> Treasury Department,
> Office of the Comprroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C., January 5, 1937.

Sir: According to section 333, of the Revised Statutes as amended, the Comptroller of the Currency is required to make an annual report to Congress, which report shall contain: First, a summary of the state and condition of every association from which reports have been received during the preceding year, with an abstract of their total banking capital, total debts and liabilities, total means and resources, the amount of lawful money held by them, and the amount of circulating notes outstanding; second, a statement of the associations whose business has been closed during the year, with the amount of their circulation redeemed and the amount outstanding; third, any amendment to the laws relative to banking by which the system may be improved, and the security of the holders of its notes and other creditors may be increased; fourth, such information as is obtainable regarding the resources and liabilities and condition of banks, banking companies, and savings banks organized under the laws of the several States and Territories; fifth, the names and compensation of the clerks employed by the Comptroller, and the whole amount of the expenses of the banking department during the year. Therefore, pursuant to this statute, I have the honor to submit the seventy-fourth report made to Congress by the Comptroller of the Currency since the organization of this Bureau.

ACTIVITIES OF THE BUREAU

The following summary sets forth some of the more important activities of the Bureau of the Comptroller of the Currency, and events relating thereto, during the year ended October 31, 1936.

1. No national bank failed in the United States. This establishes a 55 -year record in the history of the national banking system. The last national bank to fail was the Commercial National Bank of Bradford, Pa., which closed on September 30, 1935.
2. Four calls for condition were made on national banks. Each of the last three calls successively established a new high record in national bank deposits. The figures for deposits as of the four call dates are as follows:

|  | Number of | Deposits |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Nov. 1, 1935 | 5,409 | 524, 033, 236, 000 |
| Dec. 31, 1935 | 5,392 | 24, 847, 733, 000 |
| Mar. 4, 1936 | 5,381 | 24, 859, 455,000 |
| June 30, 1936 | 5,374 | 26, 200, 453, 000 |

Attention should be called to the fact that there are 2,895 less national banks in operation than there were in 1922, when the largest number was in existence.
3. As of June 30, 1936, deposits in the 15,803 active banks of all classes in the country amounted to $$ 58,339,815,000$, an increase of $$ 6,753,692,000$ over the preceding year.
4. The consolidated returns of all national banks for the year ended June 30, 1936, showed net additions to profits of $$ 241,971,000$, an increase of 239 percent over the preceding year.

5. Receiverships numbering 215 were terminated. Total disbursements, to depositors and other creditors of these institutions, including offsets allowed, amount to $$ 64,016,705$, or 77.49 percent of the total liabilities established.
6. The termination of national bank receiverships has enabled the Bureau to combine several receiverships under 1 receiver, and there are now 1,212 national banks in receivership in charge of 526 receivers.
7. The percentage of cost of liquidation to total collections from all sources has risen from 7.67 percent for the year ended October 31, 1935 to 10.27 percent for the current annual report year. With no new receiverships added, and only the less desirable assets remaining in the trusts, it is expected that the average cost of liquidation will continue to rise.
8. Preferred stock in the aggregate par value of $$ 183,001,627$ was retired, in full or in part, by 807 national banks. On October 31, 1936, the aggregate par value of preferred stock outstanding in 2,025 national banks was $$ 352,072,786$.
9. The Bureau issued a volume entitled "Federal Laws Affecting National Banks as of January 1, 1936", in which all such statutes passed up to that date are segregated from the various laws to make these important provisions readily available to the banking world. The Bureau also published volume V of the "Digest of Decisions Relating to National Banks.". This is considerably larger than former volumes and contains cross-indexes and an elaborate topical index. The demand for the book was so great that a third printing was necessary.
10. The retirement system for national bank examiners, assistant examiners, and clerks, authorized by Congress at its last session, was

13. From time to time, various sums have been borrowed from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the purpose of paying dividends to depositors in closed national banks, pledging with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation assets of the trusts. The greatest amount due the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on such loans at any one time was $$ 143,662,107$ on December 31, 1934. The total interest paid on these loans through October 31, 1936, amounts to $$ 10,024,539$. Up to this date, the corporation has had no losses to charge off on such loans. Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans have been taken over from receivership institutions by 33 going banks, and the balance due these going banks is $$ 28,300,753$.
14. In accordance with the order issued by Hon. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, on March 11, 1935, calling for redemption United States Panama Canal and Consol bonds which had the circulating privilege, and due to the expiration of the circulating privilege on certain other United States bonds, national bank notes amounting to $$ 535,418,115$ have been retired. There is at present outstanding $$ 328,659,920$ in such notes.
15. At the request of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, this Bureau issued $$ 2,115,345,000$ in Federal Reserve notes during the year.
16. Only two important changes have been made in the personnel of the Comptroller's Office. Floyd G. Awalt resigned as First Deputy Comptroller of the Currency on February 15, 1936, to join a Washington law firm. William Prentiss, Jr., of California, was appointed as his successor and his appointment was approved by the Secretary of the Treasury. L. L. Madland resigned as chief national bank examiner of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District on September 1, 1936, to accept an important position with one of the larger banking institutions on the coast, and he was succeeded by Frank W. Shanley.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

From the establishment of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to October 31, 1936, 71 member banks of the fund have failed with total deposit liabilities at date of closing of $$ 19,400,000$. One of these banks, with deposits of $$ 85,000$, was subsequently reorganized and reopened as an insured bank. The remaining 70 banks were placed in receivership. Five of these were national banks. Depositors in the 70 banks numbered 84,700. All depositors were paid their insured deposits immediately upon the presentation and proof of their claims. Up to October 31, 1936, the Corporation has recovered approximately $$ 2,900,000$ in dividends from these banks to apply on its liability. All payments made by the Corporation on deposit liabilities and for its operating expenses have been paid out of earnings.

The total assessments paid by all insured banks to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation amount to $$ 47,035,025$. Of this sum the national banks paid $$ 25,778,356$. It is interesting to note that the 10 largest national banks paid $$ 8,916,421$, or 34.59 percent of the total paid by the 5,351 national banks. The percentage of deposite insured in national banks varies from 1.2 percent of the total deposits up to above 90 percent. In the 10 largest national banks, 22.6 percent of the total deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The following table gives the percentage of insured deposits in each of these banks:

As of May 13, 1936, 5,367 national banks were insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation with total deposits of $$ 25$, $394,075,000$, of which $$ 10,626,017,000$, or 41 percent, was insured. The following table gives the percentage of insurance based on the size of the banks:
${ }^{\top}$ nsurance coverage of national banks, May 13, 1936, by size of bank

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation reports that on May 13, 1936, insured commercial banks reported a total of 57 million accounts, of which 56 million, or 98.4 percent, were accounts with balances not exceeding $$ 5,000$, the maximum insurance for each depositor. Deposits in these banks amounted to $$ 45,000,000,000$, of which $$ 19,500,000,000$, or 43 percent, were insured. On October 1, 1934, total deposits of 14,060 insured commercial banks amounted to $$ 36,000,000,000$, of which $$ 15,600,000,000$, or 43.5 percent, were insured.

PRESENT BANKING SITUATION

The periodic reports of condition received in response to calls made on all national banks, under the provisions of section 5211 of the Revised Statutes, continue to show an improvement in the banking situation of the country. The last such call in the current annual report year was on June 30, 1936. A comparison of the returns made for that date with the returns for June 29, 1935, which were published in the Comptroller's last annual report, shows increases in the loans and investments, cash in vault and balances with other banks, total assets, total deposits, and total capital account. The loans and investments on June 30, 1936, aggregated $$ 20,245,967,000$, an increase during the year of $$ 2,160,864,000$, or 11.95 percent; the total of cash and exchange, comprising cash in vault, balances with other banks, and reserve with Federal Reserve banks, amounted to $$ 8,381,426,000$, an increase of $$ 1,513,205,000$, or 22.03 percent; and the total assets of $$ 29,702,839,000$ were greater by $$ 3,641,774,000$, or 13.97 percent. The book value of the capital stock on June 30,1936 , was $$ 1,691,375,000$, a decrease of $$ 118,128,000$ due to the retirement of preferred stock and a reduction in the number of active banks. However, surplus, profits, and reserves totaling $$ 1,474,353,000$ showed increases in the year in the aggregate of $$ 197,438,000$, or 15.46 percent. The deposits were $$ 26,200,453,000$, the greatest in the history of the national banking system, exceeding by $$ 3,682,207,000$, or 16.35 percent, the total reported for June 1935. Borrowed money, represented by bills payable and rediscounts, was reduced $$ 1,771,000$, or from $$ 4,643,000$ to $$ 2,872,000$. The number of active banks decreased in the year from 5,431 to 5,374 .

In the 3 -year period from June 30, 1933, the first call following the banking holiday, when there were 4,902 licensed national banks, to June 30, 1936, the loans and investments rose 30.69 percent; cash and exchange 103.48 percent; and the total assets 42.39 percent. The book value of capital stock during that period increased 11.59 percent; the total of surplus, profits, and reserves 9.95 percent; and deposits 56.20 percent.

A material improvement in the condition of all classes of banks in the country is disclosed by a comparison of the returns for all active banks, State and national, covering the 3 -year period from June 30, 1933, to June 30, 1936. Loans and investments of $$ 48,698,692,000$, reported for 15,803 banks on the latter date, exceeded by $$ 8,380,211,000$, or 20.79 percent, the amount reported for 14,624 licensed banks operating on an unrestricted basis 3 years ago. Cash, balances due from banks, and reserve with reserve agents, increased $$ 7,357,596,000$, or 94.76 percent; and the total assets increased $$ 15,896,673,000$, or 30.99 percent. Capital stock, including capital notes and debentures, on June 30, 1936, amounted to $$ 3,421,226,000$, an increase of $$ 521,685,000$, or 17.99 percent, in the 3 years, and surplus, profits, and reserves totaling $$ 4,549,867,000$ increased $$ 64,120,000$, or 1.43 percent. The total deposits on June 30, 1936, were $$ 58,339,815,000$, showing an increase of $$ 16,806,345,000$, or 40.46 percent, in the 3 -year period. Borrowed money of $$ 46,231,000$ was reduced 90.83 percent.

A comparison of returns for all classes of banks in the country on June 30, 1936, with those for June 30, 1935, shows the loans and investments to have increased 9.10 percent; cash and exchange, 21.98 percent; and total assets, 11.27 percent. Although the capital stock, capital notes, and debentures show a reduction of 5.11 percent, the total of surplus, profits, and reserves was increased 7.55 percent. The deposits of all banks on June 30,1936 , were $$ 6,753,692,000$, or 13.09 percent, greater than reported in 1935. Bills payable and rediscounts decreased 24.63 percent.

The earnings figures for all classes of banks in the country are not obtained by the Comptroller. However, the earnings reports submitted by national banks show that after providing for losses and expenses, but before dividends, there was added to the undivided profit accounts $$ 241,971,000$ in the year ended June 30, 1936, which is the largest addition made to the profits since the fiscal year 1930. Net addition to profits in the current year exceeded by $$ 170,599,000$, or 239 percent, the amount reported for 1935, and represented 14.25 percent of the total of common and preferred stock outstanding on June 30, 1936. Dividends paid in 1936 on common and preferred stock amounted to $$ 125,679,000$, or 7.40 percent. These dividends, which included $$ 10,345,000$ payable in stock, were the largest in amount and percent paid in any of the last four fiscal years.

LEGAL DEPARTMENT

The work of the Legal Department of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency may be divided broadly into two classes:
(1) Advice, rules, and decisions upon matters relating to: (a) Going national banks, including the interpretation and construction of existing laws and consideration of prospective banking legislation, (b) issuance of preferred stock in going national banks and the scope and extent of rights, liabilities, and duties incident thereto, (c) reorganization of national banks, including the drafting of plans of reorganization and papers in connection therewith, (d) liquidation of insolvent national banks in receivership.
(2) Supervision over, and, where advisable, actual participation in, litigation incident to the foregoing fields of activity.

Since the abnormal increase in March 1933 in the number of closed banks under the jurisdiction of the Comptroller of the Currency, there has been an ever-increasing necessity for supervision of legal matters in the receiverships, and particularly the necessity for careful supervision of novel questions of law arising through litigation. The time which has elapsed since the inception of the major portion of these novel questions has been sufficient to cause many of them to be now on hearing in the appellate courts and courts of last resort.

This office participated in and advised concerning many cases in Circuit Courts of Appeals. For the period of this report, 68 of these cases may be found in published reports, 41 containing decrees favorable to the receiver and 27 adverse to the receiver.

During the past year (October term, 1935, to October term, 1936) 26 cases involving receivership banks under the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency were before the Supreme Court of the United States for consideration, either on writs of certiorari or for argument on the merits. Of these, 16 were disposed of in favor of the receiver and 4 cases were pending before the court at the close of the October 1935 term, in 3 of which the court has since handed down opinions favorable to the receiver.

In addition to supervising litigation and advising upon legal questions arising from the receiverships and submitted by the receivers, the Legal Department has upon its own initiative directly handled and negotiated many compromises and settlements of cases which would otherwise require large expenditures and consume much time of the receiverships and this office. Through negotiations initiated and carried through by attorneys in the Comptroller's office, some of the major recoveries for the benefit of depositors since the last annual report of the Comptroller have reached a total amount in excess of 14 million dollars. The matters have been effected directly by the Legal Department of this office.

The Legal Department passes upon and actively supervises every case involving insolvent national banks carried (by either side) to the various courts of appeal throughout the United States, and where necessary participates with the local attorneys in the arguments. No appeal is taken by a receiver to the Circuit Court of Appeals unless the case has first been considered and authorized by the Legal Department.

SUGGESTIONS FOR LEGISLATION

In view of the very satisfactory condition of the banks of the Nation and the constructive legislation which has been passed during the past few years, no recommendations are made for additional bank legislation of a general character. With respect to financial institutions within the District of Columbia, which are under the supervision of this office, two recommendations to the Seventy-fourth Congress are renewed, one for a thoroughgoing revision of the code for building and loan associations, the other for assessing against each credit union the costs of examining it.

NATIONAL BANKS IN THE TRUST FIELD

National banks continued to show steady and substantial progress in the development of trust activities, as reflected by statistics compiled for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1936. One thousand nine hundred and twenty-three national banks on that date had authority to exercise trust powers, with a combined capital of $$ 1,399,538,802$ and banking assets of $$ 25,856,833,525$, which represented 35.78 percent of the number, 82.41 percent of the par value of capital, and 87.05 percent of the assets of all banks in the national banking system.

Of the number authorized to exercise trust powers under the provisions of section 11 ( k ) of the Federal Reserve Act, 1,573 banks had active trust departments and were administering 132,842 individual trusts with assets aggregating $$ 9,564,651,286$, and in addition were administering 16,997 corporate trusts and acting as trustees for outstanding note and bond issues amounting to $$ 11,167,569,142$. Compared with 1935 these figures represent a net increase of 3,327 or 2.27 percent in the number of trusts being administered; an increase of $$ 313,359,339$ or 3.39 percent in the volume of individual trust assets under administration; an increase of 196 or 1.17 percent in the number of corporate trusts and a decrease of $$ 437,575,884$ or 3.77 percent in the volume of note and bond issues outstanding under which national banks had been named to act as trustees.

Segregation of the number of fiduciary accounts in national banks reveal that 70,194 , or 46.85 percent, were those created under private or living trust agreements; 62,648 , or 41.81 percent, were trusts being administered under the jurisdiction of the courts, and the remaining 16,997 , or 11.34 percent, were trusteeships under corporate bond or note-issue indentures. Private trust assets comprised $$ 7,741,956,366$ or 80.94 percent of the total assets under administration, while the remaining $$ 1,822,694,920$, or 19.06 percent, belonged to court trusts.

An analysis of the $$ 8,094,291,248$ of invested trust funds belonging to the private and court trusts under administration revealed that 51.01 percent were in bonds; 30.09 percent in stocks; 7.48 percent in real-estate mortgages; 7.22 percent in real estate; and 4.20 percent consisted of miscellaneous assets.

The substantial development of trust activities in national banks is further emphasized by comparing the record in 1936 with that of 1926 which reflects an increase during the decade of 123,786 , or 475.13 percent, in the number of trusts being administered; an increase of $$ 8,642,322,609$, or 937.01 percent, in the volume of individual trust assets under administration and an increase of $$ 8,704,015,826$, or 353.31 percent, in the volume of note and bond issues outstanding for which national banks were acting as trustees.

That the growth in earnings from trust-department operations has kept pace with the increased volume of trusts which have been entrusted to the administration of the banks in the national banking system is revealed by the fact that during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1936, gross earnings aggregating $$ 30,259,000$ were reported as against $$ 26,479,000$ in 1935 , representing a gain of $$ 3,780,000$, or 14.28 percent over 1935 , and an increase of $$ 22,004,000$, or 266.55 percent over 1926.

Two hundred and eighty-eight national banks were acting as trustees under 1,154 insurance trust agreements involving $$ 56,956,881$ in proceeds from insurance policies, while 698 national banks had been named trustee under 17,049 insurance trust agreements not yet matured or operative, supported by insurance policies with a face value aggregating $$ 654,388,938$.

Three hundred and seventy-seven of the banks spent $$ 230,485$ during the year for trust advertising, 39 banks employed full-time trust solicitors and 68 banks utilized the services of part-time trust solicitors.

Two hundred and forty-seven banks were acting as transfer agent for 2,309 accounts and 382 banks were acting as registrar of stocks and bonds for 4,365 accounts.

An analysis of the new business placed on the books of the national banks between June 30, 1935, and June 30, 1936, developed that 281 banks were named trustees for 1,226 bond and note issues aggregating $$ 890,358,910 ; 852$ banks were named to act as individual trustees under 8,012 agreements involving $$ 317,090,906 ; 758$ banks were named to act under 2,778 executorships involving $$ 153,152,791$; 584 banks were named as administrator under 1,517 appointments involving $$ 23,765,755 ; 561$ banks were named under 2,741 guardianships involving $$ 11,089,686 ; 5$ banks were named to act as assignee in 19 instances involving $$ 720,940 ; 33$ banks were named to act in 107 receiverships involving $$ 1,356,371 ; 134$ banks were named to act as committee of estates of lunatics in 365 cases involving $$ 2,431,916$, while 450 banks were named to act 6,377 times in miscellaneous fiduciary capacities other than those enumerated above, involving $$ 796,368,781$.

Ninety-one banks were named to act as registrar of stocks and bonds in 239 cases involving $$ 196,083,139$, while 66 banks were named to act as transfer agent in 382 instances involving $$ 60,238,794$.

National-bank branches numbering 241 on June 30, 1936, were actively engaged in administering 13,546 trusts, with individual trusts assets aggregating $$ 765,113,725$, and were acting as trustees for outstanding bond and note issues amounting to $$ 402,825,715$.

The following tables show in detail the activities of national banks in the trust field, segregated: First, according to capital of the banks; second, according to the population of places in which the banks were located; third, according to Federal Reserve districts; and fourth, analysis of the type of investments held in trust, with a supplemental table showing the extent to which national-bank branches were furnishing trust service to the communities in which they were located.

NATIONAL BANK FAILURES ${ }^{1}$

No actual failures of national banks or District of Columbia State banks occurred during the year ended October 31, 1936. During such period receivers were, however, placed in charge of six national banks, one District of Columbia State bank and one District of Columbia building and loan association. Of these total appointments, seven were for the purpose of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments against shareholders of banks, the collection of which was necessary because of unsatisfied indebtedness of such institutions. The remaining appointment was for a building and loan association located in the District of Columbia.

During the year ended October 31, 1936, 214 receiverships were liquidated and finally closed, in addition to which 1 receivership was restored to solvency. These 215 receiverships disposed of during the current year represent the largest number of final closings in a like period during the history of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. It is also found as a result of these receivership closings in 1936, together with other final closings in 1934 and 1935, and regardless of many additional banks having been placed in receivership during such periods, that the largest number of active national bank receiverships in the history of the Comptroller's Office, of 1,568 as of July 19, 1934, had been reduced as of October 31, 1936, to 1,212.

As noted above a District of Columbia building and loan association was placed in receivership during the year ended October 31, 1936. The receivership referred to was the Fidelity Building & Loan Association, Washington, D. C., declared insolvent and placed in charge of a receiver by the Comptroller of the Currency under date of July 18, 1936. This appointment of a receiver for a building and loan association was regularly made in accordance with the Code of Laws of the District of Columbia (Act Oct. 1, 1890, sec. 6; 26 Stat. L. 626. Act Mar. 3, 1901, 31 Stat. L. 1304, c. 854 , sec. 720 . Title 5, ch. 12, sec. 347, Code of Laws of District of Columbia), following an examination of the loan association by a regular national bank examiner, also regularly made in accordance with the above-quoted section of the District of Columbia Code.

This loan association, incorporated as of March 5, 1929, under the code of laws of the District of Columbia, as the Fidelity Building & Loan Association of Washington, D. C., with an authorized capital stock of $$ 25,000,000$, did not, however, at the time of the receiver's appointment therefor, have a regular paid in capital stock as in the case of a national bank; and no capital stock figure will therefore be included for this receivership in schedules appearing elsewhere in this report. The assets of this receivership were found to consist principally of advances to shareholders, indirectly secured by real estate through deed of trust, although the exact legal status of such arrangement has not been definitely determined at this time. It appears

[^0]however, that due to the stock-subscription requirement for membership that both debtors and creditors of the association may also be stockholders thereof. As the peculiar nature of the assets in this case have made it impracticable to apply the regular receivership classification as to estimated values, such assets have been tentatively included in schedules elsewhere in this report as "good." Liabilities of the association were found to consist principally of amounts due to creditors or stockholders on account of moneys paid in or deposited from time to time for eventual application in payment of capital stock subscribed for. As the exact status of these accounts as liabilities of the receivership has not been definitely determined, such items have been tentatively listed in schedules elsewhere in this report as "deposits."

In reporting upon the progress and results of liquidation of insolvent national banks for the year ended October 31, 1936, it has been possible for the third consecutive year to furnish data with respect to the earnings of such banks while in process of liquidation, as derived from the accruals and collections of interest, premiums, rents, etc. As will be noted from figures of earnings contrasted with expense of liquidation reported upon in detail in following paragraphs for various groups of banks in liquidation, the earnings of national bank receiverships generally approximate the amount of expenses incurred, contrary to the impression sometimes held that all expense of liquidation is a loss or dissipation of moneys belonging to depositors and creditors. In view of the nearly equal proportion of earnings to expenses incident to the liquidation of insolvent national banks, it may, we believe, again be emphasized that depositors' equities in the assets of failed national banks are not materially depreciated due to receivership operations.
During the year ended October 31, 1936, total costs incurred in the liquidation of insolvent national banks, as reported by receivers were equivalent to 10.27 percent of total collections from all sources, including offsets allowed. The major portion of this increase in the percentage of expense for the current year over that for previous years is, of course, the result of the increased average liquidation age of receiverships in process of liquidation, combined with the well understood fact that the percentage of costs to collections is comparatively low during the early years of liquidation, but progressively increases from date of failure to date of final closing. However, a not inconsiderable portion of this increase in expense is the result of interest payments to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and lending banks upon loans to receivers for dividend payment purposes. Total corporation and lending bank interest payments by receivers to October 31, 1936, as indicated by the records of this office totaled $$ 10,405,109$, of which approximately $$ 4,000,000$ was paid during the current year. Total collections from all sources, including offsets allowed, as reported by receivers for the year, amounted to $$ 185$,513,595, while similar total collections for the years 1933, 1934, and 1935 , were $$ 356,678,150, $ 501,718,516$, and $$ 358,511,944$, respectively.

All available facilities have continued to be employed by this office during the year ended October 31, 1936, to expedite the distribution of dividends to depositors and creditors of insolvent national banks. In addition to dividend payments made possible through the normal process of liquidation, Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to receivers of insolvent national banks have been obtained to further expedite distributions to depositors. Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan commitments so obtained by receivers of insolvent national banks during the year ended October 31, 1936, as indicated by the records of this office amounted to $$ 39,671,900$, while cash advances or actual loans obtained under existing commitments aggregated $$ 41,361,984$. Total loan commitments obtained by receivers of insolvent national banks from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation from the date of its organization to October 31, 1936, as indicated by the records of this office amounted to $$ 480,826,000$, while cash advances drawn against such commitments aggregated $$ 378,378,724$. Total Reconstruction Finance Corporation commitments outstanding and unpaid advances to receivers of insolvent national banks as of October 31, 1936, were according to the records of this office $$ 16,637,412$ and $$ 21,913,602$, respectively. This unpaid balance of loans represents a reduction therein during the past year of $$ 72,404,896$.

With further reference to the negotiation of Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans by receivers for dividend payment purposes during recent years, we are glad to announce, in accordance with the expressed desire of the President to remove the Government from business, as well as to effect a reduction in the expense of liquidation of insolvent national banks, that during the past year Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans have in certain instances been replaced by loans from banks at a lesser rate of interest. Specifically, it has been possible in connection with Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to receivers of certain banks obtained at an interest rate of 4 percent per annum, to borrow from various State and National banks located in the vicinjty of such receiverships, sufficient funds at an interest rate of $21 / 2$ percent per annum to partially or entirely retire the Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans previously carried at the higher interest rate. This transfer of receivership loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to lending State and National banks at a saving of $11 / 2$ percent per annum in the rate of interest paid therefor amounted to a savings of approximately $$ 1,163$ per day or $$ 424,510$ per year on the basis of the unpaid balances of such lending bank loans as of October 31, 1936. Lending bank loan commitments obtained by receivers of insolvent national banks during the past year under this plan amounted to $$ 51,734,200$, while cash advances or loans actually obtained under such commitments totaled $$ 45,569,396$. Lending bank loan commitments outstanding and unpaid advances to receivers of insolvent national banks as of October 31, 1936, were $$ 6,164,804$, and $$ 28,300,753$, respectively.

During the past year 38 of the 214 completed liquidations and final closings of receiverships have resulted from the plan inaugurated in 1935, of obtaining from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation socalled termination loans to receivers for the specific purpose of effecting immediate final closings of receiverships involved. Termination loans obtained in connection with the 38 final closings effected thereby during the current year amounted to $$ 366,140$. This plan of effecting early terminations of receiverships, as described in detail in my annual report for the year 1935, consisted briefly in borrowing upon the security of values existing in remaining assets, the largest amount possible for distribution as dividends to creditors, with subsequent sale of assets involved to depositors' committees or trustees.

An additional plan of liquidation involving the disposal at public auction of real-estate properties held by receivers, originally placed in operation in 1935, and designed to facilitate liquidation and expedite the final closings of receiverships, has been continued during the current year. This type of liquidation has been found to be highly desirable and productive of gratifying results in instances where applied. In fact such sales of real estate at public auction have resulted in disposal of the many groups of properties offered at figures approximating, if not exceeding, the receivers' estimated values thereof. However, due to local competition and complications unavoidably resulting from this program of more or less wholesale disposal of real-estate properties at receivers' auctions, sucli plan of liquidation is being gradually supplanted by one of strictly local auction sales of lesser individual magnitude. Figures relative to 72 of such real-estate auction sales reported upon by receivers to date, out of a total of approximately 90 sales held to October 31, 1936, are as follows:

There has been little reorganization activity in connection with closed or insolvent national banks during the year ended October 31, 1936. This lack of reorganizations during the current year is the natural result of the reorganization program with respect to unlicensed national banks following the banking holiday of 1933, having been completed early in 1935, together with the fact there were no actual failures of national banks during 1936, and that the majority of existing receiverships are now of sufficient liquidation age to largely preclude the possibility of reorganizations thereof. It may be noted, however, that this office has during the year extended its assistance to banks in connection with the perfection of plans whereby such institutions might conclude their banking existence through consolidation or merger with other institutions or through voluntary liquidation. In the future as in the past the full cooperation of this office will be available for the furtherance of reorganization plans for closed or insolvent national banks where circumstances indicate the soundness of reorganization plans submitted.

Relative to the length of time required to complete liquidation of insolvent national banks, a compilation has been made covering those insolvent national banks liquidated and finally closed during the year ended October 31, 1936, and for those receiverships finally closed during the 15 -year period, November 1, 1921, to October 31, 1936. From data compiled it has been found that insolvent national banks finally closed during the year ended October 31, 1936, exclusive of those banks which were restored to solvency and those for which receivers were appointed for the purpose only of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments, required an average period of 5 years, with a minimum period of 1 year and 10 months for liquidation. With reference to insolvent national banks, the affairs of which were finally closed during the 15 -year period, 1921 to 1936 , exclusive of those banks restored to solvency and banks for which receivers were appointed for the purpose only of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments, the average period of liquidation was likewise found to have been 5 years.

In following paragraphs will be found tables reflecting the progress and results of liquidation to date for various groups of insolvent national banks, those which have been completely liquidated from the date of the first national bank failure in 1865 to date, those still in process of liquidation as of October 31, 1936, etc. These tables are supported by various schedules appearing in the appendix of this report furnishing in detail for each insolvent national bank in liquidation during the current year data as to progress and results of the receiver's administration thereof. It will be noted that the following paragraphs and tables combine for the first time data as to insolvent national banks with that of insolvent District of Columbia State banks, but in such manner that figures for each group may be obtained separately if desired. This method of reporting upon these groups of banks is believed preferable to the previous method employed of discussion in separate sections, by reason of the fact that liquidation of banks in both groups is uniformly administered under the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency and normally combined in press and other releases of information by this office as to the progress and results of such liquidation.

Receiverships, year ended October 31, 1936

Of the six national banks, one District of Columbia State bank, and one District of Columbia building and loan association for which receivers were appointed during the past year, none was restored to solvency, leaving the entire eight banks to be administered by receivers. Of the eight banks so administered by receivers, seven were placed in receivership for the purpose of completing unfinished business or enforcing stock assessments against shareholders because of unsatisfied indebtedness of such banks; while one institution, a building and loan association located in Washington, D. C., was declared insolvent and placed in receivership, pending the outcome of proposed plans for reorganization. There were, therefore, no actual failures of national or District of Columbia State banks exclusive of building and loan associations during the year ended October 31, 1936. The capital of the eight insolvent banks for which receivers were appointed was $$ 10,300,000$.

Stock assessments levied by the Comptroller of the Currency to ctober 31, 1936, against shareholders of the eight banks administered $\bar{\gamma}$ receivers, with capital of $\$ 10,300,000$ amounted to $\$ 9,150,000$, while e assets of such banks, including assets acquired subsequent to eir failure, totaled $\$ 10,240,461$. Collections from these assets, sluding earnings, offsets allowed, and collections from stock assessments as reported by receivers to September 30, 1936, amounted to $\$ 933,904$, or 4.8 percent of such assets and stock assessments. Total earnings collected by receivers from the assets of these banks, amounting to $\$ 119,341$, were $\$ 112,822$ in excess of total expenses incurred. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

In addition to the above record, it is found that no claims, either secured or unsecured had been proved insofar as reported by receivers to September 30, 1936, and that no circulation was outstanding in these banks at date of failure. Total deposits of these banks at date of failure amounted to $$ 4,424,814$, while borrowed money consisting of bills payable, rediscounts, etc., totaled $$ 3,838,001$.

Receiverships, 1865-1936

From the date of the first failure of a national bank in the year 1865 to October 31, 1936, 2,939 national banks and 16 State banks or loan associations located in the District of Columbia have been placed in charge of receivers. Of this number, 157 have been restored to solvency and either reopened, sold to other institutions or placed in voluntary liquidation. In addition to the 157 banks restored to solvency, 1 bank was eliminated as a receivership through revocation of the receiver's commission as of the date of issuance, leaving 2,797 receiverships to be administered by receivers. Of these receiverships so administered, 1,212 are still in process of liquidation and 1,585 have been completely liquidated and the affairs thereof finally closed.

The capital of these 2,955 insolvent national banks at the date of failure, exclusive of the 1 bank eliminated through revocation of the receiver's commission, was $$ 398,913,445$. The capital of the 157 banks that have been restored to solvency was $$ 22,950,000$. The capital of the 1,212 banks that are still in process of liquidation was $$ 224,831,025$, and the capital of the 1,585 banks that have been completely liquidated was $$ 151,132,420$.

The aggregate book value of the assets of the 2,797 administered receiverships, including assets acquired after suspension, was $$ 3,642,-$ 789,170 , in addition to which there have been levied against shareholders assessments aggregating $$ 326,038,687$. Total collections from these assets, including earnings, offsets allowed and collections from stock assessments as reported by receivers to September 30, 1936, amounted to $$ 2,380,682,396$ or 59.98 percent of the total of such assets and stock assessments. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

1 Including building and loan associations.
In addition to the above record of distribution, there have been returned to shareholders through their duly elected agents assets of a book value of $$ 22,632,534$. Total claims proved, both secured and unsecured, as reported by receivers aggregated $$ 2,083,317,807$. The outstanding circulation of these 2,797 receiverships at date of failure was $$ 170,762,785$, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of the par value of $$ 180,725,531$, while total deposits at date of failure amounted to $$ 2,360,389,818$.

From the above it will be noted that the average percentage of all dividends paid on the aggregate of secured and unsecured claims, proved against the 2,797 administered receiverships, was 64.22 percent. If payments to secured and preferred creditors other than dividends, offsets allowed, and other disbursements as indicated above, were included with dividends paid in this calculation, such total disbursements to creditors would amount to 76.16 percent of claims proved plus other liabilities established.

Expenses incident to the administration of the 2,797 administered receiverships, consisting of receivers' and conservators' salaries, legal and other expenses, amounted to $$ 130,203,467$ or 3.28 percent of the book value of assets and stock assessments administered, or 5.47 percent of collections from assets and stock assessments, including offsets allowed. The assessments against shareholders averaged 86.72 percent of their holdings and total collections from such assessments as were levied amounted to 45.53 percent of the amount assessed.

Active receiverships as of October 31, 1936

The 1,212 national banks that were, as of October 31, 1936, still in charge of receivers and in process of liquidation had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $$ 2,689,980,779$. The capital of these banks was $$ 224,831,025$, and assessments levied by the Comptroller of the Currency to October 31, 1936, against shareholders amounted to $$ 216,586,025$. The collections from these assets, including earnings, offsets allowed and collections from stock assessments, as reported by receivers to September 30, 1936, amounted to $$ 1,751,273,584$ or 60.25 percent of such assets and stock assessments. Total earnings collected by receivers from the assets of these banks amounting to $$ 93,676,762$, were $$ 5,095,700$ or 5.75 percent in excess of total expenses incurred. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

[^1]In addition to the above record, it is found that total claims proved, both secured and unsecured, as reported by receivers, aggregated $$ 1,555,370,359$. The outstanding circulation of the 1,212 receiverships at date of failure was $$ 105,769,523$, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of the par value of $$ 111,693,210$. Total deposits of these banks at date of failure amounted to $$ 1,834,689,661$, borrowed money consisting of bills payable, rediscounts, etc., $$ 362,583,609$, and additional liabilities established to date, $$ 68,913,573$.

From the above it will be noted that the average percentage of all dividends paid on the aggregate of secured and unsecured claims, proved against the 1,212 receiverships still in process of liquidation as of October 31, 1936, was 63.66 percent. If payments to secured and preferred creditors other than dividends, and offsets allowed, were included with dividends paid in this calculation, such total disbursements to creditors would amount to 72.12 percent of total liabilities established to date.

Expenses incident to the administration of the 1,212 active receiverships, consisting of receivers' and conservators' salaries, legal and other expenses, amounted to $$ 88,581,062$ or 3.05 percent of the book value of assets and stock assessments administered, or 5.06 percent of collections from assets and stock assessments, including offsets allowed. The assessments against shareholders averaged 96.33 percent of their holdings and total collections from such assessments as were levied amounted to 43.23 percent of the amount assessed.

Receiverships terminated, year ended October 31, 1936

During the year ended October 31, 1936, 214 receiverships were liquidated and finally closed, in addition to which 1 receivership, a State bank located in the District of Columbia, was restored to solvency for the purpose of going into voluntary liquidation. The 214 national bank receiverships finally closed had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $$ 102,745,060$. The capital of these 214 banks was $$ 13,677,000$, and assessments levied by the Comptroller of the Currency against shareholders amounted to $$ 13,095,750$. The collections from these assets, including earnings, offsets allowed, and collections from stock assessments as indicated by receivers' final reports, amounted to $$ 69,667,225$ or 60.14 percent of such assets and stock assessments. Total earnings collected by receivers from the assets of these banks amounted to $$ 3,627,829$ or 66.13 percent of total expenses incurred. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

In addition to the above record of distribution, there were returned to shareholders through their duly elected agents assets of a book value of $$ 3,880,921$. Total claims proved, both secured and unsecured, as indicated by receivers' final reports aggregated $$ 59,371,852$. The outstanding circulation of these 214 closed receiverships at date of failure was $$ 5,944,510$, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of a par value of $$ 6,323,550$. Total deposits of these banks at date of failure amounted to $$ 62,463,442$, borrowed money consisting of bills payable, rediscounts, etc., $$ 17,032,900$, and additional liabilities established to date of final closing $$ 2,543,356$.

From the above it will be noted that the average percentage of all dividends paid on the aggregate of secured and unsecured claims proved against the 214 receiverships that were finally closed during the year ended October 31, 1936, but not including the 1 bank restored to solvency which paid 100 percent, was 65.32 percent. If payments to secured and preferred creditors other than dividends, and offsets allowed, were included with dividends paid in this calculation, such total disbursements to creditors would amount to 77.49 percent of total liabilities established to date of final closing including payments to creditors in excess of 100 percent of principal, of $$ 574,380$.

Expenses incident to the administration of the 214 trusts, consisting of receivers' and conservators' salaries, unrecovered disbursements for the protection of assets, legal and other expenses, amounted to $$ 5,485,585$, or 4.74 percent of the book value of the assets and stock assessments administered, or 7.87 percent of collections from assets and stock assessments, including offsets allowed. Theassessments against shareholders averaged 95.75 percent of their holdings and total collections from such assessments as were levied amounted to 50.82 percent of the amount assessed.

Receiverships terminated 1865-1936

From the date of the first failure of a national bank in 1865 to the close of business October 31, 1936, 1,742 receiverships, including 1 District of Columbia State bank, have been administered and the trusts closed or the affairs thereof restored to solvency. Included in this number are the 157 banks restored to solvency, 1 of which, a State bank located in the District of Columbia, was restored in 1936, and 214 the affairs of which were finally closed during the year 1936. In addition to these 1,742 administered receiverships disposed of, 1 receivership was eliminated without administration through revocation of the receiver's commission as of the date of issuance thereof. The 1,585 national banks administered by receivers had assets, including assets acquired subsequent to their failure, aggregating $$ 952,808,391$. The capital of these 1,585 banks was $$ 151,132,420$, and assessments levied by the Comptroller of the Currency against shareholders amounted to $$ 109,452,662$. The collections from these assets including earnings, offsets allowed, and collections from stock assessments as indicated by receivers' final reports, amounted to $$ 629,408,812$ or 59.25 percent of such assets and stock assessments. These collections and the disposition thereof were as follows:

| Total | 629, 408, 812 |

In addition to the above record of distribution, there were returned to shareholders through their duly elected agents, assets of a book value of $$ 22,632,534$. Total claims proved, both secured and unsecured, as indicated by receivers' final reports aggregated $$ 527,947,448$. The outstanding circulation of these 1,585 closed receiverships at date of failure was $$ 64,993,262$, secured by United States bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of a par value of $$ 69,032,321$, while total deposits at date of failure amounted to $$ 525,700,157$.

From the above it will be noted that the average percentage of all dividends paid on the aggregate of secured and unsecured claims proved against the 1,585 receiverships that have been finally closed, but not including the 157 restored to solvency which paid 100 percent was 65.86 percent. If payments to secured and preferred creditors other than dividends, offsets, and other disbursements as indicated above, were included with the dividends paid in this calculation, such total disbursements to creditors would amount to 76.30 percent of claims proved plus other liabilities established.

Expenses incident to the administration of the 1,585 closed trusts, consisting of receivers' and conservators' salaries, unrecovered disbursements for the protection of assets, legal and other expenses, amounted to $$ 44,342,515$, or 4.17 percent of the book value of the assets and stock assessments administered, or 7.05 percent of collections from assets and stock assessments, including offsets allowed. The assessments against shareholders averaged 72.42 percent of their holdings and total collections from such assessments as were levied amounted to 50.08 percent of the amount assessed.

Inasmuch as the last conservatorship under the supervision of this office was terminated on February 6, 1935, and there were no unlicensed banks, as such, to be reorganized or otherwise disposed of in the year ended October 31, 1936, the summary and table following have reference to the administration of all unlicensed banks in charge of the Comptroller incident to the banking holiday. However, in the year ended October 31, 1936, unsecured liabilities in these banks released and made available to creditors amounted to $$ 68,313,028$, or 3.55 percent of the total of such liabilities outstanding on March 16, 1933.

As indicated in previous reports, there were 1,417 national banks, including 10 nonnational banks in the District of Columbia, placed on a restricted basis on March 16, 1933, the close of the holiday, 312 of which were reorganized or otherwise eliminated without the appointment of conservators. These 1,417 banks had total assets as of December 31, 1932, for the nonconservator banks, and as shown by conservators' first reports of condition, in the sum of $$ 2,687,402,137$, capital of $$ 198,457,820$, borrowed money of $$ 212,627,465$, and total deposits of $$ 1,971,960,022$. Their total unsecured liabilities were $$ 1,922,698,738$, of which $$ 1,520,662,159$, or 79.09 percent, has been made available to creditors in the period from March 16, 1933, to October 31, 1936.

In reporting on the administration of the 1,417 banks, it will be noted the banks have been segregated into 5 major groups: First, banks licensed after capital corrections; second, banks reorganized by waiver or rehabilitation; third, banks reorganized by Spokane sale; fourth, banks placed in voluntary liquidation; and fifth, banks placed in receivership, plans for reorganization having been disapproved.

The first group, comprising 292 banks which were licensed after capital corrections, had unsecured liabilities at the holiday of $$ 305,-$ 638,919 , all of which had been released to creditors prior to October 31, 1936.

In the second group are 565 banks, with unsecured liabilities of $$ 594,604,830$, which were reorganized by waiver or rehabilitation. These banks have made available to creditors $$ 490,367,919$, or 82.47 percent, of the liabilities mentioned. Included in this group are 17 associations, absorbed by other national banks, which have released 78.97 percent of their unsecured liabilities; 18, absorbed by State banks, which have released 87.74 percent; 282 , reopened under new charters, which have released 77.02 percent; and the remainder, or 248 banks, reopened under their old charters, have released 88.32 percent.

The third group consists of 257 banks, with unsecured liabilities of $$ 882,901,854$, which were reorganized under the so-called Spokane sale plan. These associations have made available to creditors $$ 643$,515,824 , or 72.89 percent, of such liabilities. Twenty-one of the banks were absorbed by other associations, releasing 81.84 percent, while the remaining 236, which were reopened under new charters, have released 72.68 percent of their unsecured liabilities.

The fourth group is made up of 13 banks, with unsecured liabilities totaling $$ 1,343,597$, which were placed in voluntary liquidation, having made available for release 100 percent of such liabilities.

The fifth and last group comprises 290 banks which were placed in receivership following disapproval of plans submitted for reorganization. These banks at the close of the holiday had unsecured liabilities of $$ 138,209,538$, of which amount $$ 79,795,900$, or 57.74 percent, has been made available by receivers for release to creditors.

The table following shows a statement of unlicensed national banks and District of Columbia State banks as of March 16, 1933, indicating, and grouped in accordance with, the disposition or status thereof as of October 31, 1936, together with various statistical data pertaining to such banks.

ORGANIZATION AND LIQUIDATION OF NATIONAL BANKS

At the close of the current year, October 31, 1936, there were in existence 5,372 national banking associations having authorized common capital stock amounting to $$ 1,268,423,736$. These figures included banks that had ceased business but had not gone into voluntary liquidation, and so remained technically in existence. During the year ended October 31, 1936, there was a reduction of 59 in the number of national banks, or a fraction over 1 percent, and an increase of $$ 7,107,555$ in the amount of authorized common capital stock, or approximately one-half of 1 percent of the total at the beginning of the year. During the period under discussion, there was a net decrease of $$ 173,711,377.25$ in the amount of outstanding preferred capital stock issued by oll national banks under the provisions of the act of March 9, 1933, so that the total amount outstanding at the close of the period was $$ 351,920,285.25$. It will be noted that the net result was a reduction of $$ 166,603,822.25$ in the aggregate capital stock of all national banks for the year ended October 31, 1936.

During the current year, there was an aggregate increase of $$ 22,114,-$ 154 in the common capital stock of 361 national banks. Of this number 29 banks accomplished an increase of $$ 1,184,170$ by stock dividends pursuant to the provisions of section 5142, U.S.R.S. Coincident with retirement of preferred capital stock, 296 banks accomplished an increase of $$ 13,005,290$ by stock dividends declared by their respective boards of directors pursuant to requirements of their articles of association; 32 banks issued an aggregate of $$ 7,665,534$ of additional common capital stock for cash; and 4 banks increased their common capital stock by $$ 259,160$ through conversion of preferred capital stock to common capital stock.

During this period 32 banks issued preferred capital stock in the total amount of $$ 11,270,000$, of which $$ 9,955,326$ was purchased by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the remainder, $$ 1,314$,674 , was sold to other purchasers, usually shareholders of the issuing banks. These increases of capital stock were the result generally of continued effort on the part of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency looking to the improvement in the capital positions of national banking associations, so that all of them might provide the security afforded depositors by a reasonable ratio of sound capital structure to deposits.

Covering the entire period of national banking operations, up to and including October 31, 1936, 14,365 national banking associations have been authorized to begin business. Of these banks, 6,211 have voluntarily discontinued business and merged with other national or State banks, consolidated with other national banking associations under authority of the act of November 7, 1918, or gone into voluntary liquidation in the manner provided by sections 5220 and 5221, U.S.R.S. Exclusive of banks which failed but which subsequently were restored to solvency, loss to the national banking system since its inception on February 25, 1863, through receiverships has been 2,782 . Thus the number of these receiverships has been about 19 percent of the total number of banks organized.

During the period ended October 31, 1936, 76 national banks, with total common capital stock of $$ 7,412,500$, among which were 9 with preferred capital stock aggregating $$ 267,500$, went into voluntary liquidation. Of this number 11 , with common capital stock of $$ 470,000$ and aggregate assets of $$ 3,338,230$ paid their depositors and quit business; 33, with common capital stock of $$ 3,297,500$ and aggregate assets of $$ 53,179,708$, including four with preferred capital stock aggregating $$ 137,500$, were succeeded by other national banks; 32 , with common capital stock of $$ 3,645,000$ and aggregate assets of $$ 32,539,139$, including five with preferred capital stock aggregating $$ 130,000$, were succeeded by State banks. The last-mentioned group of banks included three with capital stock of $$ 400,000$ or more aggregating $$ 1,900,000$ and assets aggregating $$ 16,529,553$.

November 2, 1914, marked the beginning of the operation of the Federal Reserve System. At that date, there were in existence 7,578 national banks, with aggregate common capital stock of $$ 1,072,492,175$ as compared with the total common capital stock of $$ 1,268,423,736$ for the 5,372 national banks in existence October 31, 1936; 2,255 national banks as permitted by the act of March 9, 1933, have issued preferred capital stock, 2,009 of which had an aggregate of $$ 351,920,285.25$ outstanding at the close of the current year. Since 1914, there has been a net decrease of 2,206 in the number of active national banks but a net increase of $$ 195,931,561$ in the amount of common capital stock and in addition a further net increase of $$ 351,920,285.25$ in capital through the issuance of preferred capital stock during the last $31 / 2$ years. During this 22 -year period, 3,713 new national banks have been chartered, with aggregate common capital stock of $$ 554,816,600$ and preferred capital stock of $$ 55,069,300$, while 5,919 associations have been closed voluntarily or otherwise.

During the year ended October 31, 1936, in addition to applications carried over from the previous year, 38 applications were received to organize national banks and to convert State banks into national banking associations, with proposed capital stock aggregating $$ 3,590,000$. Of these applications, 22 with proposed capital stock aggregating $$ 2,295,000$ were approved; 8 with proposed capital stock aggregating $$ 450,000$ were rejected; and the remainder are still pending or have been abandoned. During the year only five applications were approved for the organization of new national banking associations which would not acquire all or a part of the business of some other bank. From the approved applications carried over from the previous year and the 22 applications approved during the current year, 20 national banking associations with common capital stock of $$ 2,160,000,4$ of which also had preferred capital stock of $$ 305,000$, were authorized to commence business. Of these 20 banks, 2 were located in the Eastern States, 5 in the Southern States, 12 in the Middle Western States, and 1 in the Western States.

It further appears that of the 20 charters issued within the year ended October 31, 1936, 7 with cominon capital stock of $$ 1,000,000$ and assets aggregating $$ 16,099,133$ were the result of conversions of State banks; 4 with common capital stock of $$ 235,000,2$ of which also had preferred capital stock of $$ 130,000$, were reorganizations of 4 State banks; 2 with common capital stock of $$ 75,000$ and preferred capital stock of $$ 25,000$ were organized for the purpose of acquiring the businesses of 2 liquidating or suspended national banks and 1 State bank; 1 with common capital stock of $$ 200,000$ was the continuation of a Federal Deposit Insurance bank; and 6 with common capital stock of $$ 650,000$ and preferred capital stock of $$ 150,000$ did not acquire the business of any other banking institution as of date of charter. The businesses of 34 State banks, with aggregate capital stock of $$ 1,371,575$ and aggregate assets of approximately $$ 18,899,109$, were purchased by national banks.

During the year ended October 31, 1936, three national banking associations and five State banks were consolidated into six national banking associations, under authority of the act of November 7, 1918, as amended February 25, 1927, the common capital stock of the consolidated banks being $$ 9,210,000$ and the preferred capital stock being $$ 800,000$. In two of these consolidations, there were increases in the capital stock and in one instance a reduction of capital stock, the net result being an increase in the common capital stock of $$ 200,000$ and a net increase of $$ 185,000$ in the preferred capital stock. Additional assets of approximately $$ 38,892,159$ were brought into the national system by reason of the five State banks which were consolidated with national banks.

BRANCHES

On February 25, 1927, the date of the passage of the so-called "McFadden Act", there were in existence in the national system 372 branches as compared with a total of 1,460 branches in existence on October 31, 1936.

During the intervening period 1,903 branches have been added to the System, of which 1,080 were de novo branches, 313 were branches of State banks which converted into national associations, and 510 were branches brought into the System through consolidation of State with national banks. During this same period, 815 branches were relinquished, 555 went out of the System through the liquidation of parent institutions, and the remaining 260 through consolidations or because of other reasons. The net result of these operations was a gain for the national system of 1,088 branches since February 25, 1927.

During the year ended October 31, 1936, a net gain of 67 branches was recorded, 81 de novo branches being established, 75 of which were authorized under the Banking Act of 1933 to operate in places other than the city in which the parent bank is domiciled. There were no branches brought into the System through conversions of State banks to national banks, nor through the consolidation of State banks with national banks. Fourteen branches were discontinued through action of the board of directors or shareholders of the parent bank.

There follows a summary of branch-banking operations in the national system during the period discussed in the foregoing:

Banks other than National

The cooperation of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Banking Departments of Alaska, the insular possessions, and the several States of the Union make it possible for the Comptroller, as the law requires, to present statistics in this report relating to active banks other than national banking associations. In the statement following and in other statements of the report, figures showing assets and liabilities of loan and trust companies and stock savings banks are combined with figures for State commercial banks.
Upon the assumption that differences in their names indicated pronounced differences in the nature of their business activities, the assets and liabilities of the institutions named have been shown separately in previous annual reports. In former times material differences may have existed. In these days, however, many loan and trust companies and most stock savings banks receive deposits subject to check and make loans in much the same manner and upon much the same security that State commercial banks do. In some States commercial banks without the word "Trust" in their titles exercise trust powers. It is well known, of course, that practically all State commercial banks pay interest upon time deposits or operate savings departments. The result is that although trust companies and savings banks in some States may enjoy corporate powers that enable them, should they desire, to limit their activities to fields that cannot be invaded by State commercial banks, they do not generally do so. Instead, such institutions for the most part have broadened their activities to include general banking and, moreover, have seen their own fields encroached upon by State banks organized primarily to do a commercial banking business. It is because of the foregoing considerations that figures for loan and trust companies, stock savings banks, and State commercial banks are being combined in this report.

Although the foregoing remarks to some extent may apply to private banks and to mutual savings banks, figures showing the assets and liabilities of such institutions will be reported separately as heretofore.

Officials of State banking departments and number of each class of active banks under their supervision in June 1936, from which reports of condition were received

The assets and liabilities of all active banks other than national June 30, 1932 to 1936, are shown in the following statement:

4 Includes reserves for dividends.
In the preceding summary, showing the assets and liabilities of private banks as of June 30 each of the 5 years 1932 to 1936, there is shown for the year 1936 only the returns of associations which were doing business under the supervision of State authorities.
Section 21 (a) of the Banking Act of 1933 provided, in part, that after June 16, 1934, private banks not under State supervision would be required to submit to periodic examination by the Comptroller of the Currency or by the Federal Reserve bank, also to make to the Comptroller and publish periodic reports of condition the same as required of national banks.

However, under section 303 of the Banking Act of 1935, section 21 (a) of the Banking Act of 1933 was amended to provide that it shall be unlawful for private banks to operate unless they-
(A) shall be incorporated under, and authorized to engage in such business by, the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory, or District; or
(B) shall be permitted by any State, Territory, or District to engage in such business and shall be subjected by the law of such State, Territory, or District to examination and regulation; or
(C) shall submit to periodic examination by the banking authority of the State, Territory, or District where such business is carried on and shall make and publish periodic reports of its condition, exhibiting in detail its resources and liabilities, such examination and reports to be made and published at the same times and in the same manner and under the same conditions as required by the law of such State, Territory, or District in the case of incorporated banking institutions engaged in such business in the same locality.

It will be noted from the foregoing that private banks are not now required to submit to examination by the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Reserve bank, nor are they required to make to the Comptroller and publish periodic reports of condition. The last condition report rendered to the Comptroller by private banks was as of June 1935.

Export-import banks in the District of Columbia

Pursuant to Executive orders dated February 2, 1934, and March 9, 1934, two export-import banks were established in the District of Columbia to commence business in 1934. These banks were incorporated under the provisions of title 5 , chapter 9 , section 261 of the Code of Laws of the District of Columbia. One of the banks, the Second Export-Import Bank of Washington, D. C., went into voluntary liquidation effective June 1, 1936, its business having been acquired by the Export-Import Bank of Washington. On March 26, 1936, the latter-named bank authorized an increase in its capital stock from $$ 11,000,000$ to $$ 21,000,000$, by the issuance of 10,000 shares of preferred stock with a par value of $$ 1,000$ each. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation purchased $$ 7,000,000$ of the authorized increase on April 8, 1936.

The statements following show the assets and liabilities of the active bank on June 30, 1936, and like information for the two active exportimport banks on each of the three preceding call dates:

Joint-stock land banks

On June 30, 1936, there were 43 joint-stock land banks in operation, 1 in voluntary liquidation, and 4 in process of liquidation through receivership. A consolidated statement of condition of the active banks on the date indicated was not compiled by the Farm Credit Administration, although individual statements of such banks, as well as of the banks in process of liquidation through receivership, are available.

The Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, approved May 12, 1933, provided that "After the date of enactment of this act, no jointstock land bank shall issue any tax-exempt bonds or make any farm loans except as are necessary and incidental to the refinancing of existing loans or bond issues or to the sale of any real estate now owned or hereafter acquired by such banks." The act in effect prohibits joint-stock land banks from acquiring new business and restricts them to the orderly liquidation of their existing assets. Sections 30 and 31 of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, as amended by the Farm Credit Act of 1935, as a means of expediting the required liquidation, authorized and directed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make available to the Land Bank Commissioner until May 13, 1937, the sum of $$ 100,000,000$ to be used for the purpose of making loans to the joint-stock land banks organized and doing business under the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, at a rate of interest not to exceed 4 percent per annum, payable annually.
