LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

Treasury Department,  Office of the Comptroller of the Currency,  Washington, D. C., January 6, 1943.

Sirs: In accordance with the provisions of section 333 of the United States Revised Statutes, I have the honor to submit the following report covering the activities of the Bureau of the Comptroller of the Currency for the year 1942. Respectfully, Preston Delano, Comptroller of the Currency.

The President of the Senate.
The Speaker of the House of Representatives.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

The National Banking System, after a full year of operation under wartime conditions, enters the year 1943 in strong position. Steady progress has been made during 1942 in improvement of assets, in strengthening management, in keeping expenses down, in conserving earnings, and where possible, increasing capital protection. The large growth in deposits has brought some disparity in the ratio of capital funds to other liabilities, but this has been offset by the high quality and liquidity of the assets which have been acquired. In a few cases, weaknesses were eliminated by consolidations. In these cases, improvement was generally made possible by cooperation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

By nearly every possible test banks under the supervision of this office have shown their awareness of the desirability of sound operation and conservative management. With this has been combined a courageous willingness not only to bear without complaint the inevitable difficulties growing out of the War, but to actively cooperate with and support the Government in every phase of the war effort, especially by investing their own funds in Treasury obligations and by urging the public to do the same.

Very early, even before our own entry into the present conflict, bankers were active in defense. The almost 100 percent qualification of banks, state and national, as issuing agents for defense bonds gave impressive indication of their willingness to serve. Banks led in adopting pay-roll allotment plans for their own staffs and urging their corporate customers to do likewise. They are playing a leading part today in meeting the financial needs of the Treasury. Banks have undertaken the clearance of ration coupons at the request of the Office of Price Administration.

It seems appropriate in this war year to omit from this report some of the statistical material heretofore included. It also seems wise to postpone suggestions for legislation.

At the close of 1942 the National Banking System was made up of 5,087 active national banking associations, operating 1,603 branches, making a total of 6,690 banking offices. All were located in the continental United States with the exception of 6 banks, with 20 branches, operating in territories and insular possessions. In addition 4 continental national banks were operating 60 branches in 14 foreign countries. Several foreign branches in war areas were withdrawn during the year, and a few domestic branches became inoperative for the duration.

Since 1921 national banks had been reporting in their condition statements reciprocal interbank demand balances on a gross basis instead of on a net basis. Reciprocal interbank deposits arise when two banks maintain deposit accounts with each other, i. e., each bank has both a "due from" and a "due to" account with the other bank. This practice of reporting gross balances of such accounts inflated not only the amount of bank balances, but also the totals of assets and liabilities in the call statements to the extent of the reciprocal balances. Beginning with the call for June 30, 1942, reciprocal interbank demand balances with banks in the United States, except private banks and American branches of foreign banks, have been shown on a "net" basis, and the returns of the call for that date disclosed that such balances in national banks amounted to $$ 410,221,000$.

A comparison of the assets and liabilities of the banks in the National Banking System as of December 31, 1941, April 4, 1942, and June 30, 1942, reported pursuant to calls for condition statements by the Comptroller of the Currency, is shown in the following table:

${ }^{1}$ Excludes reciprocal interbank demand balances with banks in the United States of $$ 410,221,000$. In call reports covering the period from June 30, 1921, to Apr, 4, 1942, inclusive, reciprocal bank balances were reported "gross." The amounts of such balances held in that period are not available.
${ }^{2}$ Revised.

EARNINGS, EXPENSES, AND DIVIDENDS OF NATIONAL BANKS FOR YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1941

Gross earnings of national banks in the year ended December 31, 1941, were $$ 926,000,000$, or $$ 61,000,000$ more than those of the preceding year. Interest and dividends on securities equaled $$ 292,000$,000 , and interest and discount on loans $$ 458,000,000$. Expenses were $$ 48,000,000$ more than in the preceding year, amounting to $$ 676,000,-$ 000 . Of this, salaries, wages, and fees accounted for $$ 278,000,000$, interest on deposits and borrowed money $$ 99,000,000$, taxes $$ 85,000,-$ 000 , and recurring depreciation on banking house, furniture, and fixtures $$ 34,000,000$. Net operating earnings were $$ 250,000,000$, which were increased by $$ 187,000,000$ of recoveries. Recoveries on securities were $$ 48,000,000$; profits on securities sold or redeemed, $$ 80,000,000$; and recoveries on loans, $$ 44,000,000$. Losses and chargeoffs of $$ 168,000,000$ were $$ 26,000,000$ less than in the previous year. Losses on securities were $$ 92,000,000$, and losses on loans $$ 52,000,000$. Net profits before dividends were thus $$ 269,000,000$, and were $$ 28,000$,000 more than those in the previous year. The ratio of net profits to capital funds was 7.48 percent. Dividends declared on common and preferred stock in 1941 totaled $$ 148,000,000$, an increase of $$ 3,000,000$ over the preceding year. The dividends were 9.72 percent of capital stock and 4:11 percent of capital funds.

Interest and discount on loans accounted for more than 49 percent of the gross earnings in the year ended December 31, 1941, varying in ratios from 39 percent in Federal Reserve district No. 2 to 61 percent in district No. 11. Interest and dividends on securities were approximately 32 percent of total earnings, with the banks in district No. 11 showing the smallest ratio of 20 percent and those in district No. 3 the largest ratio of 41 percent. Salaries, wages, and fees were 30 percent of total earnings, ranging from 25 percent in district No. 3 to more than 33 percent in district No. 10. The net operating earnings to gross earnings showed averages of from 28 percent in district No. 4 to 34 percent in district No. 3.

Interest and discount on loans to the average total of loans in the year were less than $4 \frac{1}{2}$ percent and varied from less than $3 \frac{1}{2}$ percent in district No. 2 to more than $51 / 3$ percent in district No. 11. Interest and dividends on securities averaged nearly 2 percent of total investments, the banks in district No. 2 showing the lowest ratio of nearly $1 \frac{1}{2}$ percent, while the banks in district No. 3 showed the highest ratio of 3 percent. Profits on securities sold or redeemed during the period were less than 1 percent of average total investments, varying from approximately $1 / 3$ percent in district No. 9 to $3 / 4$ percent in district No. 6 .

Net operating earnings were 8 percent of average total capital funds, the lowest ratio being 6 percent in district No. 4, and the highest ratio $11 \frac{1}{2}$ percent in district No. 12. The net profits before dividends for the period were $71 / 2$ percent of average capital funds, the ratios ranging from slightly more than $2 \frac{1}{2}$ percent in district No. 3 to nearly 10 percent in district No. 7.

The proportion of gross earnings which was preserved as net profits (before dividends) was better among the larger banks than among the smaller ones for the calendar year 1941. For banks with deposits of more than $$ 100,000,000$ the ratio of net profits to gross earnings was 36 percent, while for banks of $$ 500,000$ deposits or less it was 25 percent.

A comparison of earnings, expenses, and dividends of national banks for the years ended December 31, 1940, and December 31, 1941, is shown in the following table:

STRUCTURAL CHANGES IN THE NATIONAL BANKING SYSTEM

The authorized capital stock of the 5,090 national banks in existence at the close of business on December 31, 1942, including 3 inactive banks, consisted of common capital stock aggregating $$ 1,358,626,658$, a net increase during the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, of $$ 14,305,281$, and preferred capital stock aggregating $$ 146,994,265$, a net decrease during the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, of $$ 24,959,946$.

During the period mentioned, in addition to 8 applications with proposed capital stock of $$ 1,150,000$ carried over from the previous year, 15 applications were received to organize national banks and to convert state banks into national banking associations, with proposed capital stock aggregating $$ 2,327,089$. Of these applications, 12 with proposed capital stock aggregating $$ 1,377,089$ were approved; 2 with proposed capital stock aggregating $$ 750,000$ were rejected; and the remainder were still pending or had been abandoned on December 31, 1942: From the applications carried over from October 31, 1941, and the 12 applications approved during the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, 9 national banking associations with common capital stock aggregating $$ 1,102,089$, 1 of which also had $$ 75,000$ preferred capital stock, were authorized to commence business. Of the 9 charters issued, 6 with common capital stock aggregating $$ 735,000$, were the result of the conversions of state banks; and 3 with common capital stock aggregating $$ 367,089$, 1 of which also had $$ 75,000$ preferred capital stock, were organized for the purpose of acquiring the business of 2 liquidating banks and a branch of a liquidating national bank.

During the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, 3 national banks and 1 state bank were consolidated into 2 national banking associations, under authority of the act of November 7, 1918, as amended, the common capital stock of the consolidated banks being $$ 317,000$. Additional assets of approximately $$ 1,254,132$ were brought into the national banking system by reason of the state bank consolidated with the national bank. Also, during this period national banks reported the purchase of the business of 21 state banks, with aggregate capital stock of $$ 1,377,600$ and aggregate assets of approximately $$ 23,215,965$.

During the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, 48 national banks with common capital stock of $$ 4,749,050$, among which were 18 with preferred capital stock aggregating $$ 1,855,050$, went into voluntary liquidation in the manner provided by sections 5220 and 5221, U. S. R. S. Of these banks, 9 with common capital stock of $$ 850,000$ and assets of $$ 4,600,915$, paid their depositors and quit business; 21 with common capital stock of $$ 1,841,250$ and assets aggregating $$ 31,701,379$, including 10 with preferred capital stock of $$ 934,250$, were succeeded by other national banks; and 18 with common capital stock of $$ 2,057,800$ and assets aggregating $$ 37,294,790$, including 8 with preferred capital stock of $$ 920,800$, were succeeded by state banks.

Changes in the number and capital stock of national banks during the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, are shown in the following summary:

BRANCHES

On December 31, 1942, 216 national banks were operating 1,603 branches. This total includes 7 branches temporarily discontinued for the duration of the emergency, and 4 seasonal offices.

During the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, 26 branches were brought into the national system, all of which were de novo branches. Of these branches, 15 were authorized under the Banking Act of 1933 to operate in places other than the city in which the parent bank is located. During the same period, 13 branches were relinquished, of which number 10 were discontinued through action of the boards of directors of the parent banks and 3 through voluntary liquidation of the parent banks. The net result of these operations was a gain for the system of 13 branches during the period.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES OUTSTANDING

There were, as of December 31, 1942, $$ 135,981,212$ of national bank notes still outstanding.

DISTRIBUTION OF ALL BANKS

On June 30, 1942, there were 14,815 banks in the United States and its possessions, of which 5,101 , or 34 percent, were national banks, members of the Federal Reserve System. Of these, 13,452, or 91 percent, were insured banks. All banks had deposits of $$ 83,029,575,000$, 49 percent of which was in member national banks and 88 percent of which was in insured banks. There were 538 mutual savings banks which had $$ 10,371,431,000$ of deposits.

REPORTS FROM BANKS

National banks in the continental United States, Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii, and the Virgin Islands of the United States were, in accordance with the provisions of section 5211 of the Revised Statutes, called upon to submit four reports of condition during the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942. Reports were required as of December 31, 1941, April 4, June 30, and December 31, 1942. Summaries from all condition reports, by States, are published in pamphlet form. National banks were also required by the statute to obtain reports of their affiliates and holding company affiliates other than member banks and to submit such reports to the Comptroller as of the four dates for which condition reports of the banks were obtained.

Under the general powers conferred upon him by law, the Comptroller required from each national bank during the period indicated semiannual reports of earnings, expenses, and dividends; also reports of condition of foreign branches of national banks as of December 31, 1942.

National banking associations authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity were called upon to submit reports of their trust departments as of the close of business on December 31, 1942.

In accordance with section 298 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia, banks other than national in the District were required to make to the Comptroller condition reports and reports of earnings, expenses, and dividends identical with those obtained from national banks during the period. Building and loan associations and credit unions in the District of Columbia under the supervision of the Comptroller were required to submit reports of their assets and liabilities as of December 31, 1941 and 1942, and reports of receipts and disbursements for the years ended December 31, 1941 and 1942.

Detailed figures for reports of condition and earnings and dividends will be found in the appendix to this report.

EXAMINATION OF NATIONAL BANKS

The National Bank Act requires that each national bank be examined at least twice each year in order that the Comptroller may be kept currently informed of its condition and require such corrections as are deemed necessary with a view to maintaining each bank in sound condition. In addition to the regular examinations, special examinations are conducted of banks the condition of which is regarded as unsatisfactory.

During the period from November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, 12,230 examinations of banks, 3,330 examinations of branches, 2,390 examinations of trust departments, and 125 examinations of affiliates were conducted. Thirteen State banks were examined in connection with conversions to or consolidations with national banks. Investigations were also conducted in connection with applications for 3 new charters and 10 new branches.

LIQUIDATION OF INSOLVENT NATIONAL BANKS

The number of insolvent national banks in process of liquidation has been reduced from 156 to 54 and the volume of assets still to be liquidated has been greatly reduced. Of the 54 national banks in receivership on December 31, 1942, 14 were in process of payment of final dividends and will be closed in the immediate future; 24 were involved in litigation; leaving only 16 receiverships in active liquidation. Five of these were brought about by suspension in recent years and are in charge of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as Receiver. The 11 active receiverships in charge of individual receivers have unliquidated assets with an aggregate value of only $$ 780,000$. Recoveries from stockholders in 2 receiverships will be substantial in the event pending litigation is decided in a manner favorable to the depositors.

The largest receivership was that of the First National BankDetroit, Detroit, Mich. At suspension the deposit liability of this bank was $$ 398,798,000$, later reduced by offset and otherwise to a total of $$ 333,136,540$, for which receiver's certificates are held by 153,275 claimants. Dividends aggregating 107.565 percent of claims proven were paid to depositors of this bank.

Statistical data on banks in liquidation will be found in the appendix to this report.

LIQUIDATION OF JAPANESE-OWNED BANKS

In February 1942 the Secretary of the Treasury, acting under the Trading with the Enemy Act and the First War Powers Act, designated the Comptroller of the Currency to supervise the liquidation of five Japanese-owned banks-three in Honolulu, T. H., and two in Seattle, Wash. The liquidation of the two banks in Seattle proceeded under such supervision until October 1.5, 1942, when the Alien Property Custodian assumed responsibility for their further liquidation. The liquidation of the three Hawaiian banks remains under the supervision of this office. Distributions of 100 percent have been made to the depositors and creditors of two of the Hawaiian banks and it is expected that a substantial payment, possibly 100 percent, can be made to the depositors and creditors of the third bank at an early date.

ISSUE AND REDEMPTION OF NOTES

One thousand seven hundred seventy-five shipments of Federal Reserve Currency were made from Washington, D. C., for the period November 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942, to the Federal Reserve banks and branches, aggregating $$ 6,440,580,000$, and in addition, 56 deliveries were made to the Treasurer of the United States aggregating $$ 236,500,000$.

Three thousand two hundred ninety-nine lots of unfit Federal Reserve currency were received for verification by 100-percent count and certification for destruction consisting of $111,707,623$ notes, aggregating $$ 1,345,514,470$.

Seventy lots of national bank notes were received for verification by 100 -percent count and certified for retirement and destruction consisting of 839,125 notes, aggregating $$ 11,657,523$.

Twenty thousand one hundred twelve fragmentary or charred Federal Reserve and national bank notes aggregating $$ 293,147.00$, were presented for identification and approval.

ORGANIZATION AND STAFF

The personnel of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency on December 31, 1942, consisted of 1,115 persons, of whom 331 were located in the main office in Washington. This represented a reduction of 155 in total personnel as compared with the number of persons employed as of December 31, 1941, a large portion of this reduction having occurred in the Division of Insolvent National Banks.

During the calendar year 1942 a total of 19 national bank examiners and 161 assistant national bank examiners left the service. Of these 10 examiners and 110 assistants were placed on furlough due to their entering the armed forces. In the same period 10 assistant examiners were promoted to examiners and 107 persons were given appointments as assistant examiners, 104 of these having been appointed for the duration of the war and six months thereafter.

As of December 31, 1942, 176 employees had entered the armed forces. More than 95 percent of our employees have authorized regular payroll deductions for the purchase of war bonds for an average of over 11 percent of salary.

EXPENSES OF THE BUREAU

The expenses of the Office are met largely by fees assessed against the banks supervised. This figure for the calendar year 1942 was $$ 3,832,081.67$.

This amount was supplemented by Congressional appropriations totaling $$ 262,752.04$.

The expenses of the division of insolvent national banks are paid from assessments against the banks in process of liquidation. Such expenses for the calendar year 1942 were $$ 457,195.89$.

The expenses of the division of Federal reserve issue and redemption are paid by the Federal Reserve banks. This item for 1942 was $$ 49,412.00$.
