in the fiduciary activities of the banks in the national banking system and the increasing popularity with the public of this important department of national bank operations are even more impressive when comparisons are made with the activities of national banks in this field just three years ago. In June, 1926, national banks numbering 2,026 had authority to exercise trust powers, with 1,104 actively engaged in administering trusts. These banks were then acting in a fiduciary capacity for 26,053 trusts, with individual trust assets of $922,328,677, and were acting as trustees for bond and note issues aggregating $2,463,553,316. The figures compiled as of June 29, 1929, represent for the 3-year period an increase in the number of national banks authorized to administer trusts of 416, or 20.53 per cent; an increase in the number of banks operating trust departments of 630, or 57.07 per cent; an increase in the number of trusts being administered of 49,935, or 191.67 per cent; an increase in individual trust assets of $3,315,319,986, or 359.45 per cent; and an increase in the volume of bond and note issues outstanding for which these banks were acting as trustees of $4,906,601,140, or 199.17 per cent.

As the activities of national banks have grown, so have the earnings that these banks have reported from this source. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1929, trust department gross earnings aggregating $20,583,000 were reported, as compared with $16,165,000 in 1928, $10,811,000 in 1927, and $8,255,000 in 1926.

Another phase of fiduciary activity which is gaining in popularity is the creation of insurance trusts. While the administration of this type of trust is a comparatively recent development in national bank trust departments, yet on June 29, 1929, 118 national banks were administering 271 insurance trusts representing the proceeds of insurance policies aggregating $11,384,632. Some indication of the place this type of trust will make for itself in the future operations of national banks is evidenced by the fact that 558 trust departments now hold 9,505 trust agreements which name those banks trustees in the future of the proceeds of insurance policies with a present face value of $375,524,409, an amount aggregating more than one-third of the total individual trust assets under administration in 1926 by the 1,104 national bank trust departments then in operation.

National banks with authority to exercise trust powers have shown continued interest in the privilege afforded them to include the words "trust company" in their titles. While only 101 were operating with trust in their names in 1927, the number has increased to 302 since that time, and this method of informing the public of their authority to engage in trust functions is becoming general in many sections of the Nation.

A recent analysis developed that of the 7,536 national banks in operation, 2,442, or 32.4 per cent, had authority to exercise trust powers; 2,839, or 37.7 per cent, had capital sufficient to entitle them to apply for permission to exercise trust powers under section 11 (k) of the Federal reserve act, and 2,255, or 29.9 per cent, were ineligible to receive permission to engage in trust operations because their capital was less than that required by the laws of the States in which they were located for competing State institutions to receive like powers.

The accompanying recapitulation segregates national banks into six classes according to capital and gives detailed information relating to their fiduciary activities, following which is a table showing consolidated figures by Federal reserve districts.

Fiduciary activities of national banks in 1929 segregated according to capital

	Total	Banks with capital of $25,000	Per cent	Banks with capital over $25,000 to $50,000	Per cent	Banks with capital over $50,000 to $100,000	Per cent	Banks with capital over $100,000 to $200,000	Per cent	Banks with capital over $200,000 to $500,000	Per cent	Banks with capital over $500,000	Per cent

NATIONAL BANK FAILURES

During the past year receivers were appointed for 79 national banks. Of this number, 72 were failures and 7 appointments of receivers were made in order to enforce stock assessments necessary to be paid under contract to succeeding institutions which purchased the assets of the bank, sold under a guarantee from stockholders, paying creditors in full. Of the 72 actual failures, two were restored to solvency, leaving 70 to be liquidated by receivers. This compares with 54 actual failures for the previous year, 2 of which were restored to solvency, and the appointment of receivers for 7 banks to enforce stock assessments. The capitalization of the 79 banks, for which receivers were appointed during the past year, was $6,575,000, compared with the capitalization of the 61 banks, for which receivers were appointed during the previous year, of $4,135,000.

The total of assets of the 79 banks for which receivers were appointed during the past year, including additional assets acquired after suspension, was $62,612,500. Stock assessments in the amount of $5,440,000 had been levied as of September 30, 1929, by the comptroller against the shareholders of these banks.

The records of the division of insolvent national banks of the comptroller's office do not show as a failure the suspension of the First National Bank of Lagrange, Tex., with assets of $1,213,812.02. The suspension occurred April 30, 1929, and the bank remained in the hands of an examiner in charge until May 20, 1929, on which date it resumed business.

During the past year, two banks, each with assets of over $12,000,000, became insolvent, and receivers were appointed. Immediately arrangements were made with local institutions for the purchase, at par and interest, of such of the assets of the failed banks as were considered acceptable to the purchasing bank. The results were that in the first institution 50 per cent was made immediately available to its creditors, and in the second 60 per cent was immediately paid, thus relieving the local financial situation at once. Since such sales of assets, funds have been accumulated for payment of additional dividends of 25 per cent to the creditors of the first-mentioned bank who received a first dividend of 50 per cent, and funds have been accumulated for payment of additional dividends of 30 per cent to the creditors of the second-mentioned bank who received a first dividend of 60 per cent, thus assuring the payment of 75 per cent and 90 per cent, respectively, to the creditors of these banks within 12 months after their failure. This new method of liquidation has been followed in several smaller failures, and has proved most effective in relieving at once the acute financial situations which follow bank failures.

From the date of the first failure of a national bank in the year 1865 to October 31, 1929, 1,313 national banks were placed in charge of receivers. Of this number, 72 were restored to solvency and permitted to resume business, leaving 1,241 to be administered by receivers. Of these so administered, 426 (26 less than reported at the close of 1928) are still in process of liquidation and 815 have been entirely liquidated and the trusts closed.

The capital of the 1,313 insolvent national banks at the date of failure was $143,670,420. The capital of the 72 banks that were restored to solvency was $12,180,000. The capital of the 426 banks that are still in receiverships is $32,524,500, and the capital of the 815 banks that have been completely liquidated was $98,965,920.

The book value of the assets of the 1,241 administered receiverships, including assets acquired after suspension, aggregated $853,993,969, in addition to which there were levied against shareholders assessments aggregating $92,315,740. Total collections by receivers to September 30, 1929, from these assets, including offsets together with collections from stock assessments, amounted to 56.01 per cent of the total of such assets and stock assessments. The disposition of such collections was as follows:

In addition to this record of distribution there were returned to shareholders, through their duly elected agents, assets of a book value of $16,211,624.

The 426 banks that were as of October 31, 1929, still in charge of receivers and in process of liquidation had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $339,517,557. The capital of these banks was $32,524,500, and there had been levied by the Comptroller of the Currency to September 30, 1929, stock assessments against their shareholders in the amount of $28,924,500. The collections from these assets, including offsets together with collections from stock assessments, amounted to 52.24 per cent of such assets and stock assessments as shown by receivers' last quarterly reports under date of September 30, 1929. The disposition of such collections was as follows:

From the date of the first failure of a national bank in 1865 to the close of October 31, 1929, 887 receiverships were liquidated and the trusts closed, or the affairs thereof restored to solvency. Included in this number are the 72 banks restored to solvency (2 in 1929) and 103 that were liquidated during the year 1929. These 815 banks had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $514,476,412. The capital of these 815 banks was $98,965,920 and there were levied by the Comptroller of the Currency stock assessments against their shareholders in the amount of $63,391,240. The collections from these assets including offsets, together with collections from stock assessments as shown by receivers' final reports, amounted to 58.41 per cent of such assets and stock assessments. The disposition of such collections was as follows:

Collections:

Collections from assets, including offsets.....	$306, 954, 813

The average percentage of dividends paid on claims proved against the 815 receiverships that have been finally closed, not including the 72 restored to solvency, which paid creditors 100 per cent, was 70.19 per cent. If offsets, loans paid, and other disbursements were included in this calculation, the disbursements to creditors would show an average of 79.13 per cent.

Expenses incident to the administration of the 815 closed trusts such as receivers' salaries, legal and other expenses, amounted to $22,459,854, or 3.88 per cent of the book value of the assets and stock assessments administered, or 6.65 per cent of collections from assets and stock assessments. The assessments against shareholders averaged 64.05 per cent of their holdings and the total collections from such assessments as were levied were 48.29 per cent of the amount assessed. The outstanding circulation of these closed receiverships was $38,060,477, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of the par value of $40,506,920.

During the year ended October 31, 1929, 103 receiverships were closed in addition to which 2 banks were restored to solvency. The total assets of the 103 receiverships, including assets acquired subsequent to suspension, aggregated $44,924,790. The capital of these banks was $5,225,000, and the total assessments against shareholders levied by the Comptroller of the Currency aggregated $5,225,000. The collections from these assets including offsets, together with collections from stock assessments as shown by receivers' final reports, amounted to 54.72 per cent of such assets and stock assessments. The disposition of such collections was as follows:

The average percentage of dividends paid on claims proved against the 103 receiverships that were finally closed in the year ending October 31, 1929, not including the 2 banks restored to solvency which paid creditors 100 per cent, was 49.2 per cent. If offsets, loans paid, and other disbursements were included in this calculation, the payment to creditors would show an average of 65.86 per cent. Expenses incident to the administration of these 103 trusts, such as receivers' salaries, legal, and other expenses, amounted to $2,224,420, or 4.43 per cent of the book value of the assets and stock assessments administered, or 8.1 per cent of collections from assets and stock assessments. The assessments against shareholders averaged 100 per cent of their holdings and the total collections from such assessments as were levied were 48.46 per cent of the amount assessed.

<sup>6</sup> This total includes $15,724,715 of notes in process of redemption, $168,415,543 of gold deposited for redemption of Federal reserve notes, $13,157,972 deposited for redemption of national-bank notes, $1,950 deposited for retirement of additional circulation (act of May 30, 1908), and $7,459,992 deposited as a reserve against postal savings deposits.

NOTE.—Gold certificates are secured dollar for dollar by gold held in the Treasury for their redemption; silver certificates are secured dollar for dollar by standard silver dollars held in the Treasury for their redemption; United States notes are secured by a gold reserve of $156,039,088 held in the Treasury. This reserve fund may also be used for the redemption of Treasury notes of 1890, which are also secured dollar for dollar by standard silver dollars held in the Treasury. Federal reserve notes are obligations of the United States and a first lien on all the assets of the issuing Federal reserve bank. Federal reserve notes are secured by the deposit with Federal reserve agents of a like amount of gold or of gold and such discounted or purchased paper as is eligible under the terms of the Federal reserve act. Federal reserve banks must maintain a gold reserve of at least 40 per cent, including the gold redemption fund which must be deposited with the United States Treasurer, against Federal reserve notes in actual circulation. Lawful money has been deposited with the Treasurer of the United States for retirement of all outstanding Federal reserve bank notes. National-bank notes are secured by United States bonds except where lawful money has been deposited with the Treasurer of the United States for their retirement. A 5 per cent fund is also maintained in lawful money with the Treasurer of the United States for the redemption of national-bank notes secured by Government bonds.

NOTE.—Gold certificates are secured dollar for dollar by gold held in the Treasury for their redemption; silver certificates are secured dollar for dollar by standard silver dollars held in the Treasury for their redemption; United States notes are secured by a gold reserve of $156,039,088 held in the Treasury. This reserve fund may also be used for the redemption of Treasury notes of 1890, which are also secured dollar for dollar by standard silver dollars held in the Treasury. Federal reserve notes are obligations of the United States and a first lien on all the assets of the issuing Federal reserve bank. Federal reserve notes are secured by the deposit with Federal reserve agents of a like amount of gold or of gold and such discounted or purchased paper as is eligible under the terms of the Federal reserve act. Federal reserve banks must maintain a gold reserve of at least 40 per cent, including the gold redemption fund which must be deposited with the United States Treasurer, against Federal reserve notes in actual circulation. Lawful money has been deposited with the Treasurer of the United States for retirement of all outstanding Federal reserve bank notes. National-bank notes are secured by United States bonds except where lawful money has been deposited with the Treasurer of the United States for their retirement. A 5 per cent fund is also maintained in lawful money with the Treasurer of the United States for the redemption of national-bank notes secured by Government bonds.

EXPENSES OF THE CURRENCY BUREAU

By reference to the table following, showing in detail expenses relating to the maintenance of the Currency Bureau for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1929, it will be noted that the aggregate expenses were $6,331,765.07, of which $1,177,718.87 was paid from appropriations and $5,154,046.20 reimbursements by the banks. The salary rolls aggregated $533,201.89, of which $250,126.34 was paid from appropriations and the remainder from funds reimbursed by the banks.

Taxes paid by national banks on circulating notes issued amounted to $3,441,152.95. Deducting from this amount the expenses of the bureau paid from congressional appropriations, $1,177,718.87, leaves the net income to the Government on account of the tax on circulation at $2,263,434.08.

BRANCH BANKS IN UNITED STATES

Foreign national bank maintaining in State, office soliciting business and gathering information, held not "doing business" therein and not subject to State court's jurisdiction nor suable by nonresident (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 24, subd. 7; General Corporation Law, sec. 47).

(City Court of N. Y. 1929.) National bank having its principal place of business in California, and whose main business under 12 U. S. C. A., section 24, subdivision 7, was discounting and negotiating of commercial paper; receiving deposits, buying and selling of exchange, coin, and bullion, loaning money on personal security, and obtaining, issuing, and circulating of notes, none of which functions were performed by it in New York, where it maintained office, solicited business, and gathered information, held "not doing business" in New York so as to be subject to service of process on its vice president in charge of New York office nor subject to suit by nonresident under General Corporation Law, section 47. (Raiola v. Los Angeles First Nat. Trust & Savings Bank, 233 N. Y. S. 301.)

BRANCH BANKS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Mere bookkeeping entry of bank does not constitute "payment."

(N. Y. App. 1928.) While entry upon books of bank in many cases may evidence completed transaction or transfer and thus constitute "payment," mere bookkeeping entry itself is not payment. (Sokoloff v. National City Bank of New York, 250 N. Y., 69; 164 N. E., 745.)

Action—Court must look through forms of business transactions to determine exact facts involved.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) Court must look through the form of transactions and business communications to determine the exact facts involved. (Ib.)

Order of defendant's Russian bank to Russian State Bank to debit its account transferring credit to third party and bookkeeping entry debiting depositor's account held not "payment," where order was not carried out and defendant sought to countermand.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) Order of defendant's Russian bank to Russian State Bank to transfer certain sum in rubles to credit of third party, debiting defendant's account, which order was communicated in accordance with depositor's request, and was accompanied by bookkeeping entry by which depositor's account was debited, held not to constitute payment by defendant's branch bank, where credit was never established and money never transferred, and defendant's branch bank countermanded its order (Ib.)

Defendant's Russian bank, whose order on Russian State Bank to transfer credit to third party, following depositor's orders, was not carried out, should notify depositor that account was replenished.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) Where defendant's Russian bank, in accordance with depositor's instructions, ordered Russian State Bank to transfer credit to account of third party, debiting defendant bank, and order was not carried out and transfer of credit never made, defendant bank was under duty to explain the matter to its depositor, who made subsequent demands for payment, and should have notified depositor of situation. (Ib.)

Contracts—Allowance must be made, in connection with requirements of performance of contracts, for local conditions created by revolution.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) In determining rights and liabilities under contract, proper allowance must be made for turbulent and confused conditions following revolution, with respect to requirements of performance. (Ib.)

Failure of depositor to make demand on defendant's Russian bank for payment of deposit, immediately prior to commencing suit, held not fatal, where revolution intervened in which bank was taken over by Soviet Government.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) Failure of depositor to make demand on defendant's Russian bank before commencement of suit to recover amount of deposit held not to preclude recovery, where depositor, after having ordered transfer of credit, had made repeated demands, which were refused on account of the attempted transfer, and where revolution intervened, in which bank was taken over by Soviet Government, and where bank had failed to notify depositor that his account had been replenished by failure of State bank to transfer credit to third party as directed. (Ib.)

Bank is not in default as to depositor until it refuses to pay account on demand.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) There is implied contract on part of bank to keep deposit until called for, and bank is not in default except on refusal to pay amount of account on demand. (Ib.)

Depositor need not demand payment of deposit, as condition to suit against bank, where demand would be futile.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) Where bank has disclaimed liability for deposit, or for any other reason demand would be futile, demand need not be made for amount thereof as condition of suit against bank. (Ib.)

Cessation of business operations is breach of bank's contract to pay money deposited on demand.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) When bank ceases to do business, with result that depositor who desires to withdraw his money can not make demand and can not draw upon his account, bank's contract to pay amount of deposit on demand is broken. (Ib.)

Breach of contract with depositor by cessation of operations of defendant's Russian bank held not excused, for impossibility of performance, by fact that bank was seized by Soviet Government.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) Breach of contract of defendant's Russian bank with depositor, resulting from cessation of business which precluded demand and withdrawal by depositor, held not excused, on ground of impossibility of performance, by fact that the breach was not willful and that the property of the bank was seized by Soviet Government, since seizure and nationalization of banks in Russia was not an act of government, on account of failure of United States to recognize Soviet Government. (Ib.)

Depositor's damages against defendant bank for breach of contract by Russian branch held value of rubles on deposit at time bank ceased to function, measured in dollars in place where remedy was sought.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) In action by depositor against defendant bank for breach of contract by Russian branch thereof, which was taken over by Soviet Government, contract to pay money on demand was broken as of date when branch bank ceased to function, and measure of damages of depositor was value, as of that date, in Petrograd of rubles on deposit, measured in dollars in New York City, where remedy was sought. (Ib.)

Interest on deposit from time of bank's breach of contract with depositor held properly determined according to legal rate in place where depositor sought recovery.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) In action by depositor against bank for breach of contract by Russian branch thereof to hold deposit subject to demand, interest from time of defendant's breach of contract was properly allowed according to legal rate in place where recovery was sought, since arrangement between bank and depositor regarding interest ceased when contract was breached. (Ib.)

Bank held not relieved from liability to depositor in defunct Russian branch thereof for value of rubles deposited, by provisions of Russian Code.

(N. Y. App. 1928.) Bank conducting banking operations through Russian branch held not relieved from duty to pay depositor value of rubles deposited at time of breach of contract by Russian branch by cessation of operations, by Russian Code requiring that every one shall be obligated to compensate for damage and losses caused by his action or neglect, unless compelled thereto by law or by government, or necessary self-defense, or unavoidable circumstances. (Ib.)

COLLATERAL SECURITIES

CROSS REFERENCES:	Page
WAREHOUSEMEN-----	210

Bills and notes—City bank reacquiring notes from country banks on maker's insolvency, held holder or transferee with original rights restored.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where city bank held notes secured by collateral, but had invested money of correspondent country banks in such notes, and on learning of maker's insolvency, with authority of country banks, took back notes with collateral and held them as its own, city bank held to be holder or transferee of all notes, with original powers and rights restored to it, on reacquiring them. (Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co. et al. v. Philadelphia-Girard Nat. Bank. 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 649.)

Bankruptcy—Rights of city bank holding bankrupt's notes were not fixed under State insolvency law by execution of assignment for creditors, so as to prevent reacquisition of notes from country banks. (Act Pa. June 4, 1901, P. L. 404; Pa. St. 1920, sec. 710 et seq.; Bankr. act [11 U. S. C. A.] )

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Rights of city bank, holding notes of insolvent broker secured by collateral, and of other creditors, did not become fixed the instant broker executed deed of assignment for benefit of creditors by force of act (Pa. June 4, 1901, P. L. 404; Pa. St. 1920, sec. 710 et seq.), so as to prevent city bank from reacquiring notes from country banks after notice of insolvency, since insolvent, being broker, was subject to national bankruptcy act (11 U. S. C. A.), which suspended or superseded State act as to preferences, and acts of parties were not unlawful because made so by assignment at common law. (Ib.)

Bankruptcy—Insolvency established by assignment for creditors did not make equity in pledged collateral trust fund for creditors.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Insolvency, when established and made known by assignment for benefit of creditors, did not fix rights of all creditors, including banks holding notes secured by collateral, and make all assets, including insolvent's equity in pledged collateral, trust fund for creditors. (Ib.)

Bankruptcy—Circuit Court of Appeals had jurisdiction of appeal taken October 14 from order rendered September 17, on opinion handed down on August 29, directing allowance of claims as secured.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where opinion of the district court, holding that order of referee in bankruptcy disallowing claims of petitioners as secured creditors should be reversed, was handed down August 29, and order based thereon was rendered September 17, appeal to Circuit Court of Appeals from such order taken on October 14, was timely, and gave latter court jurisdiction of appeal. (Cory v. Hamilton National Bank et al., 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 379.)

Corporations—Corporation's pledge of bonds as collateral for short-term notes indorsed by its president and held by banks controlled by him held not fraudulent.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Corporation's pledge of its bonds as collateral security for its short-term notes held by banks controlled by its president, who had personally indorsed such notes, who was secured on his indorsement by mortgage on corporation's property, and who was thereupon released from liability on his indorsement, held not to establish actual fraud, nor constructive fraud, under Kentucky law, though at the time its financial condition was unsatisfactory, and though it subsequently became a voluntary bankrupt. (Ib.)

Corporations—Insolvent corporation can not give security to director for preexisting debt by way of preference.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Without regard to the 4-months' bankruptcy limitation, an insolvent corporation, knowing that it can not prosecute its business and without hope of recovering from its financial embarrassments, can not give security to a director for preexisting debt by way of preference. (Ib.)

Corporations—Corporation may give security to director for preexisting debt, in absence of insolvency or intent to defraud or delay other creditors.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In absence of insolvency, or of intent to hinder or delay its other creditors, corporation may lawfully, subject to 4-months' bankruptcy limitation, give security to a director for a preexisting debt, even though in the end it does thereby effectuate a preference. (Ib.)

Corporations—Corporation's president and general manager held authorized to pledge corporation's bonds for antecedent indebtedness; "to fund an indebtedness."

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where corporation issued bonds to fund preexisting indebtedness exceeding authorized bond issue, primary purpose being to obtain a better interest rate and an extension, president of corporation, who under by-laws was chief executive officer and general manager of company, held authorized to pledge such bonds as collateral for such indebtedness, though words "to fund an indebtedness" ordinarily connotes conversion of a heterogeneous floating indebtedness into a long term obligation. (Ib.)

Evidence—Parol evidence was admissible to show that directors authorized president to pledge corporation's bonds to secure antecedent indebtedness.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Parol evidence was admissible to show that directors authorized president to pledge corporation's bonds to secure antecedent indebtedness, if they could not be sold. (Ib.)

Corporation, by accepting benefit of its president's pledge of its bonds to secure its antecedent debts, with knowledge of facts, ratified pledge.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Pledge by corporation's president of corporation's bonds for its antecedent debt, if not authorized in advance, was ratified when corporation, with knowledge of transactions, accepted benefit of renewals of such indebtedness, extended on sole security of pledged bonds, and continuously recognized validity of pledges, even as late as filing of its schedules in bankruptcy. (Ib.)

Corporations—That corporation's president pledged bonds authorized to be sold held not "diversion" thereof, where bonds proved unsalable.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) That president of corporation pledged corporation's bonds, authorized for purpose of sale to satisfy corporation's floating indebtedness, to that extent, held not to constitute "diversion" thereof from purpose for which issuance was authorized, where bonds proved to be unsalable, except at a sacrifice, and possibly not even on that basis. (In re Federal Coal Co., 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 375.)

Corporations—Corporation's president held authorized to pledge corporation's bonds as collateral for its floating indebtedness, evidenced by short time paper indorsed by him.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where corporation issued its bonds for purpose of satisfying part of its floating indebtedness, most of which was due to banks on short time paper, which bore its president's personal indorsement, president being secured by unrecorded mortgage on corporation's realty, held that president, who under by-laws was chief executive officer and general manager of company, had power to pledge bonds as collateral security for such indebtedness when bonds proved unsalable. (Ib.)

Evidence—It was immaterial that corporation's minutes did not show president's authority to pledge bonds, parol evidence being admissible.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) It was immaterial that corporation's minutes did not disclose that authority had been given to its president to pledge corporation's bonds as collateral security for corporation's floating indebtedness, but parol evidence was admissible to establish such fact. (Ib.)

Corporations—Corporation in financial difficulties held authorized to pledge its bonds as collateral for floating indebtedness in absence of proof of insolvency.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Corporation held authorized to pledge its bonds as collateral security for its floating indebtedness, in absence of evidence that at time of pledge it was insolvent, where it was not so regarded by its principal owners, who were handling its affairs, and it was intending and expecting to continue in business, though it was then in financial difficulties. (Ib.)

Corporation's pledge of bonds as collateral for notes, indorsed by its president and held by banks controlled by him, held not fraudulent.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) In absence of showing of bad faith, corporation's pledge of its bonds as collateral security for its short term notes, held by banks controlled by its president, who had personally indorsed such notes, who was secured on his indorsement by mortgage on corporation's property, and who was thereupon released from liability on his indorsement, held not violative of Kentucky Statutes, section 1906, as being fraudulent transfers, even though at time corporation's financial condition was unsatisfactory, but not hopeless, and though it subsequently became a voluntary bankrupt. (Ib.)

COLLECTIONS

Bank receiving for collection and credit deposit certificate indorsed to it and crediting account of sender held not merely collection agent.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where interest-bearing certificate of deposit was sent by one bank to another for collection and credit, indorsed to collecting bank, which immediately credited account of first bank with amount of certificate, including accrued interest, collecting bank, which became insolvent, was not acting merely as collection agent. (Ashley State Bank of Ashley, N. Dak., v. City Nat. Bank of Bismarck, N. Dak., et al., 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 166.)

Insolvent bank's deposit balance in Federal reserve bank could be applied on checks sent through latter for collection, and accepted by former. (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 248(m), 360, 461-464; Federal reserve act, secs. 16, 19.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Insolvent bank's reserve deposit balance in Federal reserve bank, in account maintained under Federal reserve act, section 19 (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 461-464), could be applied on checks drawn on insolvent bank, which Federal reserve bank had received for collection under clearance and collection system established under Federal reserve act, section 16 (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 248 (m), 360), where checks had been forwarded to insolvent bank under agreement, and accepted by such bank, and charged to accounts of drawers. (Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond v. Early, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 198.)

Reserve bank held unauthorized to set off against insolvent bank's stock liability balance due on checks sent for collection. (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 288.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Federal reserve bank held not entitled to set off balance due from insolvent bank on checks sent through reserve bank for collection against insolvent bank's stock liability under 12 U. S. C. A., section 288, notwithstanding that insolvent bank had accepted checks sent for collection and charged them to accounts of drawers, since demands, to be set off against each other, must be mutual, and reserve bank was not owner of checks, but merely agent for collection. GENERAL DEPOSITS

Money deposited in bank becomes property of bank, and debtor and creditor relationship arises.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) The general rule is that money deposited with a bank does not continue to be the property of depositor, but it becomes property of bank moment it is deposited, and depositor becomes creditor of the bank, and no trust exists in such cases. (Lebanon Iron Co. et al. v. Donnelly & Co. (Inc.), 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 411.)

APPLICATION OF DEPOSIT ON NOTE

Bankruptcy—Bank could apply bankrupt corporation's checking balance to indebtedness on note, on basis company was insolvent, though debt was not due. (Bankr. act, sec. 68a; 11 U. S. C. A., sec. 108 (a).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank held entitled to apply bankrupt corporation's checking balance, accumulated in usual course of business, to its indebtedness on recently renewed note, on learning that it was diverting insurance money, which it had promised to use for rebuilding its plant, to other purposes, upon basis that corporation was insolvent, though debt was not due; right of set-off being preserved as to provable debts, whether due or not, under bankruptcy act, section 68a, 11 U. S. C. A. section 108 (a). (Rupp. v. Commerce Guardian Trust & Savings Bank, 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 234.)

Bankruptcy—Bank could not apply on depositor's debts sums taken with such intent after application of checking balance thereon.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank, applying balance of bankrupt corporation's checking account on note to bank, held not entitled to apply to such note and other notes sums subsequently offered for deposit, but taken with intention of so applying them, regardless of bankrupt's purpose. (Ib.)

Banks waived banker's liens on bankrupt's deposits by agreeing to transfer of deposits to credit of committee appointed to manage bankrupt's affairs.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Banks held not authorized to credit deposits on notes which they held against bankrupt, where, on creation of committee to manage affairs of bankrupt company, deposits no longer remained subject to check of company; banks having waived banker's liens by agreeing to transfer of deposits, notwithstanding bankruptcy act, section 68 (11 U. S. C. A., sec. 108). (First Nat. Bank of Waco et al. v. Sheehy in re South Bros. Trunk Co. 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 400.)

Bank has right to apply deposit to payment of depositor's matured indebtedness to it.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) By virtue of the right of set-off, when depositor becomes indebted to bank, and debt becomes due and payable, bank has right to apply any deposits to payment of depositor's indebtedness. (Lebanon Iron Co. et al. v. Donnelly & Co. (Inc.), 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 411.)

Bank held entitled to charge against receivers' general deposit receivers' certificate held by it at maturity thereof.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where receivers in active conduct of corporation's business made general deposit in bank in which proceeds of business were deposited, bank, on maturity of receivers' certificate held by it, had right to charge certificate to receivers' account, in absence of any restriction in certificate taking it out of general rule. (Ib.)

Bankruptcy—Bank may offset its loan against insolvent borrower's deposit, either by bookkeeping entry or by accepting insolvent's check, without acquiring "preference."

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Generally a bank may offset amount of its loan against deposit standing to credit of an insolvent borrower, and if, instead of making a bookkeeping entry to show offset, bank accepts insolvent's check against his own account in payment of the loan, such mere change in form does not make transaction a "preference." (Murray v. Corn Exchange Bank, 31 Fed. Rep. (2d. series) 373). (Affirmed by U. S. C. C. A. (no opinion rendered) in 31 Fed Rep. (2d series) 375.)

Bankruptcy—Bankrupt's payment of notes held by bank with checks, after creditors' committee directed him to cease paying debts, held not preferential.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where, on direction of creditors' committee to make no further payment of insolvent's debts, except for current running expenses, insolvent notified bank not to pay any notes which might be presented for payment, and thereafter made deposits in bank account under supervision of creditors' committee, and subsequently paid its notes held by bank with checks on said account, about two weeks before filing bankruptcy petition, held, that such payments to bank were not preferential, on theory that accumulation of funds in deposit account was improper, where bank was not represented at meeting of creditors. (Ib.)

Bankruptcy—Bank, holding bankrupt's notes amply secured, held not required to protect general creditors as against owners of collateral in receiving payment of notes.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where bankrupt's notes held by bank were amply secured by collateral belonging to third persons, it was not bank's duty to protect bankrupt's general creditors at expense of owners of collateral, by refusing to accept payment of notes by checks drawn on bankrupt's account in ordinary course of business about two weeks before bankruptcy petition was filed. (Ib.)

DEPOSIT OF TRUST FUNDS

Guardian and ward—Special deposit became deposit of B., as guardian of minors, covered by indemnity bond, where certificate of deposit was indorsed to minors through guardian.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Special deposit in bank in name of deceased's estate became deposit of B., as guardian of minors, and was covered by indemnity bond guaranteeing repayment of deposits of B. as guardian, where court of ordinary rendered judgment setting off such item to minors, and title became vested by such judgment, and certificate of deposit was indorsed to minors through their guardian. (Independence Indemnity Co. v. Barber et al., 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 753.)

Guardian and ward—Savings account became deposit of B., as guardian of minors, covered by indemnity bond, where representatives of deceased's estate notified bank to transfer account.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Savings account standing in name of deceased became deposit of B., as guardian of minors, and was covered by indemnity bond guaranteeing repayment of deposits of B. as guardian, where court of ordinary rendered judgment setting off such item to minors, and title vested by such judgment, and representatives of deceased's estate notified bank to transfer savings account to B. as guardian, although no change was made. (Ib.)

Guardian and ward—Where bond guaranteed repayment of deposits by guardian, it was immaterial how disputed items were carried on bank's books.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where indemnity bond was given to guarantee repayment of deposits of B., as guardian of minors, and disputed items were deposits of guardian, it was immaterial how they were carried on books of bank. (Ib.)

Surety can not claim subrogation, and compete with secured creditor in distribution of insolvent debtor's assets, until creditor is paid.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) As respects right to participate in receiving dividends from defunct bank, surety can not claim subrogation, and compete with secured creditor in distribution of assets of insolvent debtor, until creditor is paid in full. (Ib.)

DEPOSIT OF COUNTY FUNDS

Bankruptcy—Pro rata distribution of dividends on debts existing at time of bankruptcy only is required.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Law requires pro rata distribution of dividends on such debts only as existed at time of bankruptcy. (Burnett et al. v. Bank of Duncan, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 52.)

Bankruptcy—Action of bank officer and county treasurer in depositing misappropriated county funds to personal account did not create "overdraft" when accounts were adjusted, authorizing bank's claim against officer's estate in bankruptcy.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Action of bank officer and county treasurer in crediting to his personal account at bank funds which he had misappropriated from county, and for which county's claim against officer's estate in bankruptcy was properly allowed, which funds were transferred to officer's account as treasurer, and charged back against his personal account when defalcations were discovered, did not create an "overdraft," authorizing bank's claim therefor against officer's estate in bankruptcy, since to allow claim would in effect allow a double filing on the same debt. (Ib.)

Bankruptcy—County's participation in audit of accounts of bank officer and county treasurer did not preclude claim against officer's estate in bankruptcy for misappropriation of funds.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) County, by participating in audit of books of bank officer and county treasurer misappropriating funds of county, held not concluded by finding of auditors that an overdraft existed in bank officer's personal account as regards right to assert claim for misappropriated funds against officer's estate in bankruptcy. (Ib.)

Fund deposited in bank becomes property of bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Fund deposited in a bank becomes property of a bank, and a transfer from one account to another in no way affects the ownership of the fund. (Ib.)

Georgia statute declaring property of county depository bank bound for payment of liabilities arising from breach of bond declares a lien. (Laws Ga. 1915, p. 233.)

(U. S. D. C., 1929.) Laws of Georgia, 1915, page 233, providing that property of county depository bank shall be bound for payment of all liability arising from breach of bond, declares a lien. (In re Blalock et al., 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 612.)

Statute should not be given apparent literal meaning leading to unreasonable, extraordinary, unjust, or absurd consequences.

(U. S. D. C., 1929.) While court has no power of legislation, and must give natural meaning to plain language of statute, notwithstanding resulting hardship, the general assembly's real intention should be sought, and statute interpreted according to its real, rather than apparently literal, meaning, which would lead to such unreasonable, extraordinary, unjust, or absurd consequences as could not have been intended by legislature. (Ib.)

Bank held entitled to first claim or lien on choses in action pledged to it for money advanced to bankrupt county depository. (Laws Ga. 1915, p. 233.)

(U. S. D. C., 1929.) Bankrupt county depository's correspondent bank held entitled to first claim or lien on all notes, accounts, and choses in action, pledged to it for money advanced to depository, as against county's claim under Laws Georgia, 1915, page 233, whether correspondent bank had title to or merely a lien on such choses, in view of Laws Georgia, 1924, page 133 (Park's Ann. Civ. Code Supp. 1926, sec. 4270 (4)), declaring holder of lien, arising either from contract or by implication of law, a holder for value to extent thereof. (Ib.)

State highway department held entitled to prior payment from assets of bankrupt county depository, except as to property pledged to correspondent bank. (Bankr. act, sec. 64b (5) (7); 11 U. S. C. A., sec. 104 (b) (5) (7).)

(U. S. D. C., 1929.) State highway department held entitled to priority of payment out of assets in hands of trustee for bankrupt county depository bank under the prerogative right of preference recognized by the common law of Georgia, except as to property pledged to correspondent bank, in view of act May 27, 1926, section 15, 11 U. S. C. A., section 104 (b) (7), defining term "person" in bankruptcy act, section 64b (5), 11 U. S. C. A., section 104 (b) (5), as including the United States and the several States and Territories thereof. (Ib.)

DEPOSIT OF CITY FUNDS

Reference—Referee's findings and conclusions are conclusive, in absence of motion for new trial, if reference was made under Kansas law, but not if made under common law. (Rev. St. Kan., 1923, 60—2924.)

(U. S. D. C., 1928.) In absence of motion for new trial, referee's fact findings and conclusions of law are conclusive on court, which can not hear or consider exceptions thereto, under Revised Statutes Kansas, 1923, 60—2924, if reference was made under Code of such State, but, if made under common law, court must rule on exceptions and declare law of case in judgment. (City of Parsons v. Fidelity & Deposit Co., Same v. Nat'l. Surety Co., 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 417.)

Depositories—City depository is liable for any neglect of duty causing loss to city, as in paying out money in unauthorized manner. (Rev. St. Kan., 1923, 13—2107.)

(U. S. D. C., 1928.) City treasurer's deposit of city's moneys in depositories duly selected by city commissioners, as provided by Revised Statutes Kansas, 1923, 13—2107, establishes ordinary relation of debtor and creditor between depository and city, and depository is liable on its contract and any statutory bond given by it for any neglect of duty occasioning loss to city, as in failing to pay out money due it in manner provided by law. (Ib.)

Depositories—City depository, paying in unauthorized manner money employed to discharge city's valid debts is protected, but has burden of proof. (Rev. St. Kan., 1923, 13—2107.)

(U. S. D. C., 1928.) City depository, paying out in manner not authorized by Revised Statutes Kansas, 1923, 13—2107, city money employed to discharge valid and due debts of city, would be protected, as such payment would be simply damnum absque injuria; but burden of making such proof would rest on depository. (Ib.)

Municipal corporations—Sureties on city treasurer's bond are not liable for losses caused by commissioners' failure to take bonds from depositories. (Rev. St. Kan., 1923, 13—2107.)

(U. S. D. C., 1928.) Sureties on bonds, given by city treasurer under Revised Statutes Kansas, 1923, 13—2107, are not liable for loss of city's moneys because of city commissioners' failure to take bonds from depository banks, as required by such act. (Ib.)

CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT

Bank was precluded from setting up cashier's lack of authority to issue certificate of deposit as against bona fide holder without notice of irregularity.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1929.) Bank was precluded from claiming want of authority of cashier to issue certificate of deposit on ground that no deposit had in fact been received, as against holder in due course of certificate without notice that there was any irregularity in issuance of certificate, notwithstanding the fact that cashier fraudulently abused his authority in wrongfully issuing certificate without receiving deposit. (People's Bank of Keyser, W. Va., v. International Finance Corporation, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 46.)

Bank's certificate of deposit constitutes in effect a promissory note.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1929.) A certificate of deposit issued by a bank constitutes in effect a promissory note. (Ib.)

DIVIDENDS

STOCK DIVIDENDS.....	166
DIVIDENDS DECLARED FOR PURPOSE OF ORGANIZING AN AFFILIATED CORPORATION.....	166

STOCK DIVIDENDS

Stock dividend on trustee stocks is an accretion of capital and not income.

(U. S. Sup. 1890.) Under a will bequeathing stock in a corporation and Government bonds, in trust to pay "the dividends of said stock and the interest of said bonds as they accrue" to a daughter of the testator "during her lifetime, without percentage of commission or diminution of principal," and directing that upon her death "the said stocks, bonds, and income shall revert to the estate" of the trustee, "without incumbrance or impeachment of waste," a stock dividend declared by a corporation which from time to time, before and after the death of the testator, has invested accumulated earnings in its permanent works and plant, and which, since his death, has been authorized by statute to increase its capital stock, is an accretion to capital, and the income thereof only is payable to the tenant for life. (Gibbons v. Mahon, 136 U. S. 549.)

Courts—Pennsylvania rule relating to apportionment of stock dividends between life tenant and remaindermen is a rule of property binding on Federal courts.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Rule followed by Pennsylvania courts that stock dividends must be apportioned between life tenant and corpus of trust, by giving the corpus sufficient to keep intact the value of the shares of stock as they were at time trust began and by giving rest of dividend to those entitled to income, is a rule of property binding on Federal courts in a case involving a trust under a will probated in Pennsylvania. (Pierrepont v. Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co. et al., 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 608.)

DIVIDEND DECLARED FOR THE PURPOSE OF ORGANIZING AN AFFILIATED CORPORATION

Internal revenue—Dividend declared by national bank, to be applied to purchase stock in trust company organized to transact business in which bank could not engage, held taxable "income." (Revenue act 1924, sec. 203 (c), (h); 26 U. S. C. A. sec. 934 (c), (h); National banking act; 12 U. S. C. A. secs. 21-200.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Ten per cent dividend, declared by national bank, to be applied to purchase of stock in trust company to be organized to transact business in which bank could not engage under national banking act (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 21-200), held taxable "income," as against contentions that by reason of trust under which trust company's stock was placed, taxpayer received nothing in nature of income, and that transaction constituted reorganization of national bank, within revenue act 1924, section 203 (c), (h), 26 U. S. C. A. section 934 (c), (h). (Lonsdale v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 537.)

Internal revenue—Substance, not form, should control in applying sixteenth amendment and income tax laws. (Const. Amend. 16.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Substance, and not form, should control in application of constitutional amendment 16 and income tax laws enacted under it. (Ib.)

Whether drawer bank was negligent with reference to drawee's payment of drafts on unauthorized indorsements of payee's agent was question of fact.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Even if drawer bank owed drawee bank any duty to object to payment of drafts bearing unauthorized indorsements by payee's agent similar to indorsements on drafts on which drawer sought to recover from drawee, which paid them on such unauthorized indorsements, whether drawer was negligent with reference thereto was a question of fact. (Continental Nat. Bank & Trust Co. of Chicago v. Olney Nat. Bank, 33 Fed. Rep. (2d Series), 437.)

Appeal and error—District court's determination of fact question, where jury was waived, could not be reviewed on appeal.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) District court's determination of question of fact, where jury was waived, was not open for reconsideration by Circuit Court of Appeals. (Ib.)

Drawer bank owes drawee bank no duty with reference to indorsements.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Drawer bank owes drawee bank no duty with reference to indorsements. (Ib.)

Draft, drawn to order, is not payable at all, until properly indorsed by payee.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) A draft, drawn to order, is not payable at all until it is properly indorsed by payee. (Ib.)

That checks received for drafts were worthless held not to defeat drawer bank's rights to recover from drawee bank for paying drafts on unauthorized indorsements of payee's agent.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) That drawer bank issued drafts to payee's agent for agent's worthless checks held not to defeat its right to recover from drawee bank for paying drafts on said agent's unauthorized indorsements. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Intention of drawer determines whether drafts are payable to bearer, because made to living person not intended to have interest therein. (Negotiable Instrument Law Ill. sec. 9.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Negotiable instrument law, Illinois, section 9 (Cahill's Rev. St. 1927, ch. 98, par. 29), provides that instrument is payable to bearer when it is payable to order of a person known by drawer or maker to be fictitious, or of a living person not intended to have any interest in it, held, that it is intention of drawer, and not intention of one who procures drafts to be issued, and who was neither drawer, drawee, nor payee, which determines whether instrument is payable to bearer, because payable to living person not intended to have interest in it. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Drawer's intention respecting interest payee was to have in drafts, as to whether drafts were payable to bearer, held fact question. (Negotiable instrument law, Ill., sec. 9.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) What was drawer's intention with reference to interest, if any, that payee was to have in drafts obtained from drawer by payee's agent, on issue whether such drafts were payable to bearer under negotiable instrument law, Illinois, section 9 (Cahill's Rev. St. 1927, ch. 98, par. 29), because payable to order of living person not intended to have any interest in the drafts, was question of fact. (Ib.)

Interest—Interest is allowable without agreement on money advanced, on money due on settlement of account, on money received to another's use and retained without owner's knowledge, and on money unreasonably withheld. (Interest act, Ill., sec. 2.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Under interest act, Illinois, section 2 (Cahill's Rev. St. 1927, ch. 74, par. 2), interest is allowable without agreement on money lent or advanced for the use of another, on money due on settlement of account from day of liquidating accounts between parties and ascertaining balance, on money received to use of another and retained without owner's knowledge, and on money withheld by an unreasonable and vexatious delay of payment. (Ib.)

Interest—Whether drawee bank was liable for vexatious delay in refusing to pay to drawer amount of drafts paid on unauthorized indorsements held fact question. (Interest act, Ill., sec. 2.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Whether drawee bank, found to be liable to drawer bank for paying drafts on unauthorized indorsements of payee's agent, was liable for interest under interest act, Illinois, section 2 (Cahill's Rev. St. 1927, ch. 74, par. 2), as for vexatious delay, presented a question of fact. (Ib.)

Defendant, issuing letter of credit to plaintiffs, held estopped to claim variance in shipping documents accompanying drafts, where reason previously assigned for nonpayment was pending injunction.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Defendant, issuing letter of credit authorizing plaintiffs to draw on bank against bills of lading, held estopped to assert that descriptive terms used in invoices and shipping documents varied from those called for by letter of credit, where plaintiff had refused payment on sole ground of pending injunction, with result that plaintiff was led to assume that the shipping documents were in proper form. (Lamborn et al. v. Cleveland Trust Co., 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 46.)

Estoppel—One assigning reason for conduct may not alter position to other party's injury after situation has changed.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) One who has given a reason for his conduct touching a matter in controversy will not be permitted, after the situation of the parties has changed, to change his position on the matter to the injury of the other party by assigning a different reason. (Ib.)

Federal Reserve Board must exercise discretion respecting approval or disapproval of articles of association of foreign banking corporation; "approved." (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 611-631.)

(D. C. App. 1929.) Federal reserve act, section 25 (a), added by act December 24, 1919 (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 611-631), authorizing organization of corporations to engage in international or foreign banking, but providing that association formed thereunder shall not become body corporate until articles of association and organization certificate have been approved by Federal Reserve Board and after board has issued permit to it to begin business, imposes duty on Federal Reserve Board of exercising its judgment and discretion with respect to approval or disapproval of such articles; word "approved" importing exercise of judgment and discretion, and power to approve ordinarily implying power to disapprove. (Apfel et al. v. Mellon et al., Federal Reserve Board, 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 805.)

Statutes—Consistent use of term in certain sense in statute in pari materia is persuasive as to its meaning.

(D. C. App. 1929.) The consistent use of the same term in certain sense in statutes in pari materia is persuasive that it was used in same sense in statute being construed. (Ib.)

Mandamus—Mandamus does not lie to control Federal Reserve Board's discretion in refusing to approve articles of incorporation of foreign banking corporation. (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 611-631.)

(D. C. App. 1929.) Mandamus will not lie to control the exercise of Federal Reserve Board's discretion in refusing to approve articles of incorporation and organization certificate to permit relators to begin business as a body corporate for purpose of engaging in business of international or foreign banking under Federal reserve act, section 25 (a), added by act December 24, 1919 (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 611-631). (Ib.)

FORGED OR ALTERED PAPER

Insurance—Forged signature, below signature of maker of note, held not signature of "indorser," within bankers' blanket forgery policy.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Forged signature, appearing below name of maker on note, which recited, "I, we, or either of us, promise to pay," held on its face signature of joint maker, under negotiable instruments law Pennsylvania section 17 (Pa. St. 1920, sec. 16004), and can not be held under any consideration to be that of "indorser," within provision of bankers' blanket forgery insurance policy covering forgery of signature of indorser of checks, drafts, notes, or trade acceptances. (Grange Trust Co. of Huntingdon, Pa., v. American Surety Co. of New York, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 445.)

Insurance—Intention of all parties that signature in place for makers' signatures is indorsement can not affect liability of forgery insurer.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Though a signature on face of note at place provided for makers' signatures may be held to be an indorsement, it must be shown that it was intention of all parties that said signature was intended as an indorsement, and such understanding between parties can not affect liability of insurer under bankers' blanket forgery insurance policy. (Ib.)

Insurance—Provision of policy insuring against forged indorsements could not be interpreted to cover forgery of name of maker or accommodation maker of note.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Provision of bankers' blanket forgery and alteration insurance policy, insuring trust company against loss from forged indorsements on checks, notes, and drafts, could not be interpreted to cover the forgery of name of maker or accommodation maker. (Ib.)

Evidence—Parol evidence is inadmissible to show that forged signature under signature of maker of note is indorsement. (Negotiable instruments act, Pa., sec. 17 (Pa. St. 1920, sec. 16004).)

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Parol evidence is not admissible to establish that forged signature below that of maker on note is a forged indorsement, under negotiable instruments act, Pennsylvania, section 17 (Pa. St. 1920, sec. 16004), providing that, where instrument containing words "I promise to pay" is signed by two or more, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Liability on notes bearing forged indorsements arose on implied warranty of genuineness.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Liability of bank exchanging Victory notes with forged indorsements for coupon bonds arose upon an implied warranty of the genuineness of notes, and was not conditioned upon either demand or giving notice after discovery of the forgeries. (Ladd & Tilton Bank v. United States, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 334.)

United States—Government's failure to notify bank exchanging Victory notes with forged indorsements after discovery of forgery held defense under circumstances.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where Government, after discovering forgery of indorsements on Victory notes for which it had theretofore exchanged coupon bonds, failed to notify bank effecting exchange of such forgeries for period of approximately 19 months, resulting in injury to bank by reason of insolvency and liquidation of bank from whom it had received notes, the Government's failure to give timely notice of forgery constituted a defense, notwithstanding that right of action rested on implied warranty. (Ib.)

United States—United States suing to recover money paid on forged instrument is subject to same rules applicable to litigants generally.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Though statute of limitation does not run against right of action in favor of Government, nevertheless, where right of action is for recovery of money paid on forged instrument, United States is subject to same rules as litigants generally. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—One liable on forged instrument may defend on ground that delay in notice or demand after discovery of forgery has worked injury.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Though mere right of action is not affected by delay in demand or notice, defendant, otherwise liable because of money or property obtained on forged bill, note, or other instrument, may defend on ground that delay in notice or demand after discovery of forgery has worked injury. (Ib.)

Costs—Government witnesses held entitled only to traveling expenses necessarily incurred within district. (28 U. S. C. A. sec. 604.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Government witnesses held not entitled, under Revised Statutes, section 850 (28 U. S. C. A., sec. 604), to recover traveling expenses except those necessarily incurred for travel and maintenance within district. (Ib.)

ALL ASSETS OF INSOLVENT BANK PASS TO RECEIVER

When national bank becomes insolvent and is taken over by comptroller and placed in receiver's hands, its assets pass to receiver's control.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) When national bank becomes insolvent and is taken over by comptroller of currency and placed in hands of a receiver, all its assets pass to control of the receiver. (Anderson et al. v. Cronkleton, 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 170.)

ACTIONS BY RECEIVERS

Action—Action by or against receiver to establish demand is one at law.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) An action by or against a receiver to establish a demand is an action at law, rather than in equity. (Dykes v. Widdows et al., 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 745.)

On petition for rehearing—Receiver, in action against him on claim, was entitled to set-off or counterclaim by reason of claim against plaintiff's assignor. (Equity rule 30.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Under equity rule 30, providing that an answer may contain, without cross-bill, a set-off and counterclaim which might be the subject of an independent suit in equity, receiver for insolvent bank was entitled, in action against him on a claim, to set-off or counterclaim by reason of claims of bank against plaintiff's assignor, so as to enable court to pronounce a final judgment in the same suit. Petition for rehearing denied (Dykes v. Widdows et al., 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 745.)

Appeal and error—Nonjoinder of parties appellant is jurisdictional question, which will be considered, though not raised by counsel.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) The question of lack of joinder of parties appellant is jurisdictional, and will be considered, though it has not been raised by counsel. (Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Omaha v. L'Herisson (two cases), 33 Fed. Rep. (2d Series) 841.)

Appeal and error—Judgment against both answering and defaulting defendants held several in nature, so as to authorize appeal by answering defendant alone.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Judgment against two defendants, one of whom made default, held essentially several in its nature, though joint in form, so as to authorize appeal by answering defendant alone. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Appellate court will not reverse judgment in law action, tried without jury, for error of fact, such as finding contrary to weight of evidence. (28 U. S. C. A. secs. 773, 875, 879.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) When action at law is trial to Federal court without a jury, the questions open for review in appellate court are limited by Revised Statutes, sections 649, 700, 1011 (28 U. S. C. A. secs. 773, 875, 879), and appellate court will not reverse judgment for error of fact, such as finding contrary to weight of evidence. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Party urging lack of substantial evidence to support findings and judgment must move for judgment on such ground, request such declaration of law, or take equivalent step, secure ruling, and take exception.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Party seeking review of question whether record contains any substantial evidence to support findings and judgment against him must move for judgment in his favor on such ground, request declaration of law to that effect, or take some other equivalent step, secure ruling by trial court, and take exception thereto. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Party desiring review of admissibility of evidence should object or offer proof at proper time on trial, state ground therefore, and secure ruling.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Party desiring review of question of admissibility of evidence should make objection or offer proof at proper time on the trial, state the ground therefor, and secure a ruling of the trial court. (Ib.)

Courts—Assignments of error relating to admissibility of evidence must conform to court rules. (Circuit Court of Appeals rules 11, 24.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Assignments of error relating to the admissibility of evidence must conform to Circuit Court of Appeals, rules 11, 24. (Ib.)

Evidence in national bank receiver's action for conversion of notes held to support finding that they were transferred to defendant bank to secure notes discounted by corporation.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In national bank receiver's action against Federal credit bank for conversion of collateral notes, evidence held sufficient to support trial court's finding that alleged collateral agreement was made, and that notes belonging to insolvent bank were turned over to defendant for purpose of securing notes discounted by corporation with defendant. (Ib.)

Evidence held to support finding that national bank was insolvent to knowledge of Federal credit bank at time of transferring notes to latter as security for notes discounted by corporation.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In national bank receiver's action against Federal credit bank for conversion of collateral notes, evidence held sufficient to support trial court's finding that national bank was insolvent to defendant bank's knowledge at time of turning over notes to defendant as security for notes discounted with latter by corporation. (Ib.)

National bank can not lend credit to another. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 24.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Under Revised Statutes, section 5136 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 24), a national bank, even though solvent, can not lend its credit to another. (Ib.)

Insolvent national bank can not pledge assets as collateral to another's debt. (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 91.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Under Revised Statutes, section 5242 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 91), a national bank can not pledge its assets while involvent as collateral to the debt of another. (Ib.)

"Insolvency," within statute prohibiting transfer of insolvent national bank's assets, consists in inability to meet obligations in ordinary course of business as they accrue. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 91.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) "Insolvency" within Revised Statutes section 5242 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 91), prohibiting transfers of national bank's assets after commission of act of insolvency or in contemplation thereof with view to preference of one creditor, consists in inability to meet obligations in ordinary course of business as they accrue. (Ib.)

Deposit of collections by credit corporation held not trust fund, left in bank in consideration of its transferring notes belonging to it to another bank as security for notes discounted with latter by such corporation.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Deposit in national bank of collections made by credit corporation held not a trust fund, left in bank in consideration of its turning over notes belonging to it to Federal credit bank as security for notes discounted therewith by credit corporation, where collections were not traced into assets of depository bank on date of collateral agreement and no specified minimum amount of cash was shown to be on hand therein from time collections were made until date of such agreement. (Ib.)

ACTIONS AGAINST RECEIVERS

JURISDICTION

District Court of district in which a national bank is located held to have jurisdiction of a suit by stockholders, on a cause of action inuring in the bank, to enjoin the Comptroller and his receiver (Judicial Code, Sec. 24, subd. 16, and section 49 (Comp. St. Secs. 991, 1031).

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Judicial Code, Section 24, subdivision 16, and section 49 (Comp. St. Secs. 991, 1031), giving District Courts jurisdiction of suits by national banks to enjoin the Comptroller or any receiver, and providing that such a suit shall be in the district where the bank is located held to extend to a suit by stockholders of an insolvent national bank, on behalf of themselves and all other stockholders, to enjoin the Comptroller and his receiver from making an alleged collusive compromise of a suit against the directors. (Wegman et al. v. Hulse et al. 13 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 206.)

When demand on directors not necessary.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) Where interests of directors are antagonistic, demand on them is not necessary, as preliminary to suit by stockholders. (Ib.)

Suit by stockholders against Comptroller and receiver of national bank held to involve Federal question.

(U. S. D. C. 1926.) A suit by stockholders of an insolvent national bank, to enjoin the Comptroller and receiver from making an alleged collusive compromise of a suit against the directors, held to involve a Federal question, and within the jurisdiction of a Federal court, regardless of citizenship of parties. (Ib.)

RIGHTS OF PERSONS MAKING DEPOSITS AFTER INSOLVENCY

Depositor may reclaim deposit received by hopelessly insolvent bank with knowledge of insolvency.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where bank is hopelessly insolvent and receives deposit with knowledge of insolvency and fails, there is such fraud on depositor that he may rescind contract of deposit and reclaim amount deposited, or its proceeds, if traced into assets of bank going into hands of receiver. (Holloway v. Dykes, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 430.)

Whether title to check deposited in bank passes to bank depends on intention of parties, which may be ascertained from course of conduct.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Whether title to check passes to bank in which it is deposited must be determined by ascertaining intention of parties, but such intention may be ascertained from consideration of course of conduct or ordinary course of business. (Ib.)

Where depositor received credit in amount of checks deposited with privilege of checking against it, intention may be implied that title to deposited checks passed to bank.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where depositor has ordinarily received credit in amount of checks deposited with privilege of checking against it, it may be implied from circumstances that it was intention that title to deposited checks passed to bank. (Ib.)

Depositors of checks for collection in bank known by officers to be insolvent may recover proceeds collected by receiver.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where customer of bank deposits checks for collection when bank is insolvent and known to be so by officers, and such checks are not collected when bank closes doors, they remain property of depositors, though indorsed to bank without qualification, and on subsequent collection by receiver proceeds may be recovered by depositors. (Ib.)

PREFERENCES BETWEEN BANKS

Assignments—Bank's delivery of currency held not equitable assignment, entitling lending bank to preference on borrowing bank's insolvency, where latter's financial condition was not made known.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank's delivery of currency to another bank in return for draft drawn on third bank held not to constitute equitable assignment, so as to give the lending bank preferred claim for currency delivered, on insolvency of borrowing bank, where borrowing bank's financial embarrassment was not made known to the lending bank. (Scharnberg et al. v. Citizens' Nat. Bank of Spencer, Iowa, et al. 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 673.)

Assignments—Single party's knowledge does not warrant inference of intention of both that check shall be paid from particular fund.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Intention on part of both parties that check shall be paid out of particular fund can not be inferred from knowledge of one of parties. (Ib.)

Lending bank, to establish preferred claim, must prove borrowing bank was insolvent, and that insolvency was known to its officers.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank transferring currency to borrowing bank in return for draft on third bank, to establish a preferred claim under trust fund theory, on ground of fraud of borrowing bank, was required to prove, not only that the borrowing bank at the time of receiving the funds was insolvent, but that its insolvency was known to its officers. (Ib.)

Preferred claim against borrowing bank was properly disallowed, where its officers at time of loan were attempting to negotiate loan from Federal reserve bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In suit by lending bank to establish preferred claim against borrowing bank for amount of loan, finding of trial court that preference under trust fund theory was not established was proper, where officers of borrowing bank at the time were attempting to negotiate a loan from the Federal reserve bank, since this fact was inconsistent with knowledge on their part that bank was insolvent, though they segregated deposits received on day of procuring loan. (Ib.)

DEPOSIT OF STATE FUNDS

National bank held trustee ex maleficio of deposits of State funds by bank's president, exceeding statutory limit, so that State may follow such deposits after bank's insolvency and take in preference to other creditors. (Rural credits act S. Dak.)

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Where president of bank as treasurer of State rural credit board made deposits in his bank exceeding those permitted by statute, Revised Code, South Dakota, 1919, section 10170, and section 10150

et seq., bank became trustee ex maleficio as to excess deposits, for use and benefit of State, and on its insolvency, such deposits may be followed by State and taken in preference to other creditors, especially in view of section 10167. (State of South Dakota v. Fiman, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 770.)

Estoppel—State can not be estopped by unauthorized acts of agents or officers (Rev. Code, S. Dak., 1919, sec. 10170).

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) State can not be estopped by unauthorized, illegal, or fraudulent acts of its agents or officers any more than it, through its officers, can ratify such unauthorized, wrongful or illegal acts, such as deposit of funds in bank in amount exceeding statutory limit under Revised Code, South Dakota, 1919, section 10170. (Ib.)

States—State is not liable to individuals for misfeasance, laches, or unauthorized exercise of power by officers or agents.

(U. S. D. C., 1927.) Whether transaction is private or governmental function, State does not hold itself liable to individuals for misfeasance, laches, or unauthorized exercise of power by officers and agents; but individuals as well as courts take notice of extent of authority conferred by law on person acting in official capacity. (Ib.)

State of South Dakota may, in exercise of sovereign prerogative, enforce against bank receiver preference to funds held in trust for it.

(U. S. D. C. 1927.) Under statute providing that common-law rules are enforced, except where they conflict with will of sovereign power, State of South Dakota may enforce preference as against receiver of bank to funds held in trust for it, in exercise of its sovereign prerogative. (Ib.)

SURETY ON BOND TO SECURE UNITED STATES DEPOSITS

Surety held entitled to priority against assets of insolvent bank for amount paid United States on depository bond (31 U. S. C. A. secs. 191, 193).

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Under the express provisions of Revised Statutes sections 3466, 3468 (31 U. S. C. A. secs. 191, 193), surety on bond of bank to secure United States deposits is entitled to priority of claim against assets of insolvent bank in amount paid by it on such bond. (National Surety Co. v. Oswego State Bank of Oswego, Kans., et al., 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 221.)

SURETY ON BOND TO SECURE STATE DEPOSITS

Surety on insolvent bank's bond to pay State treasurer's deposits held not entitled to dividends, equal in percentage to amount paid other creditors, under indemnity contract.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Surety paying State treasurer amount of insolvent bank's bond for payment of treasurer's deposits held not entitled, under indemnity contract, to payment of dividends by bank's receiver to amount equal in percentage to that paid other creditors; treasurer's deposit being only debt, payment of which discharged bank's obligation to surety as well as to treasurer. (Fouts v. Maryland Casualty Co., 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 357.)

Law requires pro rata distribution of dividends only on debts existing when insolvent bank was suspended.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) The law requires pro rata distribution of dividends on such debts only as existed at the time of insolvent bank's suspension. (Ib.)

Principal and surety—Bank's agreement to indemnify surety on its bond for payment of State treasurer's deposits added nothing to bank's obligations or surety's rights.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank's agreement to indemnify surety on its bond for payment of State treasurer's deposits did not obligate bank any further, nor give surety any greater rights, than law would have done in absence of such agreement, with possible exception of attorney's fees and expenses; there being implied obligation, in absence of contrary agreement, that principal will indemnify surety against loss. (Ib.)

Courts—Holdings that surety on bank's bond for payment of deposits can not recover from receiver on bank's indemnity agreement held not obiter dicta.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Circuit Court of Appeals' holding that surety on insolvent bank's bond for payment of State treasurer's deposits could not recover from receiver on indemnity agreement with bank, and Supreme Court's holding that filing of similar claim against bank would result in double proof detrimental to its other creditors, held not obiter dicta; it being both proper and necessary to ascertain what rights surety had in reaching conclusion as to whether it had certain right. (Ib.)

Courts—United States Supreme Court dicta are very persuasive.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Dicta of the United States Supreme Court are very persuasive. (Ib.)

Subrogation—Until payment of general creditors, surety on bank's bond to pay State treasurer's deposits held entitled only to subrogation to treasurer's rights against bank's receiver.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where bank had agreed to indemnify surety against loss on its bond for payment of State treasurer's deposits up to amount which surety paid treasurer, the only right which surety had, until general creditors were paid, was to be subrogated to the treasurer's rights against the bank's receiver, and to receive all dividends payable to the treasurer, over and above amount added to surety's payment on bond, necessary to satisfy his claim. (Ib.)

SURETY ON BOND TO SECURE COUNTY DEPOSITS

A surety for part of an indebtedness does not, through the expedient of taking a separate indemnity agreement from the debtor, equip himself to compete with the secured creditor in the distribution of the debtor's assets when the debtor becomes insolvent and the surety's obligation has been paid.

(U. S. Sup. 1928.) A surety company went on the bond furnished by a bank to secure repayment on demand of the deposits of a county treasurer up to a specified amount, and, as part consideration for executing the bond, took the bank's agreement to indemnify it for any liability it might thereby sustain or incur. The bank became insolvent while holding deposits of the treasurer exceeding the amount of the bond, and the surety, having paid that amount, sought to participate pro rata with him and his surety in the distribution of surplus assets of the bank, basing its claim on the indemnity agreement. Held—

1. That a former judgment denying the surety the right to be subrogated to the creditor's claim and remedies against the debtor until the creditor had been paid in full, did not bar the surety's claim under the indemnity agreement.

2. That the indemnity claim should not be allowed. A surety for part of an indebtedness does not, through the expedient of taking a separate indemnity agreement from the debtor, equip himself to compete with the secured creditor in the distribution of the debtor's assets when the debtor becomes insolvent and the surety's obligation has been paid (18 F. (2d) 707, reversed). (Jenkins, Receiver, et al. v. National Surety Co., 277 U. S. 258.)

STATE NOT ENTITLED TO PRIORITY UNDER COMMON LAW

Appeal and error—State, suing insolvent bank's receiver on trust theory, can not on appeal claim right of preference in distribution.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where State sues receiver of insolvent bank on trust theory, it is not entitled to claim on appeal right to preference in distribution. State of South Dakota v. Fiman, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 770 affirmed. (Fiman et al. v. State of South Dakota, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 776.)

Statutes governing national banks held superior to claimed right of State of South Dakota to preference in payment of debts due it, owing to adoption of common law.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) State of South Dakota, having adopted common law of England, is entitled to priority of payment of all debts due it out of debtor's property as general rule; but national bank act (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 21-200) constitutes complete code of laws for organization, control, and dissolution of national banks, and is necessarily superior to claimed right of State to preference by reason of common law. (Ib.)

DEPOSIT OF PUBLIC MONEY EXCEEDING STATUTORY LIMIT IS A TRUST FUND

Deposits of public money exceeding statutory limit, made by bank president as agent of State, held trust funds belonging to State. (Laws S. Dak., 1917, ch. 333.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where president of national bank, as agent of State, deposited State funds in bank exceeding limit prescribed by statute (Laws S. Dak., 1917, ch. 333), funds so deposited held to be trust funds belonging to State, notwithstanding bank acted illegally for long period of time, with knowledge of State officials. (Ib.)

State, showing deposits in insolvent bank were held in trust, must show receiver has fund in which deposit is included.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where it was shown that bank held certain deposits of State money in trust, State, to regain its funds, must show that receiver of bank as such has in his hands common fund in which such deposit is included. (Ib.)

Showing that bank receiver has common fund, in which trust fund is included, raises presumption that bank in expending funds did not use trust fund, and makes prima facie case for claimant.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Showing that bank held certain deposits in trust, and that receiver has common fund in his hands, in which deposit is included, raises presumption that bank in expending funds expended its own and not trust fund, and therefore prima facie showing is made, entitling claimant to preference, unless overcome by proof of receiver. (Ib.)

Where trust funds held by bank are traced into certain fund, entire fund becomes one for payment of trust.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where insolvent bank held deposits of State money exceeding statutory limit as trust fund, State having traced such funds into certain fund or property, the entire fund or property becomes one for payment of trust. (Ib.)

Confusion of goods—Where wrongdoer knowingly mingles property with property of another, such other may claim whole mass or follow its proceeds.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) General rule is that, where wrongdoer knowingly mingles property of another with his own in such manner that it becomes indistinguishable, true owner may claim whole mass, or, if it has been disposed of, may follow it or its proceeds as long as he can trace them, for purpose of fastening equitable lien on property of which he has been dispossessed. (Ib.)

Trusts—Commingling of trust funds in particular fund creates equitable lien on entire fund in favor of cestui.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where it was shown that trust funds held by bank were commingled in particular fund, equitable lien arose in favor of cestui que trust on entire fund. (Ib.)

State's general deposit of trust fund, having been reduced to amount in vault when bank closed, must be considered part of general fund on which State had lien.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where State made deposit in national bank of funds exceeding statutory limit which were held in trust, but which went into general account, such general deposit and fund, having been reduced to amount of cash in vault at time of closing bank, must, in absence of contrary proof, be considered part of general fund on which State had lien. (Ib.)

National bank receiver takes assets in trust for creditors subject to defenses available against bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Receiver of insolvent national bank stands in place of bank, taking assets in trust for creditors subject to claims and defenses that might have been interposed against insolvent corporation. (Ib.)

State, claiming bank held funds in trust, may trace funds into accounts of correspondent banks and treat them as separate accounts from general cash assets of bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where State claimed as against receiver of national bank that deposits exceeding statutory limit were held as trust funds, it may be permitted to trace its funds into accounts of correspondent banks, and treat them as separate accounts from general cash assets of bank. (Ib.)

Estoppel—State held not estopped by unauthorized acts of officers from claiming unlawful deposits were trust fund.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) State held not estopped by unauthorized or fraudulent acts of its officers from claiming that deposits of State money in insolvent bank exceeding statutory limit were held in trust. (Ib.)

State's prior right to unlawful deposits in insolvent bank held not defeated on ground allowance would be inequitable and unjust to creditors and depositors.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) State's prior right to funds in insolvent bank, which had been deposited unlawfully and were held in trust, held not defeated on ground that allowance would be inequitable and unjust to creditors and depositors of bank, since creditors can not complain if that is returned to State to which neither bank nor receiver ever had any just title. (Ib.)

One claiming bank held trust fund must show fund increased bank's present assets and may be taken without impairing creditors' rights.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) One of the prime requisites of right to follow and regain trust funds is showing that trust fund has increased present assets of bank, and that it may be taken therefrom without impairing rights of creditors. (Ib.)

BANK'S TRANSFER OF ASSETS TO SECURE SURETIES

Bank's transfer of assets to trustee to secure sureties on bonds executed by bank held invalid where made in contemplation of insolvency. (National banking act, sec. 52 (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 91).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) National bank's transfer of notes to trustee to secure sureties on bonds of bank for city, county, and school district deposits, made in contemplation of insolvency and with view to prevent the application of the bank's assets in the manner prescribed by statute, held invalid, under national banking act, section 52 (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 91), requiring trustee to account to bank's receiver for all of bank's assets received by him under trust agreement, under 12 U. S. C. A., sections 193, 194. (Parks et al. v. Knapp, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 547.)

ACTIONS AGAINST SHAREHOLDERS AGENT

Director, unlawfully purchasing stock for bank, could not recover against innocent shareholders purchase price from assets remaining after creditors were paid.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where bank director, together with other officials, purchased certain stock for the bank, in violation of law, forbidding bank to purchase and hold its own shares, he was not entitled as against innocent shareholders to recover from remaining assets the amount advanced by him as purchase price of shares standing in his name after insolvency of bank, notwithstanding the purpose of making purchase of stock was to get rid of president and liability of bank for payment of his salary. (Rust v. MacLaren, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 288.)

INSOLVENT JOINT STOCK LAND BANK

Judgment—Decision in prior case, involving same questions and subject matter and substantially same parties, is not technically res judicata, where dismissal was without prejudice.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Decision of Circuit Court of Appeals in prior case, involving same subject matter and questions and substantially the same parties, is res judicata; but where court modified its affirmance, by providing that dismissal was to be without prejudice, such decision can not technically be regarded as res judicata. (Krauthoff v. Kansas City Joint Stock Land Bank of Kansas City, Mo. et al, 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 75.)

Receiver of joint-stock land bank, appointed under Federal farm loan act, has power to assess stockholders. (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 192, 961, 963.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Receiver appointed for joint-stock land bank by Federal Farm Loan Board, pursuant to Federal farm loan act (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 961, 963), has power to make assessment against stockholders similar to power of comptroller, under national banking act (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 192), to make assessments against stockholders of bank. (Ib.)

Receiver of joint-stock land bank has right to possession of assets pledged for payment of bonds, though debt for which assets were pledged has not been paid. (Federal farm loan act, sec. 29; 12 U. S. C. A., sec. 961.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Receiver appointed for joint-stock land bank, under Federal farm loan act, section 29, 12 U. S. C. A., section 961, has right to possession and control of assets which are pledged to the payment of farm loan bond, even prior to time when debt for which such assets were pledged has been paid. (Ib.)

One purchasing bonds after appointment of receiver for joint-stock land bank can not question appointment or seek appointment of court receiver.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Plaintiff, purchasing farm loan bonds after Federal Farm Loan Board had appointed receiver for joint-stock land bank for sole purpose of bringing lawsuits and attracting legal business, is in no position to question appointment of such receiver, or seek the appointment of a receiver by the court. (Ib.)

INSOLVENT STATE BANK

Bank commissioner of Oklahoma, in taking over assets of failed bank, took them subject to rights of creditors.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Bank commissioner of Oklahoma, in taking over assets of a failed bank, occupies position analogous to that of receiver or trustee in bankruptcy for benefit of creditors of bank, and takes the assets subject to rights of its creditors. (United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Ottawa County Nat. Bank, 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 368.)

Surety, paying claim of United States against failed bank, was entitled to priority as to assets transferred to another bank assuming liabilities to unsecured depositors. (31 U. S. C. A., secs. 191, 193).

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Under Revised Statutes, sections 3466, 3468 (31 U. S. C. A., secs. 191, 193), charging assets of insolvent principal with payment of claim of United States and granting priority therefor, surety having paid sums due United States by failed bank, was entitled to priority as against assets transferred by State banking commissioner to another bank in consideration of its assumption of the liabilities of failed bank to its unsecured depositors, regardless of liability of banking commissioner to the United States, under Revised Statutes, section 3467 (31 U. S. C. A., sec. 192). (Ib.)

Surety, paying claim due United States, was entitled to pursue assets of failed bank on theory of trust. (31 U. S. C. A., secs. 191, 193.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Surety, having paid claim due United States by failed bank and becoming entitled to priority by virtue of Revised Statutes, sections 3466, 3468 (31 U. S. C. A., secs. 191, 193), was entitled to pursue assets of failed bank on the theory of a trust. (Ib.)

Trusts—Persons coming into possession of trust property with notice of trust are considered as trustee.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) All persons coming into possession of trust property with notice of trust will be considered as trustee, and bound with respect to special property to execution of trust. (Ib.)

Surety, paying deposit of county treasurer, was entitled only to share pro rata in assets of failed bank with unsecured depositors.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Surety, paying deposit of county treasurer in failed bank, was entitled only to share pro rata in assets of failed bank with unsecured depositors. (Ib.)

INSOLVENT PRIVATE BANK

Principal and surety—Where bankrupt partnership bank executed bond, individual partners who obligated themselves personally and secured nonmember cosureties owed obligation of indemnity to such nonmember sureties, and were not entitled to contribution against them.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where bankrupt partnership bank composed of many individuals executed bond to public officials signed by partnership, and, in addition, individual partners obligated themselves personally to pay bonds and secured cosureties, nonmembers having no primary obligation for debt, individual partners owed obligation of indemnity to nonmember sureties, and were not entitled to contribution against them, regardless of whether individual partners be called sureties or principals, since, independent of subrogation arising as to principals, partners signing bonds are debtors to nonmembers' sureties. (In re J. H. P. Davis & Co., 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 937.)

INTEREST AND USURY

Usury—"Usury" is interest in excess of legal rate.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) "Usury" is interest in excess of legal rate charged to a borrower for the use of money. (Medical Arts Building Co. v. Southern Finance & Development Co. et al., 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 969.)

Usury—Essential requirement in regard to usury is that broker's compensation must come wholly from borrower.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) An essential requirement in determining whether there is usury is that compensation of broker in effecting the transaction must come wholly from the borrower, and not from the lender. (Ib.)

Usury—Usury generally requires intent to exact more than legal maximum for use of money.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In order to constitute usury, there generally must exist an intent to exact more than the legal maximum for use of money. (Ib.)

Usury—Usury is special defense, and one urging it has burden of proof.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Usury is a special defense, and the burden is cast upon one urging it to prove plea of usury after prima facie case is made by introduction of instrument. (Ib.)

Usury—Facts necessary to constitute usury must be established by preponderance of evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) It is incumbent on one urging defense of usury to establish the facts necessary to constitute usury by a preponderance of the evidence. (Ib.)

Usury—Sale of second bond issue at discount held not to constitute loan at usurious interest.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Sale of second bond issue at discount, in accordance with agreement to that effect with broker effecting sale thereof, held not to constitute a loan at usurious interest, in view of evidence establishing that there was no intention to evade usury laws by carrying out transaction in such manner. (Ib.)

Usury—Burden to make out usury is on party asserting it.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Burden to make out usury is strongly upon the party asserting it. (In re Mansfield Steel Corporation, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 832.)

Usury—Court must not decree forfeiture for usury, where transaction is susceptible of an innocent construction.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where transaction is susceptible of an innocent construction and can only be held usurious by wresting it from relation to other facts or by imputing to the facts a meaning which they can not reasonably bear, court must not decree a forfeiture, but uphold contract. (Ib.)

Usury—Test of usury is whether performance of contract will result in greater return to lender than lawfully allowed and was such result intended.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Test of usurious contract is, Will its performance result in producing to lender a greater return for the use of the amount loaned than is allowed by law, and was that result intended? (Ib.)

Usury—Expenses incident to making loan is not compensation for use of money loaned as regards claim of usury.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Expenses incident to making loan and furnishing lender satisfactory security for its repayment can not be considered compensation for use of money loaned as regards claim of usury. (Ib.)

Usury—Transaction for loans in Canadian money then subject to discount and receipt therefor of promissory notes payable in United States held not to result in usury, where maximum state rate of interest was charged (Comp. Laws Mich. 1915, secs. 5997, 5998).

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Transaction whereby lender made loans in Canadian money which at time was at a discount in United States, but legal tender at par for payment of debts in Canada, and who received therefor promissory notes payable in United States, held not shown to result in usurious interest in violation of Compiled Laws of Michigan, 1915, sections 5997, 5998, where maximum rate of interest permitted thereby was charged. (Ib.)

Usury—In suit to recover penalty, claims for interest paid more than one year previous were barred, and plaintiffs could not avoid bar by pleading later discovery of usury (St. Cal., 1919, p. 83).

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) In suit to recover treble interest for usury, under Statutes of California, 1919, page 83, claims for interest paid prior to one year before filing bill were barred, and plaintiffs could not avoid bar by pleading later discovery of usury, since statutory period is not, strictly speaking, a statute of limitation. (Kurzman et al. v. Commercial Credit Co., 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 358.)

Usury—Statutory period within which action to recover penalty for usury may be brought is not affected by rules as to tolling (St. Cal., 1919, p. 83).

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Statutory period of one year within which action for recovery of treble interest for usury may be brought, under Statutes of California, 1919, page 83, is not, strictly speaking, a statute of limitations, but creates cause of action for certain period, extinguishing it absolutely at the end of the period, and statute is not affected by general rules as to tolling of statute of limitations. (Ib.)

BRANCH BANKS—

BRANCH BANKS IN UNITED STATES----- Page 157

Suit brought by Federal Intermediate Credit Bank to collect promissory notes is a suit arising under the laws of the United States.

(U. S. Sup. 1928.) A suit to collect promissory notes exceeding the jurisdictional amount, brought by a Federal intermediate credit bank chartered under the act of March 4, 1923, is, because of the plaintiff's Federal incorporation, a suit arising under the laws of the United States and within the jurisdiction of the district court under Judicial Code, section 24 (1). (Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia, S. C., v. Mitchell et al., 277 U. S., 213.)

Jurisdiction not affected by act of February 13, 1925, as all stock in bank is owned by the United States.

(U. S. Sup. 1928.) Such jurisdiction is not affected by section 12, act of February 13, 1925, since ownership by the United States of all of the plaintiff's capital stock brings the case within the proviso of that section. (Ib.)

United States district courts have jurisdiction of suits brought by or against corporations under an act of Congress.

(U. S. Sup. 1928.) Section 201 (c) of the act of March 4, 1923, supra, in the provision that each such bank "for purposes of jurisdiction shall be deemed a citizen of the State where it is located," governs the places where suit may be brought against such banks, but is in nowise inconsistent with the general rule that district courts have jurisdiction of suits brought by or against corporations organized under an act of Congress on the ground that they are controversies arising under Federal law. (Hermann v. Edwards, 238 U. S. 107, distinguished.)

In the absence of enactments plainly expressing that purpose, Congress will not be held to have intended to restrict that jurisdiction. (21 F., 2d, 51, reversed.) (Ib.)

Action against national bank must be brought in place where its bank is "located" (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 94.)

(City Court of N. Y. 1929.) Under 12 U. S. C. A., section 94, providing that actions against national banks may be had in any district court of United States within district in which bank may be established, or in State court in county or city in which bank is located having jurisdiction in similar cases, action against a national bank must be brought in the place where its bank is "located," which is the place specified in its organization certificate. (Raiola v. Los Angeles First National Trust & Savings Bank, 233 N. Y. S., 301.)

Courts—Decisions of Federal courts construing Federal statute are controlling on State courts.

(City Court of N. Y. 1929.) The decisions of Federal courts construing Federal statute are controlling on State courts, where meaning of Federal statute is to be ascertained. (Ib.)

LOANS

Drains—Bank, making loan to drainage district, acquired rights of lender, though transaction was evidenced by instrument other than note (Comp. Gen. Laws, Fla., 1927, sec. 1460).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank, loaning money to drainage district, acquired rights of lender intended to be conferred by Compiled General Laws, Florida, 1927, section 1460, though transaction was represented by district's indorsement and transfer of certificate of deposit to bank, instead of by execution of notes. (Hemphill v. Florida National Bank of Jacksonville et al., 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 892.)

Bank loaning money to drainage district to meet its interest payments due bondholders, could, as against bondholders, apply on indebtedness district's deposit, representing taxes levied (Comp. Gen. Laws, Fla., 1927, sec. 1460).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank, loaning money to drainage district, to be used with other funds to make up required amount of interest on district's bonds, and to be repaid from incoming taxes levied by district, held entitled, as against bondholders, under Compiled General Laws, Florida, 1927, section 1460, to apply on indebtedness deposit to credit of district, representing money derived from taxes levied for payment of district's obligations. (Ib.)

NEGOTIABLE PAPER

Bills and notes—Purchaser for value of negotiable paper transferable by delivery takes good title, notwithstanding previous theft or fraud of vendor.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Purchaser for value of negotiable paper transferable by delivery, properly indorsed, takes good title thereto, even though paper has been stolen, or vendor thereof acted fraudulently in connection with the sale. (Pridgen v. Baugh & Sons Co., 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 353.)

Bonds—Creditor to whom bank delivered negotiable bonds, with instructions for payment of draft from proceeds, took bonds as purchaser in due course, where notice of defect was not shown.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Creditor of bank to whom bank turned over plaintiff's bonds with instructions to sell them and pay draft out of proceeds of sale, remitting remainder to bank, was bona fide purchaser for value in due course of bonds, where there was no showing that creditor took with notice of defect in bank's title. (Ib.)

Bonds—Owner of bonds, which bank delivered to creditor for payment of debt, had burden to show that creditor took with notice.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Owner of bonds deposited in bank for safekeeping, and delivered by bank to its creditor for sale, and payment of draft with the proceeds, had burden of proof to show that creditor of bank acted in bad faith, or had notice of defect in bank's title, and creditor was not required to show that it was purchaser for value. (Ib.)

Bonds—Creditor of bank, sued by owner of bonds which creditor received from bank for application on draft, was not required to prove debt was worth amount of bonds transferred.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Creditor of bank, taking bonds deposited by plaintiff, for sale thereof and application of proceeds for payment of draft, held not to have burden to show that debt on account of which proceeds were applied was actually or reasonably worth amount of bonds or proceeds therefrom, in suit by owner of bonds. (Ib.)

Bonds—Preexisting debt held valuable consideration for transfer of negotiable bonds (negotiable instruments act; C. S. N. C. sec. 3005).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Preexisting indebtedness held to constitute valuable consideration for transfer of negotiable bonds, so as to make purchaser thereof holder in due course, under negotiable instruments act (C. S. N. C. sec. 3005.) (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Drawer's blank indorsement of draft gave collecting bank no right to sue drawee before acceptance.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Drawer's indorsement in blank of draft delivered to bank for collection gave latter no right of action against drawee prior to acceptance thereof. (In re J. H. Jackson Co. (Inc.); ex parte Whiton; 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 81.)

Bankruptcy—Letter of hypothecation gave bank no right in draft before drawer's adjudication in bankruptcy, where not then accepted.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where draft, indorsed in blank by drawer and delivered to bank for collection, had not been accepted by drawee at time of drawer's adjudication in bankruptcy, drawer's letter hypothecating all drafts, checks, etc., received by bank from drawer as security for latter's obligations to bank, gave latter no right in draft prior to such adjudication. (Ib.)

Letter pledging bills of lading, received by bank from depositor, as security for latter's obligations, was valid and affected all future transactions in reliance thereon.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Letter of hypothecation, pledging bills of lading "now or hereafter received" by bank from or for depositor as security for all of latter's obligations to bank, was valid and affected all future transactions between bank and depositor in reliance thereon. (Ib.)

Bankruptcy—That transfer of bill of lading to bank as security might work preference was immaterial, unless bank had reasonable cause to believe transferor insolvent. (Bankr. act, sec. 60 (b), 11 U. S. C. A., sec. 96 (b).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) That transfer of bill of lading to bank as security for all of transferor's obligations thereto might operate as preference in favor of antecedent claim, contrary to bankruptcy act, section 60 (b), 11 U. S. C. A. section 96 (b) by reason of transferor's insolvency, was immaterial, unless bank had reasonable cause to believe at time of transfer that transferor was insolvent. (Ib.)

Bankruptcy—Vendor's lien on goods covered by bill of lading transferred to bank held not affected by transferor's subsequent adjudication in bankruptcy.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Adjudication in bankruptcy did not affect vendor's lien, held by bank as security for bankrupt's obligations to it under agreement of hypothecation, pursuant to which bill of lading covering goods subject to lien was transferred to bank before filing of petition; bank having right to hold draft, to which bill was attached, turn over goods to drawee on payment thereof, surrender bill of lading, and hold proceeds as security. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Evidence established that note sued on was given for accommodation of another, and not for bank, whose receiver could recover thereon.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Evidence that L was indebted to bank in an amount of above the legal limit, and that bank in attempt to reduce such indebtedness sold some of L's notes to defendant, and that defendant in negotiating loan from bank turned back L's note to bank and gave his note payable to bank for excess over limit of L's indebtedness, which thereupon entered on its books, as bills receivable, notes given by L and note of defendant, held to establish that defendant's note was given for the accommodation of L, and not for the bank, which in suit by its receiver could recover thereon. (Fenno v. Schulenberg, 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 168.)

Bills and notes—To whom maker of paper loaned his credit is always question of fact.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) It is always a question of fact, to whom did the maker of paper loan his credit? (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Defense of accommodation is available only against party accommodated.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Defense of accommodation is only available as against the party accommodated, the one to whom the credit is loaned. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Knowledge of bank suing on note that it was given for accommodation of another held no defense.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where all facts connected with transaction were fully known to maker executing note for accommodation of another, knowledge of bank suing on note of character of transaction constituted no defense. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Note executed to bank for accommodation of another held supported by consideration.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Note executed by maker to bank for the accommodation of another held supported by consideration, where bank would not have taken up note of such other held by maker and included in settlement with such other if maker had not given to bank note executed for accommodation of such other. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Bank crediting payee with amount of draft checked out before bank received notice of defect in payee's title held "holder for value in due course" (Rev. Gen. St., Fla., 1920, secs. 4698, 4732).

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where draft, indorsed by payee, "Pay any bank, banker, or trust company, or order," was forwarded to plaintiff bank with request for immediate credit, and on such credit being given amount of draft was withdrawn by payee's checks before notice of any defect in payee's title was received by plaintiff held, that plaintiff was "holder for value in due course," though amount so credited to payee was subject to be charged back to it in case of dishonor, under Revised General Statutes, Florida, 1920, sections 4698, 4732, notwithstanding words "Cash item. Present and collect," on draft. (American Fruit Growers (Inc.), v. Chase Nat. Bank of City of New York, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 936.)

Contracts—One for whose benefit contract is made may sue thereon in assumpsit in his own name.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Person for whose benefit a contract is made may sue thereon in assumpsit in his own name, although the engagement is not directly to or with him. (Millett v. Omaha Nat. Bank, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 665.)

Money received—Assumpsit lies where one person has received money or its equivalent, which in equity and good conscience belongs to another.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Action of assumpsit lies where one person has received money, or its equivalent, under such circumstances that in equity and good conscience he ought not to retain it but should pay it over to another. (Ib.)

Assignments—Assignee of note held entitled to recover as against assignor's agent payments made by maker to agent before note's maturity.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank as assignee of note held entitled to recover as against another bank, as assignor's agent, to which maker made payments on note before maturity, amount of such payments, under rule that person for whose benefit contract is made may recover in his own name where money or its equivalent in equity and good conscience belongs to him. (Ib.)

Set-off and counterclaim—Claim of assignee of note against insolvent bank, as assignor's agent, for payments made thereon, held proper subject of set-off in suit by receiver of insolvent bank to recover deposit.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Claim of assignee of note for payments received on note by insolvent bank as agent of assignor held proper subject of set-off, in suit by bank's receiver to recover sum on deposit with assignee bank, since set-off could be interposed either in law or in equity. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Whether note was sold or paid held question of fact, depending on intent, in suit to compel transferor to indorse note. (Burns' Ann. St. Ind. 1914, sec. 9089w1.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Whether holder of note, transferring it without indorsement, received payment from plaintiff as purchase price of note, or as payment and discharge of same, held a question of fact, depending on intention of parties, and particularly on intention of transferor, in suit to require him, under Burns' Annotated Statutes, Indiana, 1914, section 9089w1, to indorse note. (Lowish v. First National Bank of Marietta, Ohio, 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 408.)

Bills and notes—In suit to compel transferor to indorse note, evidence held to warrant finding that plaintiff paid, but did not purchase, note (Burns' Ann. St. Ind. 1914, sec. 9089w1.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In suit to compel transferor of note to indorse same, under Burns' Annotated Statutes, Indiana, 1914, section 9089w1, evidence held to warrant finding that plaintiff had paid money to defendant as payment of obligation evidenced by note, and not as purchase price. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Error can not be predicated on dismissal of bill, without permitting rebuttal evidence, where record does not show character of rebuttal to be offered.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Error can not be predicated on the dismissal of plaintiff's bill before close of defendant's evidence, without permitting him to offer evidence in rebuttal, where the record does not indicate what, if any, material rebuttal evidence would have been available, had the case been reopened. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Evidence held to show lack of delivery. (Negotiable instruments act, Ohio, sec. 16.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In action against estate of deceased maker of note by alleged accommodation indorser, to recover sum alleged to have been paid on note by plaintiff, evidence held to show that as between immediate parties, maker and plaintiff, there never was a delivery of the note within meaning of negotiable instruments act, Ohio, sec. 16 (Gen. Code, Ohio, sec. 8121), for purpose of giving effect to it as a negotiable instrument, and hence verdict was properly directed for the defendant. (Gill v. Smith 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 396.)

Bills and notes—In action against maker by alleged accommodation indorser, verdict held properly directed for defendant on ground that plaintiff never paid note as accommodation indorser.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In action against estate of deceased maker of note by alleged accommodation indorser, to recover money alleged to have been paid by plaintiff in satisfaction of judgment on such note, evidence held to show that plaintiff never paid any money as accommodation indorser, and hence verdict was properly directed for defendant. (Ib.)

Judgment—Record in another case, to which plaintiff was stranger, not tending to show payment by plaintiff in satisfaction of judgment on note, held properly excluded.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In action against estate of deceased maker by alleged accommodation indorser, to recover money alleged to have been paid by plaintiff in satisfaction of judgment on note, record of court in another case, offered by plaintiff to show payment by him in satisfaction of judgment on note, held properly excluded, where plaintiff was not party to such suit, and there was nothing in record to indicate that payment was made out of any fund in which plaintiff had interest. (Ib.)

Evidence—Refusal to permit plaintiff to state whether he paid part of judgment held proper, where question was for court under the particular facts.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In action against estate of deceased maker by alleged accommodation indorser, to recover sum alleged to have been paid in satisfaction of judgment on note, refusal to permit plaintiff to answer question whether he paid part of judgment on note was proper, where question whether receipt of money by judgment creditor under the particular facts constituted payment was matter to be determined by the court. (Ib.)

Bills and notes—Payee's failure to escrow, for payment of note, land acquired under foreclosure, was at most breach of contract not relieving of liability.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where payee of note agreed that it would, on obtaining title to certain land through foreclosure of mortgages, escrow such land as security for payment of note subject to any interest it might have therein on account of mortgages and costs and expenses of foreclosures, its failure to fulfill such agreement did not raise "estoppel," but was at most breach of contract which would not relieve makers from liability on notes. (Burlington Savings Bank of Burlington, Vt., v. Rockwell et al., 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 27.)

"Estoppel" arises where one induces another to believe certain facts and the other acts thereon to his prejudice.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) "Estoppel" arises where one by his conduct induces another to believe the existence of certain state of facts and the other acts thereon to his prejudice, in which case former is estopped as against latter to deny that such state of facts existed. (Ib.)

Specific performance—Uncertain but partly executed contract by payee of note to escrow certain land as security for payment should be enforced as far as possible.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Contract by payee of note that, as soon as it obtained title to certain lands through foreclosure of mortgages, it would escrow such lands as security for payment of note subject to its own interest therein, though manifestly uncertain and probably not enforceable as executory agreement, should be enforced as far as possible, in view of part execution by parties. (Ib.)

Equity should require payee of note to perform agreement to escrow lands acquired in foreclosure to secure payment of note.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where payee of note failed to fulfill agreement to escrow certain lands as security for payment subject to its own interests in land, which was acquired by foreclosure of mortgages and invoked aid of equity, court should require it to do equity by complying with agreement and should order accounting. (Ib.)

REPRESENTATION OF BANK BY OFFICERS

Bank was liable where officer participated in scheme to defraud depositor, though bank did not profit.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank was liable where vice president participated in scheme to defraud depositor in violation of bank's duty to receive and keep depositor's money faithfully for his benefit, even though bank did not profit on transaction. (National City Bank v. Carter 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 25.)

Bank was liable though officer participating in scheme to defraud depositor acquired knowledge thereof for private purposes.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Bank was liable where vice president participated in scheme to defraud depositor in violation of bank's duty to receive and keep depositor's money faithfully for his benefit, even though vice president acquired his knowledge of scheme in course of conversations with disreputable persons for his private purposes. (Ib.)

Depositor could recover from bank whose officer participated in scheme to defraud him, where depositor's imaginary illegal transaction, wherein he supposedly permitted another to speculate in his name, was completed before bank's participation.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Depositor was not precluded from recovering against bank whose vice president participated in scheme to defraud depositor under doctrine "ex dolo malo non oritur actio," where any improper subjective mental state on depositor's part was implanted there by fraud of bank's coconspirators, and therefore parties were not in pari delicto, and depositor's wrong, if any, consisted in imaginary transaction in which depositor permitted another to speculate in his name, and this transaction was supposedly completed before bank assisted coconspirators in getting money from depositor and running off with it. (Ib.)

Agreement of cashier, personally buying stock of bank, to take care of its transfer, involves no conflict between interests of himself and bank, so as to prevent it binding bank.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Even though sale of stock in a bank, transfer of which its cashier agreed with the seller to take care of, was to him individually, general rule that corporation's officer can not act for it in a matter in which he is personally interested, and hence can not bind it by contract with others in which he has a personal interest, where his and its interests may conflict, has no application, as no conflict between their interests could be involved in the transfer of the stock on the books. (Dellert v. Stallman, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 236.)

Persons who had sent certificates of stock in national bank and power of attorney properly indorsed to bank for sale, and were paid by bank, held not liable for subsequent assessment, though transfer was not made on books; "owner." (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 63, 64.)

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Where persons owning stock in national bank, on direction of its cashier and his agreement to take care of its transfer, known by the president, sent the certificates of stock and power of attorney, properly indorsed, to the bank, either for delivery on a sale to the cashier personally, or to be sold for account of the owners, and bank, on receipt thereof, paid for it, such persons were not liable for subsequent assessment by the Comptroller of Currency against them, on the theory that they were "owners" within the meaning of 12 U. S. C. A., sections 63, 64, though no transfer was made on the books. (Ib.)

Bank, receiving certificates of stock and paying for them without demand for transfer stamps, held under no less obligation to make transfer on books because of absence of stamps. (26 U. S. C. A., sec. 901[3].)

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Bank, receiving certificates of stock and power of attorney properly indorsed, though the certificates did not bear stamps, as provided by revenue act of 1924, title 8, Schedule A, paragraph 3 (26 U. S. C. A., sec. 901(3)), having paid for the stock without demand for stamps, was under no less obligation to make the transfer effective and protect the seller. (Ib.)

DEGREE OF CARE REQUIRED OF DIRECTORS

Intentional violation of national banking laws must be shown, in order to justify recovery against bank directors. (National bank act; 12 U. S. C. A., sec. 21 et seq.)

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) In a suit against bank directors, based solely on a violation of duty imposed by the national bank act (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 21 et seq.), it is not enough to show a negligent violation of the act, but in effect an intentional violation must be shown in order to justify recovery. (Gamble v. Brown et al., 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 366.)

National bank directors are required to use degree of care which ordinarily prudent men would exercise under similar circumstances. (National bank act; 12 U. S. C. A., sec. 21 et seq.)

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) National bank act (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 21 et seq.) does not relieve directors from common-law duty to be honest and diligent, and the degree of care required in such respect is that which ordinarily prudent men would exercise under similar circumstances. (Ib.)

National bank directors are liable for loss resulting because of failure to hold meeting to ascertain whether notes were transferred to bank.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Where directors of national bank, by failure to hold meeting in order to ascertain whether notes had been transferred pursuant to agreement for purchase of assets of trust company, made it possible for bank officer personally interested in items transferred to abstract certain notes therefrom and conceal shortage, they were liable for resulting loss. (Ib.)

Directors of national bank were liable for loss made possible by neglect in failing to appoint auditing committee.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Directors of national bank were liable to the bank for losses made possible by their neglect in failure to appoint a committee to examine or audit the affairs of the bank, in accordance with the provision of by-laws requiring directors to appoint committee to exercise supervision over business and to examine the affairs of the bank every three months. (Ib.)

Director of experience both as lawyer and bank director held negligent, with other directors, for failure to appoint auditing committee.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Bank director, having experience both as a lawyer and director for period of years, and a member of the discount committee of the bank, held negligent, in common with other members of the board of directors, for failure to appoint committee to examine or audit affairs of bank in accordance with requirements of by-laws. (Ib.)

Director, declining to qualify and serve as such, held not liable for negligence of board, before election of successor, in failing to appoint auditing committee. (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 71.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Bank director, declining to qualify and not serving as such, or taking any part whatever in activities of board of directors, held not liable for negligence of board, before his successor was elected, in failing to appoint committee to audit and examine affairs of bank, notwithstanding Revised Statutes, section 5145 (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 71), to effect that bank directors hold office for one year and until successors are elected and have qualified. (Ib.)

Bank director, voluntarily remaining in office, though of advanced age, held liable for board's negligence in failing to appoint auditing committee.

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Bank director, voluntarily remaining in office and thereby retaining responsibilities to corporation, held liable for negligence of board in failing to appoint committee to audit and examine affairs of bank, notwithstanding that infirmities of advancing age made it inconvenient or difficult for him to perform duties of a director. (Ib.)

Liability as surety or indorser can not be included in determining total liability of any person to national bank. (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 84.)

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Liabilities incurred as surety or indorser for money borrowed by another can not be included in determining whether total liability of such person to national bank exceeded one-tenth of its capital stock and surplus, in violation of Revised Statutes, section 5200. (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 84.) (Ib.)

National bank may take note secured by deed of trust as security for loan. (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 24, 29.)

(U. S. C. C. A., 1928.) Revised Statutes, sections 5136, 5137 (12 U. S. C. A., secs. 24, 29), forbidding national bank to hold possession of real estate under mortgage, do not prohibit the taking of a note secured by deed of trust as security for loan. (Ib.)

Directors, participating in excessive loan, were liable to bank for resulting loss, irrespective of supposed value of security. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Under Revised Statutes section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93), directors of national bank, participating in loan in excess of amount permitted by section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), were liable to bank for loss resulting in transaction, irrespective of supposed value of security at time of making loan. (Ib.)

Directors, failing to exercise ordinary diligence in examining notes transferred in purchase of assets of trust company, were liable for resulting loss.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where directors failed to exercise ordinary diligence in examining notes transferred to bank pursuant to purchase of assets of trust company, they were responsible for losses occurring by reason of worthless notes, which ordinarily careful investigation would have shown to be worthless. (Ib.)

Director, not having knowledge of excessive loan, was not liable for resulting loss. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Bank director, without knowledge that loan was in excess of 10 per cent of capital and surplus of national bank, in violation of Revised Statutes section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), was not liable to bank for resulting loss, in that the law expressly provides that only those knowingly participating therein are liable. (Ib.)

Directors held responsible for improvident loans during period when there was no discount committee, as required by by-laws.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Board of directors held responsible for improvident loans during period when there was no discount committee, or report of discounts to board of directors, in accordance with requirements of by-laws. (Ib.)

Directors were liable for loss through embezzlement and fraud by officer, by reason of failure to require indemnity bond.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Bank directors were liable to bank for loss through embezzlement and fraud of officer thereof, by reason of failure to require an indemnity bond conditioned on faithful performance of duties as officer of the bank. (Ib.)

Courts—Federal court in equity case is bound by provisions of equity rule with regard to amendments as interpreted by Federal courts. (Equity rule 19; 28 U. S. C. A. sec. 724.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Federal court in an equity case is bound with regard to amendments by the provisions of equity rule 19, as interpreted by Federal courts, rather than by decisions of State supreme court, without regard to 28 U. S. C. A. section 724, relating to conformity to practice in State courts. (Ib.)

Courts—Amendment to bill, in order to make pleadings correspond with proof, after testimony was closed, held properly permitted. (Equity rule 19.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Under equity rule 19, amendment of pleadings, to make them more closely correspond with proof, after the testimony was closed, held within discretion of court, there being no indication that defendants were taken by surprise or deprived of opportunity to make defense. (Ib.)

Directors, failing to require bond from officer, were liable for loss by reason of fraudulent conversion of bank's money.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Failure of directors to require indemnity bond from officer of bank made them liable for loss by reason of fraudulent conversion of bank's money, since, in case surety bond had been required, right of action would have existed against surety to recover amount converted. (Ib.)

Directors were liable for failure to exercise due diligence in verifying credits transferred by trust company on purchase of its assets.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where bank directors failed to exercise due diligence in verifying credits offered by trust company after purchasing assets thereof, they were liable for loss resulting by reason of false credits accepted in transaction, since ordinary business caution required investigation of nature of assets, and particularly credits offered in exchange for assumption of liabilities of trust company. (Ib.)

Directors were not liable for loss on note irregularly discounted, but approved by board of directors within 30 days.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where note was discounted without seeking approval of discount committee or board of directors, but was believed by all parties to be good, and was approved by the board of directors within 30 days after issuance of certificate of deposit therefor, the directors were not liable for loss by reason of payee's failure, after certificate of deposit had been assigned to holder in due course. (Ib.)

Agreement between receiver of insolvent bank and certain directors not to sue such directors did not release other directors from liability for negligence.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Agreement between receiver of insolvent bank and certain directors, consisting of a covenant not to sue such directors in consideration of payment of certain amount, held not to release the other directors from liability for negligence, on the theory that they were all liable as joint tort-feasors, since a covenant not to sue one joint tort-feasor does not amount to a release. (Ib.)

Each director is liable in personal and individual capacity for failure to perform statutory or common-law duty.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Each director of bank is liable in his personal and individual capacity, and may be sued alone or jointly with other directors, whether his liability is based on a failure to perform a statutory or a common-law duty. (Ib.)

Directors are entitled to proportionate credit for certain amounts paid by other directors under agreement with receiver.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where receiver for insolvent bank entered into agreement with certain directors not to sue them in consideration of their paying certain amount, other directors are entitled to proportionate credit against amounts for which they are liable. (Ib.)

Bank directors held liable for interest on amounts found due from date of institution of suit against them by receiver.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where bank directors had learned generally of insolvent condition of bank on date they directed it to be closed, but did not know extent of their liability for negligence, but had ample opportunity for investigation during period of more than 30 months before closing of bank and institution of suit against them by receiver, they were liable for interest on amounts found due from date of institution of suit. (Ib.)

LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS FOR ASSENTING TO EXCESSIVE LOANS

Evidence—Court takes judicial notice of banking situation and method of its conduct prior to deflation period commencing in 1920.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Court will take judicial notice of banking situation and method and manner of its conduct prior to deflation period, which commenced about the year 1920. (McRoberts v. Spaulding et al., 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 315.)

Bank directors are not liable for lawful loans made in good faith, though making was error in judgment. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Bank directors are not liable, under Revised Statutes section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93), for lawful loans made in good faith, though making thereof was an error in judgment. (Ib.)

Question of improvident loans is what directors, sought to be held liable, think in making loans, and method and motive controlling their actions. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Question of improvident loans is not what some one else might think about loan, but what directors, sought to be held liable, under Revised Statutes section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93), think in making loans, and method and motive by which they were controlled in their actions. (Ib.)

Director having no knowledge of excessive loan, and no knowledge of facts putting him on inquiry, can not be held for resulting loss. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where bank director has no actual knowledge that loan is excessive under Revised Statutes section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), and has no knowledge of facts which would put him on inquiry, he can not be held for resultant loss under Revised Statutes section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93). (Ib.)

Directors are not constructively chargeable with knowledge of cashier, to whom business has been intrusted by directors who have acted with proper precaution.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Bank directors are not constructively chargeable with knowledge of cashier, to whom business of bank has been intrusted by directors who have acted with proper precaution. (Ib.)

Absence of improper motive on bank directors' part is no defense to action for violation of statute relating to excessive loans. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Absence of any improper motive, or desire for personal profit on bank directors' part, is no defense to an action, under Revised Statutes section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93), for violation of section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), relating to excessive loans. (Ib.)

Where renewal note is given for amounts already owed, court, in determining bank directors' liability, should look beyond giving of notes to find out real transaction. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where several loans are made to an individual, and later these notes are taken up and a new note given constituting renewal for amounts already owed, court in determining liability of bank directors, under Revised Statutes section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93), should look beyond giving of notes to find out what was real and true transaction. (Ib.)

If money in bank was misapplied without directors' knowledge, subsequent "renewals" of such paper with interest added were not new loans.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where money in bank is misapplied without knowledge or approval of directors, subsequent renewals of such paper, upon which nothing was added but accrued interest, would not amount to new loan for borrowed money, since "renewal" is not a loan, but is an extension of time for payment. (Ib.)

Any rediscount purchased by bank upon which borrower was primarily liable is "money borrowed" within statute relating to excessive loans. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Any rediscount purchased by bank, upon which a borrower was primarily liable, must be considered as money borrowed within meaning of Revised Statutes section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), relating to excessive loans; phrase "money borrowed" meaning when the borrower receives money over which he exercises dominion and which he expressly or impliedly promises to return. (Ib.)

Bank directors held personally liable to receiver for loans knowingly made in excess of statutory limit, with interest from date of loans. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where capital stock was $100,000 and surplus was $100,000, bank directors held personally liable under Revised Statutes sections 5200, 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93), for loans made to borrower in excess of $20,000, with interest on each item from date loans were made. (Ib.)

Bank directors held liable for loans exceeding statutory limit made after knowledge that loans exceeded limit. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Bank directors held personally liable under Revised Statutes section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93), for loans in excess of limit, under section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), made after directors had knowledge that loans to such borrower aggregated more than $20,000, where capital stock was $100,000 and surplus was $100,000. (Ib.)

Where loans to husband and wife together exceeded limit, but separately did not, directors were not liable. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where loans to husband and wife together exceeded limit, under Revised Statutes section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), of $20,000, where capital stock was $100,000, and surplus was $100,000, but loans to each did not exceed $20,000, and loans to wife were made in good faith upon her security, directors were not personally liable under section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93). (Ib.)

Bank directors having no notice of excessive loans to borrower held not personally liable. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Bank directors having no notice of excessive loans, which were excessive under Revised Statutes section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), to borrower, held not personally liable under section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93). (Ib.)

Bank director purchasing borrower's note for bank, when loans to him exceeded statutory limit, held personally liable. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where capital stock was $100,000 and surplus was $100,000, bank director purchasing for bank note of borrower, who was indebted to bank in sum of $20,000, held personally liable to receiver under Revised Statutes section 5200 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84), relating to excessive loans, and section 5239 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93), relating to directors' liability. (Ib.)

RECEIVER'S SUIT AGAINST DIRECTORS

Limitation of actions—Four-year limitation period under Georgia law applies to receiver's suit against directors of insolvent national banking association for accounting. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Four-year period of limitation prescribed by Georgia law applies to suit against directors of national banking association by receiver for accounting, after association's failure, under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93. (Anderson v. Gailey et al., 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 589.)

Limitation of actions—Each act of misconduct by directors of national bank creates separate cause of action in bank and action for making excessive loans accrues when loan is made. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Each act of misconduct of directors of national banking association creates separate cause of action in bank against directors who participated, as regards limitation on accounting suit against directors by receiver of insolvent national banking association under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, and in case of excess loans under 12 U. S. C. A., section 84, right of action accrues as soon as the loan is made and the bank parts with its money. (Ib.)

National bank may not receive paper representing excess loans, and such paper left is salvage merely. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) National bank has no right to receive paper given for excess loans in violation of 12 U. S. C. A. section 84, and if such paper is left among the assets of the bank by the directors it is only in the nature of salvage. (Ib.)

Directors of national bank handling paper representing excessive loans owe due diligence. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Bank directors in handling paper representing excessive loans in nature of salvage under 12 U. S. C. A., section 84, owe due diligence as in handling of all bank's business. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Clear misconduct of bank officers gives rise to cause of action immediately. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Acts of clear misconduct on part of directors of national bank, as in making loan to insolvent person or buying and not promptly reselling bank's stock, give rise immediately to cause of action in behalf of bank, its stockholders, and creditors under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, but some neglects are not actionable until damage ensues, and as to these statute does not begin to run until there is a right to sue. (Ib.)

Equity—Items of account barred at law are also barred in equity.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where items of an account are barred by statute of limitations at law, they are also barred in equity. (Ib.)

Equity—Suit by receiver of insolvent national bank against directors for accounting based on negligence as to loans and excessive loans was barred where causes of action were barred at law. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Suit by receiver of insolvent national banking association against directors for accounting under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, based on negligent act of directors, especially in making excessive loans contrary to 12 U. S. C. A., section 84, and in negligently handling loans, held barred, though forum was in equity, where causes of action were barred at law. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Limitation generally runs in favor of bank directors during their continuance in office.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) As regards liability for misconduct, directors of national bank are in position of agents or mandataries, and limitation generally runs in their favor during their continuance in office. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—No judicial exceptions to statute are implied, unless suit is legal impossibility.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where suit is a legal impossibility, judicial exceptions to statute of limitations are implied, as where there is no competent plaintiff or defendant or no forum to sue in, but no exceptions are implied where suit may be brought. (Ib.)

Corporations—Directors against whom corporation proposed bringing suit may not vote on that question.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) On consideration in directors' meeting of suit by corporation against some of directors, directors against whom suit was proposed would not be qualified to vote. (Ib.)

Single stockholder may assert national bank's right to accounting against directors after exhausting corporate remedies. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Action may be maintained against directors of national bank, under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, in behalf of bank and stockholders by assertion of corporation's right in court by single director or stockholder, if majority of directors are sought to be proceeded against, action can not be procured by reference to stockholders or election of new directors and corporate remedies are thus exhausted. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—That national bank directors, sought to be sued for accounting, were in control, did not prevent limitation from running in their favor, where there was no fraudulent concealment of cause of action. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Fact that directors of national bank sought to be sued for accounting in behalf of bank and stockholders and creditors, under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, constituted majority of board and dominated it, did not prevent limitation from running in favor of directors, where there was no fraudulent concealment of cause of action and cause of action was not brought for fraud, but for making excess loans contrary to 12 U. S. C. A., section 84, and negligently handling loans. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Where cause of action is fraud, limitation begins only when fraud is discovered by complainant, or could have been discovered by ordinary diligence. (Civ. Code, Ga. 1910, sec. 4380.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where cause of action is itself fraud cognizable in equity limitation begins to run only when fraud is discovered or could by ordinary diligence have been discovered by complainant under Civil Code, Georgia, 1910, section 4380. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Statute postponing limitation until discovery of fraud applies, where cause of action was fraudulently concealed, provided there was actual moral fraud. (Civ. Code, Ga., 1910, sec. 4380.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Civil Code, Georgia, 1910, section 4380, providing that period of limitation shall run only from time of discovery of fraud, where defendant has been guilty of fraud by which plaintiff has been debarred or deterred from his action, applies where existence of cause of action was fraudulently concealed, though in such case fraud must be actual moral fraud and not merely constructive. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Cause of action against directors of insolvent national bank for accounting, for making excess loans and handling loans negligently, was not based on actual fraud, so as to postpone limitation. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 86, 93; Civ. Code, Ga., 1910, sec. 4380.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Suit by receiver of national banking association in behalf of bank, its stockholders, and creditors against directors for accounting under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, for misconduct of directors in making excessive loans contrary to section 86, and in negligently handling loans did not involve cause of action based on actual fraud, such that limitation in favor of directors would be postponed until time of discovery of fraud under Civil Code, Georgia, 1910, section 4380. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Failure of directors of national bank to do more than make minutes of excessive loans and enter loan transactions on records did not constitute fraudulent concealment of cause of action against them, so as to postpone limitation. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93; Civ. Code, Ga., 1910, sec. 4380.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) In suit by receiver of national banking association, in behalf of stockholders and creditors, against directors of bank for accounting under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, for acts of negligence in making excessive loans contrary to section 84 and in negligently handling loans, failure of directors to do more than make truthful minutes and enter transactions on records of bank, with respect to loans in which they were not interested, did not constitute fraudulent concealment of cause of action so as to postpone running of limitation until time of discovery of fraud, under Civil Code, Georgia, 1910, section 4380; position of director in this respect being no more confidential than that of attorney at law or other agent. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Where action is based on agent's neglect limitation is immediately set in motion, though special damage and plaintiff's knowledge of unskillful act are delayed. (Civ. Code, Ga., 1910, sec. 4380.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where unskillfulness and neglect of agent constitute cause of action, the unskillful act itself sets the limitation in motion and not the occurrence of special damage, and ignorance of agent's unskillfulness on part of plaintiff is not important; Civil Code, Georgia, 1910, section 4380, postponing limitation until discovery of fraud being inapplicable. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Suit against directors of insolvent national bank for accounting was barred, so far as based on excessive loans or loans to insolvent persons made over four years before suit, and as to renewals of loans to insolvents. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Suit by receiver of insolvent national banking association in behalf of stockholders and creditors against directors for accounting under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, held barred in so far as it involved negligence of directors in making excessive loans contrary to section 84 or making loans to insolvent persons more than four years before suit was brought, and recovery was also barred as to renewals where debtor was insolvent at time of renewal. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Suit against directors of insolvent national bank for accounting held not barred as to loans in which directors were beneficially interested. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 84, 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Suit by receiver of insolvent national banking association in behalf of stockholders and creditors against directors thereof for accounting under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, for excessive loans in violation of section 84 and negligent handling of loans, was not barred in so far as transactions took place within four years before filing of suit, and in so far as directors were beneficially interested in loans. (Ib.)

Loans in which national bank's directors were beneficially interested should be closely looked into in suit against directors for accounting. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Loans made by national bank where directors were beneficially interested in loans should be closely looked into in suit against directors in behalf of stockholders and creditors for accounting under 12 U. S. C. A. section 93. (Ib.)

Limitation of actions—Suit against directors of insolvent national bank for accounting held not barred as regards continuing negligence of directors in failing to resell bank stock. (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 93.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Suit by receiver of insolvent national banking association against directors thereof for accounting in behalf of stockholders and creditors under 12 U. S. C. A., section 93, held not barred as to continuing negligence of directors in failing to resell bank's stock so long as it was salable without committing fraud on purchaser. (Ib.)

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS

Liability of bank director to shareholders for negligent acts was barred after affairs of bank had been fully administered and creditors paid.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where shareholders made no complaint relative to negligence of director in administration of affairs of bank until after affairs of bank had been fully administered, creditors all paid, and cost of administration met, any liability existing by reason thereof was barred on ground of laches. (Rust v. MacLaren, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 288.)

Equity—Facts found by master, and not excepted to, must be regarded as true on exceptions to report.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Facts found by master from proofs taken which were not excepted to must be regarded on exceptions to report as the true facts of the case. (Ib.)

LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS OF STATE BANK TAKING DEPOSITS WITH KNOWLEDGE OF INSOLVENCY

Liability of directors of State bank taking deposits with knowledge of insolvency.

(U. S. Sup. 1928.) A State statute making a bank director individually liable for deposits, the receipt of which by the bank was assented to by him with knowledge that it was insolvent, and which provides that his failure to examine the bank's affairs to learn of its condition shall charge him with knowledge of its insolvency, and that in suits against him for such deposits the fact of insolvency when the deposits were received shall be prima facie evidence that the director both knew of the insolvency and assented to the deposits, held consistent with due process of law. The statute might have made directors liable to depositors in every case. By accepting the office they assume the risks it imposes. (122 Kans. 675, 691, affirmed.) (Ferry v. Ramsey et al.; Harris, executor, v. Ramsey et al., 277 U. S., 88.)

WILLFUL MISAPPLICATION OF FUNDS

Fictitious transactions amounting to additional loan to insolvent customer without additional security held "misapplication" of bank's funds. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where vice president of bank, believing that insolvent customer, who owed large amount to bank inadequately secured, could borrow money elsewhere, released warehouse receipts for cotton held by bank as collateral, which customer attached to drafts, so as apparently to evidence sales of cotton, and then discounted drafts and credited customer's account with proceeds, which customer immediately disbursed to meet checks, and thereafter drafts came back without being discounted, result being that customer's indebtedness to bank was greatly increased without giving additional security, held, that transaction constituted a "misapplication" of bank's funds, within 12 U. S. C. A. section 592. (Robinson v. United States, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 25.)

Bank officer's loan to insolvent customer without knowledge of superiors and without additional security constitutes misapplication of bank's funds. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) When a subordinate bank officer, without the knowledge or approval of his superior officers or directors, makes a loan to insolvent customer, who owes indebtedness to bank in an amount more than bank ever expected to be able to collect, without any additional security, he thereby misapplies funds of bank, within 12 U. S. C. A. section 592. (Ib.)

Inference of intent to defraud bank can not be avoided, where bank officer intentionally misapplies bank's funds by obtaining money by false pretense. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) When a bank officer, who misapplies funds of bank intends the misapplication, and for that purpose gets money out of bank by any kind of false pretense, inference of intent to injure or defraud bank, in violation of 12 U. S. C. A. section 592, can not be avoided. (Ib.)

That loan on fictitious security might be collectible did not prevent transaction being misapplication of bank's funds. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) That loan made by vice president of bank on fictitious security might be good and collectible did not prevent transaction from being a misapplication of bank's funds by fraud and deceit, in violation of 12 U. S. C. A. section 592. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Trial errors should be disregarded by appellate court, where verdict of guilty was plainly only verdict which jury could rightly render.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where verdict of guilty of offense charged was plainly only verdict which jury could rightly render, appellate court may and should disregard errors in procedure and evidence at trial, and rulings of court in connection with charging jury. (Ib.)

Intent to deceive responsible bank officers as to character of paper carried as bank asset constitutes "intent to defraud," though no pecuniary injury to bank is intended. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) The intent to deceive higher officers of bank as to character of paper, which is being carried as a bank asset, constitutes "intent to defraud" the bank, within 12 U. S. C. A. section 592, making it an offense to misapply funds of bank, even though pecuniary injury to the bank is not intended and does not occur. (Ib.)

Word "funds," in statute denouncing misapplication of bank's funds, might include both money and "credits," if they were not specified. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) The word "funds," in 12 U. S. C. A. section 592, making it an offense to misapply "money, funds or credits" of bank, is an inclusive one, and might include both money and credits, if they were not specified; "credits" referring to obligations or debts of others to the bank. (Ib.)

Substitution of nonequivalent collateral for valuable collateral on substitution of new paper for matured paper constitutes misapplication of bank's funds. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) If on the substitution of new paper for matured paper held by bank, valuable collateral is surrendered, and nonequivalent security substituted, the funds of the bank are misapplied, in violation of 12 U. S. C. A. section 592. (Ib.)

Whether vice president's acceptance of insolvent customer's renewal paper of same value as that which matured constituted willful misapplication of bank's funds held jury question. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where there was evidence that responsible managers of bank fully understood that customer was insolvent and deliberately entered on policy of cooperating with him in extending indebtedness, and even making new loans for purpose of minimizing bank's inevitable loss, and that vice president knew of policy and was authorized to some extent to carry it out, held, that vice president's action in extending time to customer by accepting new paper of same character and value as that which had matured was not a willful misapplication of funds or credits of bank as matter of law, in violation of 12 U. S. C. A. section 592, but it was a question for jury to determine. (Ib.)

Criminal law—After trial court has ruled that certain theory of defense will be utterly rejected, counsel are under no obligation to go further to point out distinctions.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) When trial court makes ruling which is right in general way, but which counsel thinks not applicable for special reasons, it may be duty of counsel to present to court the precise distinction on which they depend, but after court has ruled that a certain theory of defense will be utterly rejected, counsel are under no obligation to go further. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Reversible error having been found as to five out of nine counts on which sentences were concurrent, sentences on affirmed convictions will be reversed and case remanded for resentencing.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where defendant was convicted on each of nine counts of indictment, and sentenced to same term of imprisonment on each count, sentences to run concurrently, and to pay a fine on each count, and appellate court found no error as to the four counts, and reversible error as to the five counts, held that convictions on said four counts will be affirmed, but sentences thereon will be reversed, and case remanded for resentencing. (Ib.)

Indictment and information—Indictment is sufficiently certain if it contains every element of offense charged and apprises defendant of what he must meet.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) True test of sufficiency of indictment is not whether it might possibly have been made more certain, but whether it contains every element of offense intended to be charged, and sufficiently apprises defendant of what he must be prepared to meet, and, in case other proceedings are taken against him for similar offense, whether record shows with accuracy to what extent he may plead former acquittal or conviction. (Olmstead et al. v. United States, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 239.)

Indictment charging misapplication of national bank's funds by honoring insolvent's checks against fictitious credit held sufficient as against demurrer. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Indictment, under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), charging that president and director, having control of national bank's business, misapplied bank's funds and credits in specified sum, with intent to defraud bank by converting them to use of corporation, which had no credit on bank's books, except a fraudulent and fictitious credit, when said defendant knew corporation was insolvent, and charging corporation's president with aiding and abetting, held sufficient as against demurrer. (Ib.)

Indictment against president for misapplying national bank's funds need not allege manner in which he came into control of bank's business. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Indictment, under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), charging misapplication of national bank's funds by its president having control of its business, held sufficient, as against demurrer, without charging manner in which he came into control. (Ib.)

Indictment charging president's misapplication of national bank's funds was not required to allege he acted without directors' knowledge or consent. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Indictment, under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), against president of national bank for misapplying bank's funds, was not required to allege that, in misapplying funds of the bank, he acted without knowledge or consent of directors. (Ib.)

Indictment for misapplication of national bank's funds by honoring corporation's checks against fictitious credit imported knowledge that credit was fictitious. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Indictment, under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), charging that president of national bank, with intent to injure and defraud bank, feloniously misapplied specified sum of bank's funds by turning over said funds to a corporation on its checks, when he knew that no such sum stood to its credit, except a false, fraudulent, and fictitious credit, imported knowledge that said corporation's credit was in fact fictitious. (Ib.)

Indictment and information—If defendants desired greater certainty as to character of misapplication of bank's funds charged in indictment, they should have asked for it by special demurrer or bill of particulars. (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where indictment, under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), for misapplication of national bank's funds, alleged all elements of offense, and clearly specified manner in which misapplication was made, defendants, if they desired greater certainty as to charge, should have asked for it by special demurrer or demand for bill of particulars. (Ib.)

Whether defendant, charged with misapplying bank's funds, acted in good faith in relying on alleged anticipated proceeds of trade acceptances to meet corporation's fictitious checks, held jury question. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), against president and director of national bank for misapplication of bank's funds by honoring checks of insolvent corporation against fictitious credits created by depositing fictitious checks on distant banks, and against president of such corporation as aider and abettor, whether defendants acted reasonably and in good faith, in relying on alleged anticipated proceeds from trade acceptances to meet such fictitious checks, held question for jury. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Any error in overruling objection to question held not reversible, where question was not answered, and no specific objection was taken to subsequent question.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Any error in overruling objection that question called for contents of written instruments on theory that such instruments were in defendants' possession, and hence not available to government, held not prejudicial, where question was not answered, and no specific objection was taken to subsequent question, which added little to what had already been testified to without objection. (Ib.)

Government must make case within indictment charging misapplication of national bank's funds, but need not establish in full every allegation thereof. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Government must make a case within the scope of indictment charging misapplication of national bank's funds, in violation of Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), but this does not require it to establish in full every allegation therein contained. (Ib.)

Large withdrawals of national bank's funds through fictitious credits would make prima facie case of misapplication of funds. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) If president of national bank and president corporation knowingly adopted scheme whereby, through fictitious credits, large sums were withdrawn from bank for benefit of corporation, and this deceptive course was persistently pursued, a prima facie case of misapplication of bank's funds, within Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), was made out, even if corporation, though operating at loss and nearly insolvent, was not wholly insolvent, or though some wholly inadequate security was given bank. (Ib.)

National bank's directors, stockholders, and depositors have right to have bank's funds loaned and paid out openly, in accordance with banking practice.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) It is the right of directors, stockholders, and depositors of national bank to have bank's funds loaned and paid out openly in accordance with banking practice, and not under cover of misleading subterfuge, regardless of whether corporation receiving such moneys was insolvent. (Ib.)

Instruction, in considering intent in misapplication of bank's funds to corporation, to consider corporation's financial standing and defendants' reasonable belief in respect thereto, held sufficiently favorable. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) In prosecution, under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), against president of national bank, for misapplication of bank's funds by honoring corporation's checks against fictitious credits, and against corporation's president as aider and abetter, instruction that, in considering defendants' intent to defraud bank, jury should consider financial standing of corporation and its president and defendants' reasonable belief in respect thereto, held as favorable as defendants could ask. (Ib.)

That actual deposits exceeded amount specifically charged as misappropriated by fictitious credits created no presumption that checks were paid out of actual deposits, question being for jury. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) In prosecution under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), against president of national bank for misapplication of bank's funds by means of fictitious credits extended to corporation, fact that corporation's real deposits exceeded misapplications specifically charged in indictment did not create legal presumption that checks counted on as means of unlawful diversion were payable and paid out of such actual deposit, but it was question for jury. (Ib.)

That checks referred to in indictment for misapplication of bank's funds by fictitious credit were honored by cashier's checks held not to create variance. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) In prosecution, under Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), against president of national bank for misapplication of bank's funds by honoring checks against fictitious credit, fact that some of checks referred to in indictment by means of which funds were withdrawn from bank were honored in first place by issuing cashier's checks, held not to create a variance. (Ib.)

Indictment and information—Indictment need not negative all possible defenses, nor set forth merely evidentiary facts.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) It is not necessary in an indictment to negative all possible defenses, or to set forth merely evidentiary facts. (Ib.)

There is no presumption that directors authorized bank officer to issue cashier's check without consideration from his issuance thereof. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) There is no presumption, arising from fact that a bank officer knowingly issues a cashier's check without consideration, that directors authorized illegal transaction because Revised Statutes, section 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 592), makes it offense for anyone without authority of directors to issue a bill of exchange, which includes cashier's check. (Ib.)

Court will not presume national-bank directors authorized performance of criminal act by officer.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Court will not presume that board of directors of national bank authorized performance of a criminal act by officer thereof. (Ib.)

AIDERS AND ABETTORS

Embezzlement—If party gave note believing it would be discounted and because it was unsatisfactory gave one afterwards paid, no criminal intent to aid and abet bank cashier in converting bank's funds could be inferred. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 501, 591, 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) If defendant, in prosecution for aiding and abetting misapplication and converting of funds of bank to use of bank's cashier, in violation of Revised Statutes, sections 5208, 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. secs.

501, 591, 592), gave company note in belief that it would be discounted, and when advised that first note was not satisfactory, immediately gave note indorsed by another, who afterwards paid note, no criminal intent could fairly or properly be inferred. (Quig v. United States, 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 820.)

Criminal law—District attorney's opening statement that indictment for converting bank's funds was against defendant and cashier pleading guilty and who would tell truth, and that parties pleaded guilty to indictments, held error, requiring reversal. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 501, 591, 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In prosecution for aiding and abetting bank cashier in misapplying and converting to other's own use of money of bank in violation of Revised Statutes, sections 5208, 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 501, 591, 592), statements of district attorney that indictment was against defendant and cashier, and that the cashier pleaded guilty and was sentenced to penitentiary and was present to do right thing by telling truth about matter, and that parties were arraigned and both pleaded guilty to two indictments, and that defendant made settlement and took release from bank, held prejudicial, requiring reversal. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Indictments of separate offenses two years before trial for aiding and abetting bank cashier's conversion of funds held inadmissible. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 501, 591, 592.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In prosecution for aiding and abetting bank cashier in the misapplication and conversion of funds of bank in violation of Revised Statutes, sections 5208, 5209 (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 501, 591, 592), indictments offered in evidence against defendant and cashier of separate and distinct offenses committed some two years prior to trial of case held inadmissible. (Ib.)

Criminal law—Where offense appears to be one of series, evidence of prior offense may be shown as bearing on intent.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) In some rare cases, such as passing of counterfeit money, where offense for which defendant is being tried appears to be one of series of offenses of like character, evidence of offense may be shown, but solely for purpose of bearing on intent with which particular act was committed for which defendant is being tried. (Ib.)

Embezzlement—Evidence sustained conviction of defendants for aiding and abetting teller in abstracting funds from bank with intent to injure and defraud bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Evidence held to sustain conviction of defendants of aiding and abetting teller of bank, a member of the Federal reserve system, in abstracting funds to the amount of a cashier's check from such bank with intent to injure and defraud the bank. (Morgan v. United States, Hust v. Same, 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 335.)

Auditor's testimony as to knowledge of signatures of officers attached to stock certificate authorized certificate's admission in evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Auditor's testimony that he had been auditor of bank since 1916, and that he knew signatures of officers attached to stock certificate, and that they were genuine, authorized admission of certificate in evidence. (Ib.)

Auditor of Federal reserve bank held competent to testify of his own knowledge that bank from which funds were taken was member of Federal reserve system.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Auditor of Federal reserve bank since 1916, who knew signatures of officers attached to certificate transferring to bank involved shares of stock of Federal reserve bank, could testify of his own knowledge that bank from which funds were taken was a member of the Federal reserve system, as against contention that his testimony and certificate were not the best evidence. (Ib.)

Embezzlement—Finding that bank from which funds were abstracted was member of Federal reserve system held warranted.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Evidence held to warrant finding that bank from which defendants were charged with aiding and abetting teller in abstracting funds therefrom was a member of the Federal reserve system. (Ib.)

Affidavit showing that priest administered sacrament of communion to juror apart from rest of jury during deliberations, not showing injury, did not require new trial.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Affidavit showing that during deliberations priest administered sacrament of communion to juror in room shut off from presence of other jurors, but not shown to have influenced jury in their deliberations, held not to require new trial, though action of bailiff in permitting practice was to be condemned. (Ib.)

Asking jury whether defendant's counsel wanted Government to call defendants to stand, and that law did not permit, held not comment on failure to testify, but any prejudice removed by instruction.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Remarks of Government's attorney during argument, asking jury whether defendants' counsel wanted Government's counsel to call defendants to stand before jury and ask them a certain question, but that the criminal laws did not permit it, held not comment on failure of defendants to testify; but, if improper, prejudice was removed by court's instruction to jury not to consider statements at all. (Ib.)

ORGANIZATION

Corporations—Subscriber for stock as trustee without cestui que trust is personally bound.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Subscriber for stock as trustee only in case where there is no cestui que trust is personally bound therefor, in that in such case there can be no trustee. (Stewart v. Ahern, 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 864.)

REPLEVIN

Replevin—Defendant may defend on ground that third person is entitled to chattel without connecting defendant with latter's title (Civil Practice Act N. Y. Sec. 1093).

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Under civil practice act New York section 1093, defendant in action to recover personal property or its value may defend on the ground that third person is entitled to the chattel without connecting defendant with latter's title. (Banque De France v. Equitable Trust Co. of New York. Same v. Chase Nat. Bank of City of New York, 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 202.)

Pleading—On motion to strike out defenses to action to recover personalty, averment that property is not property of plaintiff is regarded as admitted.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) In action to recover gold in possession of defendant, averment that shipment is not property of plaintiff is to be regarded as admitted by plaintiff on motion to strike out defenses. (Ib.)

Pleading—In action to recover gold confiscated by Soviet state bank, defendant's allegations as to de facto Soviet Government held not to be stricken.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) In action by Banque of France to recover gold in defendant's possession, alleged to have been illegally confiscated by State Bank of Soviet Union, defendant's allegation of existence of de facto government of Union of Soviet Socialist Republics existing to exclusion of any previous government overthrown thereby should not be stricken; the defendant being entitled to show any circumstances under which Soviet Government might acquire title to property in dispute. (Ib.)

International law—Refusal of recognition of foreign government will not affect private rights of citizens dependent upon proof of existing conditions in such state.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) The refusal of the political department to recognize a foreign government should not be allowed to affect private rights which may depend upon proof of existing conditions in such state, justice requiring that effect should be given by our courts to those acts of such government upon which rights of citizens depend, provided that in so doing judicial department does not encroach upon or interfere with political branch of government. (Ib.)

Evidence—Law of foreign nation is matter of proof.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) The law of a foreign nation is a matter of proof. (Ib.)

International law—Recognition of foreign government validates all acts of such government from time it existed.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Recognition of a foreign government, either de jure or de facto, validates all acts of such foreign government from the time it existed. (Ib.)

Pleading—In action by Banque of France to recover gold confiscated by Soviet State Bank of Russia, defense of recognition of Soviet by French Republic held not to be stricken.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) In action by Banque of France to recover from defendant gold confiscated by Soviet State Bank of Russia, defense that French Government has recognized Soviet Government of Russia, and that plaintiff's claim must be presented through its own government, notwithstanding that United States has not recognized present government of Russia, held not to be stricken on motion of plaintiff. (Ib.)

Pleading—In action to recover from defendant gold seized by Soviet State Bank of Russia, defense that bank is part of Soviet Government should not be stricken, since it raises question of jurisdiction.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) In action by Banque of France to recover from defendant gold seized by Soviet State Bank of Russia, defense that state bank is part of Soviet Government should not be stricken, since, notwithstanding Soviet Government of Russia has not been recognized by United States, defense involves political question as to who is sovereign de facto or de jure in Russia of which the court is without jurisdiction. (Ib.)

International law—Where plaintiff's pleading shows that property sought to be recovered from defendant is claimed by foreign government, want of jurisdiction appears without suggestion through State Department.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Where plaintiff's cause of action rests upon a pleading showing that one claimant of property sought to be recovered is a foreign government, there is no necessity for that fact to be made known to court by formal suggestion to State Department, but the court's want of jurisdiction is matter apparent from issues as framed by pleading. (Ib.)

Replevin—In action to recover personalty based on wrongful detention, demand or refusal, or facts showing wrongful withholding without demand, must be alleged. (Civil Practice Rules New York, rule 271.)

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) A demand must be alleged in an action based merely on wrongful detention of chattel as well as refusal to turn over chattel, or there must be an averment of facts which show wrongful withholding of property without demand, in view of Civil Practice Rules New York, rule 271. (Ib.)

Replevin—Demand and refusal are prerequisite to action for recovery of chattels against innocent bailee of one who received chattels unlawfully.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) In action to recover personal property, demand and refusal must be made before action brought, although bailee has received chattel from one who received it unlawfully, where bailee came into possession innocently. (Ib.)

Replevin—Trove and conversion—Refusal to deliver chattels to plaintiff, of such character as not to indicate conversion, can not be basis of action for conversion or replevin.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Demand for possession of chattels and refusal of defendant to deliver them over is merely evidence of conversion, so that, if defendant's refusal is of such character as not to indicate conversion, it can not be the basis of action for conversion or replevin. (Ib.)

Pleading—Defense that plaintiff's demand for return of chattel did not afford defendant reasonable opportunity for investigating claim of title held not subject to be stricken.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) In action by Banque of France to recover from defendant gold confiscated by Soviet State Bank, defense that plaintiff's demand preliminary to suit did not afford defendant reasonable opportunity to investigate and determine facts relative to plaintiff's claim of ownership, held well pleaded and not subject to be stricken. (Ib.)

Pleading—Bailee's allegations that subsequent to plaintiff's demand defendant had returned chattels to bailor should be stricken as constituting no defense.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) In action by Banque de France for recovery of gold confiscated by Soviet State Bank, defendant's allegations that, subsequent to plaintiff's demand, defendant returned property to its bailor, must be stricken, since such allegations constitute no defense. (Ib.)

ASSESSMENT OF SHAREHOLDERS OF NATIONAL BANKS

One making gift to himself of national-bank stock as trustee for minor children held not subject to stockholder's liability thereon. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 62, 64, 66.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) One making a gift of national-bank stock to himself as trustee for minor children, in good faith and without knowledge of bank's failing condition, held not subject to stockholder's liability for assessment, under 12 U. S. C. A. sections 62, 64, since section 66 provides that persons holding stock as trustees shall not be personally subject to any liability as stockholders, but that estate shall be liable. (McNair v. Darragh, 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 906.)

Courts—National-bank shareholder's statutory liability for assessment held not barred by State statute relating to claims against estate. (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 63, 66; Gen. St. Minn. 1923, secs. 8811, 8812.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Liability for assessment against shareholder of national bank, under Revised Statutes, sections 5151, 5152 (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 63, 66), a statutory liability, held not barred by General Statutes of Minnesota, 1923, sections 8811, 8812, where receiver of bank did not know of shareholder's death until too late to file claim prior to closing of estate. (Gilbertson v. McCarthy et al., 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 665.)

Person, recognizing ownership of shares recorded in his name, was liable for assessment after bank's insolvency.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where shares stood on records of bank in the name of person, who by his own acts and conduct recognized his ownership thereof, he was liable on bank's insolvency for assessment as between himself and creditors of bank extending credit on the assumption of his ownership of the stock. (Rust v. MacLaren, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 288.)

Estoppel.—Person, admitting ownership of shares, and paying assessment after insolvency, could not thereafter question liability.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where person recognized ownership of bank shares recorded in his name, and paid assessments thereon after bank's insolvency, he could not thereafter question his liability on ground that he was not in fact the owner of the shares, since assessment should have been contested on such ground before payment. (Ib.)

Comptroller's levying of assessment is judicial determination of necessity of assessment and can not be collaterally attacked.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Levying of assessment by comptroller against stockholders of insolvent national bank is judicial determination by him of necessity of such assessment, and it is conclusive and can not be collaterally attacked. (Collins v. Caldwell, and three other cases, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 329.)

Letter to comptroller, in which person assessed as stockholder stated herself to be owner of stock, held conclusive, though stock stood in deceased husband's name.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Letter to comptroller from person assessed as stockholder of insolvent national bank, in which she stated herself to be owner of stock, held conclusive, in absence of contrary proof, notwithstanding that shares stood in name of deceased husband. (Ib.)

Widow, acquiring national-bank stock under husband's will, held properly assessed as stockholder, though stock did not stand in her name; "shareholder." (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 63.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Widow, who became owner of stock in national bank under last will of her deceased husband, held properly assessed as stockholder on bank's insolvency, notwithstanding that her name did not appear on books of bank as owner of stock, since real owner of shares may in every case be treated as "shareholder," within Revised Statutes, section 5151. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 63), for purposes of assessment. (Ib.)

Receiver of insolvent national bank need not exhaust remedy against transferees before holding one transferring stock within 60 days before bank's failure liable for assessment. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 64.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Person who had been owner of national-bank stock, and who had made transfer within 60 days before failure of bank, was liable for assessment, under 12 U. S. C. A., section 64, and her liability was primary, so that receiver was not required to exhaust remedy against transferees. (Ib.)

Courts.—Service must be made on comptroller in district where stockholders, sued for assessment, impleaded comptroller.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where suit was not brought by national bank to enjoin any action of comptroller, it was essential, in cross-bills by stockholders against whom assessment was sought to be enforced and who impleaded the comptroller, that service be made on him in the district. (Ib.)

Comptroller's assessment on national-bank stock is judicial determination of necessity therefor, and amount assessable, which is conclusive upon shareholders.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Action of comptroller in ordering assessment on stock of national bank is judicial determination of necessity therefor, and of amount assessable against each shareholder, which is conclusive upon shareholders and not subject to appeal or collateral attack. (Chase v. Hall, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 195.)

Note given by insolvent bank for assumption of its liabilities by another bank represents engagements for which stockholders are responsible.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Note given by insolvent bank to another bank assuming its liabilities to depositors, to make up deficiency between amount of assets transferred to the other bank and amount of liabilities transferee bank assumed, represents contracts, debts, and engagements of insolvent bank for which stockholders are responsible. (Ib.)

That assessment was for paying judgment obtained on note given by insolvent bank, in consideration of another bank's assumption of liabilities, was no defense to stockholders.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Assessment against stockholders of national bank could not be avoided by stockholders because of fact that assessment was given to pay judgment obtained by another bank on note which the insolvent bank gave together with assets, in consideration for other bank's assumption of liabilities to depositors. (Ib.)

That stockholder was induced by national-bank officers' fraud to buy stock is no defense to receiver's action to recover assessment. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 64.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) That stockholder was induced by fraud on part of officers of national bank to buy stock is no defense to action brought by receiver to recover an assessment legally made against stockholder under 12 U. S. C. A. section 64. (Anderson et al. v. Cronkleton, 32 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 170.)

Constitutional law—Courts can not change plain wording of statute.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Courts can not change the plain wording of a statute. (Ib.)

National-bank stockholders were liable under statute to those who were creditors when they purchased as well as to those becoming creditors thereafter. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 64.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) National-bank stockholders were liable under 12 U. S. C. A., section 64, as to those who were creditors when they became stockholders, as well as to those who became creditors thereafter. (Ib.)

National banks are quasi public institutions established by, and subject to, regulatory laws of Congress.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) National banks are quasi public institutions established by, and subject to, the regulatory laws of Congress. (Ib.)

ASSESSMENT OF SHAREHOLDERS OF JOINT-STOCK LAND BANKS

Federal Farm Loan Board held authorized to make assessment against stockholders of insolvent joint-stock land bank and enforce their personal liability; "execution"; "administration"; "direction and control." (12 U. S. C. A. secs. 812, 831 (i), (j), 641, 651.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Federal Farm Loan Board held authorized to make assessment against stockholders of insolvent joint-stock land bank and to enforce personal liability of stockholders under 12 U. S. C. A., section 812; powers of board not being limited to those enumerated in section 831 plus supervisory powers set out in clauses (i) and (j), in view of sections 641, 651, 961, 963, since "execution" within section 651 means putting into force, "administration" within section 641 means act of administering, especially direction or oversight of any office, service, or employment, and "direction and control" import authority to command what shall be done and require obedience. (Greene v. Wheeler, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 468.)

Receiver of joint-stock land bank may maintain action to enforce stockholders' liability for assessment made by Federal Farm Loan Board. (12 U. S. C. A. sec. 812.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Receiver of joint-stock land bank held to have legal right to maintain action against stockholders to enforce liability for assessment made by Federal Farm Loan Board under 12 U. S. C. A. section 812. (Ib.)

Statutes—Words of statute must be interpreted, to effectively accomplish purpose of statute, if reasonably possible.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) While court can not read into statute language or purposes not there found, such interpretation must be given to words employed, if it can reasonably be done, as will effectively accomplish purposes of statute. (Ib.)

ASSESSMENT OF SHAREHOLDERS OF STATE BANKS

(U. S. Sup., 1928.) The law in Georgia by which the superintendent of banks may issue executions against stockholders of insolvent banks who, after notice from him, neglect to pay assessments on their stock, and which makes such executions liens on their property from date of issuance, is consistent with due process of law, since the stockholders are given opportunity to raise and try in court every possible defense by filing affidavits of illegality.

The fourteenth amendment is not concerned with the mere form of the State procedure. If the debtor does not demand a trial, the execution does not need the sanction of a judgment.

The stockholders, by becoming such, assumed the liability imposed by the statute. (164 Ga., 350, affirmed.) (Coffin Bros. & Co. et al. v. Bennett, 277 U. S. 29.)

FEDERAL TAXATION

Internal Revenue—Bank making good its letter of credit, and selling goods covered at loss, held not entitled immediately to charge off loss as worthless debt; “ascertained.” (Revenue act, 1918, sec. 234 (a) (5).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where bank A, on bank B's irrevocable guaranty of payment for buyer's account of specified quantity of sugar purchased through M, and at M's request, issued its letter of credit to seller, and after it refused to accept B's attempted revocation of the guaranty was compelled to sell sugar at loss in making good its letter of credit, when B refused drafts covering price, held, that it was not justified in immediately charging off said loss under revenue act, 1918, section 234 (a) (5), 40 Stat. 1078, as having been “ascertained” to be a worthless debt, in absence of proof respecting the financial responsibility of B and M, who were liable to it, and where it subsequently recovered full amount of its claim, with costs, in subsequent action against A and B. (American Trust Co. v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 47.)

Internal Revenue—Debt can not be written off as worthless for income-tax purposes merely because it is doubtful; “ascertained.” (Revenue act, 1918, sec. 234 (a) (5).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Under revenue act, 1918, section 234 (a) (5), 40 Stat. 1078, authorizing corporation, in computing its net income for taxation, to deduct debts ascertained to be worthless and charged off within taxable year, a debt can not be written off as worthless merely because it is doubtful, but reasonable and intelligent effort must be made to determine its value, and circumstances thus discovered must be such as reasonably to generate belief that it is in fact worthless; “ascertain” meaning to find out, to make reasonably certain, but the ascertainment need not be absolute, and final judgment and return nulla bona are not always prerequisites. (Ib.)

Internal Revenue—Regulation authorizing banks to charge off debts as worthless for income-tax purposes is held unavailable, in absence of specific order or general rule authorizing it. (Revenue act, 1918, sec. 234 (a) (5).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Internal Revenue Regulation 62, article 151 (Comm. Reg. 8226-2 C. B. 116), providing that debts charged off by banks or other corporations, in obedience to specific orders or in accordance with general policy, of supervisory Federal authorities, shall be presumed worthless for income tax purposes, held not to support deduction from bank's gross income under revenue act, 1918, section 234 (a) (5), 40 Stat. 1078, in absence of showing of specific order by public authority to charge off such item as worthless, or evidence of any rule, regulation, or general instructions authorizing it. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Court can substitute its judgment for that of tax authorities in rejecting deduction only if there is failure to exercise real discretion or error of law. (Revenue act, 1921, sec. 234 (a) (4) (5).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) If Commissioner of Internal Revenue and Board of Tax Appeals exercised their discretion to reject taxpayer's claim to deduction for losses under revenue act, November 23, 1921, section 234 (a) (4) (5), 42 Stat. 254, and Treasury Regulations of 1922, articles 151, 155, on legal and reasonable grounds, Circuit Court of Appeals could not substitute its discretionary judgment for that of the tax authorities; but, if there was a failure really to exercise discretion, or error of law in its exercise, court must grant relief. (Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co. v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 339.)

Internal revenue—Taxpayer's rights were not destroyed because it erroneously sought deduction for bad debts and also addition to reserve for bad debts. (Revenue act, 1921, sec. 234 (a) (4) (5).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) That taxpayer originally sought a deduction from profits tax and also an addition to its reserve for bad debts, under revenue act, November 23, 1921, section 234 (a) (4) (5), 42 Stat. 254, and Treasury Regulations of 1922, articles 151, 155, to only one of which it was entitled, did not destroy its real rights; taxpayer's rights, under conditions here disclosed, not being determinable on merely technical grounds. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Disallowing addition to reserve for bad debts for profits tax as result of "guesswork" held not justified. (Revenue act, 1921, sec. 234 (a) (4) (5).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Taxing authorities' disallowance of trust company's addition of $200,000 to its reserve for bad debts, for purposes of profits tax, under revenue act, November 23, 1921, section 234 (a) (4) (5), 42 Stat. 254, and Treasury Regulations of 1922, articles 151, 155, on ground that such amount was determined by "guesswork" held not justified under the evidence that year in which addition was made was one in which banks generally faced very dangerous conditions, calling for extraordinary precautions, and that trust company at that time held about $23,000,000 in short-time notes. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Honest judgment of bank officials as to bank's profits for profits-tax purposes must be given substantial, if not controlling, weight.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Though the honest judgment of bank officials as to amount of profits made is not expressly made by statute prima facie evidence for profits-tax purposes, it must, in absence of any indication of tax-dodging intent, be given very substantial, if not controlling, weight. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Trust company's losses over period of years held not proper test of reasonable reserve for bad debts during year involving unusual conditions. (Revenue act, 1921, sec. 234 (a) (4) (5).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Determination of Board of Tax Appeals that evidence did not warrant exercise of discretion favorable to claim of trust company for deduction for losses and bad debts for profits-tax purposes under revenue act, November 23, 1921, section 234 (a) (4) (5), 42 Stat. 254, and Treasury Regulations of 1922, articles 151, 155, because there was no evidence respecting losses over a period of years on which to predicate a reasonable reserve for bad debts, held erroneous as matter of law, where unusual conditions confronting banks generally during taxable year involved called for unusual measures. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—That corporate notes unexpectedly liquidated for larger sum than holder believed possible when it filed profits tax return, held not controlling on question of reasonableness of bad debt-deduction. (Revenue act, 1921, sec. 234 (a) (4) (5).)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where evidence clearly warranted trust company in considering its original investment of $98,000 in corporate notes as worth no more than $10,500 when it filed its profits-tax return for 1921, and claimed deduction for bad debts under revenue act, November 23, 1921, section 234 (a) (4) (5), 42 Stat. 254, and Treasury Regulations of 1922, articles 151, 155, fact that such notes, through reorganization of corporation under Federal receivership and special State legislation ultimately, but unexpectedly, liquidated for over $41,000 in 1925, had no controlling weight. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Where taxpayer maintained reserve for bad debts, profits-tax deductions should be charged as addition to reserve. (Revenue act 1921, sec. 234 (a) (4) (5); Treasury Regulations of 1922, arts. 151, 155.)

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where taxpayer had "heretofore maintained reserve" for bad debts subsequent deduction for bad debts, as matter of technically correct form, should have been charged as an addition to reserve for bad debts, under revenue act, November 23, 1921, section 234 (a) (4) (5), 42 Stat. 254, and Treasury Regulations of 1922, articles 151, 155. (Ib.)

Internal revenue—District court can not review Internal Revenue Commissioner's determination on application for refund through special assessment.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) The district court can not review determination of Commissioner of Internal Revenue on application for refund through special assessment, whether such determination be for or against claimant. (National Park Bank of New York v. United States. 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 1006.)

Mandamus—Commissioner of Internal Revenue's refusal to consider application for special assessment for tax refund is reviewable through mandamus in District of Columbia.

(U. S. D. C. 1929.) Refusal of Commissioner of Internal Revenue even to consider application for a special assessment by taxpayers seeking refund of alleged overpayment of taxes is reviewable through mandamus proceedings in District of Columbia. (Ib.)

TAXATION OF CONSOLIDATING BANKS

Internal revenue—State banks amalgamated to form new bank and said new bank held not "affiliated corporations" for tax purposes. (Revenue act, 1918, sec. 240 (b).)

(D. C. App. 1929.) Where two State banks were amalgamated into new bank under agreement providing that stock of new bank was to be paid for by old banks transferring to new bank approved tangible assets at certain rate, that old banks were to retire immediately from banking business, liquidate their remaining assets, and procure dissolution of charters within five years, and that for purpose of agreement stockholders of each old bank should appoint trustees, to whom they were to transfer all their stock, trustees to vote stock as necessary to carry out agreement, and to distribute new stock to stockholders of old banks, held, that old banks and new bank were not "affiliated corporations," for tax purposes, within revenue act, 1918, section 240 (a) (b), 40 Stat. 1082, and Regulations 45, T. D. 3146, articles 631, 633. (Lafayette-South Side Bank v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue. 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 646.)

Internal revenue—Good will of two banks transferred to new bank held not "invested capital" for tax purposes. (Revenue act, 1918, secs. 325 (a), 326 (a), subsec. 4.)

(D. C. App. 1929.) Where two State banks amalgamated by transferring their assets, including good will, to new bank, under written agreement providing that no valuation should be placed on good will transferred, and that no stock was to be actually issued therefor, held, that value of good will could not be included in the "invested capital" account of the new bank, under revenue act, 1918, sections 325 (a), 326 (a), subsection 4 (40 Stat. 1091, 1092). (Ib.)

Internal revenue—Good will of old banks transferred to new bank held not part of "paid-in surplus" for tax purposes. (Revenue act, 1918, sec. 326 (a), subsec. 3.)

(D. C. App. 1929.) Where two State banks amalgamated by transferring their assets, including good will, to new bank under written agreement providing that no valuation should be placed on good will transferred, and that no stock was to be actually issued therefor, held, that good will did not constitute part of "paid-in surplus," under revenue act, 1918, section 326 (a), subsection 3 (40 Stat. 1092), for tax purposes. (Ib.)

TAXATION UNDER DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

District of Columbia—Act taxing national bank's gross earnings held inapplicable to interest on tax-exempt Government bonds. (Act July 1, 1902, sec. 6, par. 5, 32 Stat. 619, as amended by act March 3, 1917, 39 Stat. 1047; act April 24, 1917, sec. 1; 31 U. S. C. A. sec. 746.)

(Dist. Col. C. A. 1929.) Act July 1, 1902, section 6, paragraph 5, 32 Stat. 619, as amended by act March 3, 1917, 39 Stat. 1047, imposing tax on gross earnings of national-banks in District of Columbia in lieu of all other taxes on personal property thereof, does not apply to interest on Government bonds and other evidences of public debt, exempt from taxation under act April 24, 1917, section 1, 31 U. S. C. A., section 746, and other acts providing for bond issues. (District of Columbia v. Riggs National Bank, 30 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 873.)

District of Columbia—Whether Congress may repudiate tax exemptions need not be considered in national bank's action to recover taxes paid on interest on Government bonds. (Act April 24, 1917, sec. 1; 31 U. S. C. A. sec. 746; act July 1, 1902, sec. 6, par. 5; 32 Stat. 619, as amended by act March 3, 1917, 39 Stat. 1047.)

(Dist. Col. C. A. 1929.) Whether Congress may repudiate exemptions from taxation in act April 24, 1917, section 1, 31 U. S. C. A., section 746, and other acts authorizing issuance of Government bonds within District of Columbia, need not be considered in national bank's suit against District to recover taxes paid on interest on such bonds, under act July 1, 1902, section 6, paragraph 5, 32 Stat. 619, as amended by act March 3, 1917, 39 Stat. 1047, there being nothing indicating such intention in language of either taxing act or bonding acts. (Ib.)

District of Columbia—Tax exemptions in bonding acts must be construed to limit power under earlier act to tax national banks' gross earnings. (Act April 24, 1917, sec. 1; 31 U. S. C. A. sec. 746; act July 1, 1902, sec. 6, par. 5, 32 Stat. 619.)

(Dist. Col. C. A. 1929.) Act April 24, 1917, section 1, 31 U. S. C. A., section 746, and other acts exempting bonds issued thereunder from taxation, having been passed long after act July 1, 1902, section 6, paragraph 5, 32 Stat. 619, imposing tax on gross earnings of national banks in District of Columbia, exceptions or exemptions in bonding acts must be construed to limit taxing power under earlier act. (Ib.)

District of Columbia—Statutes exempting bonds issued thereunder from taxation held applicable to District of Columbia, as well as States. (Act April 24, 1917, sec. 1; 31 U. S. C. A. sec. 746.)

(Dist. Col. C. A. 1929.) Act April 24, 1917, section 1, 31 U. S. C. A., section 746, and other acts exempting both principal and interest of bonds issued thereunder from all taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes, imposed by the United States, its possessions, or any State or local taxing authority apply to the District of Columbia, as well as the States, and place a limitation on Congress, as well as State legislatures. (Ib.)

CITY TAXATION

Courts—Suit to enjoin city officers from collecting national bank tax held not one for presentation to statutory court of three judges. (Laws N. Y., 1923, ch. 897; Rev. St. sec. 5219, as amended by act March 4, 1923 [12 U. S. C. A. sec. 548]; Const. Amend. 14; Judicial Code, sec. 266 [28 U. S. C. A. sec. 380].)

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Suit to enjoin receiver of taxes of the city of New York and the city collector from collecting a tax on national bank stock, in accordance with Laws of New York, 1923, chapter 897, on the ground that such statute was in violation of Revised Statutes, section 5219, as amended by act March 4, 1923 (12 U. S. C. A., sec. 548), and Constitutional Amendment 14, held not to present a proper case for consideration by statutory court of three judges, under Judicial Code, section 266 (28 U. S. C. A., sec. 380); the officers referred to in such law being appointed by comptroller of the city, and having no duties except in collecting taxes levied by city assessing officers. (Public Nat. Bank of New York v. Keating, receiver of taxes, et al., 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 621.)

Sales—Conditional seller, by permitting buyers to use as their own proceeds of property sold, waived any right in or lien on proceeds.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where buyers of equipment under conditional sales contract, after adding certain features, resold equipment, and received and used proceeds as their own property, with knowledge, consent, and approval of conditional seller, who, because it considered buyers to be in good financial condition, did not take assignment of contracts from subsequent purchasers, though buyers were ready and willing to make such assignments, held that seller waived any right in or lien on proceeds, and was in position of creditor of buyers on their bankruptcy. (In re Hollins & Arrouez Electric & Engineering Co., Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. v. Moore et al., 31 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 50.)

- Trusts—One claiming lien on fund on theory that trust funds have been wrongfully mingled therewith has burden of tracing trust moneys into such fund.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) One claiming lien against a certain fund with which trust funds have been wrongfully mingled has burden of proof to trace trust moneys into such fund, and, if he is unable to identify the funds as representing proceeds of his property, his claim must fail. (Ib.)
- Trusts—Lien on theory of tracing trust funds can not be impressed on property not enhanced or augmented thereby.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Lien on theory of tracing trust funds can not be impressed on property which is not shown to have been enhanced or augmented by the unlawful application. (Ib.)
- Corpus of trust fund held not part of decedent's estate subject to estate tax, notwithstanding reserved right to appoint remainderman by will and revoke trust with trustee's consent; "general power of appointment." (Taxing act, February 24, 1919, sec. 402, 402 [e].)*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Corpus of trust fund held not part of decedent's net estate subject to estate tax, within taxing act February 24, 1919, section 402 (40 Stat. 1097), notwithstanding that decedent had reserved power to appoint remainderman by will, to and among his issue, and to revoke trust with trustee's consent, since "general power of appointment" in subdivision (e) contemplates power with no restrictions. (Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. v. Bowers, collector of internal revenue, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series), 14.)
- Trusts—Power to revoke trust is not property right.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Power to revoke trust is not property right, nor an interest in property. (Ib.)
- Trusts—Title passes and remains fixed, for purpose of trust, notwithstanding right to revoke.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Title passes to donee, and remains fixed for purpose of trust, notwithstanding right to revoke, and until such right is exercised estate exists by virtue of transfer. (Ib.)
- Trusts—Power to revoke trust is not transferable or descendible.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Power to revoke trust is not transferable or descendible, nor may it be alienated or passed by will, since it is personal to holder. (Ib.)
- Trusts—Absolute power to revoke trust is equivalent to general power to appoint.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Absolute and unconditional power to revoke trust is treated as equivalent to general power to appoint. (Ib.)
- Drawing check on trust fund and depositing it in same bank to trustee's personal credit is not misappropriation, nor notice to bank of such purpose.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) In absence of statute making it so, drawing of check in due form on trust fund and depositing it in same bank to personal credit of trustee is neither conversion or misappropriation of fund, nor notice to bank of any such purpose. (Maryland Casualty Co. v. City National Bank, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 662.)
- Trustee's payments to bank from account in which trust funds were commingled with private funds held not notice of intention to misappropriate trust fund.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where trust funds are commingled with private funds in personal account of trustee, bank is not bound by its knowledge of that fact to look to manner of their disbursement, and trustee's payments to bank were not notice to it of his intention to misappropriate trust funds. (Ib.)
- Surety, paying county trustee's shortage, could sue bank for funds traced to its possession, or aiding in misappropriation, without seeking to surcharge settlement.*
- (U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where there was no controversy as to fact and amount of county trustee's shortage, which was not discovered till after settlements were made, county could, without seeking to surcharge settlements, sue bank for wrongfully aiding in misappropriation, or for such of its funds as it could trace to possession of bank, and surety, which paid shortage, is entitled to subrogation to that right. (Ib.)

Estoppel.—County, approving reports and settlements because of trustee's misrepresentations, held not estopped to recover funds from bank.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) That commissioners of county made periodical reports on trustee's account, on which settlements were made, did not constitute estoppel, barring recovery from bank of county's funds traced to its possession after trustee's shortage was discovered, where reports and settlements were approved by county because of trustee's fraudulent misrepresentations. (Ib.)

Surety, paying county trustee's shortage, may recover from bank trust funds traced to its possession.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Surety, having paid shortage of county trustee, held entitled to recover from bank any trust funds traced into its hands, as against contention that bank's title to funds paid to it by trustee was complete, under negotiable instruments act of Tennessee. (Acts 1899, ch. 94.) (Ib.)

Where trust and personal funds are commingled in personal account, check for personal obligation is presumably payable from trustee's own money.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Where trust funds have been commingled with personal funds in personal account, law presumes that drawer of check for personal obligation against account intends to make payment out of his own money. (Ib.)

To determine amount of trust money in joint account on given date, minimum balance between such date and date of deposit is amount identifiable as trust fund.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) When trust money has been deposited in joint account, and it must be determined how much remains on given date, minimum balance existing between that date and date of deposit is amount remaining and identifiable as trust fund, since, when trust fund has been reduced, subsequent deposits of personal funds, without intention to restore trust fund, are not to be applied to such restoration. (Ib.)

Perpetuities—Validity of trust in lands under rule against perpetuities was determined by law as it existed prior to donor's death in States in which lands were located.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Validity of trust covering New York and Pennsylvania lands, as regards rule against perpetuities, was determined by common law prevailing in the respective States prior to the death of the donor. (Carnahan et al. v. Peabody et al., 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 412.)

Perpetuities—Gift, on distribution of property after termination of 90-year trust, held void under rule against perpetuities.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Gift under instrument placing donor's property in trust with his partner for period of 90 years, "after which time said estate, together with the accumulations therefrom, shall be given to and divided between the descendants of my two brothers," held void under rule against perpetuities, because intentionally suspending vesting of remainder for arbitrary 90-year period. (Ib.)

Trusts—Rule requiring application of donor's intention to trust overrides rules of construction.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Rule requiring interpretation of trust according to donor's intention overrides all rules of construction. (Ib.)

Perpetuities—Trust fails where only purpose is accumulation for ultimate donees prevented from taking by rule against perpetuities.

(U. S. D. C. 1928.) Where only purpose of trust is accumulation for ultimate donees who are prevented from taking by rule against perpetuities, gift in trust fails. (Ib.)

WAREHOUSEMEN

Warehousemen—Evidence sustained finding that pledgee took warehouse receipt for value in good faith, in replevin action by carrier to recover goods wrongfully delivered.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) In action by initial carrier, as assignee of draft and bill of lading, against pledgee of warehouse receipt, to recover possession of goods wrongfully delivered, evidence held to sustain finding that defendant took warehouse receipt for value in good faith and without notice. (Southern Pac. Co. v. Bank of America, 29 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 465.)

Replevin—Plaintiff's recovery in replevin depends on right to possession, though another has title.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Replevin is possessory action in which recovery depends upon right to possession, and plaintiff having right to possession may prevail, though title is in another. (Ib.)

Warehousemen—Initial carrier taking assignment of bill of lading issued by it, after connecting carrier's wrongful delivery to warehouseman, held not entitled to replevin goods as against bona fide pledgee of warehouse receipt.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Initial carrier issuing bill of lading, of which it subsequently took assignment together with draft, after connecting carrier's wrongful delivery, held not entitled to replevin the goods as against bona fide pledgee of warehouse receipt issued by warehouse company to which goods were delivered, since connecting carrier was plaintiff's agent and defendant had superior right of possession. (Ib.)

Warehousemen—Initial carrier can not question possession of warehouseman, or good-faith holders of warehouse receipt, after connecting carrier's wrongful delivery to warehouseman.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1928.) Initial carrier is not entitled to question right of possession of warehouse company, or persons taking warehouse receipt in good faith and without notice, after connecting carrier's wrongful delivery to warehouse company, since delivery of possession was plaintiff's delivery. (Ib.)

Appeal and error—Assignments for benefit of creditors—Proceeding against debtor's assignee for distribution of fund is equitable, and reviewing court may consider sufficiency of evidence.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Proceeding by creditors for equitable distribution of fund in hands of debtor's assignee is properly instituted in court of equity, and reviewing court is not precluded from considering sufficiency of evidence to support findings or judgment. (McDonnell v. Bank of China et al., 33 Fed. Rep. (2d series) 816.)

Pledges—To constitute "pledge," pledgee must have possession and property must be under creditor's control.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) It is essential, to constitute a "pledge," that the pledgee have possession of the thing pledged and that the property be under power and control of the creditor. (Ib.)

Warehousemen—Transaction whereby debtor executed note and deposited flour as collateral security constituted pledge, irrespective of whether property could be identified.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Transaction whereby debtor executed note to warehouse company and deposited bags of flour as collateral security constituted pledge, where warehouse company had possession thereof, irrespective of whether property could be identified, or was part of general mass at time pledge was made. (Ib.)

Warehousemen—Warehouse company, while retaining note, could not assert right to flour as pledgee, as against holders of warehouse receipts.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Warehouse company, while it held note of pledgor, could not assert right as pledgee in any of flour deposited with it as collateral security, as against holders of warehouse receipts, where there was not sufficient flour in storage to meet demands of all. (Ib.)

Warehousemen—Insolvent warehouse company, after transfer of right in flour pledged to it, held property as agent or bailee.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Insolvent warehouse company, taking pledge of flour in storage as collateral security for note, held flour as agent or bailee for one to whom it transferred its rights as pledgee. (Ib.)

Warehousemen—Where insolvent warehouse company made assignment, holder of receipt covering pledged flour could participate with holders of warehouse receipts in proceeds of flour without identifying pledged flour.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Where insolvent warehouse company, having sufficient flour in storage to satisfy outstanding warehouse receipts made assignment of its property, holder of receipt covering flour pledged to warehouse company was entitled to participate in proceeds of sale of flour with holders of warehouse receipts, though pledged flour could not be identified. (Ib.)

Warehousemen—Where insolvent warehouse gave receipt for flour pledged to it, question whether flour of certain brand came into possession of assignee of warehouse should be determined before entering final decree for distribution of proceeds of flour.

(U. S. C. C. A. 1929.) Question whether flour of a certain brand came into possession of assignee of insolvent warehouse company must be determined before entering final decree for distribution of proceeds of flour among holders of warehouse receipts, where certain flour was pledged to warehouse, and warehouse gave receipt for it and transferred its rights therein to bank. (Ib.)

ACCEPTANCE AND CERTIFICATION

ACCEPTANCE AND CERTIFICATION. Necessity of acceptance in writing citing Paton's Digest opinion 15. Bank of Magazine v. Friddle, 14 S. W. (2d) (Ark.) 238. P. D. 15.5.

ACCEPTANCE AND CERTIFICATION. Interpleader between holder and drawer of certified check who claims no consideration. Greenberg v. World Exchange Bank (by Noonan, J.). The New York Law Journal, page 1714, January 11, 1929. P. D. 45.1.

ACCEPTANCES—TRADE

NEGOTIABILITY WHERE STATEMENT IS THAT "obligation of the acceptor hereof arises out of the purchase of goods from drawee." Court notes that supreme court refused a writ of error from case holding that negotiability was not affected. Arrington v. Mercantile Protective Bureau, 15 S. W. (2d) (Tex.) 663. P. D. 168.

ACCEPTANCES—TRADE—NEGOTIABILITY. Effect upon negotiability of: "The obligation of the acceptor arises out of the purchase of goods from the drawer."

"The only reasonable conclusion to be drawn from the face of these trade acceptances is that their execution completed the contract between the parties and that the promise to pay was unqualified. We therefore conclude that the language of the obligation is no more than a statement of the consideration, or a reference to the origin, of the transaction, and did not destroy the negotiability of the instruments."

Lane Co. v. Crum, 291 S. W. 1084, distinguished. "There is added in the reported case the additional language, 'maturity being in conformity with the original terms of purchase.'"

* * * * *

"In the instant case the trade acceptances represent an unqualified promise to pay a certain sum at a certain time; in the reported case, the trade acceptances represent a promise to pay, qualified by an existing contract between the parties. We conclude, therefore, that the reported case is not contrary to the holding in the instant case." American Exchange National Bank v. Steeley, 10 S. W. (2d) 1038 (Tex.). P. D. 168.

ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATES

DEATH AND DECEDENT'S ESTATE. Authority of foreign corporation to act as administrator. 280 P. (Nev.) 321. P. D. 1719.

BOOKS, INSPECTION OF

CONFIDENTIAL NATURE OF BANK RECORDS. "As to the records of the accounts, the deposit and withdrawals, * * *. There is an implied obligation, as I see it, on the bank, to keep these from scrutiny until compelled by a court of competent jurisdiction to do otherwise."

"If the prosecutor can inspect the accounts of all policemen and their wives, what is to prevent him from making any investigation into any account of other individuals or classes which it may strike his fancy to delve into? The right of personal privacy would be gone, and the public would lose confidence in the institutions to which they intrusted their assets." Brex v. Smith, 146 Atl. (N. J.) 34. P. D. 565.5.

BRANCHES

FOREIGN NATIONAL BANK MAINTAINING IN STATE, OFFICE SOLICITING BUSINESS AND GATHERING INFORMATION, HELD NOT "DOING BUSINESS" THEREIN AND NOT SUBJECT TO STATE COURT'S JURISDICTION NOR SUABLE BY NON-RESIDENT (12 U. S. C. A. SEC. 24, SUBD. 7; GENERAL CORPORATION LAW, SEC. 47.) (City Court of N. Y. 1929.) National bank having its principal place of business in California, and whose main business under 12 U. S. C. A. section 24, subdivision 7, was discounting and negotiating of commercial paper; receiving deposits, buying and selling of exchange, coin, and bullion, loaning money on personal security, and obtaining, issuing, and circulating of notes, none of which functions were performed by it in New York, where it maintained office, solicited business, and gathered information, held "not doing business" in New York so as to be subject to service of process on its vice president in charge of New York office nor subject to suit by nonresident under General Corporation Law, section 47. (Raiola v. Los Angeles First Nat. Trust & Savings Bank. 233 N. Y. S. 301.) P. D. 498.5.

CHECKS

CHECKS—CHECKS PAYABLE TO DRAWEE BANK—EFFECT OF SUCH ORDER. “The checks upon the bank, signed by the president and treasurer of the plaintiff in error, to pay to the order of the bank definite sums, were authority to the bank to pay to itself such sums, and were not authority to the bank to pay such sums to any one else, and therefore, with respect to the amount in which the sums of such checks exceeded the obligations of the plaintiff in error to the bank, the bank still occupied the position of debtor to the plaintiff in error, and its duties with reference to such excess were the duties imposed by its implied contract with the plaintiff in error to pay only upon the order of the president and treasurer.” Damascus Mfg. Co. v. Union Trust Co., 164 N. E. (Ohio) 530. P. D. 1149.

CASHIER'S CHECK LOST IN GAMBLING. Validity in hands of holder in due course. Manufacturers' & Mechanics' Bank of Kansas City v. Twelfth Street Bank, 16 S. W. (2d) (Mo.) 104. P. D. 1163.1.

PAYMENT—AMBIGUOUS CHECK PUTTING DRAWEE BANK IN DILEMMA. The court said: “By drawing these checks in the manner in which they did, thus rendering it uncertain from their terms whether they were for the benefit of the Manual Arts Co. of J. B. Tailer, and then delivering them into the possession of the latter, the respondents placed it in the power of Tailer to mislead the bank in paying the money to him. In such a case the plaintiffs should suffer for the wrongful acts of Tailer.”

“It is well settled that, where an instrument is uncertain as to its terms, it is to be construed most strongly against the party thereto who caused such uncertainty to exist.” Couture v. Ocean Park Bank, 270 Pac. (Calif.) 943. P. D. 1209.1.

CHECKS WITHOUT FUNDS. Payment of Check before trial. Postdated Checks. People v. Weaver, 274 Pac. (Calif.) 361. P. D. 1260.

PERSONAL USE OF FIDUCIARY CHECKS. Liability of bank where fiduciary draws check to himself personally and deposits it in his personal account, misappropriating proceeds by paying bank and otherwise. Maryland Casualty Co. v. City National Bank, 29 Fed. (2d) 662. P. D. 1332.5.

CHECKS WITHOUT FUNDS. Kentucky 1928 and 1926 statutes held unconstitutional. Element of intent to defraud omitted. Imprisonment for debt. “The act is a declaration by the commonwealth to one party to a contractual transaction, whereby he had incurred a debt to the other, that unless he pays that debt he shall be arrested, tried, convicted, fined, and imprisoned at hard labor; and this obviously not for any taint of criminality in the transaction out of which the debt arose. For this default, unless it is purged by paying, before conviction, his debt to the prosecuting party, and the accrued costs of putting this coercion upon him, the debtor may be imprisoned. There is no pretense of punishing him for giving the paper if the preliminary notice or demand shall have the desired effect of extorting the money he owes. If this fails he may be branded a felon under the guise of punishing an act which is not criminal and which does not involve abstract criminality or the taint of moral turpitude, and which might up to the very moment of conviction have been shorn of even its factitious criminality by the payment of the obligation.” Burnam v. Commonwealth, 15 S. W. (2d) (Ky.) 256. Ward v. Commonwealth, 15 S. W. (2d) (Ky.) 276. P. D. 1260.3.

CHECKS WITHOUT FUNDS CRIMINAL LIABILITY OF CORPORATE OFFICER. “When a corporation issues its check in payment of a corporate debt owing to the payee, which check is not honored for lack of funds or credit, none of the officers who signed it in their representative capacity may be prosecuted under section 1292-a of the penal law, because none of them can be regarded as either a maker, drawer, utterer, or deliverer of the check.” People v. Fleishman, 232 N. Y. S. 187. P. D. 1271.1.

FIDUCIARY CHECKS. Payment of personal debt to drawee bank. Charge to fiduciary account of check signed in individual name. Paying cash to fiduciary on bearer check. Checks paid after notice of a misapplication. Massachusetts Bonding & Ins. Co. v. Standard Trust & Savings Bank, 166 N. E. (Ill.) 123. P. D. 1307.1.

Instrument made payable to "A, trustee" received in payment of personal debt of A in violation of trust. Notice of defect from form of instrument. Owens v. Nagel, 165 N. E. (Ill.) 165. P. D. 1307 Section 4 (2).

FIDUCIARY CHECKS. Draft by agent payable to bank other than drawee. Deposit of proceeds in personal account. Misapplication of trust funds in such account. White-Dulany Co. v. Craigmont State Bank. 279 P. (Idaho) 621. P. D. 1307, section 5.

PERSONAL USE OF FIDUCIARY CHECKS. Liability of depository bank, which credits to drawer's agent proceeds of check payable to such bank. Such check as order on depository to place proceeds to drawer's credit. W. L. Chase & Co., Inc., v. Norfolk Nat. Bank of Commerce and Trusts, 145 S. E. (Va.) 725. P. D. 1330.6.

PERSONAL USE OF FIDUCIARY CHECKS.—Fiduciary's check to personal order deposited to his individual account and misapplied. Oregon statute. New Amsterdam Casualty Co. v. Robertson. 278 Pac. (Oreg.) 963. P. D. 1331.5.

OVERDRAFTS

"When a bundle of checks is presented through a clearing house, all must be paid or none. The payer bank is not entitled to select checks for payment, if funds to pay all are insufficient." Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, 10 S. W. (2d) 683. P. D. 3751.5. (Inconsistent with opinions in digest.)

"Checks must be paid in the order in which they are presented. No payee has a right to demand that his check be given priority over a check that came in for payment earlier." Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, 10 S. W. (2d) 683. P. D. 3754.5.

FINALITY OF PAYMENT OF CHECK GENERALLY. A check was paid notwithstanding a stop order. The reason was statements over the telephone by the bank to the holder. "It elected to pay the check, and the transaction is closed. When the check was paid it became dead to the commercial world, mere evidence of a past transaction or indebtedness that had become extinguished by payment. The payment, under the circumstances, was purely a voluntary act on the part of the bank, and it can not recover the funds so paid out from the original payee, Russell, or anyone else." Huffman v. Farmer's National Bank of Cross Plains, 10 S. W. (2d) (Tex.) 753. P. D. 3764.6.

CHECKS

STOPPING PAYMENT OF CHECK. EQUITABLE PURCHASER. A drawee bank felt bound by statements over the telephone to the holder and consequently refused to obey a stop order. The court held the payment purely voluntary so as not to give the drawee any rights over against the parties to the check. Huffman v. Farmers' National Bank of Cross Plains, 10 S. W. (2d) (Tex.) 753. P. D. 4519.5.

STOPPING PAYMENT. Protection of bank by stop-payment agreement. Gaita v. Windsor Bank, 167 N. E. (N. Y.) 203. P. D. 4463.5. (This decision goes very far in protecting the bank.)

COLLATERAL

PLEDGE AND COLLATERAL. Negotiability of collateral note with acceleration provisions, etc. City National Bank v. Roberts, 165 N. E. (Mass.) 470. P. D. 3826.5.

Right of transferee of note to hold collateral for general indebtedness of party of original note to it. Suggestion that collateral note form include provision protecting transferee in this respect. Stover Bank v. Welpman, 19 S. W. (2d) (Mo.) 740. P. D. 3891.8.

Loan of credit pledge of collateral for benefit of third person—Transfer of assets of insolvent national banks. Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Omaha v. L'Herisson, 33 F. (2d) 841. P. D. 736.5.

PLEDGE AND COLLATERAL. Pledge for general indebtedness of pledgor—Inclusion of obligation on which he is jointly liable with another—Right of transferee of note and collateral to hold collateral for general indebtedness of pledgor to him. 34 F. (2d) 334, modified in other respects, 34 F. (2d) 344. P. D. 3891.9.

Note extra copy filed under 3816, with notation that form should specifically include joint obligation of pledgor.

COLLECTIONS

COLLECTION. California bank collection statute construed. Anthony v. Crocker First National Bank, 272 Pac. (Calif.) 767. P. D. 1416.4.

Construction of Georgia statute giving priority for unpaid collection items. Kuniansky v. Mobley, 146 S. E. (Ga.) 898. P. D. 1416.4.

Application of collection agreement to deposit of public funds. Shambaugh v. City Bank of Elm Creek. 226 N. W. (Nebr.) 460. P. D. 1446.10.

Collection "credited subject to final payment." What constitutes final payment? Haas v. Opelousas St. Landry Bank & Trust Co., 119 So. (La.) 372. P. D. 1447.

Bank as holder in due course for value of item deposited for collection when it permits the depositor to withdraw the credit. Bath National Bank v. Ely N. Sonnenstrahl, 164 N. E. (N. Y.) 327. P. D. 1461.

Liability for default of correspondent—Massachusetts rule in Louisiana. (Listed as outstanding case because P. D. lists Louisiana under New York rule.) Haas v. Opelousas St. Landry Bank & Trust Co., 119 So. (La.) 372. P. D. 1471.

Forwarding direct—Bank draft in payment—Custom—Banking customs generally—Collection agreement—charging item back; deposit by public officer—statutes affecting collection. Adams County v. Meadows Valley Bank, 277 Pac. (Idaho) 575. P. D. 1471.7.

Liability of bank for selecting Federal reserve bank as correspondent in view of practice of latter to forward direct. "It would be too strong a thing to say that a national bank is guilty of negligence in clearing through a Federal reserve bank, particularly when the testimony of the officers of the national bank showed that such officers were not advised as to the particular method employed by the Federal reserve bank in making collections." Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, 10 S. W. (2d) 683. P. D. 1481.6.

Compare last paragraph of 1481a. How can a national bank disavow knowledge of practice of Federal reserve bank to forward direct?

FORWARDING DIRECT. Distinction between sending to drawee bank and to bank at which item is made payable. Garrett v. Merchants' Bank & Trust Co., 118 So. (Miss.) 540. P. D. 1483.7.

FORWARDING DIRECT—NEGLIGENCE. Collection bank not liable for forwarding direct where drawee bank did not have sufficient cash to pay check after paying checks previously presented. Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, 10 S. W. (2d) 683. P. D. 1483.8.

RECEIPT OF DRAFT OR CASHIER'S CHECK IN PAYMENT—EFFECT OF CUSTOM.

"The great mass of business to-day is transacted on exchange, and not with actual money. To require a collecting bank which, for the accommodation of a patron, has undertaken to collect for him a check or other commercial paper which he has left with it for that purpose, to accept nothing but legal tender, otherwise to assume all hazard attending the collection, would place not only on the bank, but on business generally, a requirement attended by great inconvenience and delay, and accompanied by greatly increased expense of collection. It would be impracticable and not in harmony with the trend of modern business. The custom prevailing among banking institutions of transacting business by means of checks, credits, and exchanges is of such general and universal nature that courts take judicial notice thereof. Hilsinger v. Trickett, 86 Ohio St. 286, 99 N. E. 305, Ann. Cas. 1913D, 421." Cattaruzza v. First National Bank of Williamson, 146 S. E. (W. Va.) 393. P. D. 1554.4.

CONTRACTS

- ARBITRATION. Power of municipal, quasi-municipal, and private corporations to agree to arbitrate. Attitude of courts toward arbitration. "Where a corporation, whether public or private, is not expressly prohibited from submitting certain matters of this kind to arbitration, and where such corporations have the power to sue and to be sued, arbitration may be resorted to. Such arbitration provisions in a contract are in harmony with the modern tendency of the law which is designed to avoid as much as possible litigation in courts; and they also serve the purpose of procuring a speedy determination when litigation results. Arbitration should therefore be encouraged, rather than discouraged." In re Lower Baraboo River Drainage Dist., 225 N. W. (Wis.) 331. P. D. 1627.

CORPORATION

CORPORATION. Affiliated institutions. Notice to corporation as notice to affiliated institution. Filing of by-law requiring countersignature to corporate check. "Having thus enjoyed the advantages and benefits of the identity of stockholders and unity of ownership, they ought not to be heard to assert the corporate fiction of their separate entity to the disadvantage of a customer whom they had thus invited to disregard the fiction." Damascus Mfg. Co. v. Union Trust Co., 164 N. E. (Ohio) 530. P. D. 1654.5.

DEPOSITS

DEPOSITS. Deposits outside of bank. Receipt by bank officer who makes pass-book entry in compliance with usual practice. Liability of bank for robbery before deposit taken to bank. Effect of statute prohibiting receipt of deposits outside of bank. Wellston Trust Co. v. American Surety Co. of New York, 14 S. W. (2d) (Mo.) 23. P. D. 1778.5.

PERSONAL. Liability of bank officer who induces depositor not to withdraw by fraudulent oral statement as to bank's solvency. Smith v. Vandiver, 147 S. E. (S. C.) 645. P. D. 1781.4.

PUBLIC FUNDS. Power of depository State bank to pledge assets to secure. Recovery of collateral by receiver of insolvent bank. Applicability of defense of ultra vires where transaction fully executed. Farmers' State Bank v. County of Marshall, 221 N. W. (Minn.) 242. P. D. 1804.

Pledge of assets left for safekeeping; rights as between owners of negotiable paper and pledgee. Commercial Guaranty State Bank v. City of Longview, 11 S. W. (2d) (Tex.) 217. P. D. 1804.5.

DEPOSITS IN TWO NAMES. ULTIMATE TITLE. SURVIVORSHIP. Refusal to follow rule of Garland's Appeal, 126 Mo. 84, 136 A. 459. Burns v. Nolette, 144 Atl. (N. H.) 848. P. D. 1832.5.

DEPOSITS IN TWO NAMES. ULTIMATE TITLE IN SURVIVOR. "or." "The word 'or'" in title to bank account "negatives the idea of joint tenancy," with its resultant title in survivor. Boyle v. National Union Bank of Dover, 144 Atl. (N. J.) 10. P. D. 1850.2.

DEPOSITS

SET-OFF. Outlawed note held by bank. Michigan statute. Merritt v. Peterson, 222 N. W. (Iowa) 853. P. D. 4321.1.

DEPOSIT BY COMMISSION MERCHANT. Implied notice of third person's ownership of deposit. Gillen v. Wakefield State Bank, 224 N. W. (Mich.) 761. P. D. 4358.5.

SAFE DEPOSIT AND SAFE-KEEPING. Liability of bank for misappropriation by cashier. "We recognize that the result of this decision is to put a very considerable burden upon banks in the conduct of their business. However, banks hold very responsible positions of trust, and it is not expecting too much of them to protect in every reasonable way the property of their customers committed to their care. They select their own servants and officers, and the law holds them responsible for the acts of their agents within the range of their authority. The bank may, and usually does, protect itself by bonding its employees. But it should do more. It should very carefully supervise such agents and make frequent inspection, full and complete, to guard against dishonesty or carelessness of its agents. The bank should also understand that an agent not only has the authority actually given him under the resolutions of the directors, but the bank may be bound, under some circumstances, by the agent's apparent authority. In no other way may a confiding public be protected." Stevenson v. Columbia Bank of Lodi, 221 N. W. (Wis.) 753. P. D. 4225.

CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT

DEPOSITS IN TWO NAMES. Application of statute where certificate of deposit recites deposit by one person, payable to himself and another. Such deposit as creating merely an agency to withdraw revocable by death. "There is a distinction between those in which the account was opened or placed in the names of the depositor and another and those in which a person other than the original owner was merely authorized to draw on the deposit. Cases discussing the effect of a joint deposit in the names of the original owner and another generally refer to those in whose names the account appears on the books of the bank as joint tenants or tenants in common of the fund. An interesting collection of decisions on this subject appears in the annotation subjoined to Parrish v. Merchants & M. Sav. Bank, L. R. A. 1917C, 548, 550. In our case these decisions are not controlling for the reason that the deposit was made in the name of only one person."

This decision raises question: Shall recommended draft of deposit in two names statute be modified? A form which would include the certificate of deposit in this case (and also deposits payable to more than two persons) reads: "When a deposit, including a deposit evidenced by a certificate of deposit, has been made or shall hereafter be made in any (specify institutions) transacting business in this State payable to either of two persons or to any one of more than two persons, with or without a reference to the survivor or survivors in either case, such deposit * * * may be paid to either or any of said persons whether the other or others be living or not * * * ." This form also specifically mentions certificates of deposit which avoids any doubt as to the application of the statute to such instrument. Jones v. Fullbright, 148 S. E. (N. C.) 229. P. D. 1089.1.

Application to payee of certificate of deposit of rule that bank must know signature of customers, citing Paton's Digest, Opinions 1095, 1096, 2305, 2304a and 2305a. Moler v. State Bank, 223 N. W. (Minn.) 780. P. D. 1095.5.

ALTERED AND RAISED PAPER. Negligent execution facilitating alteration. Position that former conflict of authority was resolved by section 124 of negotiable instruments act providing that "when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor." Recovery by holder in due course according to original tenor, notwithstanding negligent execution. The court said: "Unless the statute is given this construction it fails of its dominant purpose—to establish a uniform rule of liability—and ceases to be a uniform negotiable instrument act." Laseter v. Hill, 118 So. (Ala.) 252. P. D. 328.

ALTERED AND RAISED PAPER. Manifest alteration. Recovery by holder in due course on note as altered. Payee's name erased. Making interest payable from date instead of from maturity. "I, we, or either of us added." Filling blanks. Saxon v. McGill, 16 S. W. (2d) (Ark.) 987. P. D. 366.

Fraudulent issue by cashier of certificate of deposit. Estoppel of bank. Recovery by good faith holder of nonnegotiable certificate of damages incurred. "They were forgeries of no value as commercial paper in any body's hands whether holders in due course or otherwise. The bank is not liable on the certificates, but is liable for the damage done by them." (Quoted from p. 943.) Citizens' State Bank v. Security Bank of Tyndall, 222 N. W. (S. Dak.) 932. Bank of Avon v. Smith, 222 N. W. (S. Dak.) 936. Menno State Bank v. Security Bank of Tyndall, 222 N. W. (S. Dak.) 938. Schelske v. Smith, 222 N. W. (S. Dak.) 941. Tripp v. Smith, 222 N. W. (S. Dak.) 943. Yankton College v. F. R. Smith, 222 N. W. (S. Dak.) 946. P. D. 2311.

WHAT CONSTITUTES FORGERY. Signature purporting to be that of agent or officer, but unauthorized. Forgery insurance. Dexter Horton Nat. Bank of Seattle v. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 270 Pac. (Wash.) 799. P. D. 2404.1.

CHATTELS. Indebtedness secured. Specific note mentioned. General clause extending security to liability "now existing." Other existing notes not included. "Irrespective of stereotyped or general printed provisions appearing in a contract, the literal or sweeping terms of a contract may never prevail over what appears to the court to be the rational and general intent of the parties thereto." The warning from this decision and the similar one of St. Lucie County Bank & Trust Co. v. Aglin, 114 So. (Fla. 1927) 438, is not to put too much trust in printed forms. To remove doubt as to enforcement they should be short, clear, and in no way inconsistent with the words written in. First Nat. Bank of Ardmore v. Gillam, 273 Pac. (Okla.) 261. P. D. 3206.1.

And, in an action upon such bond, an allegation that the cashier, as such, has received money for which he has not accounted, is a sufficient assignment of a breach." Sparta State Bank v. Myers, 165 N. E. (Ind.) 439. P. D. 2842.1.

STATE TAXATION

FLORIDA

- STATE TAXATION OF NATIONAL BANKS. Florida constitutional amendment of 1924. As amended in 1924, section 1 of article 9 of the Florida Constitution, reads in part as follows: "The legislature shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of taxation (except that it may provide for special rate or rates on intangible property, but such special rate or rates shall not exceed 5 mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation of such intangible property, which special rate or rates, of the taxes collected therefrom, may be apportioned by the legislature, and shall be exclusive of all other State, county, district, and municipal taxes;) * * *"

The court said: "The amendment is not self-executing or mandatory, but merely confers upon the legislature permissive authority to provide for special rates of taxation on intangible property, though the amendment contains a mandatory limitation as to special rates of taxation when such special rates are duly provided for on intangible property. Therefore, until the legislature does duly provide for special tax rate or rates on intangible property, the organic general rule of uniformity and equality in the rate of taxation of all property, real and personal, including intangible property, remains in force. When, however, the permissive authority conferred upon the legislature is exercised and provision is duly made by the legislature for special rates of taxation on intangible property, the rate or rates 'shall not exceed 5 mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation of such intangible property,' even though the tax rate on other classes of property be greater. * * *"

"The legislature has not exercised the permissive authority conferred upon it to provide for special rates of taxation on intangible property; therefore the statute requiring all public stocks or shares in all incorporated or unincorporated companies to be assessed as other personal property, is the controlling law when applied as the constitution requires." Porter v. First National Bank of Panama City, 119 So. (Fla.) 130. P. D. 4664.

KENTUCKY

Partial exemption of bank stock from local taxation. Jones v. Citizens' Bank of Hartford, 15 S. W. (2d) (Ky.) 468. P. D. 4617.

MISSOURI

State taxation of bank stock. Discrimination. "There is no justification for assessing bank stock on the one hand at full value and all other property on the other at less than its real value. The assessor is commanded to value and assess all property according to its true value in money, and the State board of equalization to determine as to each class of property its true value in money. If these plain mandatory provisions are violated through discrimination as between the different classes of property, the power of correction does not lie with the county board of equalization. The taxpayer who suffers from such discrimination must find relief in a court of equity. Boonville National Bank v. Schlotzhauser, 317 Mo. 1298, 298 S. W. 732, 55 A. L. R. 489." State ex rel. Thompson, State auditor, et al. v. Direkx, county clerk, 11 S. W. (2d) 38. P. D. 4664. (Mo.)

Discrimination against stock of banks and trust companies. Remedy by injunction. "Appellant's grievance is not that its property was overvalued but that it was discriminated against through the undervaluation and omission in part of other property subject to taxation. Had it at any time before the tax books were delivered to the collector filed complaint with the State tax commission, that body in the proper exercise of its jurisdiction would have granted a hearing and would have heard evidence with respect to the valuation complained of, and if the charges contained in the complaint had been found to be true the valuations placed on its property would have been lowered, or that on other property raised, the property omitted from the assessment roll would have been placed thereon, and the discrimination complained of thereby removed. The remedy provided by statute is adequate, certain, and complete. To permit taxpayers throughout the State who feel aggrieved through alleged discriminatory assessments of their property to stand silently by until after the taxes have become due and are pressed for collection and then resist their payment by injunction would produce an intolerable condition." Brinkerhoff-Faris Trust & Sav. Co. v. Hill, 19 S. W. (2) (Mo.) 746. P. D. 4682.7.

MONTANA

Invalidity of tax on State bank stock at higher rate than permissible on national bank stock. "That Congress may not interfere with the taxation of property which it is the exclusive right of the State to tax will not be questioned. The difficulty here arises chiefly upon the requirements of the State constitution. It requires the taxation of all property not exempt, and that the tax must be uniform upon the same class of subjects. The congressional requirement we are considering is not inconsistent with our constitutional provision requiring uniformity. It is thus our own fundamental law, acting coordinately with the law of Congress, which compels the State to tax State as well as national bank shares upon the same basis." State ex rel. Conrad Banking Corporation of Great Falls v. Mady, 272 Pac. (Mont.) 691. P. D. 4623.3.

<sup>1</sup> Exclusive also of certified, cashiers' and dividend checks outstanding, and of letters of credit and travelers' checks sold for cash and outstanding.

<sup>5</sup> The cash in vault (exclusive of national-bank notes) and due from approved reserve agents.
